SUSQUEHANNA MEETS CORNELL AT ITHACA SATURDAY IN FIRST FRAY

Coach Wingard, Assisted by Bannon and Beard, Whipping Squad of Fifty Into Form for Season Which Looks Promising

Football men at Susquehanna are rapidly rounding into shape for the opening game with Cornell Saturday.

For the past week both veteran and new men were drilled hard in the fundamentals of the game. The prospects for the coming season look brighter than they have for the past few schedules on account of the new men with prep school experience. Previously the coach had to spend most of his time drilling new men who had no high school experience. Coach Wingard is being assisted by Bannon and Beard, who have their hands full with the fifty candidates who are out.

Among the veterans returned are Captain Stuempfle, of Williamsport High, who will ably fill the quarterback position; Bollig and Groce, local lads, who played in the backfield; last year; Gimmie and Pratt, of Endicott, N. Y., returned on Monday; Cassel with the consent of his family returned with Stroup; Haney and the Seigle brothers from Spring Mills are ably representing their section on the squad; Weaver, of Montoursville; Horton, of West Philadelphia High; Daubenspeck, of Mifflinburg, and Gordon, of Ridley Park High, are working hard for their respective positions. Auten, the Sunbury lad, returned to the squad Saturday.

There is a wealth of new material, which proves the growing popularity of old S. U., both athletically and scholastically. Among the new men showing up well are Emiel, Heine and Martin, of Bellefonte High, who show good form. Means, of North Braddock, who played here his Freshman year, has the same old form and his ability will do much toward making a winning combination.

Sellingrove High offers several good candidates, who should show up well with more experience. Spalde, Udegrove and Haines are the local lads.

Bard, a 190 lb. fullback, has joined the squad, having had some experience under Bezdek, with Penn State Frosh. Bard is making a strong bid for the fullback position.

TIE-UP THURSDAY

The annual tie-up between the Freshmen and Sophomores will be staged on the Athletic Field Thursday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. The tilt will be under the supervision of the Student Council and the following rules will be rigidly enforced.

The ropes must not be longer than 18 inches.

No splicing of ropes will be allowed. At the end of ten minutes the class having tied up the greater number of men will be acclaimed the victor.

Class spirit and loyalty should be a sufficient incentive for a one hundred per cent representation of both classes engaging in the contest.

Roof, of Yeagertown High, is out for an end position and should show up well. Smith has transferred from Ursinus and will make a strong bid for a position.

Dunkelberger, a six foot lad from Trevorton, is going good and will be an asset to the squad. Taken as a whole the candidates are showing up well and with their ability and weight combined with the veterans out for the team the season should show more victories than past seasons.

Manager Spelgelmire is busy getting equipment and trip arrangements made and Uncle Frank is back on the job in the gym. Physical Director Grossman has left us this year and his position is occupied by Prof. Mowles, who is doing his best to make our football season a success. The schedule for the coming season lines up as follows, with Cornell leading off next Saturday at Ithaca:

Sept. 26, Cornell, away.
Oct. 3, Haverford, Away.
Oct. 10, Swarthmore, Away.
Oct. 17, Drexel, home.
Oct. 24, Schuylkill, away.
Oct. 31, Juniata, away.
Nov. 7, P. M. C., away.
Nov. 14, Lafayette, away.
Nov. 21, Temple, home.
Nov. 26, Lebanon Valley, home.

PATTERSON-CLARK ROMANCE

LED TO WEDDING IN AUGUST

Susquehanna Conservatory Student and Captain of Last Year's Base Ball Team Pliht Their Troth

Another of Susquehanna's campus romances led to the marriage altar. Cupid's gentle darts were directed this time at the hearts of two of S. U.'s students, Miss Mildred Patterson, of the class of '27, and Max C. Clark, of the graduating class of '25. These shafts found lodgment there and the wedding was solemnized on August first.

The bride was studying in the Conservatory of Music, and is a talented young lady. She is an accomplished pianist and the possessor of a very pleasing and well trained soprano voice. The bridegroom was one of the star mountdemen for Susquehanna's baseball squad last year and as captain, very ably piloted the team thru a successful season. He is now connected with a wholesale clothing firm of Elmira, N. Y., and the newlyweds will take up their residence there in the near future.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Clark were extremely popular with their fellow students, and The Susquehanna joins their many friends in wishing them success and happiness.

Seven Instructors Added to Faculty

DR. AIKENS, AT THE OPENING SESSION OF CHAPEL, PRESENTED THE NEW INSTRUCTORS WHO HAVE BEEN ADDED TO OUR FACULTY

On Wednesday morning at the close of chapel service Dr. Aikens introduced to the student body the seven new members of the faculty. Three are instructors in the College department, two teach in the Conservatory of Music, one Dean of Women and one Preceptress.

The new instructors in the College department are Miss Marie Waldisburg, a graduate of the University of Switzerland, University of Paris and Columbia University, New York, who will be head of the Department of Romance Languages.

Henry J. Mowles, a graduate of the University of Vermont, will succeed Luther D. Grossman as professor of physical education and director of athletics.

Albert J. Park, a graduate of Bucknell University, will be teacher of Physics and Mathematics and assistant coach of football, under Edgar R. Wingard, Susquehanna alumnus.

The new teachers in the Conservatory of Music are Miss Mary Lavinia Young, teacher of Voice, and also director of the Ladies' Choral Club. Mr. Kenneth M. Bailey, teacher of Violin, will also direct the Orchestra.

Miss Lilla G. Sloan is the Dean of Women at Susquehanna University. She is being assisted by Mrs. Crawford.

Freshman Boys Now Know Their Stuff

SOPHOMORES INSTRUCT THEM IN SOME OF MYSTERIES OF CAMPUS LIFE. FROSH PARADE AND SING "HOW GREEN I AM" TO SHOW APPRECIATION

The steenth annual celebration held by the Sophomores on Wednesday night, September the sixteenth, in honor of their proverbial enemies, the Freshmen, was a howling success. The Frosh must be congratulated upon the excellent taste exhibited in their choice of wood, without which the event would have been a decided failure.

DR. ULRICH ADDRESSED STUDENTS AT OPENING OF COLLEGE SEMESTER

Field Secretary Stressed Importance of Early Determination of Goal in Life and Persistence in Effort to Attain It

With its record-breaking class of 150 Freshmen and a maximum enrollment of over 250 in other classes, Susquehanna entered upon its new collegiate year Wednesday, riding on a flood tide of growth in service.

President Aikens presented Dr. William S. Ulrich, field secretary, who delivered this telling address at the opening of chapel:

"Every young person entering college ought to have a very definite conception of their purpose and the mode of carrying that purpose into effect. The student who has no definite purpose in view is laboring at random.

"Now on this first day of our academic year we propose to say something that may help you more clearly to define the purpose of your being here, and how this purpose can be carried into effect. Collegiate education is on its trial, because it is not thoroughly understood. Once it was supposed to be enough if the collegiate curriculum was almost confined to the three branches, Latin, Greek, and Mathematics. At the present there is a tendency towards an exclusive study of the National Sciences, an attempt is made to substitute them for the classics.

"What is Education? Is it imparting Knowledge? Is it filling the mind with facts and inferences which may have a bearing on our future calling?

IMPROVEMENTS MADE IN GIRLS' DORMITORY. CONSERVATORY IS BEING GREATLY ENLARGED. BETTER FACILITIES FOR MUSIC STUDENTS AVAILABLE

As the old students of Seibert Hall returned to their studies many pleasant surprises greeted them. What was mud and debris when they left at commencement time is now a beautiful lawn, and a beautiful bed of canas can be seen at the entrance to the chapel. Inside, many of the rooms have been done over, and the halls when they are finished will present a cheerful appearance.

The new parlor, which took the place of the Y. W. C. A. and day students rooms, is a welcome addition to many of the inmates of Seibert Hall. The new furnishings are very beautiful and the girls extend their heartfelt thanks to those that made them possible.

CAMPUS FULL OF PRETTY DAMES

William Listens to the Muse and Writes Another Stanza Bemoaning the Passing of Days of Freedom

All those who heard the Phi Mu Delta Minstrel last year will remember how one of the end men sang the first stanza given below. It made quite a hit and snatches are heard being sung over the Campus ever since. The words were arranged to the music of "In My Home Town" by Harry Williams, '28. Harry went to chapel the other morning and after listening to the Advice for Girls, given there by our President, repaired to his room and wrote the second stanza. Here it is for your approval. Shall we call it Undoubtedly it would be well if all our studies could accomplish that end. But is that Education? Education is the drawing out of something which is already in us. It is not the Knowledge of facts, for those facts have not yet been placed in the mind. The drawing out then cannot refer to anything which we have put into the mind. When has the drawing out process been accomplished? This is what our college has been aiming at, it has not been aiming to implant knowledge in the mind, but it has been endeavoring to prepare the mind for the reception of Knowledge.

"There is in the mind of every child which is born into the world certain latent powers. There is a capacity not yet developed. The germ of all these powers and functions which the mind is to exercise in all its future achievements is there. What is the specific benefits which you are seeking for, and which you expect as a result of your residence here? Education is the drawing out of your latent state, out of its hiding place, and bringing into useful operation the capacities of your minds. There are certain powers which belong to the human mind and therefore belong to you.

"The mind as intellect, is capable of having several functions. These are the Presentative faculty and the Representative faculty. We mean by the Presentative that the mind is capable of receiving through the senses, that it is the first way that it comes into contact with the world without us. Then we say that there is the Representative faculty by which we mean that the Knowledge which is gained through the senses is not lost; that it is held, and that it can be reproduced in Memory and Imagination. These are the first and commonest qualities of the human mind, the first to show themselves. They can be cultivated and of course greatly improved.

"The next stage of mind development is that of Thought. It is another of the faculties of the human intellect.

Father Was In the Revolutionary War

MRS. ANNA K. GREGORY IS TRUE DAUGHTER OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION. ONLY FIVE LIVING. SHE IS THE ONLY ONE IN PENNSYLVANIA

Sellingrove is proud of the fact that one of the five real Daughters of the American Revolution lives within its borders. She is Mrs. Anna K. Gregory, and is the only one in Pennsylvania, who can claim to be a true daughter of the great fight for freedom.

The Editor of The Susquehanna found her seated on the porch of her residence at 226 S. Market street, engaged in her sewing and his conversation with her proved her to be one of the most charming ladies that he has ever had the privilege of meeting. Mrs. Gregory's bearing is not as keen as it once was, but her other faculties are remarkable for one of her years. She has very good vision, and her memory is to be envied by many much younger people. Her mind is active and she looks at least twenty years younger than her actual age.

FRESHMEN BOYS NOW

The music was surely a treat, as the company proceeded on their journey down College avenue from the designated starting point, the old pump, which has been the scene of many a like gathering in former days. "How green I am" was very effectively rendered, in fact the number was so magnificently presented that time and again were the select voices required to be in action, only ceasing their melodious notes for a short interval to be raised in a cheer for "Prexy," until the chosen band reached Market Street. Here an aquatic feat was inaugurated and two crews were drawn up. It was quite evident from the enthusiasm and talent shown that Susquehanna would do well in sport upon the water. Which side won was hard to determine, as each insisted that the other had displayed the greater prowess, but after the Sophomores as judges had decided the race, the next feature flashed upon the screen. Many a breath was then wasted in vain attempts to blow out the little light beneath the fountain, altho the pariet, north in the contest put forth strenuous efforts. Here again was talent unearched and prospects for a bigger and greater debating team are excellent. If the newcomers do not run out of "gas" by future engagements in like contests of the evening.

The crowning event was the ob-stacle race. Was it good? Great! As ages of the interested bystanders will agree. Only one question was in the minds of all. Who was the chubby fellow who was so far in the rear and whose garments flapped so kally in the breeze? Step forward fair lad and receive the prize for the most original costume and makeup.

All in all the event was well managed and those in charge are to be encouraged in their consideration of the greenness and tenderness of those whom they have elected to take under their wings. That the entertainment was received in the right spirit and appreciated by those for whom it was intended may be affirmed by inquiry. Thus endeth the first chronicle in the life of a Frosh.

Her story is so interesting that part of it shall be passed on to our readers.

"My father, Richard Knight, was a drummer boy in the Revolution. He was just nine years old when the war broke out, but his father could not leave him at home, because his mother was dead, so he took the lad with him. Richard was with Washington's Army in quite a few of the battles, but escaped uninjured. When the War of 1812 was declared, he enlisted in the Army and was commissioned a Captain. I had a brother seven years older than I who died just 3 years ago. My father was in his late seventies when I was born. My brother Frederick served in the Civil War, and I have a great-grandson who served in the World War. My family indeed has tried to do its bit for our Country.

"I was born in Liverpool, Pa., in 1843 and was 82 years old on the 23d of March. I have grown up with Selinsgrove, for I've lived here the last 62 years. There surely have been many inventions and improvements in my time. The telephone, electricity, the steam car, and the automobile are just a few of the many things that caused a great deal of excitement when they first came out. I well remember when Susquehanna University was organized in the basement of Trinity Lutheran Church, and later, when the name was changed from Missionary Institute to what it is now. Its founders were my friends and I've known its leaders ever since.

"I also recall the Female College that was in operation here about forty years ago with an enrollment of about 100 women. The building still stands. It is that large brick one on the left side of North Market street, across from the Episcopal Church. Of course, in those days, there were not many locomotives and the Pennsylvania Canal, the bed of which you can still see on the road to Harrisburg, was our course of commerce. Freight and passenger boats piled up and down from spring till late fall. The passenger boats were comfortable and could accommodate about a hundred passengers. They were drawn by horses, which were changed at intervals. Stables were located at Northumberland, Port Trevorton and Liverpool.

"Indians! No, there were no Indians around here during my time. They had already been driven farther West." How often we travel long distances to see some famous person, or behold some unusual curiosity, and miss the good things right at home! Only five true daughters of the American Revolution live. Are we not proud to have the most charming of them right here amongst us?

A CO-ED'S DIARY

Sept. 15th. Today finds us back at old S. U., happy to be with former friends and eager to make new ones. Our old home has been greatly improved so that we feel very much at home this year.

There are more Freshman girls than we had other years, which fact is to our credit. They possess that bewitching air which is characteristic of all Freshmen, but they will soon become a part of us.

Sept. 17th. Registration Day is over to our great relief. It was as tiresome as ever, but classes have begun and we will soon find plenty to do. We are gradually becoming acquainted with our new Co-eds, who are not now quite as green as they had been.

Sept. 19th. Many of our number have gone home for the week-end. Others are steadily recovering from those insistent attacks of homesickness, and are looking upon life at Susquehanna in a favorable manner. Best of all, our friendships are growing and that fact indicates that we shall have a happy year.

SEMINARY NOTES

Kepner '27 supplied at his regular place on Sunday, and reports "His" people as doing fine.

Beard '27 preached at Millville. He has supplied at the place the past summer.

Wiesler '26 left for his home on Friday.

All of the Seminary students have returned but the Rev. Joseph Law. We suppose that, being licensed, he is kept very busy, and will not return till mid-week.

We are glad to announce the entrance of the following "Freshmen" to the Seminary: Martin, Keeler, Groves, Kroen, Neubauer, with Fague, Enders and Grissinger entering a few days later.

We regret the fact that Wm. Sadler '27 will not return to the Sem. this year.

fect. This is more especially educational, when the mind can exercise those functions of thought on these facts which have been presented to it and which it has kept stored up in its receptacle and which, by memory and imagination it reproduces when it wants to make use of them. If we look into a treatise on Mental Philosophy we will find that the functions of the mind are classified in this way: Abstraction, generalization, forming the concept, judgment and reasoning.

The memory and imagination are constantly employed in these processes. The facts of knowledge gained in sense perception are the raw materials. It is carried to the mill, as it were, and there by reflection by the functions of the pure intellect it is worked into a different material, having new shape, new qualities, and new powers. This is what the intellectual man is ever doing. He is ever making his concepts and forming his judgments and he is getting hold of new facts by the discursive operations of his mind. This is called the Discursive faculty. It lies dormant in every mind that comes into this world. It is the purpose of education to develop it into conscious action, to call forth from its dormant state and to enable the student to use this power of his own mind. The exercise of the discursive faculty is called Reasoning.

"In reasoning from something given we arrive at something not given. We are thus able from a few things that are seen to go on to a great many things which are not seen. Or we say that we give a reason for the existence of certain things, and thus we make it apparent to many minds why they receive certain facts or truths. We account for them by placing them in their logical relations, and thus enable others to see the reason of their faith and of their course of action. You ought now to begin to have some very definite conception of what education is. It is only by analyzing the powers of the mind, and discovering what its functions are, that you can see how the mind is to act in being your guide and in enabling you to fulfill the duties of life. We hope that these few thoughts will enable you to see that you have come to college in order to develop your minds; to undergo a certain training and discipline that you may awaken into consciousness all your intellectual powers and capacities of your minds. You do not come here to learn a profession, but to be educated, so that you will be able to enter on the study of a profession.

"If you remain here during the four years, and do the work which it is possible for you to do, you will go out from this place educated men and women. You then ought to be able to study any profession with a reasonable degree of success, and so attain the knowledge of any subject to which you give your attention. By doing this you will then bring honor to your parents and those who are responsible for your being here. You will be an honor to this institution."

CONSERVATORY LARGER

Besides the additions and improvements that have been made to Seibert Hall, the Conservatory of Music is being enlarged. There will be a number of practice rooms added. These will be quite welcome as at the present time, you cannot tell whether your piano is responding or whether it is the carpenter's pounding.

The old pipe organ, which was torn down when our new organ was installed, will be put up again in the conservatory, and used as a practice organ.

The weather permitting, all the repairs will be finished in six weeks, and S. U. will then be on its regular routine once again.

NOTICE

An election for student representatives to the Athletic Association Board will be held after chapel services Thursday morning, September 24.

Allist of eligible names will be posted on the Bulletin Board Tuesday morning, September 22. All are urged to attend chapel Thursday morning and bring you A. A. Coupon Book.

TO FRESHMEN AND NEW STUDENTS

The price of your subscription to The Susquehanna is included in your semester's bill, and you are entitled to every issue. If you do not get the first issue, notify the Circulation Manager at once. If you should wish to have this paper sent home for your parents that they may be informed as to what is going on at school, you may arrange to have this done by paying a dollar and a half to the Circulation Manager, and furnishing your home address. The Circulation Manager is Stover. He may be found at the Phi Mu Delta Fraternity Home during the day and at 207 S. High street from 9 to 10:19 p. m.

You are invited to contribute any articles, jokes, stories or poems, and they will be utilized if possible. Give your contribution to any member of the staff, and they will reach the proper place. Remember, Freshmen, you will have to print this paper four years from now, and it is essential that you begin to help now. A call will soon be issued for the names of all those Freshmen who desire to try out for the position of Editor-in-Chief and Business Manager. This will be explained in chapel, but get ready to put your shoulder to the wheel. The staff welcomes your co-operation.

HELLO! FRESHMEN!

Worthy wearers of the little green cap with the small button on it, we, who have trod Susquehanna's path before you, are endeavoring to hold her standards ever higher, give you a hearty welcome to the campus of our Alma Mater.

We believe you to be a good, spirited bunch, however green you may look, and fresh you may act, and our first thought of you is in the nature of just a little advice.

Listen, the first hundred years is always the hardest—the sooner you realize it the better, and this opportunity is taken to impart this knowledge to you, the first you receive here. We know you have the stuff in you.

Listen, readers, do you know what these boys did? We will let you in on a secret. During their first night out they mastered one of the yells! Did we say mastered, well, almost anyway, even if they did get their K's mixed with their S's and Q's once in a while? But all in all, that's a good start. Don't you agree? Keep it up Freshies.

Say boys, do you know how much you are in the limelight now? Gee, we wouldn't want to be in your shoes, we say, and yet all of us were once, you know. That is one of the reasons we are interested so much in you. We want you to fare as well and better, if possible, on the campus of S. U. than have those who have gone and are going before you. So show us your stuff, gang, and let Susquehanna realize the class of 1929 is a good one and her loyal supporter.

Oh my! The girls! We must not forget you, for of course we must give to you even a more pleasant greeting than to the boys of your class. Yes, we might give you a little advice too—like, "Beware of the nice Junior and Senior boys," for you know girls you can't judge a college man by the width of his trousers. You must look at the size of his ears or something like that. But, of course, you wise people don't need any warning of that sort so we will just say, "Gee, we sure are glad to see you," and then you will realize that we mean it. No, we have no fear for your future for you do not have able guardians, even as the fellows of your class, the Sophomores? Yes '29, we greet you and may you quickly become loyal sons and daughters of old S. U.

We always go in Prexy's car;

And all those red head mamas
Steal out nights in their pink pajamas.

We have a good police force too
At old S. U.

He wears a uniform of blue,
At old S. U.

There's not a drop of booze in sight,
They have the lid down pretty tight;

But over in Sunbury it's alright,
At old S. U.

The Prim Present

Alas those days have passed away
From old S. U.

The verse above won't stand today
At old S. U.

The girls can't use the fire escape,
For those who do will get the gate.

Those chaperones are watching
And with two there is no dodging.

And Madame X has gone alas!
From old S. U.

No longer can we sleep in class
In old S. U.

They feed us just enough for fairies,
Twelve instead of thirteen cherries.

Except for this, life's just the berries
At old S. U.

Among the largest one-man shovels in the world is this electric giant engaged in open-pit mining on the Mesabi Range in northern Minnesota. It picks up eight cubic yards of iron ore at a gulp, which it dumps into a waiting car.

A day's work in a minute

Mesabi Range, renowned iron ore deposit, is yielding its mineral wealth at the rate of 16 tons for every bite of an electric scoop.

A man with a shovel would work a whole day to mine and load eight cubic yards of iron ore which this 300-ton electric giant moves in one minute.

Of course, all mining is not done on the surface. But there are many mines in which electricity has changed our conception of mining operations. Wires, penetrating even to the deepest shafts and galleries, have brought light, power, ventilation and added safety to those who must work in the very bowels of the earth.

Electricity's contribution to mining may be of particular interest to the student of mining engineering, but it is of general interest to all college men as still another example of how electricity is simplifying the world's work.

In every branch of mining operations G-E equipment is very much in evidence. And there are engineers of the General Electric Company especially assigned to mining problems and requirements, just as there are others specializing in all major applications of electricity.

A new series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request. Ask for booklet GEK-1

BIG BROTHER IDEA

LAUNCHED BY Y. M.

interest in them—except perhaps the Sophomores, who were overjoyed because of the paddling material the newcomers supplied. This year the Y. M. made arrangements with the college administration office to secure the names and addresses of all Freshmen boys. Each name in turn to an upper classman, who became the Big Brother of the newcomer.

Due to a shortage of help the office could not forward the names and addresses of the Freshmen in time to give the upper classmen the opportunity of writing to the Freshmen before they came to S. U., as the plan had been. However, they had their names and upon arrival practically all of the Freshmen were approached by their Big Brother.

The Big Brother's acquaintance meant much to the Freshie. Not only did he help him register, find his room, etc., but a friendship was started which should, and very likely will, continue thruout the college life.

Last spring when the Y. M. gathered the names of the upper classmen more names were gathered than there are Freshmen. For this reason some upper classmen were not given a Little Brother to help along.

IS A CO-ED A CRICKET?

We have often heard the expression, "A New Broom Sweeps Clean."
We have heard it so often that we have begun to believe it. But as hearths are usually swept very carefully we could aptly say that "A New Broom Sweeps a Hearth Clean." But occasionally some instance makes us pause and ask the question, "Can it sweep the hearth too clean?" Can it loosen the stones as well as the dust collected upon the top, so as to destroy the homes of the cheerful little crickets living there and cause them to leave in search of another home?

Sometimes we think it can. At any rate the following story might have some bearing upon the subject:

"A long time ago there lived a man who was so wealthy that he owned a great many very beautiful homes. As he could live in but one of these at a time he had to employ caretakers to keep the others in good condition.
This work was hard, however, and he had to get new caretakers every few years. In one of these homes, there was a large open hearth, between the stones of which lived a family of friendly little crickets. He was very fond of them and to protect them from being disturbed, had a set of rules drawn up, which dealt with the way they should be treated. A copy of these rules was given to each new caretaker as she assumed her duties.

It so happened that most of these good people liked the crickets and enjoyed hearing them sing. When they saw that they could be trusted, they gave the insects a great deal of freedom and allowed them to frolic about in a reasonable space, where they could not become lost. As a result of this treatment the little family became much larger and they were very happy.

But one time a new caretaker was put in charge who misunderstood the rules dreadfully. This person took too good care of them. She barred the entrances to their homes, so that they could not come out and play as they had in the past, because she was afraid they would become lost. They could no longer frolic and they no longer cared to sing.

All the privileges that they had grown accustomed to seemed to be taken away from them and they died one by one. The good lady eventually saw that she had misconstrued the rules and had been over zealous in their enforcement. She even realized that she had added a few new ones herself. She tried to undo what she had done, but her efforts never met with total success. By misunderstanding the rules as she thought they should be, too rigidly, she lost all of her little charges. And the owner grieved for a long time.

Of course, we would not think of calling a co-ed a cricket.

There is but one way of conversing safely with all men, that is, not by concealing what we say or do, but by saying or doing nothing that deserves to be concealed.

CRUSADERS BATTLE CORNELL AT ITHACA IN FIRST GAME OF SEASON

Team Shows Real Strength in Fight Against Overwhelming Odds. Strong Cornell Eleven Frequently Held for Downs. Outlook Bright

Coach Wingard's warriors journeyed to New York State last week-end for the annual game with G.H. Doherty's men at Cornell. The S. U. team, also on the short end of the final score, was to be complimented on the fighting spirit which was sustained from the opening whistle to the close of the fray. The final score was 80-0, which is the lowest score in the past three seasons. This speaks well for the local squad this season when teams more nearly in our class will meet us. Nearly every man of the twenty-three making the trip from Selinsgrove, was used during the game and no casualties resulted from the contest except Bard's dislocated shoulder and Dan Means' injured rib. This was Bard's first game with S. U., having had considerable experience under Coach Bezdek at State College. His injury and that of Means will have some effect in the strength of the squad.

Captain Stuempfle put his usual game at quarterback, calling signals

without an error; Bolig, Groce, Sleigle, Martin, Pratt, Auten, all played in the backfield during the game and each did his "stuff." On the line Gimie, Horton, Cassell, Heinle, Means, Haney, Daubenspeck, Lance, Gordon, Roof, Garman and Ebberts had a chance to show their wares to the Ithacans and held the larger eleven for downs several times.

The feature of the game was the thirty yard pass from Stuempfle to Pratt, which gave the Cornellians a huge surprise. Taken all in all, the game was played clean throat, and as in previous years the treatment accorded the visitors by the Cornellians was just the best.

Next week the squad travels to Philadelphia to meet Haverford and as they were beaten by Columbia by the same score as we were in the proportion to the size of the schools, the teams next Saturday should be about equal in strength.

Sophs Win Annual Tie-Up from Frosh

INTERCLASS SCRAP ENDS WITH 10 TO 1 VICTORY FOR SECOND YEAR MEN; NUMBERS ABOUT EVEN, BUT SOPHS' EXPERIENCE DECIDES OUTCOME

Repeating their feat of last year the class of 1925 donned the emblems of victory at the close of the annual Freshman-Sophomore tie-up on Thursday afternoon, September 24, 1925. The class of '25 by crushing their rivals to the tune of 10 to 1 have thus succeeded in doing the thing that few classes of the University have accomplished, namely, in winning the event for two years in succession. This year, altho the roll of the Freshman class shows a decidedly greater number of boys than does that of the Sophomores, yet the winners seemed to have little trouble in tying up ten of their opponents' number and carrying them across the goal line.

That all the Freshman boys did not turn out for the event was quite evident, and while we are no little dismayed for this reason, yet it must be acknowledged that those who were loyal to their class in the scrap against the older and more experienced class of '25 fought a good fight. One thought might be given to you '29. It is this—in union there is strength. While, not new, yet it was demonstrated to you in the event of last week. We look for better things from you.

Selbert Hall added zest and divergence to the scene and the personages of the new girls appeared in costumes of a unique kind. Ask you girls, were you ever in Selbert Hall at the scene of a dance? It would seem so, for always the girls' faces turned toward the stage, even when walking toward the dance. And the cosmetics employed for their make-up must have been of a most artistic nature.

The next week the team in which the underclassmen will again meet as rivals will be the Freshman-Sophomore football team. Last year the score ended 20 to 0 in favor of the Frosh, and this year the Sophs will try to do their best. However, the new men remain and the coming game we look to see if the '29s can redeem themselves. What do you Freshies?

First Pep Meeting Held Last Thursday

HELD ON THE EVE OF THE DEPARTURE OF THE TEAM TO ITHACA WHERE THEY PLAYED CORNELL. ELEVEN CHEERED ON TO DO BEST

A peppy mass meeting was held in the new Chapel Hall last Thursday night, with the entire football squad and most of the student body present. The yells were snappy and the talks were short and to the point and plenty of school spirit was displayed.

Cheer Leader Landis had charge of the meeting and kept things humming. As the first chord of the Alma Mater was struck everybody rose to their feet and their singing made the hall ring. Landis caused a laugh because his gesture to the audience to be seated resembled that of a minister, but the laugh just put them in the right humor to yell. Yell they did, and cheer after cheer rang out; for the team, for Coach Wingard, for Captain Stuempfle and for the team again. Rah! Team! Team! Team!

Dr. Woodruff was the member of the faculty chosen to speak. He gave a very interesting talk upon the various things that go to make up a winning team and showed the students that they must support their team, whether they win or lose. Captain Stuempfle was then called upon and he responded with a talk, that, altho very short, was much appreciated. Captain "Ernie" is known for not having a great deal to say.

After the singing of "Old S. U." Coach Wingard told the students a few of the ways in which they could help the team. He made no promises other than that the team would do its best and the entire student body knew, when the Crusaders left amidst cheers the next day, that it would play real football. Professor Mowles, the new Director of Athletics, then made his first address at Susquehanna. It was not as much an address as it was a heart talk, and it gave everyone a chance to know the one who will direct Susquehanna's athletic activities this year.

There followed more yells and a stanza and chorus of the Alma Mater and the first pep meeting of the year was over. May they all be as successful!

Four of Last Year's Teachers Not Back

PROFESSORS GROSSMAN AND KOCH, MME. MARSEAU AND MISS LA QUAY DID NOT RETURN THIS YEAR. MRS. KOCH COULD NOT RETURN AS PRECEPTRESS

With the beginning of each school year we return with the joyful anticipation of meeting old friends and resuming our work where it previously had ended, but invariably each year there are some faces we search in vain to see.

Those whose names we miss the most are our instructors, and with the beginning of this school year four have been missed from our midst. Our physical director, Prof. Grossman, has returned to Lower Merion, and those on the campus, who had any work under him, particularly the track squad, which for the past two seasons has been a winner, will recognize our loss.

Prof. Grossman was an ardent Susquehanna booster and it was through his efforts we now possess the new athletic field and entrance. He introduced a system of athletics for all, which we must admit is very successful. S. U. can never forget the debt she owes to L. D. Grossman. To those in the music department the passing of Miss LaQuay and Prof. Koch will be keenly felt. Miss LaQuay has for years turned out a successful university orchestra, and under Prof. Koch's direction the Ladies' Choral Club finished a good season. We wish them much success in their future work.

We also extend our best wishes to Mme. Y. L. de Marseau, who has returned to her native country.

Reserves Outplayed Norry, but Lost 3-0

SECOND TEAM PLAYS EXCELLENT FOOTBALL, BUT FUMBLES ARE COSTLY AND TEAM COULD NOT SCORE. FIELD GOAL IN LAST QUARTER DECIDES GAME

The Susquehanna Reserves played a good game of football against Northumberland High at Northumberland last Saturday afternoon and altho they made more gains and first downs than their opponents, they could not score. Hubbard kicked a field goal in the last quarter of play and decided the game in Northumberland's favor.

Hubbard was probably the star of the Norry team. Treibies, Ulrich and Kemmerer made consistent gains for the Reserves. Faust and Rarick played a good game on the line.

With a little more practice and co-operation Susquehanna will have a Reserve team of which she can well be proud.

ALL ALUMNI ARE URGED TO RETURN; HELP THE TEAM TO BEAT DREXEL

We Want this Alumni Day to be the Largest and the Most Successful Ever Staged Here. Parade Will be An Interesting Feature

Great preparations are already being made by the different classes and the organizations on the campus in order to make October 17th a red letter day in the history of old S. U.

October 17th is the day that has been set aside as Alumni and Parents' Day. Every effort is being made to have as many alumni as possible be present, and all parents and friends of students and alumni are invited to come and to participate in the events of the day. At the present writing, we can mention only a few of the many things which are being arranged to make it a most enjoyable day for everyone.

Miss Herman Will Assist Dr. Fisher

NEW INSTRUCTRESS WILL HAVE CHARGE OF THE SECRETARIAL STUDIES AND THOSE OF OFFICE MANAGEMENT. SHE IS WELL EQUIPPED TO FILL POST

Last week's issue of The Susquehanna failed to include the name of Miss Beatrice Herman, B. S., as one of the new instructors added to our Faculty. Information was not then available and we seek to remedy the omission.

Miss Herman is the new assistant professor of Business Administration. She is well known in Northumberland and Snyder counties as an exceptionally able and successful teacher, having been an assistant to Dr. C. A. Fisher, former head of the Commercial Department of the Sunbury high school, and now director of the School of Business Administration at Susquehanna. Miss Herman trained at the Pennsylvania Business College, the Gregg School, Chicago; the School of Commerce Accounts and Finance of New York University, and graduated from the School of Education, University of Pittsburgh, an honor student, with the degree of Bachelor of Science. Miss Herman was in the Civil Service of U. S. Government for five years, three in the Bureau of Indian Affairs, Department of the Interior. Later she was assistant in the Commercial Departments of the high school at Sunbury and Turtle Creek, and head of the Commercial Department of the high school at Millersburg, Leeburg and Verona. At Susquehanna she will have charge of the Secretarial studies and office management.

DR. PIKE GIVES THE FIRST OF HIS SERIES OF LECTURES

Dr. Pike of the medical staff of the Danville State Hospital for the Insane, addressed the new students last Thursday afternoon upon the subject of Abnormal Psychology. He gave them the first of a series of eight lectures which will culminate in a clinic at the hospital at Danville and an inspection of the institution.

Dr. Pike is a very forceful lecturer and he has the fortunate ability to make his talks interesting, as well as instructive. He will explain the workings of the entire nervous system; will show how it may become deranged, and tell how people may take precautions to protect themselves, their friends and the community.

There's a great difference between market days.

Friday evening, October 16th, a pep-py mass meeting will be held in the Alumni gymnasium, at which time short talks will be given by various individuals of the College and the Alumni Association. At this time also, many new plans will be discussed for the building of a better and greater Susquehanna.

The annual football game between the Sophomores and the Freshmen will probably take place at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. At 12:30 p. m. the various floats along with the different classes will form in front of Selbert Hall and march down College Avenue thru Selinsgrove. Arrangements are being made to secure the services of a band to lead the parade, which promises to be one of the largest ever held here. After the parade, the real feature of the day will be staged on the athletic field, when Susquehanna will clash with Drexel at 2:30 p. m. Freshmen have already started looking for material with which to build a huge bon-fire in anticipation of a real victory for S. U.

This year Susquehanna can justly feel proud of the Little Crusaders, for in their first game of the season, they showed remarkable odds and strength against overwhelming odds. The team to a man is showing the true fighting spirit of old S. U. We can promise that you will see a real game of football October 17th.

Alumni, mark these dates, October 16th and 17th, on your calendar, and make arrangements to come back to old S. U. and live again if but for a day, the old college life. We extend a hearty welcome to all friends and Alumni of Susquehanna.

Seniors Make Plans for Hallowe'en Party

COMMITTEES HAVE BEEN NAMED AND PLANS STARTED FOR ANNUAL AFFAIR. MANY STUDENTS BEGIN TO PLAN THEIR COSTUMES

In past years we had one big event to which we always looked forward. That was the Hallowe'en Party, staged by the combined Literary Societies. With the passing of the Literary Societies last year, some of the students started to worry about this great social affair. Everyone asked what was to be done, but no one tried to do anything, till certain of the Seniors heard of the predicament. The Class of '26, wanting to live up to the reputation gained in the past, of being the sponsors of all the peppy affairs, got their heads together and the result was that the same bunch who has helped to make the past affairs a great success formed themselves into a committee. There will be a party—the committee will do the work, but—in the near future when a collection is taken in chapel to cover the expenses which will be incurred, don't be a slacker. They won't ask for much, a dime or fifteen cents.

We are merely telling you about this long enough in advance so that you may be able to send home for your costume, for everyone comes costumed, and masked. Don't forget there will be several prizes for the best and worst couples, etc. After everyone has arrived or we feel they have, there will be a Grand March. Concluded on Page 3, Col. 1

MORE CHEMICAL EQUIPMENT

A new chemical laboratory is now being fitted up in the basement of the Science Hall to take care of the great number of students desirous of studying advanced chemistry.

This semester the enrollment in General Chemistry alone, is so large that the members of that class will occupy every desk in the present laboratory. This, of course, means that space will have to be found elsewhere for most of the other classes. The new lab will be used mainly by students of Organic and Physical Chemistry. Those taking up Qualitative Analysis will probably have to have a room of their own in a year or two, because there is always a large class in that subject. The arrangements that are being made now can not be more than temporary, for with Susquehanna's rapid growth they will be inadequate in but a few years from now. It has been suggested that the partition between the room being furnished now and the one next to it, be removed.

STAR COURSE PROGRAM

Professor Sheldon, director of the Conservatory of Music, announces the following numbers on the Star Course for this year. This series of concerts and lectures is growing in popularity every year, and the students and the people of Selingrove look forward with a great deal of pleasure to the appearance of these artists.

The schedule of attractions is: Monday, Oct. 26, The Cleveland Symphonic Quintet; Monday, Nov. 16, "Cott's Saturday Night" by a Scotch company; Wednesday, Dec. 9, lecture, by Ruth Bryan Owens; Wednesday, Jan. 29, lecture, by Dr. Risner; Thursday, March 4, Mme. de Philippe (soprano) and company.

CONSERVATORY FACULTY PROGRAM

Members of the faculty of the Conservatory of Music will give an entertainment in the Chapel Hall Thursday evening, October 15th at 8 o'clock. The general admission is free, the proceeds of which will be donated to the scenery fund. The program will be of such a type that no one can well afford or would wish to miss it.

ORCHESTRA PRACTICE THURSDAY
The first orchestra rehearsal will be held Thursday evening at 6:30 in the chapel hall. All students who play musical instruments are urged to attend. The orchestra this year will be under the very able leadership of Professor Bailey. It will be well worth any student's time to receive the type of training which an organization of this kind offers.

A LETTER FROM A FRESHMAN TO A FRIEND AT HOME

Susquehanna University
September 14, 1925.

Dear Uncle:

I will end-avor to start to explain my romantic, exuberating, any-drous, starting, supernatural, melon-colic adventures as an honorable, uprightous, influential law-abiding, moral knowledge-seeking FRESHMAN.

Coming in on the Lighting Express, preferably the Sunbury branch, we stopped suddenly only to be informed by the overworked efforts of an upperclassman that we were in Selingrove. We sure were deceived when we think of the song "It ain't gonna rain no more" as the scene was nothing less than a second Johnstown flood.

On getting off the train we hailed a taxi but receiving no answer we decided to walk—walking is good exercise anyhow.

At last we arrived at the great institution, and were escorted to an immense building, the name of which is Hassinger Hall, and after surviving the rush for rooms, Mr. Arbogast and his pipe escorted us to the fourth floor by means of a modern electrical contrivance known as an elevator, not to be confused with a dumb waiter. Our superfluous ideas of fine college rest rooms were duffed as we looked into the four-sided and barefloored surroundings; however we decided to put up for the night and in a course of time we had enormous friends, not to mention their four legs and wings.

The night was passed, not thinking of the past but of the great future that was before us, that is if we take advantage of it.

Thru the guiding, courteous, and untiring efforts of the officials of this place we began our college careers; but our high ideals were schuckled by the brutal, unhearing, paddle swinging reception committee.

We were beginning to think of the great wonderfulness that was left behind and we decided to leave, but on reading the poem "Sing a song of College Days—Campus full of Pretty Dames," we decided to stay and endure the unmerciful hardships.

Yours with a Squeeze,
I. M. Bright "29."

FIRST SOCIAL EVENING

Last night after dinner the students of S. U. enjoyed what was formerly known as Social Hour, but what some one has suggested calling Social Evening. The new social rooms were the scene of the fun. The place is ideal and everyone enjoyed themselves greatly. Williams, the musician and would-be song writer, performed upon the piano as did several of the co-eds. The piano stood up well under the strain.

The reason that it has been suggested to call this weekly get-together a Social Evening rather than Social Hour is because of the implication that the latter contains that it should last but one hour. There is no good reason why the enjoyment should stop exactly sixty minutes after it has started. When we consider that this gathering was impractical during the whole of last year because of the remodeling of the Dorm, and that occasionally something turns up to prevent it, there should be no objection to having a little longer when it is possible to have it at all.

An old countryman from Ireland had finally obtained work in a saw mill after being out of work for a long time.

He was cutting wood and the hazy circle at the outergide of the circular saw had a great fascination for him and at last he put his finger over it just to see what it was. His finger came off.

As he stood gazing at the bleeding stump, the foreman came along. "Well, what's the matter here?" he said.

"Blime me if I know," was the reply. "You see I just put my finger over the saw like that—my Gawd, there's another one gone!"

SMASH BAGGAGE, SIR?

Seeing Arbogast go toward the station early Friday with several trunks, we felt that the fire escape had been used, but found they only contained the football team's equipment.

Necessity has no law.

I WANT TO BE A MARTYR

I want to be a martyr bold, way down in Tennessee,
And suffer for the story of my for-bears in a tree;
I'll teach it, and preach it, this evolution sign,
And in the footlights turned on me,
I'll pay a martyr's fine.

I want to be arrested for the teaching bunk of late—Wild guesses mortal never proved—despite my sovereign state;
I'll write me, and fight me a place in "monkey-dom," Epochal name, a world of fame all brilliant in the sun.

Upon a time—"six hundred million years ago," maybe,
A tiny Cell was brooding in the bottom of the sea;
All quiet, and by it, all life on earth began,
All elephants, and tiger-cats, and hissing snakes and man.

It was a powerful Cell, no doubt, and brooded there alone,
Down in the bowels of the sea, ere sunlight ever shone,
And waged there, and staged there a universal plan
To overcome all obstacles, and frame a perfect man.

For man must have a bit of wit, a bit of conscience too,
With hands amain to drive a plane, build cities strong and true;
And seek well, and speak well, sing oratorios—
Yet none of these hath "monkey-dom," alas for all its woes:

It must be a wise old Cell to scheme so in advance,
Set metes and bounds for life on earth, in every circumstance;
Make sap flow, and minds grow, and tell things when to halt;
Oh, wonderful this mother Cell without a single fault!

But whence this tiny Cell evolved, and how it came to be
So clothed upon with might and power, down in the deep, blue sea,
So broadly, so awfully to work its living scheme?
I can but say in truth's Broadway, "tis all a piping dream!"

Yet dreams are mostly sweet forsooth, that grant a selfish quest,
And many minds, ambitious kinds, make this the only test;
I'll teach it and preach it, this evolution stuff—
Through Tennessees my fame shall be "A Martyr treated rough."
IRA DANIEL LOUNSBAY.

A wealthy motorist, while traveling thru a Mississippi town, approached a gasoline station only to find the tender a lazy country boy.

"Here, boy," said the motorist, "I want some gasoline. And get a move on you! You'll never get anywhere in the world unless you push. Push is essential. When I was young, I pushed, and that got me where I am."
"Well, governor," replied the boy, "I reckon you'll have to push again, 'cause we ain't got a drop o' gas in the place."—Norton Zephyr.

Little Joe—"Pa, what is preparedness?"
Big Joe—"Preparedness, my son, is the act of wearing spectacles to breakfast when you know that you are going to have grapefruit.—Lyre.

Wife—"James, why are you taking the camp stool along when we are going out for a little walk?"

Man—"You said you were going to look at shop windows and I'm not going to stand up hour after hour.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

—S—Stranger—"Can you tell me where the post office is?"

Citizen—"There it is, right across the street. Any fool knows that."
Stranger—"Yes, that's why I asked you.—Florence Sigaretta.

"Is you brother a musician?"

"Is he? Why at the age of three he played on the linoleum."

WITHIN MY INNER TEMPLE
Within my inner temple there's a crowd.
There's one of us that's humble, one that's proud;
There's one that love's his neighbor as himself,
And one who cares for naught but fame and pelf.
There's one who sits and sorrows o'er his sins,
And one who, unrepentant, merely grins.
From such corroding care, how soon I'd fly,
Could I but once determine which is I!
—Southern Churchman.

SEE IT THROUGH

Susquehanna University has just enrolled the largest class in the history of the institution. By leaps and bounds, old S. U. has been expanding and today her sons and daughters in all professions and walks of life are exercising and wielding an influence for right and righteousness in almost every portion of the world.

Welcome, Class of 1929, and may each one of you realize the dream that you have been dreaming. May you have that determination which will enable you to successfully finish your course at S. U. and then the great course of life.

But remember, the qualities which lead one to launch out on an enterprise with promising and passionate enthusiasm may be accompanied by a lack of those qualities which are needed to enable one to a successful finish. And one of the almost pathetic incidents the writer has noted is that a comparatively large number of those who enter the Freshman Class never get to the Junior or Senior Class. A process of "natural selection" seems to be at work and many apparently promising prospects fall by the wayside. About too many it has been said: "He was not able to finish."

It requires something more than mere good intentions, ardor, or excitement to complete a college course. It requires honest toil and persistent effort. It requires an expenditure of moral energy. And above all it requires the student to exercise that great virtue which is neglected by so many, namely, patience.

In the life of every conscientious student there come days of discouragement. There will be days when the "rowing" is hard. But be thankful for that. Do not be tempted to give up. Stick to your task. Victory lies beyond. Trials and difficulties overcome make one stronger for the next performance.

If ever anyone was tempted to give up, it was Paul. Yet, if in Nero's prison he had collapsed, unable to finish, all his fine start on Damascus road would have counted for naught and his long and arduous labors would have been in vain. The significance of his life hung on his ability to say at last, "I have finished the course."

Jesus had a difficult conclusion to face. Yet if He had given up in Gethsemane, unable to finish, all His work and teachings would have been forgotten. The divine life would have been wasted. His victory lay in His power to say on Calvary, "It is finished."

during which time the prize winners will be selected, then will come the unmasking. A short program will follow, and as to the spending of the rest of the evening, all will depend on how heavy you make the collection. We won't promise you "Paul White-man's Best," nor even "The Ramblers," but that matter will be taken care of.

Also there will be slight eats, suitable for the occasion, pumpkin pie, cider, etc., all will be arranged with the aid of "Daddy" Horton, and Mrs. Bittner. All we ask is, send for a costume, it won't have to be looking like a million dollars, just so it will help to live things up, then when the day for the collection rolls about, loosen up the purse strings and give all you can, it will be worth more.

If the Freshmen did not get sufficient chance to mix at the Mixer, you will here. We ask all of you. If you know of any little stunt, which you, or others could give, or know of any talent, the owners of which may be too bashful to display, give it to one of the members of '26, and we will do the rest. Let's all join together in making this the biggest and best Halloween party ever staged on the Susquehanna campus, one which will go down in history, as the most pleasant evening spent at S. U.

RAH FROSH

On Tuesday morning as you looked into the Dining Hall you would think it had turned into a nursery, as many tables were filled with people that wore green bibs. On second sight, however, you discovered that they were only the Frosh girls, taking their rules, as laid down for them by the Sophomores. As the Sophs were afraid that the Frosh would strain their eyes with the heavy studying, they also supplied them with glasses.

Thursday morning, or on tie-up day, they seemed to advertise Barnum and Bailey, as they looked like clowns with their painted faces. Their hair carried you back to the days of long ago, when the girls had their shell pink ears showing.

Now as a word of warning to the Frosh. Some are taking the rules as good sports, but there are also some who think that they can break the rules and get away with it. This is impossible to do, for those that obey will receive their reward and those that disobey will suffer the consequences.

MIXER NOT SO GOOD

The Y. M. and Y. W. Mixer, which was held last Monday night, in the gymnasium, was, in spite of an interesting program, possibly the most unsuccessful ever held at Susquehanna. As the name "Mixer" implies this annual social event is intended to make everyone acquainted. It is judging from that standpoint that we say the affair was unsuccessful for no one seemed to mix. Perhaps the Freshmen boys thought that rules were still in force, or perhaps it was because the program as originally planned was not completed. At any rate very few people were made to know each other and, thru no fault of any of the committees in charge, the party was not the success it usually is.

A CO-ED'S DIARY

Tuesday, Sept. 22. Found most of us on campus for one week and getting better acquainted with the many new girls. Rules were put on Frosh girls.

Wednesday, Sept. 23. Seats were assigned in chapel. Co-eds received physical examination and many were told that they must stop drooping the heads, because that causes round shoulders. About 10:30 p. m. there seemed to be quite a lot of howling done. What's the reason?

Thursday, Sept. 24. Tie-up day. Frosh have to keep rules on all day if Sophs won. The pep meeting in the evening seemed to give all girls surplus energy and they took it out by having a door slamming party.

Friday, Sept. 25. Social hour postponed for some unknown reason. The Frosh seemed to be getting well educated to Dorm life, as many odors came out into the hall from Frosh girls' rooms, that suggested "cats." There were quite a few packages received, presumably from home.

Saturday, Sept. 26. Dorm seemed dead, as many girls had left for their homes over the week-end. More feeds.

Sunday, Sept. 27. Nearly all attended Sunday school and church and many letters were written during "Quiet Hour." Finis.

FOLLOWING OUR GRID RIVALS

Last Saturday saw most of colleges engaged in the opening of their football schedules, and it might be interesting to follow Susquehanna's 1925 opponents.

Drexel bowed to Georgetown 25-0, thus making them a worthy foe, as the latter always boasts of a strong eleven.

Schuykill and Juniata, both our rivals, fought to a bitter 6-0 score, with the former holding the edge, proving both teams possess a strong defense. P. M. C.'s strength cannot be estimated from their 39-0 victory over Prospect Park, as the game was not an official collegiate event.

Altho our Lafayette game is a conceded defeat it is satisfying to find she was pushed to the limit to hand Muhlenberg a 20-0 defeat. Lebanon Valley showed a powerful defense in holding Penn State to two touchdowns, and Columbia easily romped away with our next week's rivals, Haverford, 59-0. As Columbia is not likely nearly as strong as Cornell, we stand better than an even chance to win, so get behind that team and let's root for a victory.

ALUMNI NOTES

It is hoped that this column of The Susquehanna will be of interest to everybody, and that all the Alumni of Susquehanna University will cooperate in sending news for publication in these columns, so that thru your cooperation we will be able to make it contain more news for each individual reader. The Alumni column in this issue is devoted to the class of 1925. We have been compelled to omit some names, due to the lack of sufficient information as to their location and the profession in which they are engaged. All Alumni news is welcomed in these columns, send in whatever news you have of any alumnus. Address to I. Wilson Kepner, Selinsgrove, Pennsylvania.

The Seminary has received five members from the class of '25, namely, Robert Keeler, George Martin, Martin Enders, Ellsworth Grove, Harland Fague.

Edwin Fisher, William Persing and Lester Shaffer have enrolled as medical students at the Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia.

George Bullock is engaged as an insurance salesman in Johnstown.

Roger Blough is principal of the Honesdale high school.

Miss Margaret Spigelmyer is teaching in the public schools of Dubois.

Miss Sara Brungart is teaching in the high school at Millinburg.

Marlin Grubb has secured a position in Philadelphia, and is taking advanced work at the University of Pennsylvania.

Samuel Allison is engaged in teaching in the schools of Tioga.

Max Clark, one of Susquehanna's stellar baseball hurlers, is engaged in business in Elmira, N. Y. Mr. Clark, "Max," during the past summer months also entered the matrimonial field, having married Miss Mildred Patterson, also a student of Susquehanna. They now reside in Elmira.

Stuart Bannon, another of '25's stellar athletes, is at the present time teaching in the Selinsgrove high school. Mr. Bannon, better known as "Stew," has also entered the matrimonial field, having married Miss Snyder, of Selinsgrove. They now reside in this place.

Ralph Granley has secured the English chair of the Williamstown high school.

Harley Barnes has secured a position in Muncy.

Earl Thomas, one of Susquehanna's well known athletes, is now engaged in teaching and coaching at the Middleburg high school.

William Bowser has been engaged as coach of the Hanover high school teams.

Newton Hanner has secured a fine position in Philadelphia.

Guy Lubold has entered the Lutheran Seminary at Wittenberg College, Springfield, Ohio.

Leon Messner is manager of the Stanley Theatre, Selinsgrove.

Those who graduated from the Seminary last June, and present location, are as follows: Reide Binghamman, Thompsonstown; Samuel Siders, Elk Lick; Louis Foutz, Tyons; John Cole, Kintnersville; George Groninger, Pottsgrove; John Weikde, Espy; Lester Kaufman, Brookville; David D. Dagle, missionary, Monrovia, Africa; Oscar Freeman, Turbotville; Claude Ridenour, in College.

Remainder of class will be published next week.

GRID PROSPECT FOR S. U. IN '45

On September the fourth, Susquehanna University's first known grid prospect for the reason of 1945 came to life in the personage of a rusty headed, rugged youth. This infant has all the ear marks of developing into a stout guard like his Dad, who is now holding down a job on the S. U. line for the second season.

Robert Bradford Cassel is no other than our coming hero in this item. Robert weighs seven and a half pounds and resembles his Dad, our own "Kenzie," very much. A noted characteristic is that Robert sleeps very much, which is not unlike his father, who is invariably late for his eight o'clock classes.

Y. W. C. A. HOST TO FRESHMAN GIRLS ON HIKE TO BROOK'S BANK

Representatives to Convention Held at Eagles Mere This Summer Conducted Meeting

Breath deeply the Susquehanna atmosphere! Isn't it refreshing? The new students were introduced to this invigorating concoction at the Y. W. outing, the initial hike of the year,
and found it a sure cure for the deadly and sometimes fatal disease known as homesickness.

The doors were flung wide about 6:15 G. M. A goodly number of the fair Co-eds filed forth, assumed a manly stride, and forthwith found themselves on the enticing landscape.
Brook's Bank was the goal to which all these physical gymnasts were directed. Only the welcome blaze of a fire could have brought forth such exclamations of satisfaction and delight from their lips.

The activity culminated in the regular meeting of the Y. W., which was conducted by Mary Gaugler, who was ably assisted by the other Eagles Mere delegates. The accounts of their experience were positively gripping.

The girls proceeded according to a schedule during their sojourn at the beautiful summer resort. Their amusement, nourishing and recreation seemed to have been well attended to, but the periods of discussion evidently occupied the greater part of their time. They were very enthusiastic about these periods in which they "talked about everything," from student government to campistry, including all the issues thereof. Our S. U. representatives have brought many interesting facts back to us, and their suggestions for improvement in our organization and in our College were eagerly received.

Such a trip to such a convention is not only a mental stimulus, but the associations and the exchange of ideas bring about spiritual aspirations as well. While only four members of our organization were present this year, the Association hopes to double that number next year. There is no better opportunity to meet girl of one's own educational standing than at such a gathering, and the privilege of hearing and talking with the really wonderful people of the day is rare and precious.

The meeting was concluded in the usual fashion, after which a marshmallow toast ensued. All the "victims" fell to and soon the good things had all disappeared. When there was no further reason for remaining the group departed.

The light of the stars was very much appreciated, but the illumination of the moon would have been convenient.

LADIES' AUXILIARY CALLS OUR ATTENTION TO GOLDEN MEMORY BOOK

Cost of Having the Name of a Loved One Inscribed is Small; Proceeds Will Go Towards the Establishment of Scholarship for Girls

Susquehanna University is a Co-educational institution. Boys and girls from various conditions in life come here, seeking a higher education.

We have various funds, in the form of scholarships, providing for the needy male students; but no fund of any kind has been established for likewise needy girls. Feeling therefore the need of such a fund, the interest of which could be given to some worthy girl, the Ladies' Auxiliary has established, what we have called, for the want of a better name, a Golden Memory Book. By paying into the Ladies' Auxiliary Girls' Assistance fund the sum of ten dollars, any person or persons, any class in school or church, any Society may have their name or names inscribed in our Golden Memory Book. This book will eventually be placed in some public place, probably the school library and will be open for inspection as the years go by.

It is the hope of the Auxiliary as its members pass on one by one as is inevitable, members of their families will see to it that their names are placed in the book. This has already been done by a number of families. It is probable that a soon as the fund has reached the sum of a thousand dollars, the Auxiliary will begin paying out interest, but it is the plan to reach the sum of two thousand dollars ultimately. This is a work that will go on and on throughout the years and it is hoped that the students and Alumni everywhere will help in the attainment of this goal.

Ladies' Auxiliary Held First Meeting

LADIES' ORGANIZATION BEGAN WORK FOR YEAR; MEMORY OF MRS. KIMBLE HONORED; ANNOUNCE THAT CHRISTMAS CARDS WILL BE ON SALE

The first regular meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary was held in Selbert Hall on Saturday afternoon. Refreshments were served to about 50 ladies with Mrs. Bucher as hostess. The president, Mrs. H. A. Surface, then opened with a few remarks regarding the passing of Mrs. Kimble, former preceptress. She said in brief that few of us thought that when we said "good-bye" to Mrs. Kimble at our June meeting that we really said "farewell."

If we knew when friends around us, closely press to say "good-bye" which among the lips that kiss us, first should "neath the daisies lie. We would clasp our arms around them.

Looking on them 'neath our tears, Tender words of love eternal We would whisper in their ears.

Mrs. Aikens offered resolutions and Mrs. Allison read an appropriate poem. Money was voted by the Auxiliary to pay for the beautiful new wicker in the parlors. A bill for a hundred thirty-five dollars was presented for the new buffet in the dining room.

The sample Christmas card books were reported as having arrived, and Mrs. Surface reported that she had received a hundred dollar order. Half of the proceeds from the sale of these cards goes to the Auxiliary and it is earnestly hoped that every student of S. U., male or female, who buys cards, few or many, will give their order to the Auxiliary. There are two sample books and arrangements will be made for a time when all students may see them. Reserve your orders for the Ladies' Auxiliary.

This is not to be a memorial or memorandum book in which can be inscribed only the names of persons deceased, altho such names are solicited. Rather it is to be a book of golden memory—by means of which, the memory of those who by this small gift, help along this worthy cause, can be perpetuated. The fund, which has just been started already amounts to a hundred dollars. It has been suggested that the girls who were intimately associated with Mrs. Kimble will see to having her name in this book. It has also been suggested by some of the former students that the name of Mrs. Floyd and Focht be commemorated in this way. We feel sure that a movement of this kind will receive the hearty approval and support of the student body. Missionary Societies in the churches served by our graduates are urged to contribute to this fund.

Reserves Play Well Against Mt. Carmel

GREATER WEIGHT AND EXPERIENCE WIN FOR HIGH SCHOOL; WOLF AND SHUE STAR FOR THE SCRUBS, WHILE BRESLIN IS STAR FOR RIVALS

The reserve football team journeyed to Mt. Carmel last Saturday, firmly resolved to play foot ball worthy of the standard of S. U.

Against superior brawn and co-ordination, however, their efforts were fruitless and they fell before a 20-0 score. The work of the enemy was of unusual perfection for scholastic players and the efforts of our line to withstand the battering ram plunges of alien backs, particularly Novitski and Breslin, were unavailing. The game was not without its pleasing revelations from our point of view. Shuntill and Wolf played especially well at the ends, while in the backfield the work of Dunkberger, Treibels, Weaver, Ulrich and Shue were extremely praiseworthy.

Considering the lack of weight and experience the scrubs have made an excellent showing thus far and constitute a team of which Susquehanna can truly be proud.

Kappa Delta Phi Girls Entertained on Hike

Sorority is Host to New Girls on Hike to Electric Dam; Roasted Weiners and Bacon Enjoyed

Four-thirty p. m. arrived on Thursday, Oct. 1st and the Campus was suddenly flooded with fair Co-eds attired in hiking clothes. The reason for this was the annual Kappa Delta Phi Sorority hike and weiner roast, which was held at the electric dam. The air was brisk and cool and impelled the hikers to step rapidly as they went down the Susquehanna Trail.

At the dam a glowing fire was found around which the seventy-five Co-eds gathered to roast weiners and bacon. When the food was disposed of the party took on an atmosphere of camp life. Songs were sung to the accompaniment of the ukelele sextet. Games including everything from Farmer in the Dell to "Virginia Reel" furnished entertainment for the rest of the evening.

After rounding cheers had been given by both guests and hostesses, the hikers wended their way towards Selbert Hall hoping that many more such enjoyable evening are in store for them.

Photographer Will Be Here October 12

1927 LANTHORN FOUNDATIONS BEING LAID; CHANGE OF PHOTOGRAPHER MADE; STUDENTS ARE URGED TO HAVE THEIR PICTURES TAKEN PROMPTLY

Conspicuous among the traditions of S. U. is an annual publication called The Lanthorn. The embryo volume thirty has been steadily growing since last May, but is still in a condition demanding nourishment.

A part of that nourishment is scheduled in the form of photographs to be taken in Selbert Hall parlor beginning October 12. The year tradition of former years has been broken this year in the selection of a different photographer. General dissatisfaction among the students has been given as the reason. Instead, there has been engaged the services of one H. Zamsky, a professional photographer, of Philadelphia, whose life-like pictures and superior workmanship recommended him to several members of the faculty, the staff, and all those students who witnessed the display.

The staff earnestly solicits the co-operation of the student body in making use of every facility for prompt action. If each student has his appointment set at the earliest possible time, the staff will consider it a favor beyond compensation.

Mr. Zamsky's services have been arranged for by contract to begin at 9 a. m., Monday, October 12th, and continue four days only. Every student should be represented in The Lanthorn and it is your duty to co-operate with the staff in the matter of having your pictures taken promptly. Remember 100 per cent representation is our slogan.

University Orchestra Resumes Practice

The first rehearsal of the University Orchestra was held last Thursday evening in the new chapel hall. About ten members of last year's orchestra and seven new students were present.

The practice consisted in the playing of several old selections and the trying of several new ones. Altho the first turnout was small, we have promises of a much larger one this coming Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

The present Freshman class is fortunate in having quite a number of talented musicians who have had some experience in playing with other orchestras, and we hope that they will take advantage of the splendid opportunity open to them and will help to make this year's orchestra the best in the history of S. U.

HAVERFORD COLLEGE GAINS 19 TO 7 VICTORY OVER SUSQUEHANNA ELEVEN

Susquehanna's Attack Came too Late to Overcome Rival's Lead, Gained in First Half by Straight Football

The local eleven dropped a hard fought game to Haverford Collegians in suburban Philadelphia last Saturday. The game was hard fought throughout and Haverford scored their points on their ability to take advantage of the breaks. To use Coach Wingard's words, the team which doesn't make mistakes is the one to come out victorious, and the Little Quakers were always on the ball.

The teams were about evenly matched as to weight and if there was any difference we had the edge. First blood was drawn when a Haverford lineman recovered a fumble by an S. U. backfield man and they scored by straight football. Coach Harmon's men had a well developed aerial attack, which was hard to stop during the early part of the game.

Captain Stumpele played his usual good game and was ably assisted by Bolig, Sleight and Groce, who made up the backfield quartet to start the game. During the last half of the game Pratt substituted for Groce, Martin for Sleight, Smith for Bolig, and

Senior Class Again Will Present Rivals

LAST YEAR'S JUNIOR CLASS PLAY TO BE GIVEN FOR BENEFIT OF SCENERY FUND. "THE RIVALS" IS EXTREMELY AMUSING AND FULL OF SUSPENSE

Each year at Susquehanna, it is the custom of the Junior Class to present a play. Last year the class of '26 presented "The Rivals," a comedy by Richard B. Sheridan. They played to a packed house, and everyone highly praised the work of the actors, and not one dissatisfied person could be found. Returning to school this year we find that there were very few of the students here this year who had seen this production, as given by our S. U. company. Quite a few people asked to have it given again, and after proper wheels were put into motion it was so decided. This coming Thursday night, October 8, 1925, at 8:15, you will be given an opportunity to see a comedy which will drive the blues, or homesickness out of anyone. This is not merely a sketch, such as you are accustomed to seeing given by schools, etc., but a real stage production, in four acts and about eight or more scenes. The price of admission will be thirty-five and fifty cents, the latter price for reserved seats. This is a price which practically all can afford. If you don't have that much, borrow it, for you will surely be disappointed if you do not get to see this unusual entertainment. The cast is again being coached by Prof. Keener, whose ability as a coach is known far and near.

The cast of characters, the same as last year, follows:

Sir Anthony Absolute, S. R. Frost; Capt. Jack Absolute, Theo. Ebberts; Faulkland, J. O. Kroen; Bob Acres, J. E. Popeano; Sir Lucius O'Trigger, John Spike-myer; Pag, Luther Weaver; David, Alfred Streamer; Mrs. Malsaprop, Ann Norwat; Lydia Languish, Mary Reikler; Julia, Arlene Hoyt; Lucy, Mary Gouglar.

The business details will once more be taken care of by Arthur Easterbrook, who did so much toward making last year's play a success. We invite you one and all to turn out to see this play, we promise you you will not be disappointed. Get your tickets early, as seats will be in great demand, so don't delay. FRESHMEN ASK THAT GIRL NOW. Chart for reserved seats opens at Rea & Derick's Drug Store Tuesday at 2 p. m.

being the period the forward passes were used for good games and our only touchdown. Heinle replaced Daubenspeck and Lantz for Auten, Gordon for Means, were the line substitutions, and the playing of Roof on end was one of the features.

Gordon intercepted a Haverford pass for a gain of thirty yards during the final period. Haney completed a pass which meant another score for the local team, but the officials declared the receiver ineligible and would not allow the touchdown. Heinle and Cassel each received severe injuries to their noses, Heinle's necessitating his leaving the field. Other than this the team received only minor injuries.

ALUMNI: REMEMBER OCT. 17TH—IT'S ALUMNI DAY

Susquehanna is getting ready for a record breaking crowd on Alumni Day, October 17th. Cards are being sent out to all Alumni and every effort is being made to have as many return for the "Big Doings" as possible. Last week's issue of The Susquehanna mentioned several of the events which will be staged, but since then plans have been made to hold a big Alumni smoker in the Gymnasium on Friday night, Oct. 16th. "Beat Drexel" is the slogan on the campus and the Crusaders mean to live up to it. Come back Alumni and watch them do it.

Glee and Choral Clubs Combine

MANY TRY OUT FOR THE CHORAL AND OPERATIC SOCIETY; PROFESSOR SHELDON SAYS THERE IS STILL ROOM FOR A FEW MORE VOICES

Most of the members of last year's Glee and Ladies' Choral Clubs, as well as quite a few new students tried out for the Choral and Operatic Society last Monday and Wednesday evenings.

Professor Sheldon heard a great many persons who aspired to become members of this musical club, which is to take the place of the Glee Club and the Ladies' Choral Club this year. Judging from the quality of the voices of those who have already tried out, he expects much from this society and promises the student body two fine programs. The first semester the organization will prepare an oratorio and towards the latter part of the second semester will present an Opera.

Altho there were many who tried out for the club there is still room for a few more voices. All those who have any musical ability are urged to try out immediately. It seems that for some unknown reason, no Freshmen boys presented themselves. Freshmen, if you want to be in a regular Glee Club next year, see Professor Sheldon at once.

The following list of names includes the personnel of the club to date:

Louise Welker, Grace Beckley, Florence Brosius, Catherine Albright, Margaret Keiser, Elizabeth Hauser, Vesta Steinelinger, Gertrude McKee, Margaret Schmiermunder, Bessie Haines, Anna Norwat, Lucinda Brought, Helen Haines, Helen Ott, Hazel Mahus, Martha Gaskins, Geneva Nace, Ruth Moody, Sarah Moody, Ruth Long, Jokey Bousum, Sara Hassinger, Holger Henius, Verne Carlson, Gere Sharrett, Geo. Sands, Marlin Enders, Jacob Kroen, G. F. Stover, Robt. Keeler.

WAKE FRESHMEN WAKE!

An expression that seems on the lips of not only the students, but also of the town folks and alumni is "what is the matter with the Freshmen this year?" We ask the same, Freshies, what seems to be the trouble? At the mixer you stood around in groups, afraid to speak to anyone. About a week ago you were given a chance to turn in your names to win a place on The Susquehanna staff—one boy has so far turned in his name. Freshmen, we ask you to think enough of your school to be willing to get out and do something for her. Surely in a class the size of yours there are some who have the ability to write or collect bills, or do some of the work connected with the editing of our paper. It is not yet too late to turn in your name—but get busy.

Thursday an unforfeitable affair was called to our attention. We have on our campus a Glee Club and a Choral Club, both of which we are very, very proud. An opportunity was given to you to try out to become members of a combined organization. Figures of the number of girls who tried out were not obtainable, but NOT ONE Freshman boy tried out. Freshies, have you no pride? The present Sophs when Freshies had eight on the club, the Juniors three, and the Seniors in their first year at school had just fourteen representatives.

You seem to have been taught too well the old saying that "little children should be seen and not heard." On the 17th of this month will be the annual classic, the Soph-Fresh gridiron struggle. Perhaps the yearlings are practising in secret, but we would be satisfied to see them right out on the campus field. Freshmen, who did well at the tie-up—those who were there—but if just half show up for the foot ball squad as seemed to be the case with the tie-up, we will have to have more parties. Really it is a deplorable condition.

No insinuation, but there is a saying "You can lead a mule to the water, but you can't make him drink." Freshmen, we don't want to lead you, nor do you want to be led. We want you to get out and make a name for yourselves. Show that you have spirit. Remember you thought Susquehanna University was the best school possible for you to go to, or else why are you here? Now that you are here, show that you have originality, spirit, pep, loyalty. Got out on that football field. If you can't play, be there to encourage those who can, and to run errands for the managers so that the team may run along more smoothly. But above all, FRESHMEN WAKE UP! YOU ARE NOT, YOU CAN NOT, YOU DARE NOT, BE AS GREEN AND YET LIFELESS AS YOU HAVE SO FAR SHOWN YOURSELVES TO BE.

MORE MUSIC

Susquehanna is very proud of its musical societies. They have made a name for themselves. Last week we girls were visited by a new group of musicians; an anonymous quartet of young men, although we think we know at least two of this group.

It was a beautiful night in which they sang to us, the moon was just perfect. They began their little program with "Would You." Then a duet was sung, "If you like a Ukulele Lady," followed by a closing number, "Siren of the Southern Seas." Of course they were encored time and time again to which they responded with numbers just as lovely. The only objection we had was that the program was too short. Oh! By the way, we have one more thing to complain about, that is, you did not come often enough. Please come again soon, boys, you may be sure we will appreciate it very much. E. E. B. (Any-one).

The Mill Pond

Special Notice

My name is THE MILL POND, and I have come into THE SUSQUEHANNA to stay for at least one school year. I am the poetry department of your paper, and being rather aged, and criticised, I am somewhat pugnacious. Therefore, do not throw stones at me—you'll spoil my mirrored surface. Instead, cast my way your bits of original verse. Comedy, tragedy, farce—it makes no difference. If they deserve it, I'll reflect them. Can you write? I dare you!

GRANDFATHER'S HOME

My grandfather's dead, but like a shrine
His old home basks in the pale moon-shine—
His old mill rots by the sobbing dam,
The loon cries out from the timber jam;
And shadows creep o'er fields he plowed,
The orchard he planted before he bowed
His head in the daisies on yonder hill.
But every fall with the foliage gay,
When the first dull frosts on the orchard lay
Their gifts of art—I seek the old glade—
Down by the mill that grandfather made;
And I always feel safe, nearer to God,
Under the trees with their Autumn shade,
Treading dim paths that grandfather made.

Play in Three Acts

Act I. Time: Morning.
Scene: Somewhere on College Avenue. (Student is on his way to Post Office.)
Student: "I sure hope that check is there."
Act II. Time: Later in Day.
Scene: Same as in Act I. (Student is on way to Post Office.)
Student: "I sure hope that check is there."

Act III. Some darn thing; etc.
Ebberds Delivering Junior Oration
Who is this man who hauls my trunk
Up from the station in Ford quite punk,
And back again if perchance I flank?
Voice from rear: "It's Arbogast."

Who is this man who repaired my chair
With gentle mien and real thin hair?
A bag of water and bear him swear.
Two voices in rear: "It's Arbogast."

Who is this man who launders clothes,
Collegiate socks and Real Silk Hose,
And seems surprised at the lack of holes?
Several voices in rear: "It's Arbogast."

Who is this Shiek Collegiate,
Who rolls his socks in mode quite late

And makes the girls' hearts palpitate?
Chorus of Coeds: "Not Arbogast."
Whose pipe diffuses perfume rare,
Whose language rarifies the air,
Who makes Daddy Horton rip and tear?
Daddy Horton: "Arbogast."

The object of respect devout,
The man the school can't do without,
The Mayor of the town, without a doubt,
Arby's political friends: "It's Arbogast."

I say what man here lays down the rule,
Who says "don't smoke and don't shoot pool?"
Who is the vice president of the school?
A few dumb Freshmen (faintly):
"Arbogast."

Ignorance and Nature

By H. A. SURFACE, D.Sc.
Professor of Biology, S. U.
(Written by request)

At this time of the year there are many prognostications or prophecies of possible conditions of weather during the coming winter, and most of them are based upon some absurd belief of some feature of Natural History.

It is interesting to know that (1) these forecasts do not agree with each other; (2) they are based upon unrelated and isolated, imperfect observations; (3) they are made by persons who are entirely unscientific in their training and methods of thought and reasoning; (4) they are long-range forecasts, which are entirely impossible according to most recent declarations of modern scientists, and (5) a checking of actual weather conditions when the time comes will show that in most cases they are in error.

For example, only last week the newspapers contained statements of a forecast of very cold weather this winter, made by a rural bee-keeper, upon the grounds that the honey bees have stored an unusual amount of honey in recognition of their coming needs during a winter of unprecedented severity. As a matter of fact bees consume less food in very cold weather than in mild, because when it is cold they are too stiff to move from comb to comb, and also they do not begin to rear and feed their young so early. During the mildest winters the bees use the greatest amount of food. Also, the amount of honey stored by bees depends upon the amount of nectar flow during their gathering season, upon the size and healthfulness of the colony, and upon the space they have to fill. The possible conditions of the coming winter have nothing whatever to do with the activities of the bees during the preceding summer.

Another basis of absurd prognostications is seen in the hairy caterpillars. It is not unusual at this time of the year to read, "Mr. So-and-so predicts that the beginning and end of the coming winter will be very cold and the mid-winter warm, because he has seen a caterpillar with the hairs on the two ends of its body brown and the middle black." The fact is that this is the regular coloration plan of one of our common species of caterpillars known as the "Woolly Bear," which passes the winter in the caterpillar state, ready to commence to feed on young vegetation early in the spring.

The old goose-bone prophecy, by which the severity of the winter is supposed to be determinable by the color of a goose bone, is too absurd for discussion. Others almost as bad are the prophecy of the kind of winter coming according to the number of falling leaves, the amount of mast or nuts and acorns produced, the thickness of corn husks, height of ragweeds, thickness of covering of muskrats' houses, etc. Even the flight of geese and ducks does not indicate what weather will come here, but rather what kind they are leaving.

WITH OUR GRID RIVALS

With the season well under way we are able to garner some definite "dope" about our 1925 football rivals, and the way things are beginning to shape up.

Susquehanna has no "set-ups" on its schedule. Our next week's rival, Swarthmore, showed a great attack in scoring 13 points in the final quarter against the Penn machine and only bowed 26-13 due to costly breaks. Thus next week's game looks doubtful, but we must consider the Crusaders always rise to their greatest heights against the G-9.

Drexel played to a 0-0 score against the Penn Junior Varsity, making them strong opponents and worthy of our consideration for our Alumni Day game, so come back and help cheer for victory against them.

Schuykill was forced to bow to Ursinus 13-6, and Pennsylvania Military College showed her usual form in downing Washington College, who is considered good, 9-3. Lafayette, our practice game, sprang a great surprise by downing Pitt by a 20-9 tune. While Temple apparently had an easy time with Upsala, a team of unknown quality, Lebanon Valley fulfilled our last week's prediction and held Dickinson to a 6-6 score.

A CO-ED'S DIARY

Tuesday, September 29th. First meeting of the Y. W. C. A. Nearly every girl in the Dorm was present. A plan for membership drive was explained. We all feel sure that this will be a big year for Y. W. C. A.

Wednesday, September 30. Much excitement in the Dorm this evening, due to the fact that the Sophs were worried lest the Frosh should make their "get-a-way." The dorm seemed well patrolled, for Soph boys were stationed all around the building.

Thursday, October 1. Kappa Delta Phi gave hike for new girls, to electric dam. There was a large attendance and all had a good time. Debating club this evening and some of the girls attended.

Friday, October 2. Cheers in Chapel this morning for the team. They were requested to bring back the pigskin. Hope so. Many left for homes for week-end. Movies tonight.

Saturday, October 3. Place more or less deserted. Blues returned to many, not only the Freshmen. Movies to-night and many feeds.

Sunday, October 4. Sunday school and church. Rained unexpectedly and after some time conveyances were found so that we all arrived at dorm in time for ice cream.

ATTENTION STUDENTS

Didja see that ducky new furniture in the ladies' parlors? Of course you did, for you either live there or call there frequently. Well, it's some furniture, believe me! Oh yes, it must be paid for—of course—sure. Well, whose gonna pay for it? Why, who but our Ladies' Auxiliary? Don't they buy all our pretties for us? But how will they do it? Why, by selling to you all the CHRISTMAS CARDS you send to your friends. That's one way.

Please don't buy elsewhere until you see our line. We think it is the finest ever. Sample books will be floating around Selbert Hall at various times from now on, until the first of December. This will give you a good excuse to call, boys. Ask the girls if you may call to see—. Watch the Christmas Card sample boards for further announcements.

October 15th is the date and 8:15 is the time for the program that is to be given by the faculty of the Conservatory of Music.

Professor Bailey, instructor in violin, and Miss Mary Lavina Young, instructor in voice, will appear in a program for the first time at Susquehanna. We know the ability of the Sheldons and Professor Linebaugh, and we are sure of a very enjoyable program.

We urge as many of the alumni as are able, to return on Thursday, so as to be here for this entertainment. The attendance of the greater part of the student body is anticipated.

ALUMNI NOTES

Mrs. Lloyd Cook, formerly Miss Violet Surface '23, is now connected with Chicago's park system, being associated with Professor Cook in the department of physical education. Professor Cook is also connected with the department of Sociology of Chicago University, finishing work for the Doctor's degree.

Mrs. Cook after graduating from S. U., taught one year in the Danville High School. She then spent a year in graduate work in Temple, specializing in Physical Education. She also spent one summer at Lake Chautauqua and one summer at the University of Wisconsin at Madison in the same work.

Out of a class of 36, who took the Civil Service examination for a position in the park system, Mrs. Cook ranked third highest, just missing first place because of not having taught Physical Education. She was, however, appointed to a splendid position at once.

When rural service lines bring electricity to the farmer's door, many of his labor troubles are at an end. Motors, lights and small, will do the many chores of farm and farm house for a few cents per day.

The Farm Electrical

Of the six and a half million farm homes in this country, only half a million have electricity.

Still, the advantages of electricity are widely known. But there is more to farm electrification than the installation of motors, lights and heaters. Current must be brought to the farm, and that means many miles of transmission line, supporting poles, transformers, and adequate generating equipment.

Slowly but surely the electrification of American farms is taking place. As farmers learn how to use electricity, rural service lines reach out farther and farther into open country.

Six million farms to be electrified! Here is a vast and virgin field for the application of electricity, with countless opportunities for college-trained men in the technical and commercial phases of this undertaking. And for the agricultural college student and others planning a future life in rural sections, it means a better, bigger, happier life-time now in the making.

Since its inception the General Electric Company has pioneered in the various fields of applied electricity. Today G-E engineers are co-operating with various State agricultural committees in the study of farm and rural electrification. These committees include members of the agricultural college faculties.

A new series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request. Ask for Booklet GEK-1.

Debating Club Gets Under Way

ADAMS AND RHODES UPHOLD
THE AFFIRMATIVE SIDE OF RAILWAY QUESTION; DAUBEN-SPECK AND FASOLD ARGUE UP-ON THE NEGATIVE

At the second meeting of the debating club, held Thursday evening, the first debate of the season was heard by the members of the club.
The subject discussed was: Resolved, that the railroads of the United States have passed the height of their prosperity. Eugene Adams and Luther Rhodes upheld the affirmative side, and Marshall Fasold and Wayne Daubenspeck defended the Negative. The Judges' decision was rendered in favor of the Affirmative.

The manager announced that an extensive schedule was being arranged for the coming season and that at least two Western colleges, the University of Wyoming and Capitol University of Columbus, Ohio, will debate here during the winter. Miss Martha Larsen, Miss Mary Gangler, Mr. Lee Boyer, Mr. Al Rising were appointed delegates to the Intercollegiate Debating Conference to be held in Harrisburg October tenth.

Next Thursday evening at seven o'clock, a debate will be held upon the subject, Resolved, That co-education is a better system of education than is the non-coeducational system. The debaters are: Affirmative, Al Rising and Gere Sharretts; Negative, Wm. Schwirlan and Harold Ditzler. All students are urged to be present, including the young women, as the following week a special program has been arranged for them.

Y. M. Looks For Successful Year

PRES. BOYER ADDRESSES OPEN-ING SESSION; GAVE BRIEF HIS-TORY OF ORGANIZATION. DR.
FOLLMER TO SPEAK TONIGHT
IN CHAPEL HALL

The Young Men's Christian Association of Susquehanna University held its first regular meeting of the scholastic year last Tuesday evening in Chapel Hall. The service was well attended and indications are that the Y. M. C. A. will have a successful year.

After a short service of prayer and devotion, Mr. Boyer, the president of the association addressed the meeting. He told in an interesting manner of the early history of the Y. M.
C. A., relating how that institution, founded on Christian principles, made such rapid strides until this day, when it is recognized as one of the leading Christian organizations throughout the world.

Mr. Boyer extended to both old and new student a most hearty welcome and a cordial invitation to join the Y. M. C. A.

This evening the session will be a joint meeting with the Y. W. C. A. and
Dr. Follmer will be the speaker. Dr.
Follmer always has an inspired message to give and the organizations consider themselves exceedingly fortunate in securing him as the speaker of the evening. The meeting will be held in the new chapel hall and a goodly attendance is urged.

Y. W. MEMBERSHIP DRIVE PLANNED

At a meeting of the Y. W. C. A. on last Tuesday evening, which was capably conducted by Helen Yeingst, plans for a membership drive were discussed.

Upon entering college all Freshmen girls do not know exactly what a Y.
W. C. A. stands for and just what it means to belong to this one. Miss Yeingst explained why every girl should belong to this organization and why it needs every girl.

The evening was made more interesting by Martha Eriel, who gave a reading. It is almost certain that the membership drive will be a success, for all the new girls who attended were very much pleased with and in sympathy with what the Y. W. is doing.

GIRLS PRESENT STUDENT GOVERNMENT CONSTITUTION TO THE FACULTY

Faculty Approved the Constitution as Submitted to Them, in a Meeting Monday Afternoon, Document Will be Printed in The Susquehanna

The girls of Susquehanna University have drawn up a Constitution to serve as a basis for a Ladies' Student Government Association. They presented it to the faculty for approval at a meeting of that body Monday afternoon. They feel that the responsibilities that will go with this form of government are necessary to their full development.

Things which tend toward the making of a greater Susquehanna are eagerly grasped by those in whose minds lies the desire for progress or continual growth. It is this very process which is to fit us for future service, the development of mankind. This can be done in no other way than by the successful carrying out of those responsibilities which have been placed upon us. But first we must come to a full realization of what responsibility involves.

Someone has said that all great crises in history are not the beginnings, but the culminations of processes. The co-eds on S. U.'s campus have been gradually coming to such a stage of the process which manifests itself in both the necessity and the desire for co-operative government. Leadership, the quality which is so greatly needed and desired, demand training. How is this training to be received through such a form of government? Such is the idea which has been fermenting in the minds of many students, and it is in this manner that a sense of personal responsibility is becoming prevalent. It is a falling of human nature to arrive at hasty and faulty conclusions, which fact is due to emotionalism rather than to good judgment.

The propagation of co-operative government in all its phases is being seriously considered, and the popular sentiment among the women students is that such a form of government in both the dormitory and the classroom will tend toward a better and more progressive Susquehanna.

We must not, however, make the mistake in thinking that all campus problems will find an immediate and satisfactory solution. Rome was not built in a day. Neither will the wheels of this machinery run smoothly until lubricated with Experience and Common Sense. It is only with the understanding that Co-operative Government is a matter of principle rather than one of privilege, also the conviction in the heart of every co-ed that she has a vital part in the laying of the foundation of this movement, that ultimate success is bound to follow.

Science Club Met For Organization

EACH MEMBER CHOOSES AVOCATION. JOHN LEWIS, NEWLY ELECTED PRESIDENT, GAVE AN ILLUSTRATED TALK ON A SUMMER IN THE MOUNTAINS

The first regular meeting of the Science Club was held on Monday evening in Science Hall with a large number of old and new members in attendance. The Club elected its officers for the school year: John Lewis, president; Harold Moldenke, vice president; Helen Yeungst, secretary.

Many interesting plans were presented and accepted for a better and bigger Science Club for S. U. Following these discussions, Mr. Lewis, the

ORCHESTRA WILL ELECT OFFICERS ON WEDNESDAY

The Susquehanna University Orchestra will elect officers for the ensuing year at their next rehearsal, which will be held Wednesday night at 8:15 o'clock in the new Chapel Hall. All those who were present at the first rehearsal and all others who play any musical instrument are urged to attend.

For the past several years the orchestra has been one of the live organizations on the campus. Near the close of the year it always gives an unusually fine concert that the students and the people of the town look forward to with a great deal of anticipation. The members enjoy the rehearsals and the orchestra has a picnic at the end of the year for its members and their friends. The work is not only enjoyable, but it is highly instructive as well. Prof. Bailey knows his stuff and those who work under him will receive some valuable training.

There is still room for quite a few violins and wind instruments, and the orchestra needs every musician on the campus. Let us make Wednesday night a big night not only in attendance, but in accomplishment.

BADGES WILL BE ON SALE ALUMNI DAY

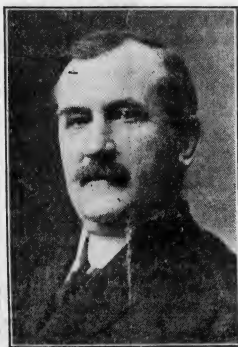

The Men's Student Council is sponsoring the sale of badges for Alumni Day. The selling will be done by the Freshmen, each of whom will be given a number of badges for which he will be responsible. The Freshmen are going to do their part, but the student body and Alumni have to do their part too to make this undertaking a Big Success. Go to it Freshmen, we're all back of you.

Dr. Aikens President Of S. U. for 20 Years

The Life of Our President Given in This First of a Series of Articles Concerning Our Faculty

Dr. Charles T. Aikens, our esteemed President, was born at Sidingville, Mifflin county, Pa., on December 14, 1862, and grew to young manhood in the hills of Eastern Kishicoquillas Valley.

His education began in the public schools of Sidingville and was continued in Milroy Normal and Missionary Institute, now Susquehanna University. He graduated in 1883 in a class of four and then entered Gettysburg and graduated with the A. B. degree in 1885 in a class of 27. The following fall he entered the Theological Seminary at Gettysburg and graduated in June 1888. Instead of taking practice teaching as we do now, he began to actually teach in the Preparatory Department of the College as an assistant to the late Dr. John B. Focht, who was then the Principal of the Academy.

December 2nd, 1888 he accepted a call to the Pine Grove Mills pastorate and served that congregation for 17 years. On November 26th, 1899, he married Miss Athalia Clara Gitt, of Hanover, Pa., to which union a son was born in 1892. During his pastorate at Pine Grove he served the Synod of Central Pennsylvania as secretary for three years; as president for four years, and as statistician for six years. He organized the congregation at State College and built two new churches in his pastorate. He was active in the social and financial affairs of the community. He helped to organize the First National Bank of State College and was elected its first cashier. He has been a director of this institution since and is now its vice president.

ORANGE AND MAROON GRIDMEN GIVE SWARTHMORE ELEVEN REAL BATTLE

Game Well Played Under Adverse Weather Conditions; Linemen Show Real Strength in Hard Fought Game. Team Should Win from Drexel

With odds very much against them, the Crusaders met Swarthmore in a suburban Philadelphia last Saturday and played the best football against any opponent this season.

Just the previous weekend, the Little Quakers gave the University of Pennsylvania a scare when they held them to a 26-13 score, and it can plainly be seen that the S-lingsgrove warriors were very much out of their class. The score at the end of the first half was 9-0, at the end of the game 22-0. The former score is the one really earned by Swarthmore, the last two touchdowns were made on fumbles on the part of some of the Crusaders. Considering the weather conditions these fumbles were inevitable.

The S. U. gridmen played together well thruout the contest, which fact gives a brighter aspect upon the remaining games to be played. The

Reserves Game With Lewistown A. C. a Tie

HARD FOUGHT GAME ENDED IN THE SCORE OF 6-6. RESERVES PLAYED GOOD FOOTBALL, BUT WERE UNABLE TO MAKE WINNING TOUCHDOWN

The S. U. Reserves met the Lewistown A. C. football team on the local gridiron last Saturday and after a fast and furious struggle the game ended in a 6-6 tie.

The Lewistown boys were the concede favorites to win before the game, but after a few minutes of play the result was never in doubt and how high a score would be run up by the Scrubs was the only question.

The low score does not indicate how much superior the reserves were over their heavier opponents, for twice they were on the one yard line, only to fumble at the critical moment, and Lewistown's only score came as the result of a break. For the locals, the entire team starred to a man, with "Red" Ulrich scoring the touchdown.

ALUMNI! WILL YOU BE WITH US ON SATURDAY? WE WANT YOU

Let us again remind you, Alumni, that we are expecting you on the campus this week-end. We want you to be of help to the team beat Drexel. We one with the keenness and intelligence, which has never been discovered in anyone, but Freshmen, would detect something foreign in the air. All in all, it was a complete mystery. "Meet the boys at the bridge. Wait until the signal is given—no longer." Such phrases passed between mates. The set hour approached, all was calm, although suspicion was gradually being heated. What was it all about? Girls found things that did not seem natural for them and boys the same.

Then suddenly, when all was quiet and no one in sight, squeaky doors were heard to squeak worse than ever—then the patter, patter of feet down a squeaky hall and several flights of stairs. At the foot, someone obscure from sight issued a warning. "On your guard." Then a single file, a close observer might have seen pass out-of-doors. Upon reaching the out-of-doors, this file completely disappeared as if by magic, as a hostile-looking lad came up the walk. Where did they go to? You see there are many trees and bushes of sufficient size to weave a magic spell. As if from nowhere a

Conservatory Faculty Will Present Program

Audience Assured of Real Musical Treat Thursday Night. Miss Young and Mr. Bailey Known Artists

A program of more than ordinary interest to students and music lovers of Selingrove will be presented in Seibert Chapel Hall Thursday, October 15, 8:15 p. m.

Miss Mary Lavinia Young, a native of Southern Georgia, inherits her voice from her mother, and as a child appeared in recitals with more than ordinary success. She received her literary education at the State Normal and the University at Athens, Georgia.

Miss Young began her first real voice lessons under Maurice Seigler, a former Russian opera singer, who offered her instruction when he heard her sing. Later Miss Young continued her studies under Mme. Elda Lund, who came to America from the Royal Conservatory of Stockholm.

Finally she received a scholarship from the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, where she received her artist diploma under Dan Beddoe, one of the really great oratorical singers of a decade ago.

She has spent many summers in New York studying with such distinguished masters as Mme. Della Valerle and Mr. Frank LaForge.

As a teacher she has won distinct success in Oklahoma, Ohio, Georgia, and South Carolina.

Mr. Kenneth M. Bailey, a native of Ohio, received his first instruction in violin playing as well as piano from teachers in Eastern Ohio.

Four years were spent as a student.

The Mill Pond

IN THE SILENCE OF THE NIGHT

A spark within me glowed
As I walked the forest road,
For the stillness of the air
Seemed to me a silent prayer.

A sadness o'er me came
As the spark renewed a flame,
For the thoughts to me it bore
Were of days that are no more.

I felt the cooling breeze
As it stirred the lolly trees;
And then my heart was thrilled—
With hope and peace was filled.

But now the moon ascends,
And all my dreaming ends;
For lo! My thoughts took flight
In the silence of the night.

D. K. G.

THE DITCH DIGGER

I work for the poor, and work for the rich,
My one desire is a long deep ditch,
A narrow life you say is mine,
But give me a flask of new made wine
And down into my ditch I'll go Where I see joy, and you see woe.

For down in a cool deep ditch I've found
Joy that runs rampant in fresh dug ground,
I dig great thoughts with my handi-work,
And plant brave deeds in each shovel of dirt,
Joy like gold can have strange birth,
And I have found it in new-turned earth.

I ply strange lands as I ply my pick
And the noon-time whistle blows far too quick,
Slighting fair dreams that no artist could paint,
But I just climb up without complaint
To eat and drink like a Spring-time bear—
To breathe great draughts of fragrant air.

I work and dream, and dream and work
And never the hardest stone do I shirk,
But whenever my wall shows all shadows I sigh
Then start down the lane 'neath a rainbow sky,
Just trusting that when'er my ditch is done
That you God, will furnish another one.

1925 Summer School At S. U. Successful

325 Students Enrolled, of Which Many Were Teachers or Prospective Teachers

Susquehanna University has concluded the most successful Summer School in its history. Statistics on file on the office of the director, Dr. Herbert A. Allison, bring out the following interesting facts:

There were enrolled in all departments 325 students. Of these 191 were teachers in service and forty-two prospective teachers. Thirty-nine counties, three States, and one foreign country were represented in this enrollment. Susquehanna's enrollment is unique among Summer Schools in that a majority of the students are men, the figures being for the College Department, 168 men and 113 women. In the Music and Business Departments women predominated, but the total enrollment in all departments still showed a preponderance of males in the proportion of 174 to 151. This is quite remarkable when it is considered how largely women exceed men in the teaching profession.

There were engaged in the work of instruction in the Summer School in all departments twenty-six instructors. Susquehanna University is increasing in favor each year as a Summer Training School for teachers both because of the scenic beauty of its location, the favorable climatic conditions, and the excellent courses of study.

SOLD TO THE HIGHEST BIDDER

We noted a recent definition of the modern university as "a gigantic football stadium—with a small college attached." There is at least a little evidence that some Americans are growing tired of having educational institutions conducted as subsidiaries of the Big Business of inter-collegiate football, with coaches who have more authority, prestige and salary than the President and the Faculty. The North American Newspaper Alliance, composed of the New York World, the Philadelphia Bulletin, and 63 other journals from the Atlantic to the Pacific, has just been running a series of six copyrighted articles by Dr. Henry H. Apple, President of Franklin and Marshall College, under the heading, "Wanted—Honest Football." These articles supplement a series recently contributed by "A Graduate Manager," and they contain some much-needed plain speaking which should arouse sane and serious thinking on a vital problem.

Dr. Apple, himself a veteran football player of a quarter of a century ago, and a thorough believer in college athletics, makes charges so serious that it is difficult to see how an unbiased investigation of the situation can be avoided. He offers to testify before any properly authorized committee of investigation, and to present "indisputable evidence" of "raiding, subsidizing and virtual bribing of athletes." Forcibly and courageously he has pointed out the effect of the present system, both upon the morale of the institution and the character of the boy who is thus sold to the highest bidder. The pernicious activities of coaches, managers and alumni are exposed, and the demoralizing tendency of the whole process of attempting to buy a winning team for one's college is set forth in a manner which is as interesting as it is significant.

President Apple points out how high school boys who give promise of becoming great football players are approached by representatives of various so-called institutions of learning, and offered all sorts of jobs, securities and financial assistance, and even in some cases positions for their parents or other members of their families, if they will come to a certain institution and serve that institution on the football team. These grandiose offers are not always made good. He also lays his finger upon the methods of manipulating college politics in the interest of the comparatively few so-called students who have athletic abilities. The athletic directors try to corral all the college patronage in behalf of these exceptional athletes, and the habit of seeking pay finds its way into all college activities. Positions are sought not for the benefit of the training but for the money that can be squeezed out. In contrast with the professed ideals of training for service in our institutions of learning, the result is the approval of a system which trains the boy to seek primarily for money and notoriety.

Dr. Apple truthfully says that "the old football player who delivered all he had for the winning of a game and the honor of his college, giving his last ounce of strength for it, is a far better example to emulate than the one who plays for what there is in it for himself." Nor can as fine a spirit be expected from such semi-professionals. "Hesians never fight like volunteers." It is indeed not surprising that boys who have been thus subsidized are immune to the finer, broader cultural appeals of the college, and that such "journymen athletes" seldom conform to the standards of a college man. And is not President Apple quite right in his insistence that the blame for this demoralization lies at the door of those who drag the boys into the marketplace? As a believer in modern college athletics, President Apple has challenged the managers to tell the whole truth and to lead the way in ridding the system of its pernicious adjuncts. He realizes, however, that the expensive stadiums and the luxurious modern equipment have to be paid for, and that the system is so deeply rooted that he is doubtful of the outcome. Indeed, he charges that "the managers will not dare to tell the whole truth if they expect the system to continue, for college officials will not sanction it, the public will not support it, and the students will not stand for it." But he concludes by saying that if the managers will frankly lay the facts on the table without any reservation, and confer with college officials who have always been ready to meet them half way, it will be possible "to retain all that is good in the system, and to free it from demoralizing and degrading influences, which otherwise will lead it into hopeless dispute."

It must certainly be said that these articles go right to the root of the scandal, and that it is high time that such facts should be bravely spoken. It remains to be seen whether the present methods are so closely linked with colossal investments in sports and the questionable clamor for ever-increasing enrollment in colleges and universities, that the only answer will be a dismal and guilty silence. We may agree that present-day college athletics call for a thorough piece of house-cleaning—but vast vested interests are at stake, so beware!—Reformed Church Messenger.

SENSE AND NONSENSE

A very serious man read in the paper the playful rules by which the Freshmen girls and boys are governed at the University by the upperclassmen and he said "what nonsense they tolerate at our University."

Cincinnati answered him: "Soon these boys and girls will be out of school and will have to face the very serious business of making a living. And for the rest of their lives burdens will be upon their necks. There will be no more nonsense in their lives, but only the business that we call sensible, such as making and accumulating money and 'getting up in society,' and striving for many other things that they really don't need."

"Then at times they will delight to look back upon the days of blessed nonsense when it was fun to be foolish. Some of them will say 'In our youth it was fun to be foolish; but now we make a serious business of our follies. Really we had more sense then than we have now, for then we made fun of our foolishness.' And having said this, they will continue to pursue furiously the serious follies—fortune, social position, fame, public positions—thinking they are chasing happiness, but never catching up with it."

Boy—"Come on out for an auto ride."

Girl—"I haven't a thing to wear."

Boy—"Never mind, we'll take a closed car."

Y. M. AND Y. W. C. A. HELD FIRST MEETING IN NEW CHAPEL HALL

The first joint meeting of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. was very well attended. The co-eds are to be complimented for the large number they had at the meeting. Mr. William Schwirian ably conducted the meeting. All those present greatly appreciated the solo sung by Mr. William Roberts, accompanied by Miss Martha Larson.

Dr. Follmer said in part:

"I am an old soldier making an appeal to you as young soldiers. Are you all soldiers for Christ? You young women can be soldiers too. Are not women capable of just as great heroism as men? Then both can be soldiers, and we appeal to you to take up a strenuous life as a soldier. Be heroic and energetic. Christ lived a heroic life. Can we not follow him? He is asking us to take up the heroic life and has said, 'Come and follow Me.'"

"If we take up His life and are soldiers for Him we must suffer hardships and endure pain; if we would be true to our King. The soldiers of Rome were hardy, brave and loyal to the cause they represented. We can be the same kind of soldiers for Christ. He is our Captain and we should be loyal to Him.

"You students are here for a purpose, for a training in Education. You must have Religious training or your Education is not complete; it is as nothing. Education without Religion is bare Paganism.

"And then to be a soldier for Jesus you must wear some distinguishing badge. By so doing people will know that you are enlisted for Him. Does your chum know that you are trying to follow the way of the Cross? Are you afraid your roommate will see you pray to God at the end of the day? A true soldier is not afraid to show his badge.

"Abraham Lincoln said 'right makes right.' Can we not try to do the right and avoid that which is evil? Be faithful and true; do your duty; stick to your post till the end comes; die gloriously. To do the Right may mean to sacrifice some things. If you are enlisted for the Christ you must not be afraid to sacrifice.

"Henry Ward Beecher has said, 'It is not what you give in Life, but what you give up that really makes you great.' You should think of others and help and encourage them to the real issues of Life. Be yourself! Be a real worker for God and His kingdom.

"Do your parents at home feel secure when they think of you at school? Do they think that in their daughter or son there is the will to do the Right? Blessed are the mothers and fathers that can put such a trust in their children. You also can make your parents feel secure and firm concerning your conduct here. Will you do it? You are capable of creating that feeling of security in your parents.

"And then having been a loyal soldier and having done the Right you will receive your reward. It will be a crown of Eternal Life. No greater reward can be given. No gift is greater than this. Christ has said, 'Be thou faithful unto death and I will give you a Crown of Life.'"

SEMINARY NOTES

Hanks '26 supplied at Northumberland on Sunday.

Law '26 preached at his regular charge on Sunday.

Schwartz '26 visited at Shamokin over the week-end.

Derr '27 visited at his home over the week-end.

Beard '27 preached at Millville.

Beahm '27 made a week-end visit at his home.

Kepper '27 preached at his regular charge.

Knoebel '27 left for home on Friday. Harmon '27 is the proud father of a baby girl.

Neudorfer '28 visited with Beahm at the latter's home.

Enders '28 and Fague '28 visited at the latter's home last Thursday.

Kroen '28 certainly is worried over the outcome of the world's series. Give him a little sympathy.

The seminary elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Hanks; vice president, Derr; secretary, Martin; treasurer, Grove.

Give neither counsel nor salt till you are asked for it.

A COED'S LETTER

This certainly has been a busy and exciting week. It has taken almost the entire week-end for our Co-eds to regain lost sleep. On Monday night girls could be heard stealing down the halls. Door opened and closed cautiously and I suspected something. It was not until later that an appalling discovery was made by the Sophs. The Freshmen had escaped. The campus soon became flooded with girls and fellows who plotted to break up the get-away. The rooms of the Freshmen were rough-housed, causing much excitement upon their return. Sleep was impossible. It is very doubtful as to whether or not all property has yet been returned to the rightful owners. On Tuesday morning all Freshmen girls appeared in natural garb, including a generous amount of cosmetics. On Wednesday each girl was seen carrying her books in a waste basket. Rules are on once more!

On Thursday evening the question for debate was: Resolved that Co-education is a better form of Education than is a Non-Co-educational System. Afterwards the Seniors presented their class play, "The Rivals." Several Frosh "stepped out."

On Friday night weighty questions were discussed in the Dorm by a number of S. U.'s intellectual Co-eds. The conclusion was that everyone has a right to his own opinion. Saturday was spent in the usual way—cleaning and sleeping. Many girls spent the week-end with friends or at home. A number of visitors were here. Our spirits were slightly dampened when we heard the score, but time flies and it is almost time to commence the work of another week.

Just now plans are on foot for Alumni Day. The various classes promise a bit of competition. I shall tell you all about it in my next letter.

Lots of love,

Peg.

PITTSBURGH-SUSQUEHANNA ASSOCIATION BANQUET

The annual banquet of the Pittsburgh-Susquehanna Association will be held on the evening of Friday, November 13, 1925 in the parish rooms of Trinity Lutheran Church, Stockton and Arch streets, North Side, Pittsburgh. The executive committee of the association, meeting for luncheon at the General Forbes Hotel, is making plans to make this a real snappy banquet. All that needs to be said at this time is that Professor Nathan Nesbit Keener, M. O., is going to be there to eat and speak his piece. And it sure is some piece. Prof. is coming back to his own village to get another lungful of fog and smoke and to add a little smoke of his own. All alumni and ex-students in Pittsburgh and vicinity and all friends and students who wish to attend should write to Rev. Chas. E. Held, the secretary, at 2112 Rockledge street, N. S., Pittsburgh, Pa., for reservations.

CONSERVATORY FACULTY WILL PRESENT PROGRAM

ent at Dana Musical Institute, Warren, Ohio, from which well-known school of music he was graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Music.

From Dana Musical Institute he was elected instructor of violin and orchestral classes in the Birmingham, Alabama, public schools. His success was soon evident and he was engaged in a like capacity in the Birmingham Night School. Letters from those in charge of the above named schools speak enthusiastically not only of his success as a teacher of violin, but stress his ability as a conductor of orchestra.

The serious attitude which he assumes toward his work, together with his personal enthusiasm bespeak for his pupils a year of profitable study, and for the orchestra of the University continued growth, enabling that organization to be of even greater service among the University activities.

Miss Mary K. Pottelger and Mr. Percy M. Linebaugh will play a recent composition for piano and organ from the pen of Pietro Yon, the New York organist, who played at Zion Lutheran Church, Sunbury, last season to a capacity audience. These performers need no introduction to Susquehanna readers.

The proceeds from the program will be turned over to the Stage Equipment Fund. Admission to the recital, fifty cents.

Over $500 must be raised by various University organizations within the present year to pay for the scenery on hand. No real Susquehanna student would wish to see the present stage equipment taken away at the end of the one-year time limit because the same has not been paid. Encourage your faculty and at the same time help in this obligation by being present on Thursday night.

FRESHMEN MADE SUCCESSFUL GETAWAY

group of girls, clad in knickers, dashed like race horses across a stretch of lawn, down a side street, through another, over a narrow plank across a creek, and then down the railroad tracks, out once more to the main street, where they sought seclusion between two buildings, since they feared detection.

A fellow conspirator came up and led them down a street not much used to a small bridge, where they were greeted by a host. "Are there any more? Guards! Out and seek those who might have fallen into an ambush. To flight!" Once more a group came up and was greeted. "Silence! Let us be off!" Then a muddy path along the bank of the historic Susquehanna waters was followed to a large farm securely hid from civilization. A group of a hundred ill-treated specimens of mankind gathered about a large blazing fire over which stood a mammoth black kettle, from which poured forth steam. And, nearby, stood many, many dozens of buns and a huge can of potato chips. After a hearty repast, much business was transacted. Then a great hie—Rah! for the Freshman Class—and a Boo! for the Sophs. Games of nursery nature were the next feature.

"To Selinsgrove let us be bound. We have won. Our rooms? We don't care—we have WON!" rang throughout the assembly. Onward trod the weary band, two by fours. "Some one back! They are after Weaver." Two girls ran back and cried out the warning. Onward all went to meet the Sophs, who had missed their under classmen too late to put an end to their good work. Paddles flew, as the co-eds, in the name of the class of '29 cried out, "To it boys! To it! Show them what we are made of." The adventurers trodded on to their respective habitations.

And, such a welcome home—quite unlike that of the Knights and Barons of old. Cries of where is this and where is that soon brought many girls, who had been unbidden, out from their rooms, while those who had reaped the harvest staid behind closed doors.

So ended the "Getaway" of the class of '29, and which all and one will and can vouch will enter the chronicles of the Class of '29.

To our students who are interested in nature, and who would like to learn, and appreciate her beauties, the Science Club extends a most hearty welcome to attend its meetings and become one of its members. Meetings are held bi-monthly on Monday night from 7:30 to 8:30 and are under the faculty control of Drs. Surface and Fisher.

Seniors Presented "The Rivals" Second Time

Was Given Last Commencement to a Packed House. Was Repeated for Benefit of New Students

Thursday, October 8, at 8:15 p. m.
200 members of the student body were again privileged to see the feature comedy, "The Rivals," presented by the class of '26.

Yes, the Freshmen boys were on hand with their lady friends, and many seniors enjoyed the production to so great an extent last year that they were eager to witness it again.

Altho the house was not packed,
the audience was a very appreciative one, and the actors did not exhibit their skill in vain.

The time which the play covered was the period of 1775. The scene was laid in Bath, England. The above period and place suggest the character of the costumes, whose fitness and beauty added largely to the attractiveness of the play.

The scenery was beautiful; there was the woodland scene with the large lazy stream curling thru the wooded valley; there were the beautifully pan-nelled walls of the interior scenery, and the pretty sparkling fountain which played in the sun, was the center of attraction in a third scene.

Miss Anna Norwat, impersonating the character of Mrs. Malaprop, kept the audience roaring with her rather confused vocabulary, while S. R. Frost as Sir Anthony Absolute, was a splendid reproduction of the stern old English Fathers.

And say! What about Capt. Jack Absolute and game little Lydia Long-nash? S-s-s-s-s, this is a secret. Don't you think the match was great? No sir, we're not going to tell any more secrets concerning this play, except that it is our belief that every person in the cast is a real actor. They certainly met with success in "The Rivals."

—S—
DR. AIKENS PRESIDENT
OF S. U. FOR 20 YEARS

On July 5th, 1905 he was elected President of Susquehanna University and moved his family to Selingsgrove in the fall. He took hold of the University when it certainly needed the guiding hand of a capable man, and in the twenty years of his stay here, S. U.
has been growing and improving.
It has an excellent and very efficient Board of Directors. It now has resources including an endowment of almost a million dollars.

Here, as in Center county, Dr. Aikens has manifested a deep interest in the affairs of the community. He is a 32nd degree Mason and has served his political party in the capacity of Delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago and Presidential Elector in 1916. As president of the Susquehanna Trail Association, he did much in securing the beautiful highway through the scenic Susquehanna Valley, extending from Baltimore to the New York State line.

He was chairman of the Public Safety Committee of Snyder county during the World War and had more than 300 Snyder county men and women organized for public service. In 1918 Gov. Brumbaugh appointed him chairman of a State Hospital Commission for the purchase of 500 acres of land, to be used for hospital purposes. He is also director of the First National Bank of Selingsgrove and other public service companies.

On December 6th, 1910, the mother of his only son passed away and on February 3rd, 1915, he was united in marriage to Mrs. Carrie E. Smith, who now presides over the comfortable and happy home of President Aikens. His only son, Claude G. Aikens, lives with his family at State College, and is an active member of the Athletic Board of S. U.

Dr. Aikens is generally called Dr.
by the students when they speak to him and Prexy when they speak of him. He is well liked, because of his ever willingness to co-operate in anything that the students wish to do.
One always finds him a sympathetic listener, and an efficient helper whenever it is a bonfire in celebration of a game, or the introduction of something new at Susquehanna.

ALL THE CLASSES REPRESENTED IN UNIQUE ALUMNI DAY PARADE

Many Alumni and Friends As Well As Many Students Witnessed One of the Most Interesting Parades Ever Held at Susquehanna

Did you see it? If you did not, you missed something unusual.

The student body was out in festive attire for the grand occasion. Beg pardon! Did we say, "Student Body?" Well, 'er, please overlook the mistake. We meant representatives of that body. They were there and that unique parade was a big welcome to our Alumni as well as a beacon beaming as a strong indication of S. U.'s school spirit.

Promptly upon the stroke of "one," the Moose Lodge Band, of Sellsingrove, struck up one of its finest tunes and the cleverest parade in old Susquehanna's history marched from the campus.

Following the band came the Men's Student Council, driven by Dr. Aikens, and then followed the representations of the various classes. First came the Senior floats, which were conceived by brilliant minds and were carried out to perfection. One of these was "Venus at the Pump." "Clever," we say! Secondly there was "Seibert Hall Pen," a large sedan, the windows of which were formidably barred and within which several young women were securely imprisoned. Then came a third extremely original float. It represented "Sorority Pins," and carried a big kick. Of course everyone saw that one.

Next in line came the floats of the Jolly Juniors. Here, indeed, the real spirit of the day was manifested. Some Junior representatives lead a cow, which frequently displayed the female tendency to change one's mind. It was rather wayward at times and proved to be a source of trouble for it tried to step upon toes other than its own. Who can blame her, however, for upon her back a huge sign read "We are going to beat Drexel. This is no bull." The Juniors were right. They also gave a free exhibition of a "Lesson in Camapstry," and caused a hearty laugh.

Omega Delta Sigma Girls Held Indoor Hike

Inclemency of Weather Caused Hike to be Held Indoors. Events Was Held in Honor of the New Girls

Omega Delta Sigma sorority was hostess to new girls at an indoor hike, owing to the inclemency of the weather, on Wednesday, October 14, at 7:30. The girls, attired in hiking clothes, assembled in the parlors and instead of hiking to any outdoor sport, they hiked to the social room. There each one was greeted by a guide, and the spirit of the outdoors seemed to be present everywhere.

As you entered the social room, it seemed as if you were entering an Indian village on a moonlight night. With the wigwams, teepees and camp fire, the whole scene presented a very pleasing picture. The presence of a fortune teller added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening.

When everyone was better acquainted the fun of the evening started. The old fashioned Paul Jones led the games and then numerous other games followed. A charade from each group was an interesting feature, as was also the reading by Martha Ertel and the dance by Farmer Reeder.

After an evening spent in fun, delicious refreshments were served and after a few rousing cheers the group wended its way to their "trundle beds," hoping that many more enjoyable evenings would be had in the future.

Everything thought generated in the brain is a seed which must produce its harvest—thistle or rose, weed or wheat!

And then followed the Sophs. A sign, "Do you believe in evolution?" preceded an old Ford, which served as a conveyance for Father Time. It was ably driven by a beautiful maiden and was followed by Sophomores representing the four stages of a college student's evolution. The meaning of the idea was not clear, but we let it up to the Sophs to ask deep questions.

And now we pause, for we have come to the climax. You've heard the old saying, "The best is always saved until the last." You folks, who saw the parade, can justify that statement, when you recall those dear little children (the Freshmen), cute little girls in short middy suits and funny little boys in short trousers and socks. Then a large float whereon was seated a heavy champion, swinging immense dumb bells about in the air. Upon many signs were the inscription, "The strength of the school." Leading this group were four girls bearing numericals which collectively formed "1929."

The whole affair was a big success and many compliments were received upon the originality of the affair, and upon the pep which was shown throughout. Everyone who participated therein deserved praise and comment for their excellent display of school spirit.

Girls' Student Gov't Elected Officers

BARBARA DE REMER ELECTED TO PRESIDENCY; MARION POUNDER IS VICE PRESIDENT, AND LAURA ARNOLD IS SECRETARY AND TREASURER

A mass meeting of the women students of Susquehanna was held last Tuesday evening. At that time the members of the council for co-operative government were elected. The personnel of the council is Barbara DeRemer, Eleanor Blrk, Arlene Hoyt, Marion Pounder, Martha Ertel, Laura Arnold and Georgiene Fickes. The officers are Barbara DeRemer, president; Marion Pounder, vice president, and Laura Arnold, secretary and treasurer. Dr. Follmer is the Faculty representative and Miss Sloan is the representative of the preceptresses.

The president explained further what would be expected of all the students after the co-operation government was in force. All concerned seemed extremely eager to see this innovation established and in perfect running order.

LOWER BIRTHS

On Sunday, October the 11th, in Room No. 5, Sellsingrove Hall, were born three children—to a stray cat. They were bestowed upon Al Rising, of this school, but he cold-bloodedly refused to take the fatherless orphans into his home. Therefore, on Monday morning, they were returned to the place of their birth. The children and their mother are all doing finely, and it looks like a healthy family. Their upkeep, however, has hitherto been a rather large expense, and any gifts or requests for that purpose will be thankfully received. Those who may desire to donate something, kindly communicate with Mr. W. H. Stumpf or Marvin W. Schlegel. Also, any person knowing of a suitable home for the several orphans, will please inform said persons and receive their lifelong gratitude. M. W. S. '29.

Mrs. Kimble, Former STRONG DREXEL ELEVEN DEFEATED Preceptress, Dead BY S. U. IN ALUMNI DAY BATTLE

BELOVED AND RESPECTED PRECEPTRESS WAS TAKEN ILL HERE LAST YEAR AND DIED THIS SUMMER. HER LIFE WAS ONE OF SERVICE

The death of our late preceptress, Mrs. Margaret E. Kimble, is very deeply felt by those who had learned to appreciate and to love her. We believe that it is hardly possible for anyone to fill the position so acceptably, and so successfully as did she whose memory shall ever live in the hearts of those with whom she was associated. Hers was that nature possessed of a broad culture and gracious tact which combined with whole-hearted sympathy won for her the admiration of all.

MRS. MARGARET E. KIMBLE
Deceased Dean of Women

Such a noble character needs no epitaph to engrave upon our minds the far-reaching influence of such a personality. We, over whose lives she had exerted personal interest feel a keen personal loss in her death. She took an active part in shaping our lives by enjoying the things which would make us bigger and better. Nor did absence due to impaired health diminish her love for her girls at S. U. Hers is to be one of those personalities woven so inevitably into the fabric of our lives.

Not only in our sphere of life is her memory revered, but also by those of her earlier life. Mrs. Margaret E. Kimble was born at Warrensville, Lycoming county, Penna., Nov. 24, 1865, where her early life was spent.

Part of her education was received at Muncy Normal School, after which she taught several terms in the public schools of the county.

She then married Dr. Z. E. Kimble, and with him spent the early years of her married life at Liberty, Pa. Later Dr. Kimble opened offices in Concluded on Page 3

Susquehanna in its annual home quarter when Drexel was forced to coming home before many Alumni and punt from behind their own goal line friends swamped Drexel to the score of 14-0. The game was hard fought from whistle to whistle and the Little Crusaders showed their real strength and fighting spirit, as both teams were evenly matched as to weight and playing ability and about the only weakness shown by the Philadelphians was their inability to break up forward passes. The predicted score was four or five touchdowns in favor of the local team, and comparing ground gained it should have been so, as the Drexel goal was continually in danger and they only registered four first downs to fifteen for Susquehanna during the contest and the opponents four were made in the first half. Coach Wingard's warriors came back strong in the second half and the Engineers gained very little yardage and no first downs, being forced to resort to forward passes. The first touchdown was scored by a pass from Bolig to Means and then Bolig kicked the goal for the extra point, making the score 7-0 at the end of the half. The feature of the entire game was the machine like working of the local aerial attack. Long passes were made and completed by Bolig to Means, Gimmie, Gordon and Groce.

The final score was made in the last minute of the game when Drexel receiving, Bolig kicking off for S. U. Drexel with a rush and a flash uncorked a forward pass for 30 yards, taking the Little Crusaders by surprise, but S. U.'s line held and Drexel was forced to punt to Stuenpelt. On a series of line bucks and end runs Susquehanna carried the ball for two first downs, but on a fumble Drexel got possession of the ball. Both teams being unable to gain ground they resorted to a punting game, with the wind favoring Drexel. Drexel was the first to try for a drop kick, but it fell short. Susquehanna getting possession of the ball, Sleight sprinted around Drexel's ends for several long runs, assisted by Stuenpelt and Groce off tackle. Bolig then tried a drop kick, but it fell short. The quarter ended with Susquehanna in possession of the ball—0-0.

On the first play of the second quarter Groce heaved a pass to Gimmie for 30 yards. Susquehanna opened up on passes, but was forced to kick. Drexel tried numerous end runs, but Lantz broke thru their line and threw them back for numerous losses. Susquehanna on a few plays which netted them two first downs lost the ball on a fumble. Drexel getting into the spirit of the game started a series of tackle plays and tore thru Susquehanna's line for several first downs. Concluded on Page 3

A MESSAGE TO THE CLASS OF '29

Freshmen, you came through nobly at the game last Saturday in all but one thing—and that was your Alma Mater.

Your section in the parade was not only clever, but it had variety and held a great degree of interest. Numerically you had the largest representation. You proved efficient in the sale of the Alumni Day badges and you helped the managers in the sale and collection of admissions. You sat in the stands as directed and you surely did yell. You have caught the spirit; but, '29, you have not learned your Alma Mater, and therein you have failed.

The Alma Mater may not mean as much to you now as it does to some of us, or as much as it will to you later. You may even think that the article in your rules, concerning it, can be evaded easily and that the Student Council will have no way of knowing whether you have learned it or not. Freshmen, it means more to Susquehanna that you know your Alma Mater than it does to keep you off the grass or make you stay away from the ladies. We will, before more than a few days have elapsed, have a way of knowing whether or not you think enough of your school to be able to sing her praises. So get after it and get it right!

But we do not want you to learn it because you have to. Rather, you are going to study it because you want to do so—because it means something to you and because you want to contribute your share in everything that takes place at S. U. You are going to show up some of the older students who have forgotten parts of it and you are going to help show the visitors, the Alumni and the team itself that you are backing up your Crusaders every second of the time. We are depending upon you a great deal '29 and we know that you are going to come thru.

SUSQUEHANNA ALUMNUS EN- GAGES IN JOINT AUTHORSHIP

A book has recently been added to our library which is of more than ordinary interest to Alumni and friends of Susquehanna, for it represents, in part, the patient, scholarly research of an Alumnus. The book in question is entitled "English Commerce and Exploration in the Reign of Elizabeth." It is part of the story of Eastward and "Westward Ho," out of which the greatness of the British Empire is made. The book is got to under the dual authorship of Dr. Albert Lindsay Rowland, formerly of the State Department of Public Instruction, well known to students and friends of Susquehanna, and Dr. George Born Manhart, of the Class of 1919, a son of Dr. F. P. Manhart, Dean of our Theological Department, and now assistant professor of History in DePaul University, Greencastle, Indiana. It comprises the theses presented to the Faculty of the Graduate School of the University of Pennsylvania in partial fulfillment of the requirements for their Doctorate Degrees in Philosophy. Dr. Rowland tells the story of "The Rise of Diplomatic and Commercial Relations between England and Turkey," and Dr. Manhart deals with "The English Search for a Northwest Passage in the Time of Queen Elizabeth." Both theses deal with interesting subjects most interestingly told and necessarily meet the most exacting requirements of scholarship. Susquehanna may well be proud of this achievement of one of her own alumni.

SUSQUEHANNA IMPROVEMENT

During the past year building operations have been in progress until we have one of the most complete dining rooms and kitchens to be found anywhere. We have a beautiful Chapel Hall with a seating capacity of 500 with splendid stage equipment, together with dormitory rooms for girls including two extensions to Seibert Hall. One of these is 60 feet in length and the other is 82 feet in length.

In addition to these additions, we have five double cottages and an addition to our Conservatory of Music, which will provide ten new practice rooms, a small auditorium and several recitation rooms. The new pipe organ was furnished by Mr. William A. Hassinger in memory of his wife. The old pipe organ will be installed in the new addition to the Conservatory.

The Ladies' Auxiliary has furnished the reception rooms of Seibert Hall and the entire equipment of the dining hall.

While Susquehanna has much enlarged her building equipment, she has obligated herself to the amount of $140,000, in behalf of the liquidation of this obligation, we must ask the friends of S. U. to come to her relief in the way of financial provision.

(Signed) DR. AIKENS.

Conservatory Faculty Program Was Enjoyed

It Was a Real Musical Treat—Could Hardly Have Been Improved Upon.
Faculty True Artists

Lovers of music were afforded a rare treat on Thursday evening, October 15, when the Conservatory Faculty gave the primal concert of the year.

Those who did not attend this concert missed one of the best ever heard at S. U. Each number had in it a most delightful appeal. And after having heard all of the program one felt himself drawn from the more common things of life, to the higher realms of music. Nothing but words of commendation can be offered concerning the numbers on this program.

These members of the faculty took part in the program: Miss Mary LaVina Young, mezzo-soprano; Miss Mary Katharine Potteiger, pianist; Percy Mathias Linebaugh, organist; Kenneth Maurice Bailey, violinist.

The program:
Violin—Andante from Concerto in E minor—Mendelssohn, Mr. Bailey; Mr. Linebaugh at the piano.

Arias—A. "Comme-ses le Pays" (Mignon)—A. Thomas; b. "Amour Viens Aider" (Samson et Delila)—Saint-Saens, Miss Young; Mr. Linebaugh at the piano.

Organ-Piano—Intro. and Allegro from Concerto Gregorian—P. Yon, Mr. Linebaugh and Miss Potteiger.
Songs—a. Det forste Mode—Grieg; b. Tes Yeux—Raby; c. Birds Courtin' Song—Vermont Mt. Song; d. Wind of the East—Harting; e. Song of the Open—La Forge, Miss Young.

Violin—A. Ave Maria—Schubert-Wilhelm; b. On Wings of Song, Mendelssohn-Bailey; c. Serenade—Drda, Mr. Young.

Ensemble—Agnus Dei—Bizet, Misses Young and Potteiger, Messrs Bailey and Linebaugh.

Stolen fruit is always bitter.

FRESHMAN PARTY

O, the Sophomores tried to beat the Frosh.
But couldn't get it done:
They ran into an awful mess—
And went home on the run.

CHORUS:

O there ain't any rules any mo', any mo',
There ain't any rules any mo'.
But what in the world can the Sophomores do,
If there ain't any rules any mo'.

Old Horton ran among the boys,
And tried to use a bat.
But when he had to leave the place,
He found his tires were flat.

Full many a club did the Sophomores sin,
With aim at a Freshman neck;
But it never does them any good,
When '29's on deck.

SCENE IN FRESHMAN BIBLE CLASS

Dr. Sadtler is questioning class:
"The Apostles were twelve famous men.
Can some one give the names of them?"
"Daniel in the lions den."

Dr. Sadtler: "Yes, sir. Yes, sir."

Quoth the Doc. "If that is so,
There were eleven more you know."
"There were eleven lions tho'."
Dr. Sadtler: "Yes, sir. Yes, sir."

"The things you say are most unique,
You know the Ark once fouled a peak.
Canst name the mountain that I seek?"
Bewildered student: "Yes, sir. Yes, sir."

"When Jonah and his boat got stranded
The flea bit Job in manner candid.
Mt. Mahanoy was where he landed."
Sadtler: "Yes, sir. Yes, sir."

"Your ignorance is most distressing.
Dost thou know Adam's mode of dressing?"
"I should say it was undressing."
Dr. Sadtler: "Yes sir. Yes sir."

"Now Frosh, I'll give you one more chance.
Who made Adam's fig leaf pants?"
"Rebecca at the well, perchance."
Dr. Sadtler: "Yes sir. Yes sir."

"Who for years stored up the corn?
A yellow colored coat had worn?"
Quoth the Frosh, "September Morn."
Dr. Sadtler: "Yes sir. Yes sir."

"Who gave Lot the chance to choose?"
"Columbus, fourteen ninety-two."
Dr. Sadtler: "Yes sir. Yes sir."

"What feats we lay to Samson's hands,
How much respect his strength commands
A hair cut and his arms were rubber bands!"
Dr. Sadtler: "Yes sir. Yes sir."

A CO-ED'S DIARY

Oct. 15. The first debate between girls was held this evening. In spite of many interruptions it was a fine debate. The Faculty Recital was given immediately afterwards.

Oct. 16. Everyone is working to make Alumni Day a success. Visitors are already coming. A mass meeting was held this evening to get ready to beat Drexel tomorrow. Lets hope we can do it.

Oct. 17. The parade took place shortly after dinner, helping to arouse more spirit for the game. Rah! We beat Drexel 14-0! Everyone feels like celebrating tonight. Many co-eds went to the frat parties, others to the movies. A number of the girls hiked to Salem for a chicken and waffle supper, which surely was worth the walk.

Oct. 18. We are all suffering from reaction of the past few days. A number of visitors and friends are with us. This certainly has been a pleasant and exciting week-end.

The Association of College Professors of Pennsylvania will meet at Wilson College, Chambersburg, Pa., on Friday, October 23rd. Dr. Aikens will represent Susquehanna at this conference.

PROF. KEENER SPOKE TO Y MEETING IN CLIO HALL

On Tuesday evening the Y. M. C. A. met in Clio Hall under the leadership of Mr. Jacob Kroen. There were fifty-two men present at the meeting. We hope that the attendance will be just as good at the meetings that are to follow. Professor Keener's subject was "The New Vision."

"The Bible is full of visions which we may use every day of our lives. The vision of which I speak tonight is found in part of the third chapter of St. John. Nicodemus is the man who had the vision. He was a leader, a politician among his people who were called Pharisees."

"Nicodemus came to visit Jesus under cover of darkness. Why? Because he was afraid of the criticism of his friends. Nicodemus said to Jesus 'Rabbi we know that Thou art a Teacher come from God,' and Jesus answering him said 'verily, verily I say unto you, except a man be born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God.' Nicodemus answered, 'how can these things be?' And Jesus answered him, 'If I have told you of earthly things, and ye believe not, how shall ye believe if I tell you of heavenly things?' 'For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life.'

"Nicodemus saw a new vision, yet he could not quite comprehend what Jesus meant by God giving His only Son. Nicodemus did not realize the great and divine love God had for us. I am afraid that you and I are not able to fathom such a wonderful love."

"We understand human love, which is very fine indeed. For instance: There was a young man about to be hanged. Just before he was put on the scaffold the Judge asked if any one would give his or her life for the condemned man. All were silent, and then an old woman dressed shabbily stepped up and said, 'I will give my life in his stead.' The Judge asked 'And who are you?' With tears running down her wrinkled cheeks she answered, 'I am his mother.'

"This is an example of human love. But it does not touch the divine love."

"Too often we forget the God that made us. We are here now, and that is all that matters. But do not forget that it was thru the great and divine love of our Father that we were given the chance to be saved. If you will believe in God's only Son that we might be saved for the kingdom of God. When you are in doubt or trouble go to the Father of all. He alone can comfort you and help you. If only we would walk closer to God, if only we would trust Him with more of our troubles. And I say again 'Let us all walk nearer to God.'"

PRECEPTRESS, DEAD

Williamsport, where he enjoyed a large practice until his health failed, and they moved to Asheville, N. C. Mrs. Kimble's care and devotion helped to prolong her husband's life several years after they left Williamsport, to which place she returned after Dr. Kimble's death.

Mrs. Kimble was an active member of St. Luke's Lutheran Church, Vailmont, and in the pastorate of Dr. M. Hadwin Fischer served as treasurer of the Vallmont Private Kindergarten Board. She was a member of the Civic Club and was constantly doing welfare work, but in a quiet, unassuming way, instead of thru public organizations. In her unselfish manner she was always making sacrifices that others might be benefited.

She gave most unstintingly of her time, strength and finances, and assumed heavy responsibilities with rare cheerfulness and devotion. Her death in June is regarded as a heavy loss among those in whose memory she still lives.

NEW MARCHING SONG

Here is a new marching song, written by Harry William '28 to the tune of the Washington and Lee swing. Learn it, copy it and carry it in your handbook. Be sure to have it at the mass meeting at 7:30 p. m. Friday night.

Let Susquehanna's praises ring—Let every voice— and daughter sing in a Mother's name

And let your voices tell the story of her fame.

Until our voices reach up to the moon.
We'll cheer the team right on to victory.

Yes Victory. Fight! Fight! Fight!

SEMINARY NOTES

Ramer '26 supplied at Northumberland at St. John's Lutheran morning and evening. In the afternoon he preached at Grace Evangelical Lutheran on the road to Danville.

Hanks '26 left for home on Friday, where he assisted in the re-dedication of the church.

Law '26 preached at his regular charge.

Derr '27 preached at his regular charge at Millville.

Derr '27 was visited by his brother James and friend "Peck" Young, over the weekend.

Keper '27 journeyed to Sunbury with his wife after the football game, where he spent the week-end.

Knoebel '27 supplied at Segars, substituting for Keper.

Lesher '27 entertained his classmate, Klinefelter, over the week-end.

Kroen '28 accompanied Rev. Beard to the Millville charge, in which place Kroen sang a solo.

Euders '28 very ably assisted Rev. Beck in the services at the First Lutheran Church on Sunday.

We are all happy over the outcome of the worlds series, as we have not lost one of our sheep (Kroen), which might have happened had Pittsburgh lost.

INTER-COLLEGE NOTES

Miss Laura Glidden, '26, has recently won the title of the world's champion girl indoor marksman. She was a member of the University of Kansas Girls' Rifle Team of last year.

For the first time in the history of the R. O. T. C. at Carnegie Tech, the War Department has issued orders restricting the enrollment in it. The War Department has ordered that not more than 95 in the advanced course and 266 in the basic course shall be enrolled.

The Kansas University plant is valued at approximately $3,725,000, including land and buildings at Lawrence and Kansas City. The land amounts to 1,641 acres, and the campus proper contains 163.3 acres.

The contract for the washing of windows in buildings on the Phillips University campus has been awarded to the Student Window Cleaners, an organization of men who are earning their way thru college in this way.

"The Savitar," annual publication of the University of Missouri, was awarded first place in the national contest for college annuals during the past summer. It is the third time the Tigers have carried off honors in this competition.

COURSE IN ORIENTATION HAS BEEN STARTED

Pike, whose talks are both forceful and interesting, and instructive as well. He spoke upon the subject "The History and Progress of the Mental Element and its Care." He reminded the class of the fact that the age of darkness and ignorance concerning the care of the mentally diseased has just passed, and that it is only within the present century that they have been given the proper medical treatment.

Last Thursday afternoon Dr. Woodruff opened a new phase of the subject by reviewing the lives of three great thinkers of antiquity, namely, Aristotle, Plato and Socrates—men who possessed minds strong enough to live and die for the truth. "After these men," said Dr. Woodruff, "should you as students desire to model your lives, using wisely the gifts of your maker."

This course in Orientation was installed in the University for the purpose of teaching us to take the necessary precautions to protect ourselves, our friends, and community against the deranging of the nervous system and with their instructive lectures, we feel justified in saying that those who are taking this course will never regret the opportunity, while those who do not take it are missing something worth while.

MASS MEETING WAS A HUGE SUCCESS

On Friday evening a meeting was held in the new Chapel Hall with the aim of arousing interest in our football team and exciting the student body into a realization of its duties toward the team.

The speakers at the impressive ceremonies were Earl Thomas, Prof. Mowles, Prof. Beard and Kenneth Cassell. Each predicted that our team would defeat Drexel and proclaimed that the students lacked the proper spirit for the success of the team. They urged that every member of the school stand back of our team and cheer long and loud on Alumni Day. The Alma Mater was sung with vigor and several yells were given that fairly shook the building.

But suspense reigned until game time Saturday. Then were our Alumni treated to a cheering demonstration that has seldom been surpassed in the history of the school, and the purpose of the mass meeting had been attained.

STRONG DREXEL ELEVEN DEFEATED BY CRUSADERS

but Susquehanna braced, took the ball on their own 40 yard line. On a series of passes, Bolig to Glimmie and Groce they carried it to their 30 yard line, when Bolig tossed a 20 yard pass to Means, who scored the first touchdown. Bolig made the extra point. The teams lined up with Drexel receiving the ball, but time allowed no score that half. 7-0.

The second half started as the first, except that Drexel kicked to Susquehanna. During this half Susquehanna completely outplayed Drexel, Susquehanna scoring eleven first downs to Drexel's none. Susquehanna was in position to score on several occasions, but Drexel braced at the wrong time for S. U. Sleigle on the first play ran off right end for 20 yards; Bolig tore thru line for 5 yards, Stuemple threw a pass to Groce for another first down. They continued down the field in this manner for 60 yards, when Drexel held us for downs. Drexel opened up on passes, but was unsuccessful. S. U. knocking them down on every occasion. Drexel kicked over Stuemple's head, aided by a strong wind. The Crusaders again started their march down the field, but again lost the ball within scoring distance, when Bolig's drop kick was blocked and Drexel recovered on the 20 yard line. Drexel again took to the air, but did not complete any passes. The quarter ended with Susquehanna in possession of the ball.

The fourth quarter opened with Susquehanna pushing for another touchdown, when Sleigle tore off tackle for 14 yards. On a series of line bucks Susquehanna was forced to kick. Again Drexel tried in vain to pierce the line, for their end runs proved ineffective. Susquehanna again started down the field by passes over the line and off tackle plays. Stuemple and Sleigle, Groce and Bolig tore off first down after first down, till they reached the 4 yard line, where Drexel stiffened and held the Orange and Maroon for downs. Drexel kicked on first down to Bolig, who exhibited a fine brand of open field running, when he carried it over the line on a 30 yard run for the second touchdown. Bolig again made the extra point. S. U. 14, Drexel 6. The teams lined up with Drexel being in possession of the ball, eager to score. Here in the game Coach Winkard sent in almost a new backfield and several linemen. Drexel opened up an aerial attack and after rounding three long passes they completed one for 35 yards, but Susquehanna stopped them, and on a series of passes carried it for three first downs, but time prevented another score. The game ended with S. U. in possession of the ball on Drexel's 20 yard line.

The lineup:

Drexel	Susquehanna
Fordion	L. E.	Means
Collins	L. T.	Cassell
Townson	L. G.	Haney
Wolf	C.	Gordon
Snyder	R. G.	Horton
Johnson	R. T.	Lantz
Forbes	R. E.	Glimmie
Schwartz	Q. B.	Stuemple (capt.)
Sukin (capt.)	L. H. B.	Bolig
Smith	R. H. B.	Sleigle

Jones F. B. Groce
Officials—Golstein, Dickinson, referee; Schwenk, Muhlenberg, umpire; Hontz, Gettysburg, lineman.

Substitutions: Susquehanna—Pratt for Groce, Smith for Haney, Garman for Horton, Daubeuspeck for Lantz, Martin for Bolig, Emil for Sleigle, Stroup for Emil; Drexel—Barr for Wolf, Eagler for Jones.

Probably one reason for the popularity of WRIGLEY'S is that it lasts so long and returns such great dividends for so small an outlay. • It keeps teeth clean, breath sweet, appetite keen, digestion good. Fresh and full-flavored always in its wax-wrapped package.

Doctor Houtz Has Been Here 40 Years

AT THE AGE OF 72 HE IS AN ABLE INSTRUCTOR IN MATHEMATICS AND ASTRONOMY. HE HAS TRAINED MANY AN ABLE TEACHER

How many of us are aware that on the twenty-eighth of last month the oldest member of our faculty entered another year of service for Susquehanna? Daddy Houtz, our beloved and respected professor, at the age of seventy-two is still explaining the intricacies of Algebra and Geometry to

DR. THOMAS C. HOUTZ
Professor of Mathematic and Astronomy

dumb but persevering Freshmen; is still making astronomy a rival of campustury with the star-gazing upper classmen.

Dr. Houtz was born in Lanion, Pa., barely a decade before the opening of the Civil War. He received his A. B. degree in 1879, followed by his A. M. in 1886.

Immediately following his graduation from State College Prof. Houtz taught in Rock Springs public schools and the Pine Grove Mills private schools. In 1875 he came to S. U., then Missionary Institute, and was vice principal from 1886 until 1894, when Susquehanna University came into existence. Since then he has instilled the principles of Mathematics and Astronomy into every class graduated from our Alma Mater.

In addition to his professional activities, Dr. Houtz has been an ordained minister since 1889. He has held many important positions in the Central Pennsylvania Synod, including that of statistician from 1896 to 1916, and of president from 1916 to 1920. He has also been a member of the Ministerial Examining Committee since 1901.

Doctor Houtz has had a part in the development of S. U. since 1885, when it was practically a Junior College with less than 100 students, and but one building, until today it has nine buildings and nearly 500 students.

The superlative record of Doctor Houtz serves as an inspiration to all of us, and if the present generation at Susquehanna produces a man like him we may count ourselves most fortunate.

RESPECT

To the students of Susquehanna, the writer would like to impress upon your minds what is meant when we say respect. We mean the respect to our superiors at school, the Faculty.

We know, or at least we should know, how to address our Faculty. We should not think that they are mere students as we are, but should esteem them in every way, not only in classroom, but anywhere we may meet
them.

We as students must remember that we are under their guidance and instruction, and therefore act the gentleman or the lady and respect them.
Very little respect is shown by our student body to our Faculty in general, and this condition surely should not exist.

We are prompted to write this article because, as students, we feel that we should show our appreciation to our Faculty members for their generous efforts in our behalf. So let us be more respectful to our Faculty, for to them it will mean happiness and we can do naught to aid.

Many a man who does not know his own mind would be surprised to learn how well his acquaintances know it.

VERNON SYMPHONIC QUINTET APPEARED HERE LAST NIGHT

Opening Number of the University Star Course Was Presented in Seibert Chapel Hall to Highly Appreciative Audience

The opening number of the University Star Course was presented in Seibert Chapel Hall, Monday evening, October 26th, consisting of a well balanced program by the Vernon Symphonic Quintet. The personnel of the quintet is as follows: Robert Quick, first violin; Benno Delmon, second violin; William Cheesman, viola; William C. Williams, cello, and Betsy Williams, pianist.

The success of any such musical organization lies in its ensemble, and it was this feature of their work that gave special satisfaction to the more critically inclined. Chamber music, such as that presented on this program, requires purity of tone, judgment in tone blending on the part of the several artists, and the sacrificing of individuality on the part of each player for the sake of the ensemble. Many a soloist of note fails utterly when placed in a similar position.

As a solo instrument the violinello has come to almost equal favor with the violin, and the solo numbers between string quartets on this program were well given and enjoyed. The deep, rich tones of the 'cello interest the music lover quite as much as the higher, brighter quality of the violin. From the two the whole range of emotions seems capable of expression and the very soul seems stirred by their appeal.

Following is the program given:
Allegro energico from Quintet in G

PITTSBURGH-S. U. BANQUET
That is THE event. The excitement the alumni get together and talk about how it used to be and where so-so is and how many teeth the baby has and what a fine place Seibert Hall is and ain't it nice weather and Wingard vs. Rockne and please pass the boiled potato pie a la Horton. November the 13th we're going to rally round and put on the feed bags and yell "A-N-N-A" and hear Keener. As Golsinski says, "Day by day we're getting keener and keener." If you want in on this just give the low sign to Chas. Held at 2112 Rockledge St., N. S. Pittsburgh. He's the official bootlegger.

S. U. Debating Club Is Growing Rapidly

WEEKLY DEBATES ARE BEING ATTENDED BETTER EVERY WEEK; SPEAKERS ARE IMPROVING AS THEY GET MORE EXPERIENCE. OUTLOOK BRIGHT

There is no doubt that the debating team which will be chosen to represent the school will be worthy of the name of varsity if the present interest in the weekly meetings of the club is kept up. There were about eighty present at the last meeting and the debate was worthy of an even larger audience. The question used was the Intercollegiate question decided upon at Harrisburg on the tenth. Resolved, that the United States should enter the League of Nations. It was upheld on the affirmative by Lee Vorlage and Russell Krause, and the negative was upheld by Clarence Hurst and Louis Rode.

The decision was rendered in favor of the negative.

A report was given by Miss Martha Larsen of the conference at Harrisburg on the tenth, when faculty and student representatives of most of the Pennsylvania colleges, which support debating, met to determine the question to be debated this winter.

An extemporaneous debate was imposed upon Theodore Ebberts and Helen Yeingst, after which the club adjourned.

minor—Jadassohn, Quintet; Andante Cantabile—Tschalkowsky; Allegro from Quartet in G Major—Haydn; String Quartet; The Londonderry Air—Kroiser, Trio; Minuet—Belzoni; String Quartet; The Swan—St. Saes; Taranille—Popper; Violinello Solo; Serenade—Pierne; Evening Breeze—Lanczy, String Quartet; Song of India—Rimsky-Korsakoff-Kreisler; Memories—Czerwonky; Hungarian Dance in G Minor—Brahms-Joachim, Violin Solo; Humoreske on Two American Folk Songs—Kramer, String Quartet; Finale from Quintet in C Minor—Jadassohn, Quintet.

SEMINARY NOTES

Hanks '26 supplied at Port Royal. Law '26 made his usual week-end trip home.

Ramer '26 preached at Northumberland and vicinity.

Beard '27 preached at his regular charge. We are also glad to note that Beard is developing a powerful reserve team, as he is coaching them in football, and he deserves a great deal of credit for the wonderful showing which the team has made.

Kroon '28 assisted Rev. Beck in the church services on Sunday and his work was beyond reproach.

The Lord's Prayer Was Discussed at Y. W. C. A.

Martha Larson and Mary Gougler Led Meeting and Explained the Six Prayers That Make Up the Whole

At the meeting of the Y. W. C. A. Martha Larson and Mary Gougler interestingly explained the Lord's Prayer. They brought out one point that perhaps half the girls present never noticed. This was the presence of six small prayers in the whole prayer. The leaders discussed and explained each one.

The first one is "Our Father Who Art in Heaven." One may pray this over many times and only subconsciously realize it to be a single prayer.

2 "Thy Kingdom Come, Thy Will Be Done," etc.

3 "Give Us This Day Our Daily Bread," etc.

4 "Forgive Us Our Tresspasses," etc.

5 "And lead us not into temptation but deliver us from evil"

6 "For Thine is the Kingdom," etc.

This interesting meeting was enjoyed by all. We hope to see more present at our next meeting, which will be even more interesting.

ALUMNI NOTES

The Rev. Dr. Charles P. MacLaughlin and the Evangelical Lutheran Church of The Redeemer of Atlanta, Ga., have just celebrated the 25th anniversary of his ordination.

Rev. MacLaughlin graduated from Susquehanna University, and took his seminary work in Chicago. He received his D.D. degree from Susquehanna some years ago.

He was ordained to the Gospel Ministry Sunday, October 21, 1900, at Mt. Morris, Illinois, by the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Northern Illinois.

He labored as a Home Missionary in Chicago, Illinois, for a little more than seven years, organizing Immanuel Church, South Side, and Calvary Church, Irving Park. Relinquishing this field October 1, 1906, he served the following congregations: Zion's, Meyersdale, Pa.; St. James, Concord, N. C.; First, Greensburg, Pa.; First, Pittsburgh; going to the Church of The Redeemer, March 1, 1925.

Special services were held on Sunday. Concluded on Page 3

Dr. Woodruff Has Done Much For Susquehanna

IN HIS 34 YEAR OF SERVICE HE HAS TAUGHT THOUSANDS OF PUPILS AND HAS INSTILLED INTO THEM SOME OF HIS OWN HIGH IDEALS

The subject of this sketch graduated from Missionary Institute, now Susquehanna, then a junior college, in 1888, and from Bucknell University in 1890; by the latter institution he received the degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts. After graduation from college he taught in the Friends Normal Institute, Rising Sun, Md., and afterward at Milliflinton at the Millifl Academy. He was principal of each of these institutions.

From the Millifl Academy he was called to Missionary Institute, now Susquehanna, and has entered his 34th year of consecutive service as a professor here. He was called to teach Latin and History. However, when the smaller school became a college, he became teacher of Latin and English. After these courses were developed, the growing needs of the University called for a course in Education, and also for a course in philosophy. Dr. Woodruff relinquished the Latin and proceeded to inaugurate these courses. At present he is head of the courses above referred to and is teaching chiefly Education and Philosophy, doing some work in higher English.

From 1901 to 1904, during the non-resident presidency of Dr. George W. Enders, he was acting president. Following the custom then among the heads of colleges, he taught psychology and ethics for the period. During the time of his acting-presidency the original part of Seibert Hall and the Gymnasium were erected, largely under his supervision. The older part of the athletic field was also acquired.

The educational activities of Dr. Woodruff have not been confined to the University only. Having been a public school teacher for several years, he became interested in the teaching profession in the public school system. He has been an Institute instructor in many institutes for a number of years and a lecturer on educational and political subjects. In 1903 Wittenberg College conferred on him the degree of doctor of literature and in 1921 Waynesburg College the degree of doctor of laws. In 1918 he was elected from Snyder county to the Pennsylvania Legislature and he was re-elected in 1920, serving till 1922. In the session of 1919, among other measures, he sponsored the teachers' salary bill, a war emergency measure, under which the educational activities were largely conducted till this measure was superseded by the Finegan program adopted in 1921. Dr. Woodruff was greatly interested also in getting good roads for the State and especially for his county.

Dr. Woodruff was married in 1892 to Miss Annie M. Moyer. They have two children, Ralph W., at the head of the history department of the Sunbury High School, and Mary E., teacher of Latin and English in Susquehanna University. Both the son and the daughter are graduates of Susquehanna University. (From data in Who's Who.)

ORANGE AND MAROON ELEVEN BATTLED SCHUYLKILL TO 6-6 TIE

Game Played in Driving Rain in Sea of Mud. Running of Ball by Sleight and Auten Were Features. Capt. Steumpfle Scores Touchdown

The Orange and Maroon tied Schuylkill College in Reading last Saturday in a game played under the worst weather conditions possible. The game was played in a sea of mud. The contest was practically a punting duel with the Seinsgrove lads having the advantage as Bollig easily outdistanced his opposing kicker. Each team was waiting for a break to score, as straight football was impossible. The Reading eleven intercepted a pass in the first quarter of the game for their only score and failed to kick the extra point. The ball was continually in the opposing team's territory and although they averaged much more in weight than the local lads, they seemed to be powerless to gain on line bucks or forward passes.

Sleight ran their ends at will and although the spectators were cheering the Orange and Black to watch him he clipped off some nice gains. Bollig, Groce and Steumpfle gained good yardage thru the line and even more was gained in the last quarter when Auten was substituted. Johnnie seems to be a mud horse, for Schuylkill just couldn't hold him and in three plays he gained 35 yards.

On a par with last week the S. U. passing game worked to perfection.

The lineup was as follows:
Susquehanna Schuylkill
Means L. E. Boyle
Haney L. T. Snyder
Cassel L. G. Miller
Gordon C. Radcliffe
Smith R. G. Slimmer
Lantz R. T. Lilly
Gimmie K. Kastos
Steumpfle Q. B. J. Kopp
Bollig R. H. B. Kuorr
Sleight L. H. B. MacDonald
Groce F. B. Grace
Touchdowns—Knorr and Steumpfle.
Substitutions—Horton for Smith, Pratt for Sleight, Stroup for Bollig, Auten for Pratt, Roof for Means, Daubenspeck for Haney. Schuylkill—White for J. Kopp, H. Kopp for Kastos, Hillpot for Slimmer.

Referee—Shankweiler, of Muhlenberg; umpire—Dayhoff, of Bucknell; head linesman—Sands, of Williamson. Time of quarters—15 minutes.

Parade and Bon Fire Feature Drexel Win

Peppy Procession Wended Way Toward Town and Then Came Back to Campus to Cheer at Bon Fire

Monday, October the nineteenth, Seinsgrove was enlivened by the enthusiastic celebration of or splendid victory over our formidable opponent, Drexel, by the score of 14-0. Our spirited parade, which was headed by the honorable student council and "Pop Cassel's Sympathy Band," under the personal direction of Mr. Cassel himself, was composed of the entire student body, loyal to old S. U.

Gathering around "The Fountain of Youth" in the center of the town, we had a peppy demonstration of cheers for our fighting Crusaders, of whom we are very proud. Then we proceeded to the athletic field, where a huge bon fire had been built by the industrious Freshmen. Gathering around the fire, which was glowing brilliantly, we were entertained by speeches by Dr. Aikens, Prof. Mowles, Capt. Steumpfle, Manager Spiegelre, and members of the squad.

After cheers in honor of the team and faculty the Alma Mater was sung and these memorable events came to a close. We hope for many similar occasions.

Reserves Win From Yeagertown High

SECOND TEAM PLAYS IN FIELD OF MUD AND GAINS A WIN. OPPONENTS CAME HERE EXPECTING TO WIN, BUT THEY LOST 2-0

Last Saturday was a great day for Susquehanna in football, for while the Varsity was gaining a draw with Schuylkill the reserves, playing at home, defeated a foe which was primed to win an easy victory. Yeagertown High has a husky squad, coached by one of our star backfield men of last year, Larry Dodd, who was exceedingly anxious to defeat his Alma Mater.

The game was fought in a sea of mud, and rain poured continuously, but it did not dampen the ardor of the crowd who were cheering for a victory. The game started with Yeagertown kicking and on the first down they recovered the ball on a fumble on our 15 yard line, but were held for downs.

The reserves then started to plow down the field, ripping off three first downs in succession before losing the ball and then the entire first half was fought in midfield.

In the second half the reserves pushed Yeagertown to their goal and on a bad pass tackled their opponent behind the line, thus scoring a safety, making the score 2-0. The scrubs made 12 first downs to their opponent's 2, thus indicating that on a dry field, the result would have been more decisive.

For the home team Dunkleberger and Kenmerer stood out prominently, although the entire team deserves much praise. The stars for the visitors were Dodd and Shively. Let's get behind the reserves. They deserve it.

OUR POLICY

We, the staff of The Susquehanna, invite your co-operation, and your constructive criticism upon our work at all times. We value the opinion of every student, alumnus, faculty member, and friend of the school, we are trying to serve, and we want you to feel that we are endeavoring to make The Susquehanna not only newsy and more interesting but pleasing to you as well. It is for you whom we are writing and if we do not please you, let us know how we could have done better. If we do please you, show it by writing some article upon some subject that in your opinion, has not been given enough attention in these columns. Let us have your whole-hearted co-operation.

We wish to please the faculty and the friends of Susquehanna, but as those groups are proportionately small, as compared with the students and alumni, we feel that these latter groups are the ones we are really working for. Essentially, then, this is a student and alumni publication. We have to print a great many things that the students already know, for the benefit of the Alumni. To make the paper readable, then, for the student body, it is necessary to clothe the various news articles in entertaining language and to put in a liberal portion of humor and, occasionally, a joke upon someone they know quite well—perhaps a faculty member—or—Arbans.

If we have hurt the feelings of anyone, we are sincere in our regret and we offer our apologies. But we feel that we have the right to all the privileges that we have assumed. If, to publish such an article, we make The Susquehanna a little more readable for the student body; if we make it more interesting for the Alumni; if it adds a little life to our news articles for those who are in no way connected with the school, and who do not know any of us; and if by our attempts at humor, we can call the attention of the object of the humor to something that everyone else already knows; then we will have accomplished something and we claim the privilege to publish such articles. We are not disrespectful. We wish to be helpful and incidentally—entertaining.

It is not the easiest job in the world to publish a paper such as The Susquehanna and keep it up to standards set in preceding years, nor is it the hardest. But surely it would be a great deal easier for us if we did have the co-operation of everyone connected with our school. You know that we welcome your articles. Why can't we have them? If you do not wish to write them yourself, give us your suggestions and we shall be glad to use them. Submit your articles in writing or else attend one of our weekly meetings and let us hear you there.

Within a few weeks a box will be placed in the entrance to the old Chapel Hall for your contributions. Until then give them to one of the staff.

THE "S" CLUB

There have been organizations on the campus of Susquehanna that have died natural, the very slow deaths. Others have ceased to exist thru the force of circumstance. Out of them have grown either directly or otherwise other organizations, which are proving themselves worthy of their origin.

However, the problem that confronts the student body today is: How may we keep alive those organizations which are most worthy of continuance?

At present there seems to be little if any interest or life left in the Varsity "S" Club. We cannot allow this body to be borne to the funeral pyre uselessness. When athletics no longer have a part in the life of S. U., then, and then only, should the "S" Club disband.

A body cannot function without a head, and the head is nothing without the co-ordinating members. The "S" Club is now without an executive and the members are unorganized. No one knows who has any authority to attempt a re-organization.

But until the next issue of The Susquehanna he shall be found and the work resumed. When the first call is sounded, be loyal wearers of the "S" and respond while-heartedly, that the spirit of the "S" may still be felt.

HOW ABOUT MORE PEP?

Nothing is more beneficial to the fighting spirit of any team than the knowledge of the fact that they are fighting for a wide awake cause. I am sure that our team cannot be confident of such a spirit should they judge from the student representation at the Pep meeting last Friday evening. Although the loyal students who did do their best to show their appreciation of the fine work done by the Fighting Crusaders so far this year, entered into the spirit of the meeting with good intentions; the demonstration of good wishes for success on the morrow would mean more to the team if four hundred would turn out instead of forty.

Coach Wingard suggested that we have our meetings when more can be present, preferably at the chapel period Friday morning. It is OUR team, it is OUR duty to instill in them a fighting spirit, and it is OUR loyal obligation to get everyone to the pep meetings. Let's improve our attendance at these Pep meetings.

Susquehanna has five more games on her schedule this year, and by this time some analysis should show how we stand for the remaining conflicts.

Our next week's rival, Juniata, did not play Saturday, so should be in fine shape for the Orange and Maroon warriors. Their record is not imposing, but they can be expected to put up a fine battle.

P. M. C. has been showing class thus far, winning most of their games, and Temple felt victim last week by a far from W. and J. 7-6, and altho the Lafayette met her only defeat thus far from W. and J. 7-6, and altho the Crusaders do not expect to win, it is interesting to know that the score will be lessened by the inability of Lafayette's star fullback to play on account of injuries, which forced him out of football for the season.

In Temple we will meet a worthy foe to consider, but the local boys should win.

On Turkey Day a game with Lebanon Valley is doubtful unless they take a slump, for the Annville boys have tied Dickinson and Villanova, who possess powerful defenses. Lebanon Valley can be beaten, so let's begin to talk it up and the boys will cause an upset in the dope.

Read the Susquehanna.

LEARNIN'S INFERNO

Time wuz wen you an' me wuz kids,
Wan of us 'ud go down to ther bridge
An' holler.
Then t'other one'd sneak out th' door,
And down the medders wite with hoar—
He'd foller.

Time wuz wen we'd fish all day,
Er swim in our creek's sluggish bay
"Till 'even."

Then catch our likin's, do our chores—
And say our prayers, an' lock th' doors Grin—gravin'!

Time wuz wen we'd climb the hills
An' foller creeks er little rills—Discoverin'.

At groun' hog holes we'd dig all day,
An' watch the clouds every way,
Untrilin'.

Time wuz wen we'd be campin' out—
Catchin' strings of the speckled trout
In June;
At nite we'd slug by the cabin door—
Singin' afore our throats got pore,
In time.

Time wuz, some nites we'd shut our eyes,
Lean back an' try ter solloquize
On life;
Wonder just why the moon wuz yaller,
Hopin' we'd never be some girl's feller—
Sweet strife!

Time wuz wen we knew much, old top.
But now we been touched wid the grim ole mop
Of learnin';
But wile we gasp in learnin's sea,
Those old haunts beckon you an' me—
A yearnin'.

THE BALLAD OF A FRESHMAN

Oh, sad is the life of a Freshman
Who enters a college today;
He has to take his knocks and bumps,
And in return has nothing to say.

He walks around with a dink on his head,
A big green card on his chest;
A target for many jokes and jibes,
The subject of many a jest.

He's the messenger for anyone in command,
He dare not act like a man;
He's not allowed to smoke outside
Like the rest of the little kids can.

He has to drape around his neck
A tie that's black, not blue;
He dare not tread upon the grass,
Like guys in jail may do.

He dare not talk to the other sex,
Nor sit with them on the grass;
He has to be a nice little boy,
He can't talk back or sass.

He has to go to all the games,
And yell as loud as he can.
He has to learn the college yells,
And cheer to beat the band.

He has to speak to everyone,
And tip his knick to teachers,
His life is ten times worse than that Suggested by the preachers.

And if he forgets and breaks the rules
Or thinks that they are off,
His mistakes are always corrected
By the ever-watchful Soph.

He'll get a notice from the council
That will make the other fellows howl:
"Please be in the gym at nine,
Bring a paddle and a towel."

Then he'll start to get homesick,
And fret and get mighty blue,
And think of home and mother and dad—
Of a girl back home that's true.

But thinking and writing don't seem to do

When a boy is far from home;
It's the sight and caress of his loved ones
That counts when he starts to roam.

It's long, oh, very, very long
To that sad and lonely boy;
And college life seems nothing

Night-Time Serenade Surely Was Wet

Songsters Ardour Was Considerably Dampened by Water Thrown by Bold Bad Man Baird and Fellow Villains

On a certain well-remembered night of the past week, the concert of the Susquehanna Sirens suffered an untimely interruption, which considerably dampened the spirits of the arduous serenaders and brought their program to a sudden close. One of their number here gives vent to his feelings:

Listen, fair co-eds, be sure that you heed; the fact that our concert did not proceed was due to a certain contemptible deed. 'Twas vile indeed.

Four villains that night to the dorm had repaired; the crew was commanded by bold Robert Baird. To see that our singing was somewhat impaired they were prepared.

Water descended like rain from the sky, impelled by the ar maid aimed by the eye of Sleight, called Freddy, but I might imply I called him—my! The deluge continued to make its descent, as Charley M. Shhaeffer with wicked intent contributed then to the joyous event. He was content.

The water still came, and did us much harm. For it came with the force of Haney's right arm. We fervently wished that our cause for alarm was back on the farm.

Forgive us our sins, girls, relieve us of debt, it wasn't our fault the thing was all wet. And when we dry off we'll finish it yet—that's what I bet.

MRS. AIKENS ENTERTAINS

In honor of the new lady teachers of the faculty of S. U. Mrs. Aikens entertained the women of the faculty and the wives of the Professors on Saturday afternoon in her home in College Avenue. The following were present: Mrs. T. C. Houtz, Mrs. F. P. Manhart, Mrs. J. L. Woodruff, Mrs. G. E. Fisher, Mrs. H. A. Allison, Mrs. D. B. Floyd, Mrs. E. M. Brunkart, Mrs. W. T. Horton, Mrs. Chas. A. Woodruff, Miss Dorothy Reeder, Miss Beatrice Herman, Miss Lily Sloan, Miss Mary Young, Miss Marie Waldburg, Miss Barbara Hillard, Miss Kate Sadtler.

REPORTORIAL STAFF—NOTE

The entire reportorial staff of The Susquehanna will meet hereafter every Tuesday at 12:45 p. m. in the lecture room of the Science Hall. This includes all Freshmen who have submitted applications to have their names placed upon the staff and all those who wish to make such an application. The list is open until December 5th. After that it will be closed and it will be impossible to have any additional names added.

The purpose of such a meeting is to hear suggestions for the following issue from all members of the staff. It is felt that such a step will result in a better paper for Susquehanna and that it will be representative of a greater number of students than it has been heretofore. It is necessary that every member of the staff be present at each of these meetings.

MY FIRST IMPRESSIONS OF THE LUTHERAN MISSION IN LIBERIA

A Letter From David D. Dagle, Class of 1925, Sem., Who is Now a Missionary in Africa

Dear Folks:

I find that I will not have time to write to you personally, at least not for some time, so will have to send this out to the States. The postage here has advanced to ten cents, making letter sending very expensive, for the first half ounce, and the news I have to tell is the same. Hope you won't mind.

A few lines about our trip on land and sea. We were a little sea-sick on both boats at times, but altogether we enjoyed the ocean. The Aquatania is a wonderful ship. All the convenience of a hotel. When under way cannot be stopped until it has traveled three miles, so no one jumped overboard. England is just like you read about it, nothing startling, though, Wembley is great. They are way behind America in everything. They do not have many high powered cars, because in one pound a horse power, making a Ford license nearly one hundred dollars. Paris was better, and we liked France a lot. A franc was way down and we could travel in a taxi almost anywhere for ten cents. There were four in the party, so it cost us two and a half cents a piece. The franc was five cents when we were there. French money is easier to understand than English. We are getting on to the shilling pretty well now. We stopped at the Canary Islands going down the coast at the city of Las Palmas, a Spanish city. We took a motor tour thru the principal part in a brand new Chendler. We saw an old Cathedral and the Casino, (a famous gambling house) and other interesting buildings; also our first banana trees. At Free-town, Sierra Leone we first set foot on African soil. They have railroads and motor cars there. The trip down the coast took thirteen days. We had no rough water and very little rain during the journey.

Monrovia is situated on a high hill overlooking the ocean. It is about half as big as Selingrove. They have electric lights at night until eleven o'clock. To date they have about 27 automobiles. There is one restaurant that sells ice cream and can buy manufactured ice there. You will have to guess what the government is like, because we dare not say anything about it. The country is developing S L O W - L Y. Everything goes slow here and if you were here you would go slow too. After going thru customs and fixing up our registrations, we took a motor boat for the main station, a distance of about 25 miles.

PEP MEETING

On Friday evening, the 23rd, a mass meeting was held in the Chapel Hall. At least, it was called a mass meeting, but no more than fifty were there. However, what we lacked in numbers, we made up for in spirit.

First, we sang Harry Williams' new marching song, until we had learned it fairly well. A few cheers for the team followed, and then Ramer and Derr, the cheer leaders of several years ago, led us in one. Beards told us of the confidence he had in his team of scrubs, and Coach Wingard, while making no predictions, said that he had the greatest bunch of fighters he had ever seen, at their weight. He added that, since it was impossible to have a large turnout on Friday night, it would be a good idea to have the mass meetings on Friday morning, during chapel, and that a petition for that purpose should be handed to the faculty. This petition is likely being circulated by now, so be sure your name is on it. The meeting was ended by singing the first verse and chorus of the Alma Mater.

The Rev. M. C. Drumm, pastor of the Middleburg Lutheran Church, recently preached a powerful sermon on the sensational subject "Why Girls Go Wrong," to a large and appreciative audience numbering over 500.

Rev. Mr. Drumm preached more than one hour and thirty minutes, bringing forth convincing truths from God's word and from the leaders of men.

Rally Day was observed in the same church. Almost 200 members were present and a total collection of $825, which completed the paying of the church debt.

But at last it comes, that happy day. When it's time to go home again; And it seems he's happier now Than ever before he's been.

At last, he's home, and oh, how glad he is to see them all; But once again his thoughts return And college starts to call.

Oh, sad is the life of a Freshman Who enters a college today. Whether it's college or home that's dearer to him, He never can just quite say.

But after all is said and done, And he's started in to roam; No matter how his college calls, His heart is with his home.

Why You Need This Guide

"It is safe to say that failure to guide and direct study is the weak point in the whole educational machine." Prof. G. M. Whipple, U. of Michigan.

"The successful men in college do not seem to be very happy. Most of them, especially the athletes are overworked." Prof. H. S. Canby, Yale.

"Misdirected labor, though honest and well intentioned may lead to naught. Among the most important things for the student to learn is how to study. Without knowledge of this his labor may be largely in vain." Prof. G. F. Swain, M. I. T.

"To students who have never learnt 'How to Study,' work is very often a chastisement, a flagellation, and an insuperable obstacle to contentment." Prof. A. Inglis, Harvard.

"HOW TO STUDY" will show you how to avoid all misdirected effort.

Dr. Surface Addressed Y. M. C. A. Last Week

Gave Inspiring Talk Upon Religion as It Should Apply to the Lives of Everyone of Us.

On Tuesday evening the Y. M. C. A. met in Clio Hall under the leadership of Jacob Kroen. Dr. Surface gave a straight from the shoulder talk to the young men present.

"My subject for this evening is Clean, Practical, Consistent Religion.
The words clean, practical and consistent are superfluous, because religion embraces all these; at least the Christian Religion of which I speak, does."

Do you realize that now there is more handitry, divorce actions and outlawing going on in the world than ever before. The greater part of this wickedness is due to unbelief in God.
And no one will do such deeds as are being committed around us, if he believes in retribution. If you believe in God you will naturally believe in retribution.

Christ's teachings were practical, for they can be applied to life today
just as to life in the centuries past.
The most important thing that a Christian can do is to live such a life that he needs no label. If I am a Christian I am known as such by my fellow men. It is not necessary for me to inform those of the fact by the wearing of a badge. Let your life, your actions toward God and men be the means by which men shall know you.

There is a grave danger in putting service to our brothers above service to God. True religion calls for close association with God the Father of all.

I do not mean that we should not love and look out for the welfare of our brothers. Far from that; but what I do say is that service to God should be paramount.

"Often we pray that we may be made clean and pure. If we made a chemical analysis of some of our organs of our bodies we would find them to be very unclean. And then we pray for a clean heart, when a clean heart in such an unclean body would be decidedly out of place.

"Our teachers and our students should be examples for others. Smoking is a very detestable and expensive habit. When you smoke you are burning up money. Any student who can afford to smoke should not receive Synodical aid. Smoking unmurders one and puts many people in a condition
so that he looks to find the wrong.
Your very ethics are drowned out of your system by the use of the weed.
Nicotine is deadly in its effects on the human organism.

"And there are other forms of living that are to be emphatically denied. A man cannot be truly righteous and neglect his daily duties. He cannot come to class and not have his lesson prepared nor can he skip his classes. Remember that though these be little things they make up the part of the individual. For one of the purposes of a College education is that,
one should learn to be on time."

SEIBERT HALL

Dear Pal:

It is in the very quietest of girls' dormitories that this letter is being written. Everyone who does not live too far has gone home for the weekend. Probably it is just as well though since nothing very interesting has occurred. Oh! Our Reserves did beat Yeagerstown, 2-0! The score of the big game was 6-6, so Saturday was a more eventful day than I at first thought.

You really would be surprised to see how well we are obeying rules. I know you marvel at that statement.
The secret is "Co-operative Government." One simply can't break one's own rules with any satisfaction. Of course, it is something new and has its attractions as such.

Among our visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Hull, from Bedford; Mr. J.
Andrews, from Williamsport, and Mr.
and Mrs. Welmer, from Somerset.
These people added to the pleasure of the weekend.

You must visit us soon and taste of life at S. U.

Co-operatively yours,
A Law-abiding Co-Ed.

Joy is the delight of the mind, from the consideration of the present or assured approaching possession of a good.

HALLOWEEN PARTY WELL ATTENDED; COSTUMES CLEVER AND ORIGINAL

Pumpkin Pie and Cider Were Consumed in Large Quantities at Party Held in Gym Last Thursday Evening. Good Time Had by All

A howling success is hardly enough to be said about the Hallowe'en party which was held Thursday night, October 24th, and which was sponsored by the Seniors.

Costumes of all kinds were worn. Representatives of all nationalities were present and people of all walks of life and of every strata of society were in evidence. Torreadors with red cloths to excite imaginary bulls; girls and fellows from the Bowery; Sailors, clowns, Ku Kluxers, and the big little children were all there and all had a good time. The costumes were clever and showed much preparation in the making. The revelry was hindered only by the fact that quite a few were not masked. This is unfortunate, but it has always been so and perhaps always shall.

About the only types not represented were the Bolsheviks, and the South Sea Islander. The high price of whiskeys was probably responsible for the first and the temperature out-of-doors may have had something to do with the latter. We had most of the rest—

Several of those who were not masked made dunces of themselves during the music by producing rhythm, contrary to that of the orchestra by the use of dumb bells and Indian clucks.

The evening of revelry was opened by a short program in which "Mart" Ertel, "Peg" Kelsner, "Red" Bard, and Smaltz did their stuff in a commendable manner. The readings, the music and the antics were all very much enjoyed by everyone. Rather than remove the element of guess work, we prefer not to disclose who it was who sang and read and went thru the antics. Gentle reader, you are allowed.

Soph Girls Take Off All But One Frosh Rule

Only Remaining Rule Forbids Dates Until After Thanksgiving. Girls Are Jubilant

If you would have been in Seibert Hall Thursday noon, you would have heard a loud A-N-N-A Sophomore.

The reason was that the Sophs had just taken the Freshmen girls' rules off, and they were showing their appreciation. Thursday afternoon a new set of girls went to their classes. With their curled locks, powdered noses and rouged cheeks, they looked quite different than they have looked the past weeks.

However, one rule remains until Thanksgiving, and that is "no dates." This is said, but true. Any Freshman girl that is seen in company with a member of the opposite sex will be dealt with according to Sophomore customs. The girls have been very good in keeping the rules and it is the belief of the Sophs that there will be no more trouble and no more courts will have to be held.

MASS MEETING HELD DURING CHAPEL

A peppy mass meeting was held Friday morning immediately after chapel. The meeting was opened with enthusiastic cheers for the team. Cheer Leader Landis then called on Dr. Fisher, Dr. Aikens and Professor Mowles for short talks. Dr. Fisher emphasized the importance of football in college life. He said "Football unites the students and fosters loyalty." Dr. Aikens after expressing his usual anxiety for the team, said Susquehanna should win. He also said that he would furnish the wood for a bon fire. Professor Mowles stated that our team was a credit to the institution and that we have every reason to be proud of it. The meeting was closed with roof-lifting cheers for the team.

three guesses. Send the right one in to Arbogast.

The part that the faculty members present enjoyed particularly, and the one after which they all left for their homes, followed. Pumpkin pie was served a la fingers in a delightfully informal manner. The saying that "fingers were made before spoons" was upheld enthusiastically by all, and the more careless of them could be seen wiping their ears after it was all over. The nearest Dionysis approached the scene was when the cider was brought in.

The floor was then cleaned and the party turned over to the orchestra, and everyone was left to amuse himself or others as he saw fit. The Charleston was much in evidence and the majority soon became busily engaged in pushing the boot about the floor. The orchestra was good and added materially to the success of the evening, although they did seem to have a peculiar fondness for "Hong Kong Dream Girl."

Several very useful prizes were awarded. A pumpkin pie went to Anne Geating and Bill Landis, who were

Rev. Beck Spoke to Y On Tuesday Evening

PRESENTED SUBJECT, "WHAT IS MAN?" IN A VERY FORCEFUL AND INTERESTING MANNER. SAID MAN'S VALUE DEPENDS UPON HIS USEFULNESS

On Tuesday evening the Y. M. C. A. met in Clio hall under the leadership of Wayne Daubenspeck, vice president of the organization. Rev. Beck spoke in a very interesting and forceful manner.

"My subject for this evening is 'What is Man?' Your leading aspirations and conduct will show to others whether you are a man or not. We should doubt any Christian who is not a man. The qualities that make up a man are desired everywhere.

"Each Age has asked what man is, and each has received a different answer. One Age says man is a victim. He is a victim of nature and is not responsible for the conditions around him. He is subject to all the ills of this life. He must fight disease; he must protect himself. But this answer is not true, for God has given him power and dominion over all the earth. Man can hold his head erect; he is a victim no more. All history tells us that man is not a victim.

"Another Age asks and receives the answer that man is a fighter. Go back into the dim and hoary past and you will find that from that day to this man has been struggling with the elements. Man is a fighter; man is a soldier. In the Middle Ages the knight was the man of the hour, at least the fair ladies of that time thought so. Someone has said that the nations of the world should train their children in the Art of War. Any nation that trains its young men for war, is raising fodder for the grim cannon. No man is not a fighter.

"And another Age says man is a master. There are gruesome periods of history when men were known by the number of slaves that they kept. They thought it was fine to be rulers and have slaves do their work. But these times are only known by their records today. Man cannot and will not be a master.

"Yet another period of history says that man is a saint, a recluse. Man is religious and should live like a hermit. In the Middle Ages man thought that he could serve God best by secluding himself.

Dr. G. E. Fisher Has An Unusual Record

WAS SUSQUEHANNA'S FIRST FOOTBALL COACH. HE HAS BEEN ON ATHLETIC BOARD EVER SINCE AND WAS ALSO CURATOR OF MUSEUM

Before the present academic year ends Dr. George E. Fisher will have completed twenty-nine years of active service as head of the Department of Natural Science at Susquehanna University.

Dr. Fisher was born at Kreamer, Pa., January 17, 1869. Having secured his early education in the district schools of Snyder county, he entered

DR. GEO. E. FISHER
Head of the Department of Natural Sciences

Missionary Institute (now Susquehanna University), graduating therefrom in 1888. The course of the institution extended only to the Sophomore year. After teaching one year, he entered the Junior class at Bucknell University, where he graduated with honors in 1891, having the degree of Bachelor of Philosophy conferred upon him. As a post-graduate of Illinois Wesleyan University, he secured the degree of Ph. D.

After graduation from Bucknell University, he was elected president of the Friends' Normal Institute at Rising Sun, Md., which position he filled very successfully for a period of one year. In the fall of 1892 he was called to the Department of Natural Sciences at Bucknell Academy, and taught the Freshman class in Chemistry at the University. While filling this position the call came to him, in 1896, to become the head of the Department of Natural Sciences at Susquehanna University. He accepted and with his characteristic determination and devotion he set to work to make his department a vital factor and potent force in the upbuilding of the institution.

Dr. Fisher had been Curator of the Museum of Susquehanna University from 1896 to 1920; has been president of the Society of Natural Science since it was organized in 1898. And for 21 years served as Superintendent of Trinity Lutheran Sunday school.

In athletics Dr. Fisher is one of Susquehanna's truest and most loyal supporters. As its first football coach, and as a member of the athletic board for 21 years he has always stood for clean sports and has helped in the determination of the present athletic policy of the school. In him the entire student body feels that they have a true friend, because of his loyalty to the school and his willingness to give to the student his best, and to have in return learned to love and respect him.

CHEMISTRY CLASS VISITS WATER PLANT

On Monday, October 26, the General Chemistry class visited the Seling Grove Water Plant. During the trip about the grounds and through the plant, Dr. George E. Fisher explained how the water was purified by means of filtration, chlorine, alum, and aeration, making it safe for public consumption.

SUSQUEHANNA BATTLES JUNIATA TO A SCORELESS TIE AT HUNTINGDON

Game Played on Field Covered With Mud and Water. Juniata Was All Set to Win Their Annual Home-Coming Day Battle

The Orange and Maroon gridmen played a 0-0 tie with their traditional rivals, Juniata, at Huntingdon, last Saturday. The Dunkard College was all set to send the Seling Grove eleven home with a defeat, in fact they had no game the previous week-end so as to be in perfect condition. Never the less they were unable to score and while they put up a game fight in the first half and had more first downs in that period than Coach Wingard's men, their second period rally came to naught and the final totals of yards gained gave the majority to S. U.

The Snyder county boys did not play their usual brand of football and it may be accounted for by the poor condition of the field, due to weather conditions. The speedy backfield men were unable to get going and for that reason long end runs were useless; so line bucks and forward passes were used to a great advantage. The Blue and Gold resorted to the passing game when other plays proved useless, but that was unsuccessful also, as none were completed. Once more the over-head game of the local team worked to perfection and quite a few passes were completed.

Captain Stempfle as usual ran the team in A-1 fashion and Bert Lantz shone out in the line, as he slipped thru the Juniata line with ease, making tackles before the plays got started. Bollig's kicking game boosted the ball for good yardage and easily outdistanced his opposing punter. Gimble, Gordon and Bollig each intercepted a Juniata pass. Only one substitution was made, when Auten went in for Sleight in the last quarter, and the mud horse did his stuff once more as he picked his holes for substantial gains.

Horton recovered a fumble when the Orange and Maroon were in the shadow of their own goal posts during the third quarter.

The weather conditions seem to be the local jinx, as the last two Saturdays have been ideal for anything but football. Next week Pennsylvania Military College is to be played at Chester and if the weather permits the Cadets will be given the battle of their life, as the local squad is waiting for an opportunity to show their stuff on a dry field.

The game, play by play, was as follows:

First Quarter

Bollig kicks for Susquehanna, after Stempfle won the toss. Livengood received the kick and returned twenty-five yards. West made three yards through left tackle. Schlosser went around left end for fifteen yards. Made first down. Bell is on the fifty yard line. Easton failed to gain through right tackle. Livengood punts to Stempfle on the twenty yard line. Sleight failed to gain through left

Soph Co-Eds Win First Interclass Hockey Game

Game Was the First of a Series of Three; Freshmen Started Well, But Lacked Endurance

On Wednesday, October 28 the Soph and Frosh girls played the first of a series of three games of hockey. An abundant amount of spirit was manifested and both teams show much skill and pep.

Cheered along by their loyal supporters, the Freshmen girls, during the first few minutes of the game, fought hard, and the greater part of play took place on the Frosh field, within dangerous distance of their goal. However, at the end of the first quarter neither team had scored.

When the whistle called the players to begin the second quarter the Sophs buckled down to the task, while the Frosh seemed to lack endurance and by degrees their resistance grew weaker, although they continued to keep up their spirit. When the final whistle blew the Sophs had been successful in making four goals, while the Frosh had been unable to score.

Both teams look forward anxiously to the remaining games. The Frosh feel confident that with more endurance on their part they will be able to give the Sophs a better fight, while the Sophs are sure that they can run up even a higher score.

The next game promises to be even more peppy than the first and we say, "May the best man win!"

The squads consist of the following: Sophomores—Mary Weimer (Capt.), Essex Botsford (mgr.), Marion Ryler, Naomi Fogle, Kathryn Kull, Elizabeth Fisher, Sara Stahl, Arlene Fisher, Eva Leiby, Mary Farling, Florence Trotter and Ruth Folkman; Freshmen—Ethel Weikert (capt.), Helen Dehoff (mgr.), Stauffer, Bradley, Leronas, Culp, Weaver, Pace, Watkins, Bollig, Foster, Burns, Slotterback, Ruhl, Long, Romberger, Auchmuty and Shultz.

Big Things Expected Here November 21st

ANNUAL FRESHMAN-SOPHOMORE GAME—AND TILT BETWEEN RESERVES AND HARTWICK SEMINARY WILL PRECEDE VARSITY GAME WITH TEMPLE

Of course we are back of all our school activities, but especially, our fine football teams! Saturday, November the twenty-first (the Saturday before Thanksgiving), will be an outstanding day in the history of football at Susquehanna.

We will start the day with no less important a game than the annual Freshman-Sophomore game at ten o'clock. Interclass spirit is strong and keen rivalry exists between the two teams, as they are quite evenly matched. So as to let the Reserves in the best of condition for their afternoon fray. Professor Mowles has ruled that only those who have not played with either the Reserves or the regular squad can play in this contest, which, judging from the appearances at the several practice sessions, will prove most interesting. Freshmen and Sophomores, get busy!

At one fifteen in the afternoon we are to be entertained by a fast game between the fighting Reserves and a team representing Hartwick Seminary. The scrubs are sure to do their best in such a tilt.

Susquehanna vs. Temple is the climax of the day. Considering the spirit manifest in the previous games we are sure to be entertained in a fitting manner. The Freshman-Sophomore game is sure to be attended by all those loyal to their classes. It is desired, of course, that everyone attend! The Reserve and Temple games are school games. Our school spirit should be strong enough to cause 100 per cent representation. Let's make this a record day for Susquehanna. Come out and yell for your class, help the Reserves beat Hartwick and watch the Varsity beat Temple.

THE FIRST SNOWFALL

Friday morning the people in and about Seling Grove, upon arising, found that the weather had undergone a complete change. Some time during the early morning hours the first snowflakes had been released. The snow continued to fall throughout the entire day, covering Mother Earth with a white robe.

CAN'T WE HAVE A BAND?

Of late, there have been many jokes passed concerning the College Band. But has any one ever seriously considered the fact that we have need of a real band? Not an exceptionally large one, certainly, but one big enough to be a real representation of the 430 students here. There may not be much talent in our school, but most assuredly, there is sufficient material to form a small group of those able to blow the Pandean pipes.

Our college may be small, but there are still smaller ones that possess hands. Take Bethany, for instance. It has only about 350 students, at least half a hundred less than we have. Nevertheless, it has a band of 55 pieces, that plays at every football game, and other important athletic events, travels with the team, and shows the kind of spirit behind the school. The institution itself furnishes the uniforms.

Perhaps we may not need such an elaborate organization, yet it furnishes us with an example of what another school has done. Susquehanna is not antiquated and useless, but a thriving and up-to-date college. Can we afford to be behind the rest? What will our alumni think of their Alma Mater if we sit idly by, and let others pass us? Come on, some one, are we waiting? Get the University Band going, and remove it from the realm of the imaginary. Make the band as intrinsic a part of the institution as roast beef and potatoes.

The Girls' School and Hospital are on one side of the St. Paul's River and the Boys' School is on the other side. The district is called Harrisburg. Around the schools are farms of rice, pineapples, bananas, coffee, sweet potatoes, corn, cassava, and other tropical fruits. The thick brush called the bush, is all cleared away from both schools. Each school has over 100 scholars, and many of the branches are taught by native teachers.

We are stationed at Sanoghie, five days' journey from the main station. We came here in hammocks. At night we stayed in native towns. The chief or head man would assign us houses and make the people who lived in them move out for the night. The houses were built of mud and sticks, the roof was made of palm leaves. They have no furniture, so we took along all our beds, chairs, etc. A day's journey was about 25 miles.

Sanoghie is on a high hill, almost a mountain. It is a large town for Africa, about 25 houses. Most of the villages have only eight or nine houses. Two or three houses are called a half-town. The mission is apart from the town and the girls' school is ten minutes walk from the boys' school. We are living temporarily at the Missionary's house at the Girls' School. It is a mud house with plank floors. There are five rooms and a large piazza. One of the school girls cooks for us. I bought a chicken yesterday for thirty

In an isolated region, almost inaccessible in winter, this 6500 h.p. hydro-electric plant located on the Deerfield River in New England, starts, protects, and stops itself.

A Self-Starting Power Plant

Dawn—the slumbering city awakens and calls for electric current. Many miles away the call is answered. A penstock opens automatically, releasing impounded waters; a water turbine goes to work, driving a generator; and electric current is soon flowing through wires over the many miles to the city. This plant starts and runs itself.

Power plants with automatic control are now installed on isolated mountain streams. Starting and stopping, generating to a set capacity, shutting down for hot bearings and windings, gauging available water supply, they run themselves with uncanny precision.

Thus another milestone has been reached in the generation of electric power. And with present-day achievements in power transmission, electricity generated anywhere may be applied everywhere.

The non-technical graduate need not know where electricity comes from—nor even how it works. But he should know what electricity can do for him no matter what vocation he selects.

The General Electric Company has developed generating and transmitting equipment step by step with the demand for electric power. Already electricity at 220,000 volts is transmitted over a distance of 270 miles. And G-E engineers, ever looking forward, are now experimenting with voltages exceeding a million.

A new series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request. Ask for booklet GEK-1.

Cents. Chickens are small and cheap here. Only work for the first six months is studying the language. We have not suffered from the heat yet. It is even cool at times. There is a fireplace in the living room and we have had fire several times. Lots of the people have colds and even pneumonia. The moon is wonderful, it sure beats America. You can read a newspaper when it is full. This will be a rich country when it is developed. The soil is very fertile, the trees big and straight, lots of minerals in the ground. Now the only people in the interior are natives and missionaries. Lots of the women and children run from us, have never seen white people. The paths are rough, the streams unbridged, and the forests grown up so that you must cut your way through with a cutlass.

Must close and catch the last mail for a month, I guess. Just received my first letter yesterday about two months since I left home.

Write and then I will put you on the mailing list again.

Judged the best dressed couple; Harold Ditzler was selected as the best dressed individual; Harry Haney as the most comical individual, and Blanche Stauffer and her room-mate as the most original couple. The booby prize went to Catherine Benner. She deserved a prize, for she surely looked the part of the Bowerly Maid, but it is the opinion of y editors that she should not have been given the booby prize. The prize she did receive was, however, as valuable as any of the others, so it does not matter a great deal. Upon being interviewed, Miss Benner stated that she would hardly use it for quite a few years. (Anyone wishing for details may write to her about it).

The party surely was a success and it is hoped that the Senior class shall promote it each year.

etc., etc., etc., etc., etc., etc.

Why You Need This Guide

"It is safe to say that failure to guide and direct study is the weak point in the whole educational machine." Prof. G. M. Whipple, U. of Michigan.

"The successful men in college do not seem to be very happy. Most of them, especially the athletes are overworked." Prof. H. S. Canby, Yale.

"Misdirected labor, though honest and well intentioned may lead to naught. Among the most important things for the student to learn is how to study. Without knowledge of this his labor may be largely in vain." Prof. G. F. Swain, M. I. T.

"To students who have never learnt 'How to Study,' work is very often a chastisement, a flagellation, and an insuperable obstacle to contentment." Prof. A. Inglis, Harvard.

"HOW TO STUDY" will show you how to avoid all misdirected effort.

Get a good start and make this year a highly successful one by sending for this hand-book and guide NOW.

Nearly three hundred honor men are included among the 635 applicants to the Freshman class at Princeton University. The students classed as honor men attained unusual scholastic records both in their preparatory schools and college entrance examinations.

Memorial field at Gettysburg was dedicated recently and marked a new era in the sports history of that college. Alumni day was celebrated by a formal opening of that $30,000 gridiron.

Erected at a cost of $125,000 and complete in its essentials, the new forestry building at the University of Toronto was built to house all the forestry faculty and all students enrolled in the course.

About 5,000 students with many university faculty men are in a sympathy strike with the students and faculty of the University of Paris Law School because of the closing of the law school and the suspension of Dr. Louis Barthelmy, its dean. A political appointment by the French government is the reason for this strike. Students claim government politics are entering the universities too strongly.

At Carnegie Institute of Technology, the civil engineers combine their vacation with the absorption of practical knowledge. Twenty-eight of them spent six weeks in a surveying camp at Davis, W. Va. They spent their time mapping the country and enjoying themselves generally. Even a camp cook was taken along to raise the morale of the outfit.

The University of Delaware began this year with the largest enrollment in its history, numbering 700 students. Of this number 275 are Freshmen.

Students at Cornell University who buy student enterprise tickets, receive a small white button with a red "C" on it to show that they are supporters of the University's activities. They are urged to wear these at all times.

REV. BECK SPOKE TO
Y. ON TUESDAY EVENING

ling himself from his fellowmen. But man is more than a saint, more than a hermit.

"The Age in which Socrates and Plato lived says that man is a thinker. Man is different from all the other animals of the earth, for man is a thinker. I wish that the men of today would only do more thinking. A college man should at least begin to think, and think straight. But the answer that man is a thinker is not fully satisfying.

"The Modern Age says that man is a money getter. The mass of the people say that man is a money hound. They say that men are thinking all the time of ways by which they can make more money. And the methods of getting money are not always scrupulous methods. Please remember that I do not mean that the idea of gain should not enter into the life of man, for a certain amount of this desire is necessary. But man is not a money getter.

"You will notice that the ages mentioned represented the six days of the week. Last of all we have the Sabbath Day and we ask, 'What is man?' Man is useful; man serves his brothers. The Master could think of nothing loftier than the washing His disciples' feet. Was this not service? It is said that he who serves the most is the greatest. All through the Saviour's life he was answering the question, 'What is man?' Christ was a fighter, but He never fought His fellowmen; He did fight the Devil. He was a master in that He held sway over the hearts of His children. He was a saint for He had a perfect character. He was a thinker for He was the truth personified. He had money, for He was rich beyond comparison.

"And then fight against evil and crime; be a master and control yourself. Be a saint, but with sympathy for your comrades; be a thinker and reign supreme in at least one field of knowledge. Lay up honestly treasures on earth but lay up greater treasures in heaven. Follow these principles and you follow the Master; follow the Master and you will have done well."

Student Council Made New Rulings

RESOLUTIONS PASSED REGARDING THE DESTRUCTION OF PROPERTY UPON THE CAMPUS. FINES ADDED AFTER FIRST OFFENSE

Whereas, owing to certain undesirable conditions which exist on the college campus, and in the college buildings, and

Whereas, there are no rules or regulations governing these conditions; therefore

Be It Resolved: That any student who accidentally breaks or damages college property shall be required to pay the cost of repairs.

Be It Further Resolved: That any student or students guilty of deliberately destroying or in any way damaging college property shall be liable to the following penalties and fines:

Sec. 1. For first offence he or they shall be required to pay the cost of repairs.

Sec. 2. For second offence he or they shall be required to pay the cost of repairs plus a fine of five dollars.

Sec. 3. For each succeeding offence an additional fine of five dollars shall be added to the total previous costs and fines.

Be It Further Resolved: That the money collected as fines be paid to the treasurer of the Student Council to be used for the interests of the University.

The preceding resolutions were moved and passed by the Men's Student Council in regular meeting November 2, 1925.

Cotter's Saturday Night To Be Played Monday

The Scottish Musical Comedy Company Has Made Quite a Hit Upon Its Tour About the Country

Proof that the American public prefers the wholesome, moral type of play to the unnatural lewd monstrosities which have been recently perpetrated in some of our leading theatres is evidence by the unprecedented enthusiasm which has greeted the Scottish Musical Comedy Company on its tours through the country.

This company of six, all pure blooded Scots, have appeared before many of the most select and critical of critical American audiences and before those which have looked for amusement alone, yet always the results have been the same.

The scene is laid in a peasant's cot in Scotland about 1790, the golden age of home-life. The simple pleasures of a Saturday night in the rugged highlands are glorified by the wonderful acting and singing of the cast. They make the famous poem of Bobby Burns live before your eyes until its import becomes something to be sought and cherished in this day when the bonds of home life seem often so lax.

There are the stirring songs of Scotland, which all have learned to love, the dry wit so characteristic of this hardy race, the inimitable game of chess in the chimney nook, the simple dances, the courting of the cotter's daughter, the reading from the family Bible, homely pleasures, but those which have constituted the foundation stones of the wonderful homes which in turn envolved the clans, which became the wonder of the world.

The Cotter's Saturday Night is unusual, decidedly worth while. It will be presented on November 16 as the second Star Course number.

BIOLOGY CLASS TAKES A FIELD EXCURSION

The first extended field excursion of the Plant Biology class was taken on Thursday morning during the regular laboratory periods. The trip was through town and out by Brooks Bank. The characteristics of trees and the enemies of trees was explained by Dr. Surface.

Two Debates Presented Last Thursday Night

Government Control of Railroads and Mines and Entrance Into League of Nations Discussed

If every loyal student of Susquehanna would just stop for a moment and consider what they are missing by failing to attend debating club, they would quickly reform. The art of public speaking is one of our greatest assets. Debating is the best means by which we can train this art into one of a flawless character.

The Debating Club meets every Thursday evening at seven o'clock.

Last Thursday evening two very interesting debates took place, one question was, Resolved: That the Government should control and operate the coal mines. The Affirmative side was upheld by Mr. Swartzwelder and Mr. Egolf, while the Negative was upheld by Mr. Roberts and Mr. Ocher. In the second debate the question was, Resolved: That the United States should enter the League of Nations. Affirmative, Mr. Swan and Mr. Lucas, Negative, Mr. Boyer and Mr. Geo. Young. Both debates were interesting through. In the former debate the judges decided in favor of the Affirmative side, while in the latter the Negative side won.

It is the duty of every true son and daughter of old S. U. to come to the debates and help make Susquehanna known on the intercollegiate rostrum.

Reserves Defeated Millersburg A. C.

SECOND TEAM BATTLED GAME MILLERSBURG TEAM UPON LOCAL FIELD AND WON BY A 7-0 SCORE. SCRUBS ARE SHOWING UP WELL

While the Varsity was holding the powerful P. M. C. team to a 7-0 score, the scrubs on the local field were handing Millersburg A. C. a drubbing by the same score, thus giving us an even break in the day's proceedings.

Some light can be gathered concerning the game in noting the visiting club could only gather five first downs, compared to the Reserves' thirteen. In the second quarter the locals marched down the field, only to have a pass intercepted within shadow of the goal post. The third quarter saw a placement kick blocked, and Millersburg recovered the ball, running it to the 35 yard line, where the Scrubs held for downs.

Marching directly up the field by straight football and to a penalty inflicted upon the visitors we came within scoring distance in the last quarter and Dunkelberger attempted a field goal, and by brilliant playing recovered the blocked ball and dashed it to the 8 yard line, from where Capt. Ulrich took it across. "Dunk" made the extra point.

The game was an exciting one to witness and the Scrubs deserve a lot of credit for the type of ball they have been putting up.

Let's have more turn out to their games, remember they are representing you.

RECEPTION OF NEW MEMBERS OF Y. W. C. A.

Many new members were welcomed into the Y. W. C. A. by the president with a most impressive and beautiful ceremony.

All the girls were dressed in white and carried a white candle. They formed a circle within one made by the older members. This signified the willingness of the older members to help and protect the new ones in their midst.

The meeting was made more impressive by a song, "Thanks be to God," by Margaret Keiser and by the president, who in her welcoming, made everyone feel a part of this religious organization.

Dr. Allison Has Made Many Improvements

HAS ARRANGED SCHEDULE BY GROUP LETTERS AND IS CHAIRMAN OF THE COMMITTEE ON ADMISSION AND CREDITS. THIS IS HIS 29TH YEAR

The subject of this sketch is the son of Samuel M. and Anna M. (Schwartz) Allison and was born near Gettysburg July 24, 1873. He graduated from Pennsylvania College, now Gettysburg College, with first honor and the degree of Bachelor of Arts, in 1894. He was admitted to the Master's degree in Arts by this college in 1897, taught mathematics and science in

DR. HERBERT A. ALLISON

Palatine College, since become Albright College, Myerstown, in 1894 and studied law in Gettysburg 1895-1896. He attended Cornell University in the summer of 1900 and was a graduate student, on leave of absence, in Boston University in 1909. He received the honorary degree of Doctor of Literature from Sarthage College in 1916.

August 15, 1900 he was married to Rosa May Wagner. They have three children, all graduates of Susquehanna and engaged in the work of teaching. Dorothy teaching Latin at Warren, Evelyn French at Hanover, and Samuel Science at Toika, Pa.

His connection with Susquehanna dates from his election as Professor of the Greek Language and Literature and of History in 1896.

He has been for several years the Director of the Summer School, which has grown to approximate in size the student body of the regular college year.

He was for a number of years on the Athletic Board and an ardent supporter of the Grossman policies for clean athletics so finely embodied in the motto: "Fair play, May the best man win," now adorning the gateway of the athletic field and which it is hoped and believed, will permanently remain the true expression of athletic spirit and ideals at Susquehanna.

He is Chairman of the Committee on Admissions and Credits, a position of increasing importance and duties with the rapid growth of the student body and for this reason has found it necessary recently to limit his activities as teacher to the field of History and Political Science. As Chairman of this important Committee he has, in cooperation with Dr. Houtz, organized the schedule by Group Letters and the system of admissions and records now so satisfactorily in operation in the College Department. He has also been zealous to maintain and safeguard worthy scholastic standards at Susquehanna by means of adequate absence regulations and limitations under which credits toward graduation may be obtained. In these fields of constructive effort he has performed distinct and lasting service for the institution. Dr. Allison is now in his 29th year of service for Susquehanna.

HIKE TO BROOK'S BANK

The upper class members of Bond and Key and their friends were guests of their Sophomore brothers on a hike and weiner roast to Brook's Bank last Thursday evening. Prof. Mowles added much to the pep of the evening.

S. U. HELD UNDEFEATED P. M. C. ELEVEN TO 7-0 SCORE SATURDAY

Little Crusaders Made a Creditable Showing Against Powerful Team That Beat Rutgers the Week Before

The cadets from Chester were given a surprise Saturday afternoon by the Orange and Maroon, and they scored their lone touchdown in the last episode of the game. While it was raining during most every other game in Pennsylvania, the Snyder county boys played on a dry field and during the first half of the game had the P. M. C. goal line in danger several times, but lacked the punch to put the pigskin across.

Captain Steumple and Bolig, as well as Seigle and Groce did good work in the backfield and P. M. C.'s much talked of aerial attack came to naught, as they only succeeded in completing two thruout the game.

Bolig got good average on his punts and only one was blocked. P. M. C. had their Captain Krieg and Averholt on the side lines with injuries, but their varsity backfield was in the entire game and couldn't seem to get together till the last quarter.

The fourth period had only three minutes to go when Magner of P. M. C. on a fake pass, made thirty yards to put them in position to score.

The score gives much credit to S. U., as the Chester lads defeated Rutgers last Saturday and have yet to taste defeat this season. Their line outweighed the Orange and Maroon 29 pounds to the man, but even at that the Selingrove lads got thru for substantial gains and several first downs. The lineup for the game was as follows:

P. M. C.	Susquehanna
Shaw	L. E. Means
Bauer	L. T. Cassel
Hummer	L. G. Lantz
Kooker	C. Gordon
Malinowski	R. G. Horton
Hoopes	R. T. Haney
Widdoes	R. E. Gimmie
McAfee	Q. B. Steumple
Bond	L. H. B. Seigle
Osborn	R. H. Bolig
Prostovich	Q. B. Groce
Touchdown—Magner. Goal—Prostovich. Substitutions—Magner for McAfee, Buono for Bond, Craig for Malinowski, D'Alola for Hoopes, Bauer for Hummer; Gorman for Smith, Daubenspeck for Gorman, Emil for Seigle, Martin for Emil, Auten for Bolig, Pratt for Groce, Roof for Means, Haney for Horton, Referee—Shaw, Old Wesleyan. Umpire—Evans, Ursinus. Head linesman—Winkard, Temple. Time of periods—15 minutes.

PITTSBURGH-S. U. BANQUET

Pest! Garcon, bring on the feed bag. The Pittsburgh-Susquehannians crave nourishment. And what they'll get at the Fort Pitt will sure make their collective mouth water. No word has been issued as to what room the banqueters will occupy. It may be the English room or the Gold room or the Oriental room or the front room or the spare room or what rooms have you.

But it isn't the food that matters. There are plenty of eating joints in Pittsburgh, or one could eat at home and maybe get just as good a dosage of victuals. And palatial surroundings are of no concern, because if we don't have them at home we can go to the movies. What matters is that there will be gathered friends from old S. U. with whom we can chat and express our friendship. What matters is the renewing of a commonlove and the strengthening of a common interest and the sharing of a common loyalty. For what we might well deem sparingly in a room lacking in ornamentation and have no entertaining speaker. We might eat beans in a bare barn, but if there is a communion of spirits loving, interested in, loyal to Susquehanna we have fulfilled the purpose of our association.

So we will gather on Friday, November 13th at the Fort Pitt hotel on 10th street, and food is served at 6:30 p. m. And we're keener about Keener radiating fresh university spirit.

Magnanimity, though it looks expensive for a short course, is always economy in the long run.

Life is too short. Death seizes us while we are still full of our miseries and our good intentions.

HAVE YOU NOTICED THEM?

It may be of interest to the alumni and friends of the college, to know that we have them at Susquehanna too. Whether it is through the scarcity of soap and water or through the lack of proper shaving equipment we can not tell. However, during the last several weeks they have made their appearance on the campus. We refer to those things that are sometimes called "misplaced eyebrows," but are supposed to be attempts at mustaches.

Many of them are yet in the primitive state, but with a little care and coaxing we can assure all those interested that at some time the use of a magnifying glass will not be necessary. We will inform everyone of all future developments on the subject. We might, as cold weather is approaching, warn those persons who possess the stone to take precautions lest their trusts should freeze.

WHO LACKS SCHOOL SPIRIT?

Who lacks school spirit now? Is it the Freshmen or upperclassmen? For the past few weeks we have seen articles in The Susquehanna concerning the lack of spirit and pep by the Freshman class. The Freshmen are coming aroused by these hints and slams started in and buckled to do something, in fact they woke up. We hope that it has been noticed that during the past few weeks, no matter what was to be done the Freshmen were there in large numbers to help do it. They are prepared at all times to do their best.

If we look back to the Drexel victory celebration, we will see that with out the Freshmen the whole affair would have been much less interesting. It was the Fresh that put much of the pep into it; they had a large float in "the parade; they gathered the wood that made the huge bon fire possible, and they were the ones who put volume in the cheering. Don't they deserve credit for this?

Who neglected the Mass Meetings on Friday nights? It surely wasn't the Freshmen, because they are not allowed to go out with girls on this night anyhow, and the Freshmen coeds have their rules too. It wasn't the Freshmen! What was it?

Where was good spirit shown when the Freshmen almost begged some of the upperclassmen to coach them in football, so that they would be able to meet the Sophs on November twenty-first for the annual Class Scrap? Many of the upperclassmen, who have any knowledge of football coaching whatsoever were asked, but all, excepting one, were able to find some petty excuse for not doing it. Is this the way to treat our Fresh?

The Freshmen wish to thank the members of the Faculty for the support which they have given the Class and also the few upperclassmen who have helped and lifted them over the rough stretches thus far by their ever-welcome advice.

Now that the Freshmen have the true school spirit, we hope and know that the upperclassmen will more forcibly display theirs and that all will work together for the glory and honor of our dear old beloved S. U.

THE OBJECTIVE VS. THE SUBJECTIVE EXAMINATION

Why is there so much discussion about the final examination? Will the final examination ever be disposed of? Does it have limitations? Are the many points of view well taken? Finally, is there a way out? It will be impossible to answer the above questions adequately in a small space; however, it is necessary for teachers, prospective teachers, and students as well, to have an open mind with respect to the matter and to accept only factors that are well proven.

The final examination, perhaps, may never be disposed of. It is the capstone of a course, an agency of education which is indispensable. Tests from time to time during the term are valuable for certain purposes, but only so far as they, too, possess the elements found in a good final examination. The function of an examination as a test of the pupil's knowledge is not of paramount importance, but its function as an organizing agency of knowledge is alleged to be supreme. The virtue lies in the power to force strenuous mental effort to the task of organizing into a coherent whole a large body of facts and principles. Questions should be formed with that goal ahead. Preparation for an examination is the burning point of attention. Whether that type of attention is best is another question and not related directly here to our problem, the examination.

When one once analyzes the situation, the trouble found is not with the examination as such, but with the type and the method traditionally used in scoring or rating pupils. It is impossible to rate a class of thirty pupils from an essay examination and assume that this rating is nearly correct, no matter how much experience or knowledge teachers may have of their subjects. If such a rating were correct, a teacher grading a set of papers should give the same ranking two or six months hence. Papers graded by teachers have been submitted to them after a considerable lapse of time for re-grading, and it was found they did not grade them alike. In fact two gradings by a teacher were found to be as far apart as the gradings of several teachers for the same paper. Is it any wonder a student asks an instructor to look over a paper for the second time? Now, assume the rating was a justifiable one, then two teachers in the same subject should give identical ratings. But the statement is made that teachers teach in different manners, different material is stressed, the ability of the classes vary, all of which is true. Is the subject of plane geometry so variable? One would think not. At the University high school, connected with the University of Chicago, a freshman reproduction was made of an actual examination paper in plane geometry and submitted to many geometry teachers for correction. The distribution of marks ranged from 28 to 92.

Two were above 90. Twenty between 80 and 60, and twenty below 60. Such marks can represent only very crude geometry stands near the top when and very inaccurate measures. Plane comparing it with other subjects with reference to the accuracy in rating.

A high degree of reliability should be found in measuring. That is, two people measuring the same thing should not differ a great deal. If they do, we doubt the accuracy of both measures.

One solution to this problem is that we must do such work on an objective rather than a subjective basis. What a great influence personal contact with certain students plays in final rating! Consider legibility, flowery language, length, antagonisms, and all other tangible influences. Is this only peculiar to some? Not by any means.

All are influenced to some degree, no matter how hard we strive to escape such influences.

In the past the question has been: "Is it possible to measure any educational achievement objectively?" Now the question is: "Is there any educational achievement which cannot be measured objectively?"

Examinations are being given and will continue to be given. The aim should be to make them worthwhile, justifiable, and reliable. Only in so far as the results are measured objectively can this be done. When results are once measured objectively it will be possible to grade each paper, giving it a numerical rating which can be compared with the remainder of the class. We may say it does the following: I. Permits one value to be given to all questions by different teachers. II. Will test a broader field in a shorter time. III. Eliminate voluminous writing. IV. Points that have been poorly taught will reveal themselves. V. In the end, gradings and rankings may be used for reliable comparisons in the same subject with other teachers. In other words, the difference between an objective examination and a subjective examination involves several points. A subjective examination can be thought of as the traditional essay type. An objective examination will be well explained and examples given in a few paragraphs. Notice, however, the difference lies in the structure, the method of scoring, and the technique of transposing into grades.

It is necessary at this point to say a few words concerning the make up of an objective examination, and the various kinds of objective examinations now being used successfully. After that a few words will be given to the grading and distribution.

For the sake of clearness, first, the name of the examination will be given, then a sample question under each. The arrangement will be in the order of popularity today.

I. True — false. Place a plus sign before the statement if true and a minus sign if false: Water is made up of one part oxygen to two parts of hydrogen.

II. Sentence Completion. Write one word in each blank that gives the truest meaning: On November 11 the ——— the Armistice of the ——— was signed.

III. Truest Statement. Underline the correct answer: Frederick the Great died in the year 1500, 1786, 1492, 1312.

IV. Same Class. Cross out the one word that does not belong in the same class with the other three words: Grant, Lee, Canuso, Pershing.

V. Disarranged Sentences. Arrange the following words in the proper order: subject science of is the chemistry a.

VI. Best Reasons. The pupil indicates the best answer to a question: A square is a parallelogram because: (a) it has four sides, (b) all of the angles are of the same size, (c) the opposite sides are parallel.

VII. Analogies. Underline the best of the four words in parenthesis: foot: yard: centimeter: (millimeter, gram, meter, inch).

VIII. Opposites. Underline the word in parenthesis which is the opposite of the first word: accept—(receive, percept, deny, reject, spend).

Each of the examples given has certain limitations, as all virtues cannot be found in any one. Not all can be used conveniently for every subject nor is it advisable to use more than three varieties in the same examination.

The element of time must be fought within the construction of such an examination. It perhaps requires three or more times longer than a list of essay questions. It cannot be done by juggling down a few ideas haphazardly. The ideal way would be, in time to build up a long list of questions in a department or subject, and to choose twenty or thirty questions from the available list. Even though it requires thought and time to construct an objective examination this is regained in the scoring of the papers afterward.

The scoring is a simple matter once the technique is mastered. In fact such can be done by the pupils, or in the office if there is office help available. The scoring will still be as reliable as though it were done by the

Instructor since the formation of questions used in this test permits only one answer.

The questions in an objective examination are not marked on the basis of a hundred. The number of questions, or the weighted value given the various ones will set the total value in points in any examination. For example, in a True-false test the score will be the number of questions answered correctly minus the number wrong. That method of scoring inflates the value of guessing. In a Completion test one credit is usually given for each vacant blank in the statement. Therefore the value of the example given under number 11 would be three points, in which case the value in points will be governed by the number of questions asked. Likewise one could examine all the other types given and show how the same factors apply. The advantages, disadvantages, and the scoring of the various types are subjects in themselves, in which case too much criticism should not be given until the methods are thoroughly understood.

Think of an imaginary distribution, ranging from ten points to thirty-two, with a large grouping around nineteen, and a small grouping around fifteen and twenty-fours; all, however, falling close to the normal curve of distribution. The matter of transposing such scores into grades of I, II, III, etc., or A, B, C, etc., is very simple, as the teacher governs the distribution desired when sending marks to the office. All that need be kept in mind is that those pupils receiving around thirty-two points, receive the highest grades while those around ten, the lowest, and that the middle grade given should be to those scoring around nineteen. The matter of how many I's or II's to give is left entirely with the teacher, although today it is rather universally accepted that a distribution made on the basis of the normal curve is the best.

It is now possible to show some connection and value in the various points:

1. An objective examination gives all pupils an equal chance, as it eliminates those who may have special aptitudes for not hitting the nail on the head.

2. Scoring and finally a distribution may be made without any personal influence of the teacher. That, after all, is the high water mark of the entire situation.

The aim in this article has been, to set before the ones interested with a few of the possibilities are with respect to the objective examination or test. A thorough, inclusive discussion was not given, but if some thought on the matter has been stimulated, it will have performed its aim.—C. H. Smeltzer, professor Psychology, Temple University.

Work on the new fountain, which is to ornament the front of Steele Hall, was begun on Wednesday afternoon. This addition to our campus is to be a fountain about twenty feet in diameter, filled with running water, and inhabited by gold fish. Some have also made suggestions that it may be inhabited temporarily by next year's Freshmen. Anyhow, the present Freshmen labored as if in preparation for such a happening, and were ably assisted by a feminine member of the class.

SEIBERT HALL

Dear Joan:

The close of this week-end brings us just a little closer to Thanksgiving, which pleases a lot. It has been quite an eventful one, too. On Friday, as usual, many girls started for home or to visit friends. Besides the five-day students, a number of others were absent from the Dorm.

Betty Kassander, Vesta Steininger and Helen Auchmuty went to Lewis-town, Isabel Slatterbach, to her home, and Arlene Hoyt to Nescopeck, Helen Velnest, Betty Kemel and Thelma Taylor spent the week-end in Mt. Carmel. Myrtle Ruhl went to Millmont, Martha Persing to Allenwood, Dorothy Goff to Lewisburg, Zelta Haus to Milton, and Georgienne Fickes to Newport.

On Friday Barbara DeRemer, Marion Eyster and Eleanor Birk went to Harrisburg to attend a conference on the World Court. Miss Hillard spent the week-end at her home at Harrisburg. Mrs. Crawford went to Williamsport. Several of our co-eds helped to entertain and were entertained at the Country Club. On Saturday a number of loyal co-eds went to the game at Juniata with Paul Hauke as official.

Among our visitors were Mrs. Edgar Bantley and son Victor from Johnstown; Mr. and Mrs. Dehoff and Mrs. Bradley, from Braddock and Eleanor Honey from Honesdale, who is visiting Inez Rutledge.

I hope I have succeeded in giving you a complete account of the week-end.

With love,
Betty.

GAME LEHIGH QUARTERBACK DIED AFTER INJURY IN GAME

Sorrow reigns in football circles today, because of the death of Charles Prior, the Lehigh quarterback, whose neck was broken in the game with West Virginia Wesleyan on October 18.

Since the accident Prior had been lingering between life and death, but putting up a game fight for life. The long period of his illness is a tribute to the life the athlete had led up to the time of his accident.

In Prior, football loses a star of greatest brilliance, and one who was truly a credit to the sport. He was a truly worthy exponent of American athletics and we are sure that our entire student body joins with the Susquehanna in extending their heartfelt sympathy to his family and his schoolmates.

EXCHANGE

The stadium at the University of Indiana will be formally dedicated November 21, when the Hoosiers meet Purdue University. Stadium dedications in every part of the country were visited last year in order to get good ideas for the ceremony.

Franklin and Marshall College has equipped its band of twenty-five members with military uniforms and capes of heavy blue serge with light blue cuffs and white stripes and trimmings.

BOXING RENEWED AT SUSQUEHANNA

Lee Vorlage, manager of Kid Roberts, paperweight champion of the school, announces that the Kid will meet Young Riccardo, of Newark, the pride of the Freshman class, in a six round go to a decision.

The bout will take place at 7:45 on Wednesday evening in the Gym. Paty Gimnie, former amateur lightweight champion of New York, will referee. The judges will be Messrs. Darick, Sutton and Williams, well known lovers of the fistie art. The honesty of these men is known and a fair decision is assured.

The defending champion will be handled by his manager, assisted by Mr. K. X. Cassel who is universally respected because of his athletic ability. Riccardo will be seconded by his manager, "Happy" Shuntill and Joseph Dubovecky, tennis satellite.

The Kid needs no recommendation, as his boxing ability is known. The challenger brings with him an excellent reputation, and an unusually entertaining exhibition is assured.

Deferee—Jenkins, W. Va.; umpire—Peifer, Lebanon Valley; head linesman—Hutchinson, Bloomsburg.

etc., etc., etc., etc., etc., etc., etc.

Why You Need This Guide
"It is safe to say that failure to guide, and direct study is the weak point in the whole educational machine," Prof. G. M. Whipple, U. of Michigan.

"The successful men in college do not seem to be very happy. Most of them, especially the athletes are overworked," Prof. H. S. Canby, Yale.

"Misdirected labor, though honest and well intentioned may lead to naught. Among the most important things for the student to learn is how to study. Without knowledge of this his labor may be largely in vain," Prof. G. F. Swain, M. I. T.

"To students who have never learnt 'How to Study,' work is very often a chastisement, a flaccidation, and an insuperable obstacle to contentment," Prof. A. Inglis, Harvard.

"HOW TO STUDY" will show you how to avoid all misdirected effort.

Get a good start and make this year a highly successful one by sending for this hand-book and guide NOW.

Up in the Chamber of Commerce Building in Atlanta, on the very top floor of that edifice, is an office where much information is always on tap concerning flour. In that same office, in direct charge of the Southeastern district of the United States, is a man whose name is known to every baseball fan in the country.

The office is that of the Larabee
Flour Mills Corporation, whose headquarters are in Kansas City, Mo., and the gentleman referred to is none other than Dick Kauffman, an alumnus of Susquehanna, formerly star first baseman and for a time manager of the Crackers, the Atlanta baseball club of the Southern League, but now in charge of the local Larabee office.

Mr. Kauffman has made just as fine a showing in the flour business as he did on the baseball diamond and more could hardly be said. Just at the present time he is plowing with considerable pride to the fact that the Larabee product is among those used in the preparation of Stone's Southern bread and cake and is joining with others in congratulating Atlanta on having acquired so splendid a plant as the one to be formally dedicated next week.

SEIBERT HALL

Dear Joan:

The Thanksgiving holiday spirit is already much in evidence and everyone is too busy thinking of that to permit much fun at the present. This week-end has been very quiet, more so than any other that I have spent in the Dorm.

As usual many of the girls have gone home, and even visitors have been unusually scarce. The mother of Margaret Schmiermund from Johnstown, was the only one here.

The football scores for this weekend made us feel a little happier. The showing of our varsity against P. M. C.'s undefeated team was very good.
Besides that, our reserves beat Millerville A. C. 7-0. News is very scarce at present.

With love,
Peg.

Slinky Awakes from Trance and Recites

Keener's Public Sleeping Class and Mumbles Thus:

Romeo was very wrath for there lay dead his Juliet. He dyed his eye with a piece of cloth and broke his

to her spouse, "Here Slinky Rhoades, take up this sword and kill that knave McDuff before the woodpile comes to Shylock with his knife advanced but Portia said, "Wretch take your seat."

Can not you wait until this dance is

King Lear played and won four

Mark Antony paddled his own canoe

He winked and said, "Me for you."
And she fell like a bale of hay.
"And you too Brutus," Caesar cried

Cotter's Saturday Night a Big Hit

SCOTTISH MUSICAL COMPANY PRESENTED PLAY IN AN EXTREMELY INTERESTING MANNER. A LARGE AUDIENCE ENJOYED IT GREATLY

One of the most beautiful of Robert Burns' poems was presented here last night, in form of a musical comedy, by the Scottish Musical Comedy Co. It is one of the best presentations of its kind to be given in this country. It has been given four times in the city of Washington, D. C., and has greatly impressed the people there, appearing once at the White House at the request of President and Mrs. Coolidge.

The sketch follows the suggestion of the poem. Perhaps the poet may have taken the picture from his home. This picture is applicable, however, to many a peasant cottage in the lowlands of Scotland. The scene is in the kitchen of the Cotter's home. The time Saturday night. The elder bairns out at work were accustomed to return home each Saturday night to spend the evening with the old folks. Mayhap a neighbor would come in and the time be spent with song and story and homely pleasure.

During the sketch the following songs were sung: "John Anderson, My Jo," "Laddie," "Hurrah for the Highlands," "Ye Banks and Braes," "Scots Wha Hae," "Duncan Gray," "Loch Lomond," "Annie Laurie," "Bonnie Wee Thing," "The Auld Hoose," "The Lord's My Shepherd," "Auld Lang Syne."

The voice of each one was of a most beautiful quality. The solos and ensemble numbers were charmingly sung. From start to finish this sketch was filled with mirth and we were given a beautiful glimpse of the Cotter's home life. And from this picture we know that one of the cleanest and most beautiful pictures of home life is found in the simplicity of a Cotter's home.

The characters were as follows: Margaret Anderson, the cotter's wife, Edith MacGregor; Jeannie, the daughter, Mary Mack; John Anderson, the cotter, Edward McHugh; Robert Douglas, the laird's son, Lorne McAdam; Jamie, the cotter's son, John E. Daniels, Jr.; Tammas Cuthbertson, a neighbor, William Wilson. Florence Reed at the piano.

3 Football Games This Week-End

ANNUAL FRESHMAN-SOPHOMORE TILT, RESERVES GAME WITH HARTWICK SEMINARY AND VARSITY BATTLE WITH TEMPLE SHOULD DRAW MANY TO S. U.

The Freshman and Sophomore football teams will line up for the opening kick-off of their annual tilt on Friday at 3:15. Custom has established this yearly encounter and great interest surrounds its outcome, especially on the part of the Sophs and Freshies. Diligently have the Freshmen been practicing and the look in their eyes demands victory. The practice of the Sophomores too has been marked by that same stern attitude. A great game is surely to result from this feeling.

In addition, other battles are scheduled for this week-end. On Saturday the Reserves will have it out with Hartwick Seminary at 1:15, and the Varsity will meet Temple at 2:30. All three games give promise of lively encounters, and it is expected that the entire student body will be out to give their support to the teams.

What an unspeakable happiness would it be to a man engaged in the pursuit of knowledge, if he had but a power of stamping his best sentiments upon his memory in indelible characters!

Bond & Key Club to Banquet F. B. Squad

MAKING PLANS FOR BIG FEED TO TAKE PLACE SHORTLY AFTER THE SEASON IS OVER. THE BOYS ARE ALREADY SAVING UP SPACE

As has been the custom for the past few years, Susquehanna's worthy football team will be tendered a banquet. For the last two years the Phi Mu Delta has shown this courtesy, but this year the team will be entertained by the Bond and Key.

The date has been set for Friday, December 4. It is hoped that the men will be quite recovered from the ill effects of their respective Thanksgiving dinners by that time.

The entire Varsity squad, consisting of about twenty-three men, the coach, the manager, the assistant managers, cheer leaders, and last, but not least, Uncle Frank, will all be the guests of the Bond and Key on this great occasion.

It is rumored that there will be a great filling, both physical and mental, the duty of filling the men being assigned both to the cooks and to the competent men who will be chosen to speak.

Miss Markley Addressed Susquehanna Y. W. C. A.

Student Secretary of the United Lutheran Church of America Here to Meet the New Girls

At the meeting of the Y. W. C. A. last Tuesday it was decided to send delegates to State College, where Dr. Bruce Curri is giving a series of lectures.

The chief speaker of the evening was Miss Mary Markley, student secretary of the United Lutheran Church.

Each time Miss Markley visits at Susquehanna she has something new to offer. This evening she directed the thought of her audience to the college campus itself as the charmed circle or Garden of Eden. College boys and girls are the best fed, best clothed, and best equipped people in the country. They are the objects of envy to those who do not have the same privileges. Compare our University life with the European college life. Are we not then living in a garden of Eden? That our lot be compared with that of Eve?

The fact that we always want something may be compared to the desire of Eve for reality. Just what is reality? It is the experience of something with ones own spirit that leaves a scar upon one's spirit. A good illustration would be a death upon a campus upon which live about four hundred students. Is college life a reality for you? How many fundamental facts are you witnessing or experiencing? If life is not a reality, are you deliberately closing your eyes to it? Some college students hear their parents or friends remark when they go home, "Mary doesn't seem to fit into her home since she has gone to college." If you have found reality, remarks like those could not have been said about you.

The next thing Eve sighed for was work. How many students really work. One finds activity at a college most generally. The work is done by the fathers and mothers. The ones who work at college are those who have no money to send them thru and those who have no one to encourage them in their work.

The third thing Eve wanted was wisdom. Curiosity is the motive power that drives us toward wisdom. Curiosity can be along most any time. Just now it is mostly along the emotional lines. Everyone is hunting something to produce excitement or to give them a thrill. A few have curiosity along intellectual lines, but hardly any along the spiritual. Can not the college student change this so as to bring the spiritual and intellectual before the emotional? Why not try?

Dr. Manhart Beloved Lutheran Church And Respected by All Was Consecrated

ONE OF SUSQUEHANNA'S GREAT-EST, WHO HAS LIVED A LIFE OF SERVICE, AND WHO WAS INFLUENTIAL IN UNITING THE LUTHERAN CHURCH

One who has been associated with Susquehanna University for a considerable length of time, not only as a member of the faculty, but also as one of the students in the early days of the institution, is Dr. Franklin P. Manhart, Dean of the School of Theology.

Dr. Manhart's birthplace is not far

DR. FRANKLIN P. MANHART
Dean of School of Theology, Professor of Church History and Systematic Theology

from Selingrove, as he was born in Columbia county in the little town of Catawissa on the North Branch of the Susquehanna River, August 30, 1852. His parents were George and Elizabeth (Hates) Manhart. It is probable that at many times during his younger life he played on the banks of the Susquehanna, perhaps throwing stones into the waters which flow by the University that has taken its name from this mighty river. As he produced an effect upon the waters of this river in his earlier years, so now he has produced a profound influence upon many young persons as they have departed from the halls of Susquehanna University.

IMPRESSIVE CONSECRATORY SERVICES WERE CONCLUDED AT BLOOMSBURG ON SUNDAY, NOV. 8th. P. M. LINEBAUGH WAS ELECTED ORGANIST

On Sunday, November 8, the Dedication Week of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church of Bloomsburg, came to an end. During the week, on each night special services were held, in which Dr. F. P. Manhart, Prof. P. M. Linebaugh, of the S. U. faculty; Dr. Birch, of Wittenberg, and formerly of Susquehanna, and Dr. John Wagner, president of Susquehanna Synod, all played important parts.

The new church was erected at a cost of $200,000 and besides the church proper, contains a fully equipped entertainment room, and an excellent gymnasium. There are separate rooms for primary, beginners, junior and intermediate classes, and a large Sunday school auditorium for adults.

Altogether the new edifice is a remarkable achievement of architectural ability, and a worthy monument to the efforts of the former generations of Lutherans of Bloomsburg. It is the culmination of over a century's growth and as such, it is a memorial of which every Lutheran can be justly proud.

Ricardo Wins Decision In Three Round Bout

Challenger Outpoints Champion Kid Roberts in Three Fast Rounds; 8 Other Bout to be Promoted

Last Wednesday evening in the world-renowned Susquehanna arena was started a thing which, many hope, will become a regular event at old S. U.—a boxing match.

The pugilists who so gloriously started the ball rolling were "Kid" Roberts, former paperweight champion of the school, and "Battling" Ricardo of Newark, New Jersey, pride of the Freshman class. Ah, indeed it was a great event!

What a crowd! What enthusiasm! What renowned officials! The Messrs. Rarick, Sutton, and Williams, well known in the sporting world as well as in other worlds, acted very fairly and efficiently as judges. Mr. "Patsy" Gimmie, himself a boxer of renown, held down the job of referee, while Mr. K. X. Cassel and Mrs. "Joe" Dubovechey ruined themselves keeping a towel waving in front of their respective charges. To add to the enjoyment of the occasion, many fair co-eds arrived and shyly retired to the gallery, from whence, thereafter came many soul-stirring cheers for "The Boxers."

The fighters were a trifle late. "Kid" Roberts was reported to be sleeping soundly in his room, his nerves of steel not in the least distressed over what was to come. "Battling" Ricardo was said to be deeply engrossed in a pink-tinted and slightly perfumed letter, which was (perhaps) from his parents.

When the fighters finally appeared great applause greeted them. The champion appeared to have slightly the better of the betting. Referee Gimmie then with great eloquence introduced the champion and the challenger. At this time Mr. K. X. Cassel, heavyweight champion of Harrisburg, until felled by a fair damsel of unknown strength, challenged the winner to a one round no decision bout, winner take all.

Just before the fight Messrs. Stumpf and Sleight were seen. They had evidently left their household duties in the care of the efficient Mr. Dreihelbise, before coming to witness the great event.

Round 1.

Rick opens with right to Roberts head. Clinch. Rick rocks champ coming out of the clinch. The Kid lands a hard blow to head. They slug one another. Bell. Rick's round.

Lafayette Gains 47-0 Victory Over S. U.

CRUSADERS FIGHT GAMESLY AND MAKE THE MAROON ELEVEN WORK FOR EVERY POINT THAT THEY GOT. COACH WINGARD SUBSTITUTED AT WILL

The Little Crusaders journeyed to Easton last Saturday and held Lafayette College to a 47-0 score. The Eastonians are considered the best team in Pennsylvania from the fact that they trounced Pitt early in the season and the University of Pennsylvania was set back last Saturday by Pitt. The score does not indicate a walk away for Lafayette, as they were forced to work hard for every touchdown they made, save one in the last quarter when a Maroon back intercepted a forward pass. The opponents scored twice in the first quarter and once in the second and the greater percentage of ground gained was made by Kirkleski, a Maroon halfback in line for all-American honors this year.

Coach Wingard substituted at will through the contest and almost every Orange and Maroon player got into the game. The Eastonians outweighed S. U. about twenty pounds to the man, but Groce and Stumpfle made repeated gains thru their heavy line. Bolig's kicking was up to par and only one punt was blocked. The only casualty of the game was a twisted knee sustained by Bert Lantz, but he is expected to be in shape for next week's game with Temple on the home field.

The trip to Easton completed the local schedule away from home and a total of 2,000 miles have been covered this fall by Captain Stumpfle's men. Next Saturday the strong Temple team will be played on the local field and from the record made by the Philadelphia aggregation the game will be one of the hardest in our class.

The line-up of the Lafayette game was as follows:

Susquehanna	Lafayette
Mearns	Potts
Flaney	Brieg
Cassel	Eitel
Gordon	Pershing
Horton	Borger
Lantz	Higberger
Gimmie	McCoy
Stumpfle	Marsh
Sleight	Kirkleski
Bolig	McGarvey
Groce	Petrucca

Debating Club Is Now Progressing Steadily

Two Very Interesting Debates Were Presented Last Thursday Night "The Regular Debating Club Meeting"

The Debating Club has taken on a new impetus. This year marks the advent of a new, well organized body of debaters on the campus of Susquehanna. This was easily proven by the large representation of the student body present last Thursday evening. We are confident that Susquehanna will be able to send out a team of team to debate against other colleges, they are sure to make good. But while a thing may be good, it can always be better, so come out and do your bit.

Last week we had two very interesting debates. The first one, Resolved: that the pending amendment to the Child Labor Law should be passed. Those debating Affirmatively were Helen Yeingst and Essex Botsford. Negative, Delsey Morris and Arline Fisher. The contestants proved their ability on the rostrum. The judges decided in favor of the Negative side. In the second debate the question was, Resolved: that the United States should enter the League of Nations. The question was debated Affirmatively by Messrs. Schwirlian and Fasold; Negative, Mr. Adams and Mr. Lucas. The debate was interesting thruout. The judges decided in favor of the Negative side.

COURSE IN CAMPUSTRY DISCONTINUED FOR WINTER MONTHS

Alas! Alas! The time has arrived when Professor Arbogast and his assistants Happy Shurtill and Dick Baxter must discontinue all classes in campustry till the arrival of spring. Professor Arbogast's classroom has been utterly destroyed with the approach of the winter season. The beautiful trees have shed their ever-protecting leaves, which have so effectively served as coverings to not only keep the rain off the gentle lovers, but also to shut out the light of the moon and the stars which is so troublesome to the beginners in campustry. It has been said that the new preceptresses have objected to the present method of taking campustry, so probably that is why Prexy has ordered that all the park benches be removed from the beauty spots on the campus and be placed in storage for the winter at once. We know that Prexy would never do this by self voluntary action, there surely must have been a strong outside influence to cause such action, as he realizes and appreciates the value of these benches to the collegiate sheik.

We are sure that there is not one who does not thoroughly understand the fundamentals of this embracing subject, campustry. However, due to the lack of accommodations only a few have been enabled to participate in its theory and practice.

Professor Arbogast wishes to express his appreciation for the fine records that his class has made. He is very sorry that the course must stop so abruptly, but temporal and climatic conditions make it necessary.

With the help of his efficient assistants Prof. Arbogast has been able to make up the term averages, at this early date. The following are the names of the Honor students:

1. Gregory Morning, 100% plus 1x.
2. Irma Boliek, 99.91% plus x1.
3. Harry Hauey, 92%.
4. Katherine Collins, 89% — x1.
5. Harry Williams, 90% — x3.

The following students are deserving of Honorable mention:

1. Louis Rode he would have succeeded if—
2. Kid Roberts—well—
3. Verne Carlson—if she hadn't left school.

A FAMILY TRAGEDY

On the seventh of November tragedy descended upon a once happy family. The Grim Reaper, Death, pausing for a moment in his steady toll, took with his a mother's life. Early in the evening, she took sick, and at about midnight, she gasped forth her last breath. Noted specialists had been called in to aid her, but their efforts were without avail. The disease was strange to them, but the consensus of opinion was that some dastardly villain had, by a foul plot, conspired to poison the mother. At present, detectives are at work, searching for the poltroon who was so recurrent, so base, so craven, as to commit this matricide.

And what of the children? A single scion alone remains of that once glorious family. All the others have been separated by the wind of Fate that blows men about like chaff. Two have been removed far from their birthplace. There is left only one unhappy, infelicitous, poor, wretched, miserable, woebegone Kitten.

A wise man is never less alone than when he is alone.

Y ADDRESSED BY WILLIAM SCHWIRIAN

On Tuesday evening the Y held its weekly meeting in Clio Hall. The speaker, William Schwirian, was well equipped, and delivered a very interesting talk. He took his subject from the third chapter of St. John, "Jesus and Nicodemus: the New Birth."

All those who heard the talk were very much impressed and all who were at the meeting felt that they received something worth while. We regret very much that these meetings are not attended by the majority of the male students on our campus. The Y does its best to procure good speakers, for the benefit of all.

Come to the meetings and do your bit! We will try to have a different program each week. With your cooperation we will make the Y a bigger, and more important organization on Susquehanna's campus. Let us all pull together, or not "pull" at all.

FIRST LUTHERAN RECEPTION FOR STUDENTS AND FACULTY

Wednesday evening November 4 the First Lutheran Church was a center of delightful entertainment in the form of a reception to the students and faculty of Susquehanna University.

The reception began with a welcome by Rev. Mr. Beck, pastor of the church. By the time Rev. Beck had completed his talk every person was confident that the evening was going to be a very enjoyable one and indeed it was.

This welcome was followed by a varied and interesting program which was as follows:

Instrumental solo, Master John Potteiger.

Vocal solo—Theological Quartet. Vocal solo—Mrs. Arthur Charles. Reading Opportunity—Mr. North. Vocal solo—Miss Edith Summers. Reading—Miss Martha Ertel. Instrumental duet—Misses Herman, Talk—Dr. Alkens.

And now everyone was set for that part of the program which of course took place in the dining room. This part needs no discussion, let it suffice to say that no one suffered from that which we term "stage fright," for many A.N.N.'s were heard in behalf of First Lutheran. It was the students' method of showing their appreciation.

Round 2.

Both men spar cautiously, following with furious slugging. Rick lands hook to neck. Clinch. Rick puts champ to ropes. Champ jabs straight to jaw. Time. Rick's glove loose. Rick misses swing. Bell. Round a draw.

Round 3.

Kid gives challenger heavy jolt to stomach. Rick counters with hook to jaw. Clinch. The champ is rocked again coming out of the clinch. Roberts gives Ricardo straight jab to jaw. Rick lands on Kid's ear. Rick drives champ to ropes. Both swing wild. Bell. Rick's round.

A lusty cheer goes up for the new champion.

It is rumored the promoter, Lee Vorlage, has already scheduled an other bout between "Patsy" Gimme and Basil Martin, the Bellefonte Wonder, with a preliminary bout between "Battling" Rick, the new champion, and K. O. Bishop, pride of the dining room.

It is the sincere hope and belief of all those interested in clean sport and especially those followers of the fistic art that this sport, newly started, will not die, but have everlasting life at old S. U.

TO A TOAD

I watched a toad in my garden
Where he hops about in glee
Catching sweet bugs at a bargain,
Blinking his eyes at me.

He is kind of a dew-perled kingdom,
And he rules over hills and vales
With a voice that is more than winsome,
And a vigor that never pales.

"I'm satisfied," he keeps saying,
Through nights that are foul and
drear,
And he blinks his satisfaction
When the days are warm and clear.

I'll admit he is quaint, and real homely.
But his beauty is more than skin-deep;

He just blinks, and forgets to feel lonely.
He's a king—and I like him a "heap."—L. L.

THE LAMENTATION OF A DROP OF WATER

Up from the earth I came—
Out of a bubbling spring,
Down thru a splashing brook
That echoes the song I sing;
Into the river's side,
Out of the river's end,
Dashed to the finest mist
On to the sea I wend;
On the sunbeams I rise,
Up to a dreamy cloud,
Down to the earth in rain,
Turned to a foggy shroud;
Changed to a silver dew—
Then into winter's ice,
I become powerful steam
When gripped by man's device;
Yet God has halted me—
Gripped me in Nature's sphere;
Though I mount close to Heaven,
I cannot be a star.—L. L.

CHURCH ATTENDANCE

Much opposition has been aroused by the new system of keeping church attendance records. This is a very delicate subject and needs careful consideration both by the students and also by the faculty, as there are things of merit on both sides of the question.

The great majority of student body seem to be against such action as has been taken; as many students desire to attend other churches than the college church and have been doing so with a true spirit of heart. It indeed makes little difference whether we worship in one church or another, but it is of utmost importance that we do worship at all times and at some proper place.

The "must do" spirits often have been the cause on the part of many persons not to do a certain thing. Human nature is the same everywhere.
This seems to be somewhat the spirit here, and this system causes no little inconvenience.

It can be plainly seen that the faculty has made the ruling, that all students must sign attendance cards on leaving the church, with the best in view for the student; but at the same time the students seem to disapprove of the system; not of the motive back of the ruling, but of the rule itself.

If we get back to the form of attending church just to get by a rule or to fulfill some other earthly duty or purpose, we have lost the true religious spirit—that of worshipping Almighty God. We might overcome this prevalent spirit by encouraging loyalty to our college church and Sunday school, but if any person desires to attend other churches, let that be his privilege. Let our spirit be that of loyalty to God rather than that of compulsion and forced duty.—P. R. H.

MISS MARY MARKLEY WITH US AGAIN

The girls of Susquehanna were extremely fortunate last week in having Miss Mary Markley with them again.
Miss Markley has visited them for the last five years and many of the girls have learned to know and appreciate her. Some of them have had personal talks with her and have received great benefit from them.

While Miss Markley was in our midst she spoke to the girls on Wednesday evening at Y. W. and to the student body in Chapel Thursday morning. Both these talks were very helpful to those who heard them.

Wednesday evening at 9:30 the student council and cabinet of the Y.
W. gave a feed in her honor in the social room, where a fine time was reported by all present.

The girls of Seibert Hall were very sorry to see her leave, and look forward to her return.

—S— ALUMNI

Larry Francis Sweeney, '23, one of the best all-round athletes that Susquehanna has ever produced, is continuing his gridiron work as a coach of the Follansbee, West Virginia high school team. His team remains undefeated so far this year and much of the credit for its success is due him. The "Blue and White," Follansbee's high school paper, states that he is heralded to be the best coach in West Virginia. They surely do think a great deal of Sweeney, not only as a coach, but also as an instructor.

While at Susquehanna, Sweeney won letters in three major sports, foot ball, basket ball and base ball every year he was here. In addition to having a clear box full of letters he has the distinction of having been a captain in the sports that he played.
Our best wishes certainly go with him.
We pause to wonder whether he still sings "Liberty Bell" at 6 o'clock in the morning, as he did in those Hassinger Hall days.

Why You Need This Guide

"It is safe to say that failure to guide and direct study is the weak point in the whole educational machine." Prof. G. M. Whipple, U. of Michigan.

"The successful men in college do not seem to be very happy. Most of them, especially the athletes are overworked." Prof. H. S. Canby, Yale.

"Misdirected labor, though honest and well intentioned may lead to naught. Among the most important things for the student to learn is how to study. Without knowledge of this his labor may be largely in vain." Prof. G. F. Swain, M. I. T.

"To students who have never learnt How to Study, work is very often a chastisement, a flagellation, and an insuperable obstacle to contentment." Prof. A. Inglis, Harvard.

"HOW TO STUDY" will show you how to avoid all misdirected effort.

Get a good start and make this year a highly successful one by sending for this hand-book and guide NOW.

DR. MANHART BELOVED AND RESPECTED BY ALL

He was a student at Susquehanna University long before it bore that name, back in the dear old days when it was known as Missionary Institute, having been graduated in 1875. He received the degree of Bachelor of Arts from Pennsylvania College, Gettysburg, now Gettysburg College, in the year 1877; he also received the degree of Doctor of Divinity from the same school in the year 1899. He took work at the University of Pennsylvania, and in the year 1896 received the degree of Master of Arts from that institution. He also took work at Johns Hopkins University. In 1925 Wittenberg College conferred upon him the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

September 5, 1889, he was married to Catherine Born, daughter of Prof. Peter Born, of Selingsgrove. Dr. and Mrs. Manhart have two children, Geo. B. Manhart, Ph.D., who is professor of history at De Pauw University, Green Castle, Ind., and Sarah B. Manhart, who teaches in the Sunbury high school; both of whom are graduates of Susquehanna University.

He was ordained as a Lutheran minister in 1881, and he accepted a call to become pastor at Bloomsburg, where he served until 1889. From there he was called to a pastorate in Philadelphia, serving until 1893. He was superintendent of Missionary Institute during the last year of its existence under that name, and when the charter was changed he became the first president of Susquehanna University, which position he held until 1895. From 1896-1904 he was head of the Deaconess Motherhouse, Baltimore, Md., where he faithfully served until the school of his youth extended to him a call to become the head of its theological department. He returned to Susquehanna, and for the last twenty-one years he has been Dean of the School of Theology, and Professor of Church History and Systematic Theology.

Dr. Manhart has held various positions during his life, many of them connected with the great Lutheran Church and with different historical societies. He was secretary of the General Synod of the Lutheran Church in the United States 1909-22. He has been president of this body since 1922. He was president of the Susquehanna Synod 1913-1917, and of the Susquehanna Synod of Central Pennsylvania 1923-24.

He has been president of the Susquehanna Summer Assembly since 1920. He was vice president of the Inner Mission Board, 1913-18. Since 1892 he has been a director of the United Lutheran Publication Board. He is now president of three historical societies—the Lutheran Historical Society in America, since 1911; the Lutheran Historical Academy, since 1911, and the Snyder County Historical Society, since 1913.

Many publications owe their authorship to Dr. Manhart. Chief among these is "Present Day Lutheranism," which was published in 1910 and has appeared in four editions. He has also written many articles for homiletical and theological reviews. His most recent publication is entitled "The Episcopate and Lutheranism." This was prepared at the request of Archbishop Soederblom, of Sweden, and has been widely distributed by him.

Dr. Manhart has done much for Susquehanna, and he is one of the strong pillars in the United Lutheran Church of America. Besides doing much for his church himself, in an indirect way he has also been an influence of note sending young men out into the greatest profession of life, that of Gospel Ministry, with his ideals ever before them. He is one whom all the students revere and respect, even though they do not come into personal contact with him. He is one whom his own students love for his zeal and firmness for what is good and right. As long as he remains the head of Susquehanna's School of Theology, she will ever prosper and continue to send young men out into the church with the message of the Gospel Truth.

Marlin Grubb, class of 1925, is at present employed as a chemist for the Atlantic Refining Company in Philadelphia.

Reserves Win From Hartwick Seminary

TEAM COACHED BY A SUSQUEHANNA ALUMNUS FIGHTS GAMEDLY, BUT WAS OVERWHELMED BY STRONG JUNIOR VARSITY AGGREGATION

The Junior Varsity eleven defeated Hartwick Seminary, of New York, 23-0 in their game preliminary to the varsity battle with Temple last Saturday. The game was crowded with thrills, due to the dazzling overhead attack of the scrubs. The Seminary team is to be complimented on the playing of their boys, as this is their first year of the gridiron sport, and Coach Keeler, who was a former varsity man at S. U. is to be complimented on the football knowledge he has instilled into them. The first half ended 14-0 in favor of the J. V.'s and in the second half Ebberst scored his second touchdown on a long forward pass. Hartwick elected to receive the kick off and fumbled on a second down, with the Orange and Maroon recovering. Ebberst then scored for the third time on a long forward pass. Hartwick received kick-off again and fumbled once more with the local lads recovering. Dunkelberger then tried a dropkick which fell short. Hartwick kicked out of danger to S. U.' left end.

In the fourth quarter Hartwick was held for downs. Bishop of S. U. intercepted forward pass and scored fourth touchdown. Slegle scored final touchdown in this period and caught a forward pass for extra point.

The Seminary eleven showed fine sportsmanship and the game was cleanly played thruout. The New York boys are always welcome on our campus.

The lineup was as follows:
Hartwick Sem. Susquehanna
Cunningham L. E. Wolfe
Fillis L. G. Spaid
Knapp L. G. Bendzio
Parchen C. Marks
Stoly R. G. Brynning
Smith R. T. Hepper
Aberlander R. E. Shuntill

Pittsburgh Alumni Held a Banquet

Professors Keener and Mowles Were Present and Ceased Eating Long Enough to Deliver Talks

Friday, the thirteenth!!! The height of bad luck. Yet, the Pittsburgh-Susquehanna Association dared to meet and eat. The president was sick and couldn't be there; the secretary had to bring his wife along and hence felt compelled to make seven speeches, and the reporter got tagged by a traffic cop.

Yet when the banqueteers came to sit down they filled a long table. It wasn't the English room or the Gold room or the spare room that they met in, but in the Assembly room, altho to see some of them stuffing themselves you'd have thought it was the Packing room. There was fruit cocktail and queen olives and rah, rah, rah, Susquehanna; and puree of tomato with rice and rah, Keener's necktie; and braised beef with mushrooms, spuds au gratin, "chune" peas, and "We are cholly students" with the Rough Neck chorus "Where's my mushrooms?" raspberry ice, cakes, and demitasse and "A-N-N-A Susquehanna."

The Invocation was read by Rev. Willard D. Allbeck. The President, Cassler '20 presided. Toastmaster Rev. H. E. B. ... cracked a few and then let Prof. Naomi Keener at it. Men's Student Council Again Comes to Front

Has Caused the Name of Our University to be Cut in the Sod Along the Highway

The men's Student Council has been the promoter and instigator of many creditable movements which have taken place on the campus of S. U., and at present they are completing what is certain to be another very attractive as well as a very remarkable improvement.

By way of tribute to their Alma Mater and in order that their identity might never be mistaken, they are forming on the campus bank, which borders on the highway half-way between Seibert Hall and Selinggrove Hall, a writing on the sod, which when completed will be a large "Susquehanna University. No, you are wrong, no shrubbery is to be implanted in the letters—instead there will be smooth, shining white pebbles, which will endure through all seasonal changes. All credit is due to the art and cleverness of the Men's Student Council.

Co-Eds Frolic and Sing at Kid Party

ALL WERE DRESSED AS KIDS; CURTAINS WERE DOWN AND THE GIRLS COULD ACT LIKE CHILDREN WITHOUT FEAR OF BEING OBSERVED BY BOYS

Discovered! the fountain of youth. Numerous evidences of a great rejuvenation gathered in the social room of Seibert Hall Thursday, Nov. 19th. The Y. W. C. A. seems to have been the instigator of the great movement.

Not a little mystery was in the atmosphere. The care-worn lines were completely obscured by smiles, and the ravages of the relentless book-worm were obliterated and humor reigned over all. Such was the effect of the transformation that the real identities of the children were lost and are still at large. Both sexes (?) were well represented; indeed it was a surprise to learn that there were as many charming gentlemen in the Dorm. But the youth of the world is fickle and uncertain, it is said, so they'll probably only turn out to be girls after all.

Little Molly Reed arranged a very interesting program. The first number was a violin solo by Miss Peggy Smith entitled "Oberitas." Miss Smith is one of Susquehanna's child proteges. The applause of the audience was certainly proof of her ability to please. Miss Annie Gump entertained with a reading, "I ain't gonna cry no more." When the youthful voices cried for more, she replied with a welcome speech. Mark Twain's Becky Thacker and Tom Sawyer have learned to dance since Mr. Twain introduced them to the world. Becky is still the sweet little heroine, but Tom hasn't lost much of his awkwardness. After the program the "dear teacher" directed the games. The kiddies frolicked and played and of course there were a few childish arguments to be settled, but they were united as one in the great massacre of the ferocious animal crackers. Their efforts were rewarded, however, and all of them cried when they came to the end of lolly-pop and had to go home.

BOX FOR SUSQUEHANNA CONTRIBUTIONS

In a few days a box will be placed in the entrance to the old Chapel Hall to receive your contributions for The Susquehanna. Any information that you have of Alumni, any news articles, poems or editorials are welcome. Constructive criticism is also invited.

All articles should be typewritten and should be in before noon on Sunday. Please sign your name as an evidence of good faith. If you do not wish your name published, mention the fact and your wishes will be respected.

Prof. Brungart Is a Successful Teacher

HAS TAUGHT EVER SINCE HE WAS TWENTY-ONE. HE FIRST WAS PRINCIPAL OF THE PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT. LATER MADE COLLEGE INSTRUCTOR

In the memorable year 1871, there came into being the German Empire and our own Prof. Edwin M. Brungart. Both grew in strength and wisdom, but unlike the former he has still maintained a standard of efficiency and good humor, which we all know and respect.

His first connection with Susquehanna was as a student in the Academy, from which he entered the University in 1895. /ways there has been in his life that pioneer spirit, not to lag behind, but always to push forward to new things. During his student life he has proven this; he was a member of our first glee club, tending the support of his endeavors to make it a success. Of the first football team to be victorious over Gettysburg College he was an active member.

In 1900 he received his A. B. degree from S. U. and in 1902 his master's degree. While working for his latter degree he was the principal of the Cross Forks High School until 1902, during this time the first township high school in Potter county, again manifesting his eagerness to be active in improving conditions for the education of boys and girls. Indeed he has been teaching since twenty-one years of age.

Finally he again entered the halls of S. U. that he might be instrumental in helping to maintain and strengthen his efficiency thru his years of experience in practical teaching. Since that year of 1904 he has been the instructor and advisor of many a youth who has come within his influence, both in his role of principal of the Academy and as instructor in College Latin. In 1907 he had finished his post graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania.

For eight years he has been secretary of the local school board, aiding in the completion of its building plans. Not only does Prof. Brungart put his shoulder to the wheel in scholastic circles, for he is a man active in the religious sphere also. Since his return to Selinggrove in 1904, the Women's Bible Class of Trinity Lutheran Sunday school has had him as its teacher and many an inspiring message, and practical too, have been given.

Upper Class Girls Win Interclass Hockey

Team of Junior and Senior Girls Defeat Both Freshmen and Sophomore Teams

On November 11th the second game of the hockey series was played between the upperclass girls and the Sophs. A stiff battle was put up by each side. However, the final whistle found the score 2-1 in favor of the upperclassmen.

On November 16th the upper classmen met the Fresh girls. The Freshmen put up a good fight, and with their experience the upper classmen were able to gain only one goal, but this cue goal gave the championship to the upper classmen.

There seemed to be more enthusiasm this year on the part of those not playing, for during all the games there were many rooters along the side-lines, helping the side they wanted to win, along.

Fresh-Sophomore Game Ends In Tie

ANNUAL INTERCLASS GAME WAS FIERCELY CONTESTED AND REAL FOOTBALL DISPLAYED; SOPHOMORES HAD A SLIGHT EDGE. SCORE 7-7.

Last Friday the Freshmen, at least in part, avenged the tieup. It was the same old story as before. The heavy men failed to come out, and against the Sophomore line, the best the Fresh could do was a tie, being out-numbered in first downs, 7-1. However, considering the advantages the upperclassmen held, the first year men did well. They were outwitted 15-20 pounds to the man, had a less experienced coach, and were handicapped by the fact that the majority had never played football before.

During the first half of the game, neither team got within scoring distance. During the third period, Maneval intercepted a forward pass and ran sixty yards for a touchdown. In the fourth quarter Cameron took the ball across on straight football, and Schaeffer added the extra point on a Freshman offside. Morning, Bachman and Cameron, after his advent in the backfield, and S. Smith, Bradley and Wilson were stars for their respective teams, in addition to those already mentioned. There were three injuries during the game. Parsons broke his collarbone, and Smeltz his nose. Stanley Smith was hit on the head, and on an injured rib.

It was an evenly contested battle, with the Sophs having a slight edge. The Freshmen will have to look elsewhere for their vengeance. It also leaves the Theologs without an opponent, unless they agree to play the combined teams, as planned.

The lineup:
Freshmen Sophomores
M. Smith L. E. Bachman
Heffner L. T. Parsons
H. Shaffer L. G. Snyder
Bingham C. Vorlage
Hughes R. G. Salem
Wagenseiler R. T. Sheeler
Wilson R. E. Roberts
S. Smith Q. B. Morning
Maneval L. H. B. Kaufman
Lahr R. H. B. Smeltz
Bradley F. B. C. Schaeffer Touchdowns — Maneval, Morning.
Point after touchdown — Maneval, Schaeffer. Substitutions — Freshmen: Seasholtz for Heffner, Vought for Wagenseiler, Fisher for Wilson, Wilson for M. Smith, Stumpf for Lahr, Leonard for Stumpf, Klingler for S. Smith; Sophs: Ditzler for Kaufmann, Williams for Cameron, Cameron for Sheeler, Sheeler for Parsons, Kaufmann for Smeltz, Cameron for Ditzler.

Mrs. Horton — "Tom, wake up! There's a burglar in the next room." Daddy Horton — "Well, my gun's empty, dear. You go in and look daggers at him."

Local Eleven Loses to Fast Temple Team

ORANGE AND MAROON SCORES WITH DROP KICK BY BOLIG AND FORWARD PASS TO ROOF; CRUSADERS CAME BACK STRONG IN SECOND HALF

After playing a remarkable brand of football on foreign fields for the past month, the warriors from Susquehanna returned home last Saturday only to lose a hard fought game to the powerful Temple team.

In the first half the Crusaders were swept off their feet by the unexpected attack led by Jacobs, former Lehigh mainstay, but the second half had a different aspect, for an overwhelmed Susquehanna team came back, out fought and outplayed her rival. Bolig's drop kick and Roof's touchdown on a long pass accounted for the locals' tally.

First Quarter

Bolig kicked off and it was returned to the 45 yard line, Jacobs on first down ran to 21 yard line, pass, Jacobs to Walton, 10 yards, Jacobs thru guard for touchdown, kick blocked. Sarrick kicked off to Gordon, who fumbled on our 20 yard line. Bolig punted, returned to 47 yard line, pass, Jacobs to Walton, 9 yards; Jacobs thru line for 7 yard, Walton first down on fake, Wolf left end for first down, Jacobs carried ball to 2 yard line, buck failed, Cresse takes it over, Groce blocked kick. Grace kicks off and Groce ran ball to 30 yard line. Steumffle 2 yards, Groce 3 yards.

Temple 12, Susquehanna 0.

Second Quarter

Bolig punted to Temple's 3 yard line, Walton punts to mid field, Groce 2 yards thru line, Bolig no gain, Groce 6 yards, pass grounded. Temple's ball, Walton punts to 20 yard line, Bolig punts to 40 yard line, Haney recovers fumble, Groce 2 yards, Bolig 1 yard, Bolig to Groce for 4 yards, Bolig punts, returned to 22 yard line, Walton punts to S. U. 20 yard line, Bolig 2 yards thru line, Bolig 7 yards around end, Bolig punts to 45 yard line, Walton 9 yards, Jacobs first down, Walton 6 yards, Jacobs first down, pass grounded, Jacobs for touchdown. Temple kicked off, Groce ran ball to 35 yard line.

Much Spirit Shown At Mass Meeting

Temple and Hartwick Sem Teams Were Present at Pep Meeting on Friday Night. Next One Wednesday

Last Friday night in the Chapel Hall was held one of the most successful mass meetings ever attempted at Susquehanna. The men from Hartwick Seminary and Temple University were present and it may rightly be said that the students of old S. U. showed the visitors that they were proud to be a part of this institution.

After a few cheers for both the visiting teams and our own team and after some music by Messrs. Williams, Landis and Livingston, the meeting was turned over to the Bond and Key Fraternity.

Mr. Miller, coach of the Temple team, was first called upon. He expressed the belief that the game would be clean, interesting and well-fought. Mr. Ernest Steumffle, known to all good Susquehannians for his wonderful short speeches, next responded, followed by Captain Gilliland of the Temple team. Captain Gilliland turned out to be an orator nearly the equal of our own illustrious captain.

Doctor Myers, president of Hartwick Seminary and an alumnus of Susquehanna, and captain of S. U.'s football team in 1908 then told us that they are trying to instill in their students at Hartwick a bit of the spirit of Susquehanna.

A vocal solo by Miss Kelsner, accompanied by Miss Hauser, one of Professor Mowles' spirited talks, declared.

A FRESHMAN WRITES HOME

Dear Horatius:

I have been at school now for about two months and am already greatly respected by the entire student body. Even the members of the faculty value my opinions. In classes it is always: "Marvin what do you know about this?" or "What do you think about that?" I have a special interest in the school because I'm sort of a stockholder here. I must tell you all about it.

When I first got to my room I noticed that "For Sale" signs were upon my radiators and window shades. I had an awful time to find the person who owned them, but I finally found a Soph who admitted that he had bought them and made him accept my check for $12.48. This paid for one large radiator, one small one and three window shades. He threw a couple extra door hinges in for good measure.

Having sold me these essentials, he felt it to be his duty to look after me. He would have sold me some electric light bulbs, but he didn't have any. He said, however, that he would help me get some and charge me but half price. We waited until 11:30 that night, but on dark clothes and made our way across the campus towards the girls' dormitory. We got near it when we were startled by a low whistle of about seven or eight notes. A window on the third floor opened and a girl's voice said "Is that you Helen?" No answer from the person below. Then another window opened and the whistle was returned. This time the young man, for such we could see it to be, said "Put down your basket, here's your ice cream." We soon heard the basket strike the ground and then the question "Where's the rope?" We then heard the rope strike the ground. An ejaculation from the young man, "Why the d— did you throw the whole thing down. How can you pull it up when you do not have hold of one end?" You better come down to the front door to get it."

Wondering about this strange happening we left ourselves in a window of the basement of Seibert Hall. We got 2 nice bulbs and made a hasty exit upon the opposite side of the building. No sooner had we emerged than we heard persons approaching and we just had time to hide behind the huge Cannas between the two entrances to the Chapel Hall. One took out a banjo and soon four voices were raised in song. Windows were raised and girls' heads appeared and each number was applauded enthusiastically. I saw several other boys peering around a corner. They must have seen me for they threw a couple buckets of water at me. Their aim surely was poor for most of it got on the songsters. In the excitement we were able to slip away from the angry mob and we hastened down College Avenue, not knowing where we were going. We were running at full speed, but we didn't get far before four fellows went tearing past us as if we were standing still. As they passed I was just able to recognize them. They were Baird, Shaffer, Fred Sleigle and Harry Haney.

My friend and I were slightly wet, so we returned to our rooms to dry off. We had managed to retain the light bulbs in spite of everything so as we had accomplished our purpose we went to bed.

One ungrateful man does an injury to all who stand in need of aid.

IF THE SHOE FITS PUT IT ON

Judging from the volume of cheering at the Temple vs. Susquehanna game on Saturday, one would conclude that the proposed Woman's College had already been established upon the Susquehanna campus. It would seem as if the fairer element had outdone the supposedly superior of the species. If the male representation in the bleachers, their pep, their enthusiasm and their hearty co-operation with the cheer leader could equal that of the girls we wouldn't have to wonder what supported the spineless creatures that stood along the side lines!

We have noticed that the fellows yell heartily enough for Daddy Horton and a chicken feed in the dining room, but when it comes to yelling for their team on the athletic field they are not there. We cannot all be college heroes, but we can at least be voice athletes. Everyone remarked about the peppy cheers the Temple men put across in spite of the small number of rooters they brought along. It was because they had made volume and athletic spirit.

If you are proud of your school come out and cheer; show your loyalty by tuning in on the Alma Mater. Remember that the time keeper's whistle isn't static.

If you think that this is a female seminary, you have registered your little John Henry in the wrong institution. We believe that you have originality, and a few other good qualities, so bring some new yells along with your voices. You have a chance to redeem yourselves at the Thanksgiving Day game and during basket ball season. We can't be a Harvard or Yale, but we can at least have a better imitation.

It was the second day the shipwrecked crew had been adrift in the open boat, and the hearts of some of them were beginning to sink. There was one, however, who was full of hope.

"What's that?" he cried excitedly, pointing into the far distance. "Isn't that land over there?"

The second mate's gaze followed the pointed finger. "No, he said dejectedly, "that's no land. It's only the horizon."

"Well darn it," said the optimist, bending to his oar. "that's better than nothing, let's pull."—Capt. Billy.

TO A STOUT GIRL
(Presented for publication by request).

Do you really think there's any,
Whose prayers are more devout,
Than the girl who's always asking,
"Do you think I'm getting stout?"

Whose heart is in her stomach,
(Tho' nothing else is there),
Who wouldn't miss a meal,
Tho' she thinks she lives on air?

Who always thinks she's needing
A mile or so each day,
Which she'd never think of missing,
Unless she felt that way!

The universe is a circle without diameter or circumference.

College Church Is Being Enlarged

A New Sunday School Room Is Being Fitted Out and the Church Auditorium Will be Improved

Trinity Lutheran Church has been very busy during the past several weeks erecting a new Sunday school room. The construction is progressing well and each member looks forward anxiously to the time when they shall gather in what promises to be one of the most beautiful and roomy Sunday school rooms in Selingsgrove.

The congregation also intends to improve the church auditorium by retouching the walls and ceiling, and by rearranging and beautifying the altar. Within a few more weeks both college students and town folks will assemble in a practically new Trinity Lutheran.

SOME OF THE THINGS FOR WHICH WE ARE THANKFUL

That girls' rules come off.
That church cuts don't mean much.
That Harry Williams isn't on the Varsity.

That Kemmerer and Means are selling time-saving equipment.

That we won the Drexel game.

That we tied several others.

That girls' skirts are short.

That Mowles didn't mention any names in chapel.

That it wouldn't make any difference any way.

That examinations are not near.

That Christmas is coming.

That Thanksgiving is here.

That the fish pond has been started.

That Daddy Surface learned a new joke.

That it's a good one.

NO SUSQUEHANNA DEC. 1st

Because of the Thanksgiving holidays there will be no issue of The Susquehanna in the first week of December. This has always been the custom because of the fact that it is impossible to assemble the material in the short length of time available.

SEIBERT HALL

You would have enjoyed spending this last weekend at S. U. The excitement furnished an outlet for those homesick feelings that are so liable to force themselves upon us co-eds just before a holiday.

On Friday evening a number of the girls went to the "Eastern Star" party. The game between out Reserves and Hartwick Seminary gave us a great deal of pleasure, especially the score, which was 32-0. The game with Temple 26-10 did very little to dampen our spirits. The frat dances in the evening were a fit climax for such a day.

Not for a long time have there been so many visitors in the dining hall. Mildred Yahn was visited by Marian Payton from Williamsport and Hannah Tysbur from Sunbury. Irma Bollig had as her guests her mother and Daniel Bollig, Jr., her brother. Elizabeth Waters from Jersey Shore visited Mary Farling, Georgienne Fikes was visited by her parents from Newport and her brother from Altoona, Ethel Peters by Sarah Saxon from Lewis town, and Doris Frick by her mother from Jersey Shore.

As a substitute for a letter next week you can imagine S. U.'s co-eds happily feasting on turkey and home associations.

Your friend,
Betty.

Trinity's choir has been enriched by the experience he gained in S. U.'s Glee Club. But with all this, tho he may seem to have no time for social duties, he has attained the 32nd degree of Masonry and is a past master by service of the local Masonic fraternity.

Ramer—"Walter, take this egg away, sir. Away with it, I say."

Ramer—"Do with it? Why wring its neck, of course."

PRE-MEDIC STUDENTS ORGANIZE

On Wednesday evening, November 18, the pre-medical students of S. U. met in the lecture room of Steele Hall and held the first regular meeting. Mr. Holger Henius, chairman pro tem, presided. The constitution and by-laws were read and accepted. Nomination and election of officers was the next matter of importance. Mr. Holger Henius was elected president; Miss Gladys M. Staub, vice president; Miss Anna Norwat, secretary, and Mr. Shue as treasurer. The standing committees, for the year are—Press committee, Gladys Staub, Riccardi, and Robert Sadtler; scrap-book, Wagenseller, Stahl, and Staub, and Program, Dr. Surface and Miss Norwat.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday, December 2, at 8 p. m. Come one and all to our next meeting and help us to reach the goal we have set.

It is one thing to organize, but it is another thing to succeed. Therefore be present and become a chartered member, for on next meeting night we will sign our names to the constitution of the Pre-Medic Society of Susquehanna University, our Alma Mater.

SONG OF A LOVE SICK FROSH

The sun
Ne'er shone on such a maid
As one
"For whom my heart is laid Bare! When all is said
And done.

Her eyes
Are deepest blue as tho
The skies
Had come to rest below
To smile and sooth with no Reprise.

Her hair,
A dusky moon kissed brown,
So rare,
Makes Sheba's much bejewelled crown
In contrast, fit for just a clown
To wear

So I
Have fallen, tho I know
Not why,
When the world will know
And fall 'fore Cupid's bow
As I H. W.

HELD A BANQUET

than ever. Prof. read several things such as "It takes a Heap of Livin' to Make a Home." His lines reminded us that Susquehanna is interested in the humanities as well as the sciences and the belles letters. The quiet sympathies of life as well as the zest and hilarities were brought to mind. The Pittsburgh-Susquehanna Association most sincerely appreciated Professor Keener's address.

Prof. Mowles, the new physical director at S. U., was present and spoke of the athletic outlook and the policies in force. Several of the alumnae were called on for talks, as well as several of the older alumni. It was emphasized that this was the Twentieth anniversary of the founding of the association, and accounts of the first meeting and banquet were read. For twenty years the alumni and ex-students at Pittsburgh have been keeping alive old friendships and interest in old S. U.

Balloting resulted in the election of the following officers: A. G. Gawinski, president; Willard D. Allbeck, vice president; Chas. E. Heid, secretary; Bruce Burkhardt, treasurer; J. Paul Harman, reporter.

The list of those present is: Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Burkhardt '02, Miss Horne, Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Heid '22, Mrs. Christine Schoch Cassler '19, Geo. W. Cassler Jr., '20, Prof. Nathan N. Do You Know?
"HOW TO STUDY"

The Students' Hand-Book of Practical Hints on the Technique of Effective Study

by WILLIAM ALLAN BROOKS

A GUIDE containing hundreds of practical hints and short cuts in the economy of learning, to assist students in securing MAXIMUM SCHOLASTIC RESULTS at a minimum cost of time, energy and fatigue. ESPECIALLY RECOMMENDED for overworked students and athletes engaged in extra curriculum activities and for average and honor students who are working for high scholastic achievement.

Some of the Topics Covered

Scientific Shortcuts in Effective Study.	The Athlete and His Studies.
Preparing for Examinations.	Diet During Athletic Training.
Writing Good Examinations.	How to Study Modern Languages.
Brain and Digestion in Relation to Study.	How to Study Science, Literature, etc.
How to Take Lecture and Reading Notes.	Why Go to College?
Advantages and Disadvantages of Cramping.	After College, What?
	Developing Concentration and Efficiency.
	etc., etc., etc., etc., etc., etc., etc.

Why You Need This Guide

"It is safe to say that failure to guide and direct study is the weak point in the whole educational machine." Prof. G. M. Whipple, U. of Michigan.

"The successful men in college do not seem to be very happy. Most of them, especially the athletes are overworked." Prof. H. S. Canby, Yale.

"Misdirected labor, though honest and well intentioned may lead to naught. Among the most important things for the student to learn is how to study. Without knowledge of this his labor may be largely in vain." Prof. G. F. Swain, M. I. T.

"To students who have never learnt 'How to Study,' work is very often a chastisement, a flagellation, and an insuperable obstacle to contentment." Prof. A. Inglis, Harvard.

"HOW TO STUDY" will show you how to avoid all misdirected effort.

MUCH SPIRIT SHOWN AT MASS MEETING

ation of clean play by Mr. Beard, assistant coach, impersonations by Holger Henius and an expression of the sentiments of all loyal Susquehannians by our poet and orator, Mr. Eugene Adams were followed by more enthusiastic cheerin'. After singing the new Marching Song and the Alma Mater, the meeting disbanded, gone but not forgotten.

The Pep Meeting on Wednesday night of this week will be the last football mass meeting. It will be under the direction of Epsilon Sigma Fraternity and should be well attended. An interesting program is assured and all should turn out. The cheering at the Temple game was good, even tho most of the boy students stood along the sidelines and left the display of school spirit to the girls and a few faithful young men. Every one with any love for his Alma Mater is going to be at the game on Turkey Day—he is going to be on the stands and is going to be ready for almost continual cheering. We have to put over this last game.

New honorary fraternity at Lehigh starts year's activities. The purpose of this fraternity is two-fold. First, it serves as a reward for a man who has done outstanding work and proved himself a leader. The second purpose is to serve as a connecting link between students, alumni and faculty.

An organization which admits only those men who can raise a moustache that meets with the approval of the members of the club has been founded at Pomona College, Clearfont California. To be eligible for admittance to the Club applicants must maintain one-half inch of genuine moustache, and 500 hairs to a square inch.

Johns Hopkins University and Hospital in the campaign which was recently put under way has reached the $4,000,000 mark. At the opening of the Baltimore campaign, Abram G. Nutzler gave $2,000 to endow a chair in political economy.

Bucknell's football team holds a unique distinction. Scoring every possible manner over George Washington University was a feature of the game at Bucknell. Bucknell had a dropkick, a kick from placement, a touchdown,
and a safety to their credit.

"Cupid is not the cause of flunking," says Dean Dunham, of Temple University "but outside employment." Doctor Dunham believes that the students in Philadelphia are inclined to undertake too much. Dean Herbert E.
Mawkes, of Columbia University, believes that romance was behind the pensions among undergraduates.

Each year is bringing new modes of transportation for students following their teams. Students from Ohio State this year chartered airplanes to go to Chicago in order that they might attend the game there.

S. U. SIRENS ORGANIZED

Some time ago ye reporter was awakened from deep reveries by the strains of beautiful music proceeding from the vicinity of the Y. M. C. A. rooms. In addition to harmony the music bore the syncopation peculiar to that of jazz and surely did sound good. Upon investigating the fact was disclosed that Susquehanna's new orchestra was practicing for an engagement.

The name of the orchestra is "The Susquehanna Sirens," and is composed of some of the school musicians, and a few of the boys from Sunbury. Of these Frank Felton will be remembered. Frank and his "blacksmiths" were quite popular and played for many engagements last year, both on the campus and elsewhere. The orchestra has a good start and is ready to furnish music for any occasion. Harry Williams is the director and Bill Landis the manager of the new organization.

UPPERCLASSEMEN DEFEAT FRESHMEN

On Wednesday many of the student body witnessed an exciting game of soccer between the upper classmen and Freshmen. In the first quarter Helen Yelgust kicked the ball over the goal line for the Upper Classmen.
This did not daunt the fighting spirit of their rivals, however, for they did not gain another point thruout the rest of the game. So when the final whistle was blown the score was only 1-0 in favor of the girls of '25 and '26.

it certainly was good, there wasn't a thing left from those noble fifty-five except a few bones, to tell the story.
And by the way, Daddy, if you don't think we enjoyed it, just substitute chicken for BEEF and see if we kick.
Not a bit, we know a good thing when we have it, and just remember Daddy,
when you want to be real good to us,

World Court Brought To Our Attention Football Prospects Promising for 1926 Conservatory Owes Much to Sheldon Ruth Bryan Owen Here Wednesday Season Basket Ball Practice Commenced

MR. PAUL BLANCHARD, RECENTLY RETURNED FROM FAR EAST, GAVE INTERESTING ACCOUNT OF EXPERIENCES—MADE AN APPEAL FOR WORLD PEACE

On last Thursday morning the student body had a rare opportunity to learn about the World Court of International Justice from Mr. Paul Blanchard, field secretary of the League for Industrial Democracy, who is ably fitted to speak on such a subject, for he has just completed a tour of China, Japan, and Soviet Russia.

Following the talk the student body took a straw vote on the subject of America's entrance into the Court and the vote resulted in a sweeping majority for the affirmative. Mr. Blanchard said in part: "We don't stop war until we realize its horrors, and we now are more honest regarding new conflicts and our leaders say we are facing new wars. Another war will result in the use of more deadly gases, X-rays, heat waves, germs, and plane destruction; it's a great challenge to us to stop this next suicide. That disputes will be submitted to law of reason—a definite plan of action has been submitted by the League of Nations. The World Court judges are chosen by the Assembly and Council of the League—each nation having one judge, whose duties are to settle world questions. It is a voluntary body so every dispute will not have to be submitted. The World Court is not the League of Nations, so we can join the Court without becoming a League member. Our immigration as an internal affair and Court would have no action as its power is limited to International.

Our sovereignty would not be impaired, for world peace will never be attained unless some nations give up a little and help build a super-structure. Most causes of war are Economic Imperialism and that exists in China today. We are guilty of it for China sees our array of dollars, missionaries, flags and gunboats and do not know just what to think. She pays 70% of the taxes, but has no vote, as Europeans, Japanese, and Americans have such a grip. The great student strike has awoke China up and if she utilizes her forces into a huge army it means we have taught them just that.

"If we can attain Christian ideals and a new spirit of humanity we will have made a great step toward world peace."

Kappa Delta Phi Held Barn Party Sat. Eve.

Even tho the Party Was Not Held in a Barn, Everybody Enjoyed Themselves. Many Unique Costumes

About 8:15 Saturday evening, December 5, there were seen going in the direction of Seibert Hall a group of farmers. All seemed intent upon their errand. People seeing them pass said: "This must be farmer's night out," and this was true, for when they reached Seibert Hall they were joined by a crowd of farmerettes.

These farmers and farmerettes descended the steps and went to what would be the social room, but was now a barn. The owner of this barn had just brought in his winter supply of corn shocks. All the other farmers commended him upon the excellence of its quality. The barn was typical of all barns in Snyder county. Lanterns were hanging from rafters; several baskets were filled with ears of corn, and even a chicken was there quietly sitting on its nest. Benches were brought in for the visitors to sit on when they became tired of "jumping" around.

Old Mr. Moon was extremely accommodating. He turned out in full to the delight of all present and shined brightly thru the open door. By the

PLAYING OF THE NEW MEMBERS OF SQUAD FEATURED PAST SEASON. FIVE MEN LOST BY GRADUATION. SEASON HELD FEW CASUALTIES

The past football season, while not so good in the total number of games won can be called a success in comparison with the past several seasons, especially when the class of schools played, the material Coach Wingard had to work with, are taken into consideration. Out of nine intercollegiate contests two of them were played on the home field, and it is a proven fact that a team plays under more or less of a handicap on a strange gridiron. The playing of the older members of the squad was infallible and the loss of Capt. Stempfle, Gordon, Bolig, and Slagle, who will graduate this year, will be keenly felt. Nevertheless, quite a few of the new men showed up well and next year will no doubt show Martin, Emil, Dunkelberger, Auten and Pratt on the first eleven.

Groce, Gimmie, Roof, Cassel, Stroup, Horton and Haney are to be complimented on the hard, steady brand of football played thruout the season, and it was apparent they have the never-say-die Susquehanna spirit instilled in them. Burt Lantz is especially to be complimented on his work, being the only Freshman to earn the coveted S and it certainly is coveted when only eleven of them were awarded and the University of Pennsylvania can give twenty-four in appreciation of the work of their squad and they had no championship team. Another hard working member of the Orange and Maroon squad was Pratt, who was used as first substitute in the backfield thruout the season, and played well altho much under the average weight of the team.

From the showing made the past season by the men, the gaps left by graduating members should be readily filled and prospects look good for next year.

Debate Association Held Preferential Ballot

Following An Interesting Debate Men Were Selected for the Varsity Debating Team

Interest in our Debating Club is steadily increasing, and we feel confident that when our team goes on the rostrum, we will have no reason to be ashamed of it. Altho attendance at the meetings is constantly fluctuating, on the average we have a very good representation at the debates.

On Thursday evening the question for debate was: Resolved: That the present pending Civil Labor Amendment should be adopted. Debated affirmatively by Mr. Alfred Rising and Mr. Louis Rode; negatively by Mr. Wayne Danbenspeck and Mr. Luther Rhodes. The judges decided in favor of the negative.

After the debate a preferential ballot was taken. The Debating Club wanted the opinion of the members concerning the men for the Varsity team. The results as to position, are as follows:

Clarence A. Hurst, Eugene T. Adams, Paul B. Lucas, William R. Schvirian, Lee E. Boyer, Harold E. Ditzler, Harold A. Swank, Luther A. Rhodes, William O. Roberts, Russell J. Crouse, Gere L. Sharretts, Wayne M. Daubenspeck, Marshall W. Faisold, Roland M. Swartzwelder, Clarence A. Stuart, Rush G. Egoft, William Lee Vorlage, George N. Young, William Byler Ocker, Alfred J. Rising, Louis C. Rode.

Those men heading the list will be given an opportunity of showing their superiority, or else be obliged to make way for those rating lower. This will give ample opportunity to anyone to raise his rating. He will then secure a Varsity position.

HE HAS BEEN DIRECTOR OF S. U. CONSERVATORY FOR THIRTEEN FRUITFUL YEARS. UNDER HIM THE GLEE CLUB HAS ATTAINED STATE-WIDE FAME

Professor E. Edwin Sheldon, director of Susquehanna University Conservatory of Music, has shown himself, in his connection with our institution, not only an unusually talented musician, but also an extraordinarily able organizer and director.

Professor Sheldon, no doubt, owes much of his success to his knowledge of the many methods of instruction which he acquired in his extensive professional preparation. During his undergraduate and post-graduate periods

PROF. E. EDWIN SHELTON
Director Conservatory of Music

of study, he has attended Alma College, Baldwin Wallace College, Oberlin and New England Conservatories of Music and Cornell and New York Summer Music Schools.

After teaching in Toledo Conservatory of Music, Professor Sheldon came to Susquehanna in 1903 as director of the Conservatory. He remained here until 1910, when he felt the call of wanderlust and migrated to Lebanon Valley College.

There, as director of Lebanon Valley Conservatory of Music, Prof. Sheldon endeared himself to all his students by his unequalled teaching ability and his superior personality. But after a while he began to yearn for S. U.'s broad campus, and in 1920 he returned once more to S. U., to the sorrow of the Lebanon Valley students, but to the immense delight of all of Susquehanna's embryo musicians.

Back in his old haunts, Prof. Sheldon assumed the helm with his accustomed vigor. The results of his regime are seen on every side. The Conservatory is superior in every department to that of any school of the same size as Susquehanna in the country. The Men's Glee Club and the Ladies' Choral Club are surpassed only by professional clubs. The Choral and Operatic Society, inaugurated this year, concluded on Page 4

THIRD NUMBER ON S. U.'S STAR COURSE PROMISES TO BE VERY INTERESTING. MRS. OWEN IS KNOWN AS "A WOMAN OF ACCOMPLISHMENT"

Few American women have had such an interesting and brilliant career as Ruth Bryan Owen, wife of Major Reginald Owen, of the British Army, daughter of America's great Commoner, William Jennings Bryan.

Three years in the West Indies; three years in London, during the great war, during which time she was prominently identified in war relief work; three years in Egypt and then a trip around the world—these have been incidents of a busy life touching intimately the peoples of many countries, before, during, and after the war.

As a member of the executive committee of the American Women's Relief Fund, Mrs. Owen first attracted attention as an executive of unusual abilities. Associated with her in this big work were the leading women of England. She was a co-secretary and treasurer with Mrs. Herbert Hoover on the Economic Relief Committee of the American Fund, which conducted workrooms for unemployed women in different sections of London. She was also secretary of the Woolwich Girl's Club and was secretary of the Duchess of Marlborough's Maternity Hospital in London.

In Egypt Mrs. Owen was a war nurse in the British Voluntary Aid Detachment and was also in charge of the entertainment organizations among the British camps. She was in Palestine when the Turks were driven back and General Allenby and his forces finally occupied the Holy City.

For two years Mrs. Owen has been president of the largest Woman's Club in the State of Florida, where she resides, and is also president of the Community Council of Civic Clubs of Miami, Florida.

Mrs. Owen began her lecture work as a lecturer for the Extension Department of the University of Nebraska, and she has been a distinct success on the platform, inheriting much of her distinguished father's oratorical gifts. She is a pleasing and most convincing speaker, with a most charming personality.

Her most popular theme, "Modern Arabian Knights" will prove one of the season's treats.

Mrs. Owen's lecture will be given in Seibert Chapel Hall auditorium as the third number on the Star Course.

Dr. Kretschmann Spoke To Y Meeting Nov. 23

Religion and Education Were Subjects of Interesting Discourse by Seminary Instructor

On Tuesday evening, before the Thanksgiving recess, Dr. Kretschmann spoke on the subject, "Religion and Education." All members were very much impressed with what he said.

"First I must explain just what I mean by Education and Religion. Education means that we are college and university students; that we are engaged in developing ourselves mentally. And religion means that we are members of the Y. M. C. A. and members of some church.

"It is a sad fact indeed, that Religion and Education have been divorced. Education cannot succeed without Religion, and vice versa. Education should bring out the soul, preparing man in the fullest way possible. We want active minds; we want a good spiritual faculty. Separate Religion and Education and you have very little left.

"If you have Religion, you are established on a firm rock. An Almighty hand directs your life and mine; a Divine One shapes our ends. I like to

COACH FOLLMER IS ALREADY AT WORK WITH A SQUAD CONSISTING OF MANY NEW MEN AND QUITE A FEW VETERANS. KURTZ IS CAPTAIN

Before the players of the gridiron had time to turn in their uniforms, the call was made, and basket ball practice started. To merely say started gives one the wrong impression. Right off from the first night, and since then, at each practice more pep and heat has been shown that has been seen on the Alumni gymnasium floor for many a day. The first practice was Wednesday night. There were thirty-four men present. They indulged in practising putting the sphere in the new baskets, which are a great improvement. Coach Follmer then called the men to the side lines, and gave them a talk. First telling them the changes in rules, and giving the men a chance to ask questions and clear up the points of the game where they had become rusty. After the talk he gave the men a bit of playing, and right there any visitors present had their eyes opened to the fact that we are going to have one scrappy squad, and if the spectators show as much pep in their rooting, we can't help but have a most successful season.

The Varsity squad will not be chosen until the coming Friday night, and it will be some problem to select that group. Of last year's men we have left Capt. Kurtz, Haney, Stelgie, Shuntill, Shue and Don Young. There are quite a few of last year's Junior Varsity men out, and together with the new men, we at S. U. have a squad of which we can be very proud. There were seventeen reported for the forward positions, eighteen for the guards, and eight for the center, making a grand total of forty-three. This squad will be increased by quite a few this week, as several men were not able to turn out the first week.

On Thursday night, December seven, there will be a game between two of the Varsity teams. This will be the first opportunity for the students to see the men in action and we hope every person enrolled at S. U. will turn out that night. Our team opens its season with Western Maryland College, Thursday night, January 7th. Not everyone can play basketball, and only five can be on that team on the floor at one time, but there is not a boy, girl, or teacher who can't get down to that gym that night, and just yell, with all the power they have and let that team know that there are those about them who care what they do, and how they play. There is a hard schedule before the men, won't you do your bit by getting out on every opportunity given you and root with all your might. A five cent box of cough lozenges will relieve the feeling of hoarseness, but the stores don't sell anything to take away the feeling we get after a defeat. DO YOUR BIT.

Fenton Means Elected Captain of '26 Team

Earned Letter His Freshman Year. He Has Proved Himself an Able Player and Will be a Successful Leader

At the football banquet held last Friday night Fenton Means, of North Braddock High, was elected captain of the 1926 Orange and Maroon eleven, and Dan is to be complimented.

From his playing this past season he should prove an able leader. Means when in a game is fighting all the time, and his brand of football played under Coach Peters during his Freshman year won't be forgotten by those here at that time. His regular position is center and he will no doubt hold down that job next season, altho he played end this year, due to a scarcity of material.

The best of success is our wish for Means during his captaincy.

Report of Y. W. C. A. Meet at State College

Martha Ertel and Sara Hassinger Representatives from S. U.—Report Many Interesting Discussions

Martha Ertel and Sara Hassinger gave a most interesting report at the Y. W. meeting of the conference they attended at State College. Dr. Bruce Curri was the main speaker and leader at the conference. He organized discussion groups, explained them and then showed the correct way to take charge of one.

At the banquet the first evening the Susquehanna delegates noticed that there were representatives there from Wilson, Dickinson, Bucknell, Franklin and Marshall, University of Pittsburgh and many other schools.

Dr. Bruce Curri emphasized many times that the true meaning and purpose of discussion groups was to instill greater thinking into college students. He also brought out that among college students the true meaning of the Testaments was last and that the footnotes are crowding out the true meaning.

Some of the popular topics discussed at other colleges are: (1) Is college life strengthening or weakening on the students? (2) How honest should we be? (3) Is cribbing ever justifiable? (4) Is there a God? etc. The subjects can be campus problems, local or national problems, but they must be of vital interest to those who are going to discuss them.

Dr. Curri stressed the point that there should be leader groups in which the leaders could be trained. Some of the things a leader should do are: (1) be prepared on the topic, (2) keep interest, (3) summarize points, etc.

At one of these meetings Dr. Curri had a discussion group, of which he was the leader. He showed exactly how it should be done. The question was "Why do we go to college?" Many interesting viewpoints were expressed, such as (1) economic value, (2) social standing, (3) scholastic standing. The real reason was to render better service to mankind.

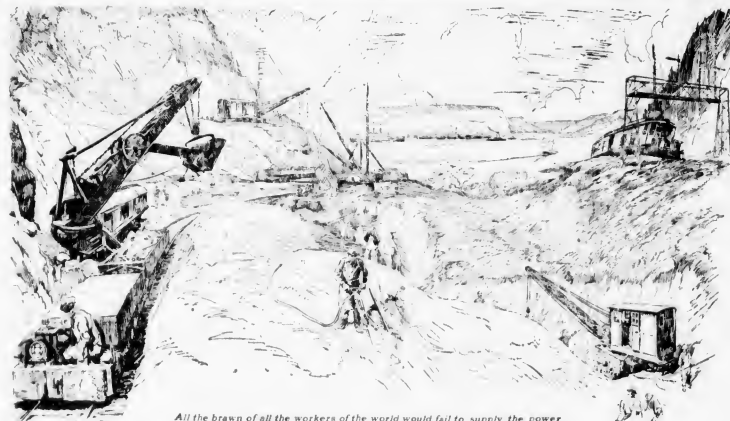

Discussion groups are going to be held in the Y. W. C. A. meetings at the beginning of the second semester. It is desired that each student should think of some real questions which are of vital importance. One question which is now confronting the student body is that of Reverence in Chapel.

ALUMNI

To the praying Colonels of the Midwest, and the Little Crusaders of the College situated on the banks of the broad flowing Susquehanna, we commend the action of the football squad of Hartwick Seminary.

Returning from their game at Selingsrove, they marched en masse into Grace Lutheran Church, Scranton, Sunday morning; anxious to get home, but taking time out for service. Teichert, '22, is pastor of this church.

He has a Men's Bible Class that is putting the Church on the map. They have a real Minstrel Show, which has more engagements than a Susquehanna Co-Ed just released from Freshman rules. Early in October they gave their program to the four winds, from station WOAN.

All the brains of all the workers of the world would fail to supply the power needed for our construction and production requirements. Modern civilization is based on cheap power readily applied to tasks of all kinds.

Machinery works: Man thinks

According to college tests, man develops one-eighth horsepower for short periods and one-twentieth in steady work. As a craftsman—a worker who uses brains—he is well worth his daily wage. But as a common laborer, matching brawn against motorized power, he is an expensive luxury.

With a fifty-horsepower motor, for instance, one man can do the work of 400 common laborers. He is paid far more for his brains than his brawn.

The great need of this and future generations is for men who can plan and direct. There is ample motorized machinery for all requirements of production and construction. But motorized machinery, no matter how ingenious, can never plan for itself.

And that is precisely where the college man comes in. Highly trained brains are needed more and more to think, plan, and direct tasks for the never-ending application of brawn-saving electricity.

In most long established industries the General Electric Company has brought about important changes making for better products with minimum human labor and expense. And in many new industries the G-E engineers have played a prominent part from the very beginning.

A new series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request. Ask for Booklet GEK-1.

B. and K. Banqueted Football Squad Friday

Speeches, Cheers, Wise Cracks Follow Sumptuous Repast Served Little Crusaders at Season's Close

Bond and Key fraternity of Susquehanna University was host to the football squad at a banquet given in their honor last Friday evening at the Bond and Key home. Of the 35 men present, 24 were on the squad. The others were the coach, the managers and other guests.

After a delicious turkey dinner, which included all that one could desire and much more than one could eat, Toastmaster Keener introduced the speakers. A pleasing character of the toasts was that they were all short and to the point. Thruout, the banquet was peppy and there was no drag to it.

Prof. Keener made a few wise cracks, as is his custom, and then called upon Coach Wingard as the first speaker. It was at this time that the coach announced his resignation from that position. The squad surely paid him tribute when they put their hearts into a real A-N-N-A for him.

Capt. Stuemple then responded with a short talk, after which Captain-elect Means expressed his appreciation to the squad for the honor bestowed upon him and asked the team for the same cooperation that they gave "Ernie."

Prof. Keener told a few more and announced Professor Mowles as the next speaker. Susquehanna's director of athletics gave a very interesting talk, in the course of which he assured the squad that the Athletic Association would do its best to find another good coach.

Hayes Gordon, captain of last year's team, came next with a few wise ones, after which Billie Brubaker, who will manage the team next year, responded in a few words. Dr. Chas. Fisher, intimated that his presence there was due, not only to the fact that he was a member of the Athletic Board, but also because he had quite a few of the members of the squad in his accounting classes. Stewart Bannon, '24, who was a four letter man at Susquehanna, followed with a few of his experiences as a high school coach. His talk was appreciated because of the fact that many of the men expect to coach next year. Uncle Frank then got in his cuts about the boys returning equipment. He finished up in the approved manner, however, and sat down, as did all the other speakers, amidst a storm of applause.

The cheer leader led the squad in a yell for Bond and Key in appreciation for the banquet tendered them, the Alma Mater was sung and after a half hour of mingling and open discussion the men left for their rooms.

EXCHANGE

From Missouri co-eds comes this new indignity: "Girls of the freshman class shall wear their stockings, so that the articulation between the femur and tibia in which the patella shares, shall be protected from vicissitudes of weather and inconsistency of winds so that male students may keep their minds on their lessons."

There you are. Are we not powerless in face of such drastic regulations. But don't worry Frosh, by and by you'll be inflicting similar punishments.

The University of Oregon now holds a record of 4,947 alumni, as shown in the alumni records issued in July. Those who have taken the ordinary degree following four years of completed work number 2,888, while those in the School of Law add 751 more.

"The Campus" of Allegheny College has refused to conduct a student poll with regard to the World Court issue. There has been almost universal consent among the colleges and universities to take such a poll. "The Campus" takes the stand that the student body as a whole is too ignorant of the subject to vote intelligently on it.

CONCERT BY SUSQUEHANNA UNIVERSITY ORATORIO SOCIETY

The combined Glee Clubs of the University, known as the University Oratorio Society, will give two works which have long been favorites with the leading singing societies of this and other countries, Rossini's Stabat Mater and Gounod's Gallia, in concert on Tuesday, December 15th, 8:15 p. m. in Seibert Chapel Hall.

No seats will be reserved. General admission 75c. A special concession will be made to holders of Star Course tickets. On presenting the Star Course ticket at room 1, Conservatory of Music, between 4 and 5 p. m. on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday or Friday, or at the box office the evening of the concert, a ticket will be sold for 50c to patrons of the Star Course.

The following artists have been engaged: Mrs. May Ebrey Hotz, soprano, and Mr. Bernard Poland, tenor, are acclaimed the best in Philadelphia music circles and both artists have been well received by Selingrove audiences on former appearances. Their return is sure to add many admirers and friends for them in the forthcoming concert.

Miss Mary Lavinia Young, teacher of voice in the Conservatory of Music, scored a success in the recent Faculty recital, and further comment seems unnecessary at this time.

Mr. M. P. Moller, Jr., of Hagers town, Md., is one of our University men, having graduated but a few years ago. He is now studying voice in Baltimore under an able instructor, and his development vocally is a matter of interest to his S. U. friends.

The chorus has showed the best of spirit in rehearsals and will carry its part of the program in a very satisfactory ensemble.

Prof. P. M. Linebaugh will be at the organ and Miss Mary Pottelger at the piano. The concert will be under the direction of Prof. E. Edwin Sheldon.

Edgar Wingard Has Resigned As Coach

Announced Resignation as Coach of Susquehanna's Football Team at Banquet

Among the more conspicuous events of the football banquet last Friday evening was the address of Coach Wingard. Mr. Wingard took advantage of the assembly of those most concerned to announce officially his resignation as coach of Susquehanna's football team. In the course of his remarks Mr. Wingard pointed out the fact that even though a number of scores were not in his favor, it does not follow that the season was a failure. Intelligent analysis of the schedule in the light of available facts bears testimony to the truth of his statement.

Mr. Wingard spoke of the deep regret that he felt at the thought of leaving the service of his Alma Mater and possibly the coaching game. He frankly admitted that some mistakes had been made, but added that they were of the head and not of the heart, as antipathy on the part of any member of the team was not at all mutual.

In closing Mr. Wingard delivered a very timely admonition against knocking. Usually, it is those not in a position to speak who are most active in that way. Comment, adverse or otherwise, is bound by the facts of human nature to reach its subject. Unkind and uninformed criticism cannot lend moral support to one who is giving his best.

In justice to our own sense of fairness, we cannot but honor Mr. Wingard for his spirit of self-sacrifice in stepping out in the hope that good to S. U. may be the ultimate result. As coach or spectator, his interest is the same.

LIFE'S BAR-ROOM

When but a boy of carefree years
I followed far a mystic croon
And curbing all my youthful fears
I knocked, and entered life's saloon.

The barroom tables were of gold
And fringed about with divers thorns.
So with a step less brave than hold
I reached the bar of wine-filled horns.

Fate was the bar-man, his the croon,
And setting out great horns of ale
He bade me choose—all in his tune
He hummed about some choice cocktail.

One horn was labeled love, one hate,
One labeled truth, seemed dull and grim;

The horn of joy had sorrow as its mate,
Some sparkled ruby-red, some passive, dim.

I viewed the labels quite at loss
To guess for which one I would reach,

Then without thinking of the cost
I slowly took a sip—from each.

MERRY CHRISTMAS --- HAPPY NEW YEAR

A DIRECTOR OF SUSQUEHANNA HONORED AT HAGERSTOWN, MD.

M. P. Moller, the Master Pipe Organ Builder of America, Celebrated the Fiftieth Anniversary of His Pipe Organ Business in United States

The fiftieth anniversary of the M. P. Moller Pipe Organ Manufacturing Business was celebrated on Tuesday evening, December 8th, at Hagerstown, Md. In the large construction room of the new addition to the plant. More than 700 were seated at the heavily laden banquet tables, among whom were President Chas. T. Alkens, Senator Charles Steele, William A. Hasting, Rev. Dr. Jacob Diehl and First National Bank President Roscoe C. North.

The banquet was a sumptuous lay-out and the 500 employees, together with more than 200 visiting friends, from various sections of the United States, all joined in acclaiming Mr. M. P. Moller the Master Pipe Organ Builder of the World. The very clever toastmaster was quite generous in calling on so many to respond to toasts and all vied with each other in their praises of the wonderful achievements of Mr. Moller, in the development of the Pipe Organ to what it is now, as manufactured in his great plant. No man ever received more splendid accolades or more hearty congratulations on his marvelous business ability and his high type of Christian manhood and integrity, as always manifested in his business transactions and fellowship, than did Mr. Moller on that memorable Tuesday night. Beautiful references were made to the splendid womanhood of Mrs. Moller and her well regulated children. One of the most beautiful tributes to his father was made by "Ted" M. P. Moller, Jr., who is a graduate of Susquehanna and has gone into his father's organization and is one of the Official Board of the Organ Factory. Mr. Moller has built up a splendid organization and has associated with him some of the most expert pipe organ men to be found anywhere, in consequence of which the M. P. Moller Pipe Organ is the best that can be built.

The employees presented Mr. Moller with a beautiful gold loving cup which reflects the high esteem in which he is held, by those in his employ. The

George A. Martin and Arthur Esterbrook Now Assist Prof. Mowles in Physical Education Work

Enrollment in the Physical Education Department this semester has shown a remarkable increase over that of preceding years. At present there are over 80 Sophomores and 140 Freshmen taking work in this department of which total number there are about 160 girls and 120 boys.

Miss Reeder is ably directing the activities in this line for the girls, but Prof. Mowles, because of the greater number of male students, has been forced to subdivide his classes. Messrs. George A. Martin, A. B. and Frank Esterbrook are assisting him in the strenuous task of leading these subdivisions, which are seven in number.

The Susquehanna feels in duty bound to call the attention of the student body to the work of these young men as a typical example of true Susquehanna spirit and sacrifice. Whatever their financial remuneration, if they receive any, they are giving up valuable time, that Prof. Mowles can be free to devote more time to the more important details of his position. Such a spirit is truly commendable, and we hope that more of the student body might be moved by a like spirit to some similarly worthy cause.

Dr. Follmer Truly An Inspiration to All Susquehannians

CONCEDED TO BE ONE OF THE MOST RESPECTED AND EFFICIENT INSTRUCTORS AT S. U. A WONDERFUL TEACHER AND A REAL FRIEND

An eminent scholar, teacher and friend, who holds a high place of esteem in the heart of every Susquehanna student is Dr. Harold Newton Follmer, professor of the social sciences, Susquehanna University.

Dr. Follmer is a native of Northumberland county. He is the son of William G. and Esther (Foy) Follmer and was born in the town of Milton, Pa., June 11, 1861. His early life was spent with his parents and in 1881 he came as a student to Missionary Institute, then a junior college, and now our own Susquehanna University.

In 1883 he entered the junior class at Wittenberg College, Springfield, Ohio, and was graduated from that institution with the degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1885. After graduating from college Mr. Follmer returned to his native territory and enrolled in the Theological School of Susquehanna University. He was graduated from the seminary in 1887 and was ordained to the Evangelical Lutheran ministry in that year.

His first pastorate was at Yeagerstown, Pa., from 1887 to 1892. During his successful ministry in St. Matthew's Lutheran Church of that town he received the degree Master of Arts from Wittenberg College. In 1893 Rev.

AT TWILIGHT

I walked in the valley at twilight—
Down by the old mill stream
Where the snow lay thick on the hemlock
Covering the luxuriant green.

I paused in the valley at twilight
While the stars did softly gleam.
And formed each perfect likeness
On the bosom of the stream.

I thought in the valley at twilight
Of the spirit of Christmas Day;
Of Christ in a lonely manger,
And the price He had to pay.

And I vowed in the valley at twilight
That no matter how deep the despair—
Christmas would always be Christmas
If the spirit of Christ were there.

RUTH BRYAN OWEN WAS THIRD STAR COURSE NUMBER

Daughter of the Famous "William Jennings" Gave an Unusual Lecture Upon the Subject, "Modern Arabian Nights"

Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of the late William Jennings Bryan, appeared at Susquehanna last Wednesday as the lecturer of the third number of the Star Course. This lecture was interesting and moving thru its whole delivery. No doubt she inherits the oratorical ability from her father. In reality the lecture was a plea for world arbitration, made thru the interesting medium of a colorful descriptive exposition of the World War in that phase which it exhibited in the Holy Lands.

Mrs. Owen was in the Holy Lands during the war in order that she might be near her husband, who was an officer in the British Army. She was in a position to witness many of the thrilling events that occurred there.

Musical Clubs Presented Oratorio

GOUNOD'S "GALLIA" AND ROSINI'S "STABAT MATER" WERE SUNG BY CHORAL AND OPERATIC SOCIETY ASSISTING DISTINGUISHED ARTISTS

Mid-winter concert of the University Oratorio Society was given in Seibert Chapel Hall on Tuesday evening of this week under the direction of E. Edwin Sheldon, director of Susquehanna's Conservatory of Music.

The choros of forty-seven voices was ably assisted by Mrs. May Ebrey Hotz, soprano, of Philadelphia; Miss Mary Lavinia Young, mezzo-soprano, teacher of voice at Susquehanna; Bernard Poland, tenor, of Philadelphia, and Matthias P. Moller, Jr., bass, of Hagerstown.

The program follows:

REPORT OF PRE-MEDIC CLUB

At the regular meeting of the Pre-Medic Club, the Constitution was adopted. The discussion on entrance requirements of the various medical schools was continued. The Pre-Medic course as offered at Susquehanna was discussed and a few changes were suggested. Various members gave reports on newspaper clippings. Dr. Surface emphasized the value of careful investigation in the medical field, to mankind.

MISS KEISER SANG AT SUNBURY

Miss Margaret Keiser, a Senior in the Susquehanna Conservatory of Music, sang in a quartet of the First Presbyterian Church of Sunbury Sunday evening.

The quartet is under the direction of Mrs. Edgar R. Wingard, of Selinsgrove, and is well known for its work thruout the region. Miss Keiser substituted for the soprano. Many who heard the quartet, commented very favorably upon Miss Keiser's voice.

To gain a good reputation let us endeavor to be what we desire to appear.

Cairo, the Egyptian city of the narrow streets and small shops, was the post at which she was located for quite a while. She spoke very entertainingly of the Cairo method of shopping and gave several amusing instances in which her friends and she had figured. Buying is accompanied by much discussion and passersby come in and take a hand in the argument, expecting of course, to be recompensed later by the shop keeper. Mrs. Owen told of a case where she received an amethyst for bringing a few of her friends in.

During the time she spent inairo, a Turkish army was slowly wending its way towards the banks of the Suez Canal. This resulted in preparation for 100,000 men to penetrate the Holy Lands. As they had to cross the Sinai Wilderness, thru which the Children of Israel had wandered, they had to lay pipe lines and install pumps, telegraph and telephone lines in order to feed the fighting unit. The mountains of Palestine prevented them from relying any longer upon their pumps for water. The engineers found the old water works of Jerusalem, built by Pontius Pilate, which they made use of. Nearly they found records that Pilate had been accused of graft in connection with the building of the reservoir.

Camouflage was made use of to advantage by the British troops. Donkeys dragging long ropes were started in a desired direction. Scouts from the Turkish planes reported the cavalry to be moving a certain direction. In reality the army and the cavalry were slowly surrounding the Turkish army. The part surrounded surrendered and a General of the Turkish Army gave up a star he had received from the Sultan. This star was given to an Adjutant, who gave it to Mrs. Owen. At last the key mountain to the city of Jerusalem was taken and a camp close, in search of eggs, ventured too close to the city, and the inhabitants came out and offered to surrender to him. He had to tell them of course that he had not the authority to take

Lee Boyer Attended Great Inter-Collegiate World Court Conference Held at Princeton Last Week

Of all the colleges in the United States that helped crystallize undergraduate opinion on the World Court, Princeton certainly ranks foremost.

On December 11th representatives of 230 colleges and universities came flocking to the beautiful campus of Princeton University. Upon arrival at the station they were met by Freshmen who guided them to Murray Dodge Hall, where enrollment was accomplished. Upon enrolling the delegates were given a ticket which admitted them to the University dining hall, known as the Commons, another that admitted them to a special section of Alexander Hall, where the group meetings met, and another ticket that stated to what conference group they belonged as well as to their place of lodging. Representatives of the various clubs were at hand to escort the guests to their respective abodes.

Princeton is especially fitted to care for such a gathering, for they have many spacious and elaborate club houses, each of which will accommodate thirty guests very easily. It is only on special occasions that the club houses are used for lodging purposes.

CHRISTMAS

Once again, we are about to commemorate the anniversary of our Saviour's birth. Once again, the student body of the world joins in joyous anticipation. But, will this anticipation be realized by everyone? Yes, providing the true significance of the day is born in mind.

Too much anticipation of gifts to be received will pervert this day from a day of joyous giving to a time of selfish receiving. God made the greatest sacrifice when he gave his only Son, who in turn gave his life for us. We are expected to give as they gave, freely, that others may be happy, not that we may receive in return, gifts of greater intrinsic value. If we are not prompted by the true Christian spirit, then giving is a hypocrisy.

As the days bring us closer to this great festival, let us consider why we should give. Let us not forget the many, many of His children, who do not know the Great Story. Let us tell it to them, and sing out His praises anew, that all the ends of the earth shall know the Great Truth and rejoice with us.

CHRISTMAS

The Christmas season is here. For us it will mean happiness, as we are doing home with the expectancy of meeting those who are dear to us, happy over the gifts we will receive, and overjoyed with the vacation from the books. In the excitement we are apt to lose sight of the true meaning of Christmas, the time of the greatest gift of all time—that which our God gave to the world as the highest tribute of love, his own Son. The spirit of the Yuletide is gifts of love, and all as we exclaim: "That is the light which I consider it."

Perhaps so. We have completed the first lap of our school year and are returning to those who love us, to those who have sacrificed to keep us in school, to those who have dreamed of a brilliant future for us, our parents.

In the spirit of Christmas they have sent us here. Are we returning home in the same spirit? Have we kept the faith? Have we filled the unforfeited minutes with sixty seconds worth of distance run, and have we striven to live up to the high ideals they have set for us?

Let us reflect and consider if we have fallen down in any of these things. Give us the love of Christ and we will have much to us until we are ready to say one of our secret prayers: "God, we begin those who love us, our parents and our friends."

TRACK

Track candidates were called into the gymnasium, the indoor track and coach, for the purpose of entering a line on the meet and attendance for a series of lectures to help the men in their training.

These lectures are given every Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock and all who are scheduled in track should be present. Let's make this a banner year, and it can only be done by all pulling together.

A stiff schedule is being prepared by Manager Wagner, so let's get behind the boys and urge them to fight and win.

When we consider what a nation loses through ignorance, it is folly to try and save on education.

There is no wrong a man can do but is a thwarting of the living right.

DEBATING CLUB

On Thursday evening of last week, about forty students were present at the weekly meeting of the Debating Club in Gustavus Adolphus Hall. Conflicting activities were largely responsible for the small attendance, which in no way impaired the excellence of the debate which was given.

The meeting was called to order by President Lee Boyer. The subject of the evening's debate was: Resolved—That the United States should enter the League of Nations. The affirmative side was upheld by Misses Eleanor Birk and Laura Arnold; the negative by Misses Martha Larson and Naomi Fogle. Clear, logical arguments, forcibly presented and indicative of extensive research and preparation were advanced by each participant.

The decision rendered by the judges was in favor of the negative. The debate was followed by a few remarks by Dr. Woodman and Dr. Kern, after which the meeting was adjourned.

GIRLS' BASKET BALL

Girls' basket ball promises to furnish a great deal of excitement during the coming season. Much enthusiasm and keen competition has been manifested among the classes in their previous contests. The girls are anxiously looking forward to the games. The ability of last year's teams is well known and the Freshman class boasts several stars who will certainly supply opposition.

Each team will play two games. A trophy will be awarded to the team winning both its games.

Man's greatest fault is and remains—that he has so many small ones. Truth is the very life blood of the spirit—we starve in its absence.

Mr. Mean Well may be pleasant, but it's Mr. Do Well who is practical.

REV. LINEBAUGH ADDRESSED Y. M. AND Y. W. MEETING

Tuesday evening the Y. M. and Y. W. held their joint meeting for December. Rev. Linebaugh, of Dayton, Ohio, was the speaker. He took as his subject, "The Rolling Stone." He said in part:

"I suppose you have all heard of that proverb spoken long ago: 'A rolling stone gathers no moss.' I wish to add though, that a rolling stone gets polished."

"This summer I traveled thru the New England States, and while there, I visited some of the great historical landmarks of America. Among the most important of these was Plymouth Rock."

"As I gazed at the brown granite it seemed to change into a crystal, that revolved. And then I saw in the crystal the following: First a great panorama; the great theological question which puzzled our forefathers."

"In England there were three religious sects which finally left the country. The Catholics who left England and founded Baltimore; the Puritans who came to America, and the Separatists who finished their great work in this country."

"The stone revolved again, and I saw the beginning of American education. There stood Harvard, the institution that cost two thousand dollars. Today the American school property is worth over three billions of dollars, and there are over twenty million people engaged in the work of education."

"And now the stone had turned, and I saw the question of World relationship. I saw that the United States could not stand away from the rest of the world. Some day the nations will beat their shields into plough shares and their swords into pruning hooks. And friends, that day is not far distant. America is God's last experiment. We must not fail, we cannot fail. 'As goes America so goes the world; as goes America so goes the kingdom of God.' It is the duty of America to save the rest of the world. 'This is the message that I got from Plymouth Rock, as I gazed into it last summer.'"

SEIBERT HALL

Dear Joan:

The saying that a calm follows every storm or that factors in life move in cycles has certainly been proved in Seibert Hall during the past week. History examinations serve some purpose, namely, to prove to our preceptresses that Co-eds do study once in a while. However, the ordeal being over, this week-end brings the calm. Everyone is looking forward to vacation.

We have had very few visitors, due perhaps to the fact that only a few days remain before the holidays. Joe Grossbeck, Lillian Siglow, and a friend from Beckley Business College in Harborsburg visited Seibert Hall. Mr. and Mrs. Kemble from Mount Carmel visited their daughter Betty. Florence Trometer was visited by her sister, brother and sister-in-law from Gordon.

Your best pal,

Betty.

DRAMATIC RECITAL

Wednesday evening a recital will be given at 8:15 in Chapel Hall by the class of expression. The program will consist of readings by Sara Hasting, Essex Bortford and Professor Keener and a sketch entitled "Uncle's Will." The sketch is being coached by Anna Geating. Those of the cast are Sylvia Markley, Luther Weaver, and George Martin. The recital is free to all.

THANKS

The Student Council wishes to thank Paul Hoover '29, for his help in the beginning of the Susquehanna publicity campaign. Mr. Hoover is greatly responsible for the concrete lettering on the road-bank in front of the campus, and we congratulate him on his willingness to work for the betterment of Susquehanna University. We need more Freshmen of his type.

NON-SORORITY PARTY

The non-sorority girls of Susquehanna University entertained at a Christmas party on Saturday evening. The social hall was beautifully decorated in red and green, and with the moon beaming forth from one corner of the room, it reminded one of a Christmas evening.

With Williams at the piano and Felton assisting him upon a saxophone there was much inspiration for merriment. The room seemed filled with Christmas enthusiasm and everyone seemed to enjoy themselves to the utmost.

S. U. REPRESENTED AT PRINCETON CONFERENCE

poses as it is a ruling at Princeton that all students must room in the dormitories.

Late on Friday afternoon Dr. Hibben, president of Princeton, held a very informal reception at his campus headquarters, known as Prospect. Dr. Hibben was especially interesting to Susquehanna's delegate, Lee E. Boyer, for Dr. Hibben is the author of our text in Inductive and Deductive Logic, which he had studied just a year ago. Therefore the introduction to Dr. Hibben was by no means a new event.

On Friday evening the most interesting event took place—debate on the World Court issue, with Senator Irvine L. Lenroot, of Wisconsin, upholding the affirmative side and the famous criminal lawyer, Clarence Darrow, upholding the negative side. Each speaker was allowed 45 minutes to speak and the affirmative was allowed a chance for rebuttal. Senator Lenroot gave a carefully prepared debate, which of course was given a hearty reception by the pro-World Court delegates. Darrow on the other hand caused the World Court to look ridiculous by the use of the most thoughtful strategy. Indeed an audience ignorant of the merits of the court might easily have been swayed to the negative. No decision was given, for the debate was scheduled merely to present both sides of the issue.

On Saturday forenoon the delegates were divided into groups of 15, which met at various club houses under skillful leadership to discuss various topics, all of which led up to the thought of International organization. The group in which Susquehanna was placed was led by Norman Thomas, who was a former candidate for Governor of New York and Mayor of New York City on the subject of Imperialism and Peace.

On Saturday noon the delegates congregated before Nassau Hall to take a group picture.

Saturday afternoon was spent in discussing international problems in open forum manner.

The final meeting was addressed by Herbert S. Houston, member of American Committee of International Chamber of Commerce, and Dr. George E. Vincent, president of the Rockefeller Foundation.

For a detailed report of these meetings consult the New York Times, which is in the Library thru the influence of S. U.'s Debate Association.

Mr. Boyer left Princeton believing more than ever that more effective World Cooperation is necessary, but also aware of the great responsibilities that are necessarily connected. However, the grandeur of Princeton itself and the interest of great men willing to give their all to advance the cause of humanity should challenge the entire undergraduate body of students to the lofty opportunities that are awaiting the present developing generation.

the city, but that his army would be along soon to accommodate them. The British Army entered the city without a shot having been fired.

The total cost in casualties for the entire campaign in Egypt was but 100,000 men. That is not a large number for people used to large numbers. So many things happened, however, that Mrs. Owen couldn't think of them as numbers. She thought of them as some mothers' boys, as they should be thought of. There were heartaches back home somewhere. Perhaps a home left desolate or a family left with no means of support whatever. Mrs. Owens made a plea for world peace that could not be denied and she called for popular opinion to arise and demand that there should be no more wars. America is the last hope of the world just now. We as Americans can not afford to let her fail.

A DIRECTOR OF S. U. HONORED AT HAGERSTOWN

dispersed, feeling that it was a happy day for America, when the 17-year-old lad left the rocky shores of Denmark and came to the "land of opportunity" to become the Master Organ Builder of the United States. Mr. Moller worked in Warren, Pa., as a cabinet maker, in the factory of one of his own countrymen, whose lovely daughter afterward became his faithful and helpful wife and the excellent Christian mother of M. P. Moller, Jr., Louise, Mary Dagmar and Martha Moller.

Mathias Peter Moller, Sr., was born in Denmark on the Baltic Sea and spent his boyhood on his father's farm, but at the age of 17 he came to America, with a married sister, and worked in an organ factory at Erie, Pa., where he became expert in wood working.

After two years at Erie, he moved to Warren, where his sister lived, and it was there that he built his first organ in 1875 and sold it to the Warren Methodist Church for $500.00, with which he went to Philadelphia and started a small factory, but two years later he went to Greencastle, Pa., where he became discouraged on account of lack of capital.

Hagerstown, Md., was in the midst of her development as an industrial town and was looking for new industries, so a few of the most active men of business across the Mason-Dixon line offered Mr. Moller special inducements, in the form of location and financial assistance, if he would bring his organ business to their rapidly growing city, so he moved into Maryland with his organ business and it soon developed into a busy industry, but again he met with misfortune, in the form of a fire, which destroyed his factory and left him where he had originally started. Again he received encouragement and assistance from his Hagerstown friends and rebuilt his factory, which has been enlarged a number of times and just now additions are being made which will double the size and increase the capacity to 365 organs in a single year. One firm has placed an order for 91 organs, at $22,500.00 each. More than 4,000 Pipe Organs have been built by the Moller Organ Factory, within the past 25 years and the master production of the factory is the magnificent creation, recently installed in the great auditorium at Washington, D. C. It has 6,000 pipes, no two of which are of the same size and contains 50 miles of wire. There are seven apartments, all controlled electrically by a four manual console.

This Master Organ Builder has been a member of the Board of Directors of Susquehanna University for 25 years and is very highly esteemed, as a safe advisor and is one of the most valuable members of the Board. He is a staunch financial supporter and has a large influence upon all who know him, because of his gentle manner and excellent Christian manhood.

Mr. Moller recently installed the splendid three manual organ in our new Chapel Hall and the old one, which he installed 18 years ago, is about to be re-installed in the new addition to the Conservatory of Music.

One of the first organs built by Mr. Moller, in Hagerstown, has recently been dismantled in the Trinity Lutheran Church of Selinsgrove, and is to be replaced by another Moller organ of latest type.

Why You Need This Guide

"It is safe to say that failure to guide and direct study is the weak point in the whole educational machine." Prof. G. M. Whipple, U. of Michigan.

"The successful men in college do not seem to be very happy. Most of them, especially the athletes are overworked." Prof. H. S. Canby, Yale.

"Misdirected labor, though honest and well intentioned may lead to naught. Among the most important things for the student to learn is how to study. Without knowledge of this his labor may be largely in vain." Prof. G. F. Swain, M. I. T.
"To students who have never learnt 'How to Study,' work is very often a chastisement, a flagellation, and an insuperable obstacle to contentment." Prof. A. Inglis, Harvard.
"HOW TO STUDY" will show you how to avoid all misdirected effort.

ETERNITY

I found a valley where the Old Years wait.

And found one weeping in the darkness there

Because the world loud mocked his snowy hair
And goaded him into a faster gait.

I found a hidden copse where New Years stay.

And one was straining like a tethered hound,

Spilling upon the air a varied joyful sound.

And fretting at the Old Year's long delay.

It seemed so queer to me that man should lend

His aid and bid the New Year try to leap

Over and touch the Old—while in between Lies man's instant life (Beginning-End).—L. L.

DR. FOLLMER TRULY AN INSPIR-ATION TO ALL SUSQUEHANNIANS

Follmer was called to serve as pastor in Zion Lutheran Church, Lawrenceville, Pittsburgh, Pa. He served this charge earnestly and diligently for eight years, when he accepted a call to a pastorate in Huntingdon, Pa., in 1901. He had a fruitful ministry in Huntingdon for eight years and in 1909 he answered the call from his alma mater and since then Dr. Follmer has been serving with loyal devotion in a field of larger usefulness.

Wittenberg College conferred upon him the most excellent degree Doctor of Divinity in 1913 and the following year he received the honorary degree
Doctor of Divinity from Susquehanna University.

Dr. Follmer is faculty adviser to the men's and to the women's cooperative student government associations as well as faculty representative of the committee on publications. He is course adviser of the social science courses. Besides being an able teacher in this department Dr. Follmer is a recognized theologian of no little note and is professor of practical theology in the Susquehanna University seminary.

Dr. Follmer was married to Miss
Anna Marie Schoch, of Selingsgrove, September 6, 1887. To this union were born two sons and one daughter. Professor Harold V. Follmer, the successor and popular superintendent of schools of Snyder county, and who was recently re-elected basketball coach of Susquehanna University, Frank S.
Follmer, of Narbeth, Pa., is eastern sales manager for the Tiona Petroleum Company, with offices in Philadelphia.
E. Louise Follmer is deceased.

Although Dr. Follmer has passed the meridian of life his power as a teacher is ever increasing and those whose good fortune it is to sit at his feet recognize the fact that they are privileged to learn from an able master of the subject. He is a sincere seeker and a valiant proclaimer of the truth that makes men free. It has been rightfully written of him that his "eminent fairness has won us, his friends, and ever kept our esteem." "Whose kindness, unassuming modesty, ever increasing teaching power and whole-hearted interest in the welfare of the students have assured him a place in the heart of every Susquehanna student."

Dr. Follmer has been and will continue to exert a mighty influence for right and righteousness upon every one with whom he comes in contact, and in his life he has incorporated the elements of true greatness. The high esteem which he has won from all who know him is well merited. He is beloved and respected by a host of people.

In this limited article it is not possible to mention all his achievements and it is difficult to do him complete justice. This is but a feeble attempt to recognize his magnitude and besides, Dr. Follmer's complete reservation and his unassuming modesty resents publicity. So with an apology the writer joins Dr. Follmer's multitude of friends in wishing him continued success in his fully consecrated life of service.

Dr. Woodruff at State Teachers' Convention

ATTENDED ANNUAL SESSION OF PENNSYLVANIA STATE EDUCATION ASSOCIATION HELD AT SCRANTON DURING CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS

Dr. John I. Woodruff represented Susquehanna University at the annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Education Association held at Scranton, Pa., Dec. 28-31 inclusive. The association has been and still is largely under the control of Public School interests, but the Colleges and Universities of the State are taking a larger part every year. Many of the colleges of Pennsylvania were represented.

The convention was presided over by Miss Jessie Gray, president of the Association, and was addressed by eminent educators from different parts of the country. There were but three Pennsylvania men who spoke to the general session. These were United States Senator Geo. Wharton Pepper, Dr. Francis B. Haas, of Muhlenberg, and State Superintendent of the State Department of Public Instruction. The others were from other States so that

SUSQUEHANNA FIVE TO OPPOSE LORETTO, JUNIATA AND PENN STATE AGGREGATIONS ON TRIP TO WESTERN PART OF STATE THIS WEEK-END

The Susquehanna basket ball team will embark next Thursday, for Loretto, where they will play their first game off their own floor this season. From Loretto they travel to Huntingdon, where on Friday night they will oppose for the second time this season the strong Juniata squad which triumphed over S. U. on the home floor last Friday night.

On Saturday they will journey to State College, where they will meet the powerful Penn State aggregation who so recently, trimmed Juniata to a 32-22 score.

Coach Follmer and the team itself is not disregarding of the strength of these opponents and they know that only eight very minute of the game can bring victory for S. U.

St. Francis is a new opponent for Susquehanna and her strength can not be questioned. But, if the local boys show as much fight in this game as they did in the first two games of the basket ball season the results are certain to be very favorable to Susquehanna.

COLLEGE

Harry Rice and Paul Hauke liked to Hughesville Friday. The heavy snowfall made it necessary for them to return on the train.

Leon Messner '25 and Hayes Cromer Gordon '26 motored to Scranton on Friday.

The Steigle brothers, Eugene and Freddy, attended a banquet given in their honor at Sunbury over the week-end.

Hayes C. Gordon '26 represented Mu Alpha Chapter of Susquehanna University at the annual Conclave of Phi Mu Delta on December 27 and 28. Gamma Gamma chapter, University of Illinois, was the host this year and Hayes reports a royal entertainment.

PUBLICITY

Some people know of Susquehanna University, while others know only of the river bearing that name. It is our duty to let them think first of the school. Newspaper articles are of interest to nearly everyone, and yet they cost but little. If we could re-establish the department to send articles to the newspapers, that department would do a world of good for Susquehanna.

Omega Delta Sigma Held Winter Frolic

Held Reception in Honor of Many of the New Girls. Sorority Members and Guests Number About Eighty

Saturday night the Gymnasium was the scene of a mid-winter frolic given by the Omega Delta Sigma Sorority girls. There were about fifty invited guests, who, with the Sorority members, spent the evening in a most enjoyable manner.

The color scheme of green and white, carried out in the decorations, was simple but effective. Ropes of laurel and greens were suspended from the center of the ceiling to the balcony and spruce and laurel were effectively banked against the gymnasium walls.

The arrangement of the orchestra in the center of the floor was unique. The music was furnished by Nesbit's Ramblers and was all that it should have been. Confetti, serpentine, and cotton snowballs were thrown and the scene was one of much merriment.

INTEREST IN DEBATE AGAIN RENEWED

The debating club met in the old Chapel Hall on Thursday evening, for the first time since the holiday season. From the arguments and enthusiasm shown by the debaters, we conclude that the easy life of vacation had nothing to do with their forensic powers.

The question for debate was—Resolved: That the United States should join the League of Nations. The affirmative being upheld by Harold Ditzler and Lee Boyer, and the Negative by Harold Swank and Wm. Schwirian. The judges decided in favor of the Negative.

Since we are nearing the time when we will complete with other schools and colleges, the spirit of debate must not wane. It seems that the debaters are enthusiastic, but the number attending the debates is not large enough. If we expect our team to win, we will have to boost it by attending the debates and by cheering. Come to debating club and help make the team a success.

SEMINARY NOTES

Keller '26 is supplying at Minersville during January and February and is ably filling the position. He is well liked by both congregations.

Hanks '26 supplied at Yeagertown. Law '26 preached at his regular charge.

Shaffer '26 supplied at the Goss charge at Milton.

Swartz '26 preached at his regular charge at Kratzerville.

Beahm '27 visited at home.

Beard '27 visited at home.

Derr '27 accompanied Keller to Minersville and then proceeded to his home.

Harmon '27 supplied at New Berlin. Kenner '27 supplied at Killingier. Knoebel '27. We could not expect anything else. He went to see his wife.

Now that the Seminararians have completed their football season, they are earnestly practicing for the oncoming basket ball rush and will push the College teams to the extreme before they will give in and in fact when the season is over we think the cup will belong to the Sem.

SEIBERT HALL NEWS NOTES

Dear Betty:

Again we are back at old Susquehanna. The girls arrived any time between Monday noon and Wednesday evening. Everyone seemed glad to be back, and few left for their homes this week-end. Among those who did leave were Hannah Plintner, Joyce Bousum, Mary Schure, Martha Persing and Betty Kemble.

As exams are coming soon, everybody seems to be getting down to studying. There is not much to say, so I will close.

Love,
Co-Eds.

Prof. Keener Popular and Efficient Teacher

IS ONE OF SUSQUEHANNA'S BEST LIKED AND MOST HIGHLY KNOWN TEACHERS. HAS TRAINED MANY STUDENTS IN ART OF PUBLIC SPEAKING

He is our own Prof. Keener. He has no rivals. He believes in being secretive, concerning one's age. When asked when he was born, he evaded the question. Perhaps he thought that some one might be intelligent enough to figure from that how old he was. However, we will let that pass, as it is very commendable in him.

These are the statistics we learned from him. Still refusing to mention any dates, he stated that he had attended the Western University of Pennsylvania. Thence, he went to King's School of Oratory and Dramatic

PROF. NATHAN N. KEENER

Art. After receiving the M. O. (Master of Oratory) degree there, he became an assistant to the teaching staff of the school, which position he occupied for three years. Leaving there, he engaged in Eastern and Western Chautauqua work, until 1907, when he took charge of the School of Expression at Susquehanna University.

Since accepting the position here, he has been very successful. His work in public speaking, and English dramatics have been received with appreciation on all sides. He has played parts as Hamlet, Shylock, and several other well-known Shakespearean characters. His coaching of plays has done much to render them worth while.

In addition to this, he has delivered lectures, and occupied himself in institute work through the Eastern and Southern States. He is a Master Mason, and has received the thirty-second degree, the next to the highest possible.

Such is the work he has done in the past. Let us hope that it will continue to be done as well, and as prosperously in the future.

Football Schedule For Next Fall Announced

Little Crusaders to Meet Several New Teams, While Cornell and Lebanon Valley Have Been Dropped

No sooner than our football season is completed than arrangements are made for the coming campaign. Susquehanna can well be proud of the schedule that has been arranged for 1926.

Some new schools appear next year, and of course others must be dropped to make room for them. The most striking changes are the substitution of Penn State for Cornell, whom we have played for the past few seasons, and that of Alfred University for our old rival, Lebanon Valley.

It is to be noted that our schedule arranges for a home game every other week. The appearance of Swarthmore and Pennsylvania Military College in Selinsgrove will give the fans in this section an opportunity to see teams in action that have been making a mark in the football world the past few seasons.

The schedule is as follows:
Sept. 18, St. Thomas, home.
Sept. 25, Penn State, away.
Oct. 2, Swarthmore, home.
Oct. 9, open.
Oct. 16, Temple, away.
Oct. 23, Juniata, (homecoming), home.
Oct. 30, Ipsala, away.
Nov. 7, P. M. C., home.
Nov. 14, Lafayette, away.
Nov. 20, Alfred, home.
Nov. 25, Schuylkill, away.

MISS MILDRED SNYDER '28 OF SELINS GROVE PASSED AWAY

We regret very much to hear of the death of Miss Mildred Snyder, a Sophomore in the Business Administration Course, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Snyder, of Selinsgrove.

Miss Snyder became ill during the Christmas holidays. Her condition became steadily worse and her death occurred Sunday morning, January 10 at 11:20 o'clock. Services will be conducted at her home on North Market street Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock. At 2 p. m. burial will take place at the Leck Kill cemetery.

She was a loyal supporter of her Alma Mater and a faithful member of the class of '28. The entire student body joins her class and the Susquehanna in offering their deepest sympathy to the bereaved family.

Phi Mu Delta Had Housewarming Party

Quick Action on the Part of the Selinsgrove Fire Department Prevented Chimney Fire from Destroying Home

On Thursday evening, January 7, following the basketball game with Western Maryland the Phi Mu Delta fraternity had an informal housewarming party. It was attended by much smoke and members of the fraternity and faculty in various stages of dress and undress. To prepare the house for the celebration, Freddy fired up the furnace, Shaffer removed the picture of his girl and Haney carried out the fraternity records—including three just purchased that afternoon. Gordon and Rice made a dash for their practice teaching sheets.

First on the program was a bucket race. Sleagle and Williams started at the kitchen with a bucket apiece and raced at breakneck speed up the many flights of stairs to the roof, where they handed the buckets to Shaffer, who emptied their contents down the chimney. Due to superior speed and the loss of some of the water, Sleagle won the race.

Then Bold Bad Man Baird, in a spirit of comedy, threw the entire supply of salt into the furnace, creating a delightful aroma and a superb column of smoke. Caterer Martin is now beseeching the boys to pay their board

Susquehanna Five Drops First Games

WESTERN MARYLAND AND JUNIATA BOTH DEFEATED S. U. IN FIRST GAMES. IT INDICATES NEW MEN SHOW MUCH PROMISE. A SMOOTH TEAM EXPECTED

The Orange and Maroon basket ball five dropped both opening games last week, losing to Western Maryland on Thursday and our ancient rival, Juniata, on Friday. Neither game was a walk-away, as the Maryland team won by a margin of five points, while that of Juniata was slightly larger. The games were more or less of an experiment for Coach Follmer, as they were the lead-off games of the season, and were to show the ability of the new men under fire. Emil, Spaldie, Dunkelberger, Laehr, all showed good form and should be assets to the team throughout the season.

Capt. Kurtz was the outstanding star of the Western Maryland game, collecting a total of 17 points from field goals and fouls. He was assisted at the forward position by Haney, who played a bang-up floor game. Spaldie, a local lad, started at center and played well, his height being used to a good advantage against the much taller opponents. Slagle and Emil took care of the guard positions and showed their previous experience by fast floor work, although they were handicapped by the size of the opponents, who average 6 feet.

The Juniata game was a fast one, and the play of Dunkelberger and Laehr attracted. Dunk held Grove, the visiting scoring ace, to no goals. Capt. Kurtz had a perfect record on foul-making four out of four.

Laehr, playing a forward position, came thru with 3 baskets and gives promise of good work in games to come. He played under the disadvantage of an injury to his head, received in the Western Maryland game. Emil, Ebberts and Smith showed up well, as did Slagle, but they were once more handicapped by the height of the Juniata men which enabled the latter to shoot over the local five man defense.

IN RETROSPECT

Upon calm reflection, the National Collegiate World Court Conference held at Princeton on December 11th and 12th seems to have accomplished three definite things:

1. It has interested men and women of affairs in college activities. In place of the old attitude that students should have no voice in shaping educational policies has come the realization that they must take an active part in the construction of curricula. Further, the undergraduates have a right to make known their ideas regarding political and economic questions. As a result of this new conception of student interest, a former secretary of war, an ambassador, a United States Senator, the Commander of the Rhine Army of Occupation in Germany, and a noted lawyer were willing to sacrifice their time and come to the Conference.

2. The colleges of the United States went on record as favoring adherence to the World Court. The following resolution was passed by the delegates:

Whereas We, the delegates of the institutions of higher learning in the United States of America, desire to hasten the security of peace in the world and for all peoples.

Be It Resolved, That we advocate to the President and the Senate of our country adherence to the Permanent Court of International Justice under the so-called Harding-Hughes-Coolidge reservations.

Free from propaganda of any kind. Everybody was given a chance to be heard. The conference felt that the Court was but one step in the attainment of world peace. Though the debate was long, the result was one that represented mature thought and careful deliberation.

3. The Conference went on record as favoring the establishment of a National Federation of Students of America. Upon invitation of John Elliott, the conference will hold its second annual meeting at the University of Michigan next fall.

Two purposes for which the Federation is primarily working are: First, to secure an increased interest and in thence upon national and international affairs in the colleges and universities of this country; second, to achieve a closer unity between the colleges of the United States, and to promote sympathy and understanding between the students of this country and those of the rest of the world. The actual means for attaining these ends will be:

First: The establishment of scholarships between the colleges of America and Europe similar to the Rhodes and Davison scholarships which now exist.

Second: Student tours to Europe during the summer to study the social, political and economic conditions of Europe and to attend a short course at some European University.

Third: A central clearing house for all information regarding student conditions in Europe, and information on scholarships in this and foreign countries.

Fourth: Cooperation between faculty and undergraduates in American colleges on matters relating to arrangement of courses of study, student government, and administration of discipline. Fifth: A central bureau whose purpose will be to furnish colleges with prominent speakers on national and international problems. Sixth: The creation of public opinion to militate against communalism in college athletics. Seventh: The encouragement of a spirit of individuality and initiative as opposed to the prevalent tendency toward standardized mediocrity.

Seven geographical divisions of the country were made and every division represented by two members of the executive committee. Each representative will have under him the colleges of his district, from which some person or organization will be picked to handle the work connected with the Federation in his college. The committee members will also furnish the college papers with information on student activities here and abroad. There will be regional conferences to discuss matters of sectional importance, the first of which will probably be in April.

The success of the conference and Federation depends on the support given by each individual college. The American students have a great opportunity to become a powerful factor in the educational and political life of the nation. If they but embrace it, the conference will have proven worth while.

LEWIS FOX, Chairman.

National College World Court Conference.

Susquehannians Guests At Johnstown Banquet

Nine Students and Graduates of S. U. Present at Banquet in Their Honor at Moxham Lutheran Church

Tuesday evening, December 22, 1925 the college students of the Moxham Lutheran Church were the guests of Rev. H. C. Michael, a member of the Board of Directors of Susquehanna. There were seventeen present, including Mr. E. P. Keller, the teacher of the Service Bible Class. Nine of the young men were either students or graduates of Susquehanna.

The gathering was held in the Johnstown Y. M. C. A. rooms, where a splendid meal was served. After the meal interesting discussions concerning Susquehanna and the other schools represented were made. Everyone enjoyed the discussions of the early convocations at Susquehanna, as well as the stories and jokes.

It was suggested that more be done in the way of letting various newspapers have articles telling of developments at S. U. Articles of this sort are interesting to the public and at the same time splendid advertisements.

The graduates and Seminars present were Robert Keeler, George Bullock, Lester Shaffer, Roger Hough and Ernest Walker.

The undergraduates were Donald Rhoades, Charles Shaffer, Harry Shaffer and Paul Hoover.

ROMANCE OF A JELLYFISH

Long years ago, when the whole world was new,
 With nothing but water where land should be,
 The moon, gazing down on the limitless deep,
 Saw a jellyfish floating there almost asleep.
 The jellyfish, who was of masculine sex,
 Had a sleepy good temper that nothing could vex.
 'Till he saw in the offing (he should have been blind),
 Peacefully floating a girl of his kind.

He succumbed to her charms (it was love at first sight),
 He woo'd her and won her and wed her that night.
 Their children, as Nature had meant them to be,
 Were the first tiny branches of our family tree.

L'ENVOI

So in loving, my children, don't be open-hearted,
 Those jellyfish were, and look what they started.
 I'll repeat the advice that I've uttered so oft—Remember the jellyfish! Don't get too soft.

Note: Normal jellyfish do not have sex, nor do they possess the ability to see. However, one must remember that these were exceptional jellyfish.

PROF. L. D. GROSSMAN AT LOWER MERION

Track in the spring. Back in 1918 it was his privilege to be coaching the Lower Merion Track team when they won their first Suburban Championship title and won the Philadelphia City Championship the same year. His objective this spring will be to retain the Suburban Track Championship won again last year.

After a rather discouraging outlook, in Cross Country this fall, his small but hard working squad got going and when the season closed Lower Merion had not only defeated all her opponents, including some of the best Philadelphia School teams, and Franklin and Marshall Academy, but had romped away with the Philadelphia Suburban Championship. Much credit for their splendid showing is attributed by the members of the squad themselves to the superior coaching of Professor Grossman.

Assisting him in his work and also coaching the Senior High Football and Basketball teams is Albert C. Adam, a graduate of Bates and Springfield. Adam, who while at Bates was selected as All New England tackle and while at Springfield, was the choice of some critics for All American. During the past season, the football squad under Mr. Adam's coaching lost but one game and that by only one point. This was the first defeat for a Lower Merion grid team in four seasons. The basketball season has thus far been a success, the team having won its first three games. In all probability it will be one of the contenders for the Suburban League Championship.

Soccer and baseball also come in for their share of attention there. The soccer team had a good season, winning the majority of its games, even tho it played an exceptionally hard schedule. Mr. Helveston, a Harvard graduate and a former soccer player, coached this sport. Baseball promises to enjoy its most successful year. It is coached by Mr. Fowler—a member of the Junior High faculty. In the past, due to the smaller number of students, track has held the chief interest, however, with the larger student body, interest in baseball is growing rapidly.

Every boy is given a physical and medical examination upon entering school. Where abnormal conditions are noted, the necessary measures are recommended for their correction with special work prescribed in many cases. The program of work is planned to permit every boy to engage in some form of physical activity in addition to the usual gymnasium work. At present there is a 28 team basketball league in the Junior High and a similar league is being planned for the Senior High. The outdoor season will find additional leagues in the outdoor sports.

It will be noted that Lower Merion has teams that hold their own with the best in her class. This has been made possible, not by letting down the bars and placing athletics ahead of the main purpose of the school, but rather by the adoption of Professor Grossman's sane but well defined policy which provides for:—1—the necessary facilities for the conduct of a well rounded program of Physical Education and Athletics. 2—A program, including in it an opportunity for every pupil to participate in some sport. 3—A staff of trained men (and women for the girls' work) to direct, supervise and coach the various activities.

The students of Susquehanna who know Professor Grossman are following his work with warm interest. His many friends hail him as a man who "does things." Experience has taught them that when he unhesitatingly and determinedly stands for some principle they will find him right every time if they look deeply enough below the surface. Opposition will not delay the realization of a good. His work at Lower Merion certainly has been a huge success and those of us that know him have so much confidence in him that we sincerely believe that most of the credit for the splendid conditions found there, is due him.

PHI MU DELTA HAD HOUSEWARMING PARTY

hills, so that a new supply of salt can be purchased.

Just as the party was drawing to a close, the Selingrove fire department arrived. Desiring to amuse the departing guests, they gave an exhibition wrestling match between the members of the company and the ladders. After a short bout the ladder was vanquished and the victors climbed to the roof. They then showed how Santa Claus now does his work, by throwing things down the chimney. After totally extinguishing the fire—in the furnace, they decided to adjourn, and drove off in their speedy vehicles to the great satisfaction of the hosts. Shortly afterward all of the guests departed and the party came to a close. The boys are looking forward to another one in the near future.

Moral to this story. Always extinguish a chimney fire.

Where motorized power is virtually unknown, men toil yet accomplish little. The United States has over one-quarter electrical horsepower installed per capita. Japan, leading country of the Orient, has but 0.4 horsepower. Electric shovel and storage battery locomotive are shown at a completely electrified open-pit coal mine, at Colstrip, Montana.

Work without Toil

Ten or twelve hours a day toils the coolie. If he carries all he can, he moves one ton one mile in one day. For that he receives twenty cents.

Cheap labor! Yet compared with our American worker, receiving at least twenty-five times as much for an eight-hour day, the coolie is expensive labor. In America we move one ton one mile for less than one cent. The coolie, working by hand, accomplishes little; while the American, with electricity's aid, accomplishes much.

Plenty of electricity and cheap electricity—these are two great advantages which America enjoys over the rest of the world. While our present generating capacity is 20,600,000 kilowatts, new developments call for 3,000,000 kilowatts more per year.

To college men and women—potential leaders—will fall the duty of finding more and still more work for electricity, with less and still less toil for our workers. For the task is but begun!

G-E Motorized Power—an ideal combination of electric motor and control properly fitted to the individual task—is at work the world-over, relieving workers more and more for better and more profitable pursuits.
A new series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request.

an interchange of ideas might be effected.

Among the leading speakers, in addition to those mentioned, were Mary McSkimmin, president of the National Education Association, who brought greetings from the National Association;
Frank D. Slutz, of Dayton, Ohio, who gave an exceptionally strong address upon the "Fundamentals of Professional Education," and C. E. Prosser, of Minneapolis, Minn., who delivered an illuminating address upon the "Magic Chance in Education."

Departmental sections held meetings at times when there were no general sessions. Different divisions of Educational Activities from the standpoint of grade and kind also held meetings and had programs particularly adapted to their objectives. Our delegate was naturally interested principally in the Educational problem as it relates itself to College activities, and he endeavored to get in touch with the vital issues in this field.

While there were some very severe criticisms of certain defective Educational methods and while the speakers generally recognized very difficult problems to be solved, there was in general a note of optimism which was at once encouraging and inspiring.

The All College Dinner was an event of considerable importance to the College men that were there. It was held Wednesday evening at 6 P. M. according to program. Representatives of practically all the Colleges of Pennsylvania were there, a table having been designated for the group from each College and one table for persons of Colleges outside the State. It should be a matter of considerable pride for Susquehanna students to learn that Susquehanna University had one of the largest groups of teachers and graduates there representing her.

Among those present in this group were Ralph Woodruff, of Sunbury High; Dr. John I. Woodruff, of Susquehanna University; Harold Folmer, superintendent of public schools of Snyder county; Frank Faust, principal of Chambersburg High; Victor Erdly, city superintendent of Hollidaysburg;
Geo. W. Honck, supervising principal of Wilkes-Barre; Frank M. Haiston, of the American Book Company; Archie Ancker, of Scranton Central High;
Prof. Heintzelman, supervisor of penmanship of Greensburg district; Chas.
A. Miller, of South Brownsville; Harry Ramer, of Elk Lick; Mrs. Mary Gresh, of West Reading; Alice Weaver, of Kutztown State Normal School; Elizabeth Bloom, of Manch Chunk High; N. A. Danowsky, supervising principal of Northumberland, and Jesse Labold, a district principal in Pittsburgh.
There were ten others from Susquehanna there, the names of whom are not available at this time.

At this All College dinner there was a wonderful spirit of good will and a conscious manifestation on the part of those present that the teaching profession was one of the most worthwhile in the world. There were no apologies anywhere evident for being a school teacher. Dr. Geo. B. Cutten, president of Colgate University, was the speaker for the dinner. His address was upon "Education for Leisure." It was one fraught with humor and wisdom and indicates that certain educational leaders had not forgotten that education had more to do than to prepare men and women to lay hold of the riches of material things and that there is a richer field of wealth for every educated man or woman than that which can be laid hold of by the senses. During the course of the dinner, the Susquehanna group let out an A-N-N-A and thus started the cheering.

An interesting function for all was the informal reception and dance at the Hotel Casey. This hotel was a general meeting place for all the educational leaders. Here friends met each other and chatted far into the hours of the night.

Susquehanna's delegate, Dr. Woodruff, in the interview granted the reporter stated that he wished that those Susquehanna graduates who attended would have informed him of their plans beforehand so that a meeting could have been arranged. He suggested that this be done in the future.

ORANGE AND MAROON DROP THREE GAMES ON TRIP OVER WEEK-END

Basket Ball Team Plays a Good Brand of Ball, But is Unable to Out-Score Any of Its Opponents

The Orange and Maroon basketball team journeyed to Loretta last Thursday and played the best game of the three that were staged away from home the past week-end. Altho St. Francis won by the score of 41 to 32 the game was fast thruout. The local boys were handicapped by a very small floor and low ceiling. The score was tied six different times, proving that the teams were evenly matched and Coach Follmer's proteges staged comebacks thruout the game, but lacked the final punch.

Junata was played at Huntingdon the following night, and knowing the strength of the Huntingdon lads a defensive game was staged, preventing Junata from running up a high score. Exceptional lucky shots by the Blue and Gold put them in the lead, which they maintained thruout the game. They were threatened at times, but S. U. could never assure themselves the lead. It was a hard, fast, clean game, and ended our two game series for this season with that school, the final score being 38-29. The outstanding scorers of this game were Emel, Haney and Dunkelberger.

The final game was played at State College on Saturday, and being one of the best teams in Pennsylvania, of course the Crusaders were greatly outclassed, but still having the old fight, altho weary from the two previous games, they did their best.

Due to the size of the Penn State men and their remarkable ability to find the basket from all parts of the court. The large floor also put the visiting team to a disadvantage. The high score was partly due to the fact that State had practically their first team in thruout the game. Kurtz, Lahr, Dunkelberger and Emel were the outstanding scorers of this game.

Fast Played Contest Lost to Mt. St. Mary's

Game Filled With Thrills Thruout. Dunkelberger Was High Scorer With Four Baskets

The fastest game of basket ball played this season was witnessed at the Alumni Gym last night when the Mt. St. Mary's Collegians defeated the Orange and Maroon by the score of 46-37. The game was speedy from whistle to whistle and the superior team work of the visitors allowed them the majority score. They were dead shots under the basket and seemed to have little trouble placing a long one thru the net now and then.

The outstanding scorer of the home team was Dunkelberger, a Freshman who found the basket frequently and jumped on a par with the opposing center. Sleight and Emil played about the smoothest game of any pair of guards Coach Follmer has used as yet. Captain Kurtz and Haney found the basket for several two-pointers and played their usual stellar game. Emil made several difficult long shots. His floor work was also of the best. Sleight, as usual, was always with the ball when in the local territory. Lahr was substituted in both halves and scored several times and played well. Ebberts, Spalde and Shue also showed up well. The fighting spirit of every man was apparent, for at no time was there stalling with the ball.

The score was tied once at 10-10 and from then on the Maryland lads managed to keep a few points ahead. The sport is being well supported at S. U. this season, as good crowds have been on hand for every home game so far, and all that will be needed to keep the spirit up is a few victories to hoast about. The record so far this season is six defeats to no wins. The team is working hard, so that the remaining games will tally up on our side of the basket ball ledger.

EXIT LIGHTS PLACED AT DOORS OF NEW CHAPEL HALL

The new chapel is now a full fledged public hall as far as the legal exit lights are concerned. Recently twelve of these lights were installed in the necessary places in the newly enlarged Seibert Hall. They add materially to the beauty of the room and have occasioned much favorable comment. They constitute a great aesthetic improvement and satisfy an evident need.

Dr. Surface a Man Of Achievement

PROFESSOR OF BIOLOGY AND HEAD OF PRE-MEDICAL DEPARTMENT FOR A NUMBER OF YEARS—AUTHOR AND LECTURER OF NOTE

Harvey Adam Surface, Doctor of Science, Professor of Biology, Susquehanna University, was born on a farm in the Miami Valley, near Waynesville, Ohio, July 25, 1867. During his youth he worked on the farm, one winter chopping wood by the cord. He was educated in the following schools: Country School, National Normal University (B. S., '86), Ohio State University (B. A., '91 and '92), Stanford University (Ph.D., '95), Cornell University ('96), and received the degree of Doctor of Science from Franklin and Marshall, 1910.

He married Ida May Bousdare, a teacher in the Cleveland, O. schools, in 1894, and to them four children were born—John Elmer S. (b. 1899, d. 1899), Harley E. S. (b. 1900, d. 1915), Violet May S. (b. 1904, married Prof. L. A. Cook, of Chicago, 1925), and Priscilla Beatrice S. (b. 1907).

Dr. Surface has held the following positions, with the remarkable distinction of never having been in a position where he was not re-appointed with a higher salary and greater opportunities: Rural school teacher (1884 and '86-8), Assistant in Geology in the Ohio State University and on the Ohio State Geologic Survey (1892-94), Teacher of Entomology, Boys' and Girls' Camps, Canandaigua Lake, N. Y., Graduate Student and Assistant in Geology, University of Illinois (1894) and Field Naturalist in charge of the Illinois State Biological Station (1897). He was also Professor of Natural Science, University of the Pacific (1894-96), Graduate Student, Fellow and Teacher of Zoology in Cornell (1896-8), Assistant on the U. S. Fish Commission, Supervisor of Nature Study, Ithaca (N.Y.) Public Schools (1898-1900), Professor of Zoology, Pennsylvania State College (1900-07), President Penna. State Bee-keepers' Association (1901-1915), Zoologist of Pa. (1904-1915), Ornithologist to the Pa. State Board of Agriculture (1904-10), Entomologist to the Pa. State Board of Agriculture (1910-15), University Extension Teacher and Lecturer in Natural History for Cumberland Valley State Normal School (1915-1919), Professor of Biology and Teacher in Summer School and Extension Work, Susquehanna University (1919 to present).

As a writer, Dr. Surface has been Nature Study Editor Popular Educator (Boston); Ornithological Editor, American Gardening, (New York); Horticultural Editor, Pennsylvania Farmer, and Horticultural Editor of The Packer (ten years, and continues at present), and writer for many other publications. He has written more pages and bulletins on the Natural History and Horticulture of Pennsylvania than any other person. These were chiefly issued as his monthly and bi-monthly bulletins during the eleven years he was State Zoologist of Pa., and include illustrated and monographic productions on such subjects as Pa. Amphibians, Pa. Lizards, Pa. Turtles, Pa. Serpents, Insects and

INTER-FRATERNITY AND INTER-CLASS BASKET BALL LEAGUES ARE PLANNED

Schedule of Games Has Been Arranged So That the Best Fraternity and Class Teams May be Determined. Frosh and Sophs Play

Susquehanna is going to see some first class basket ball games, and comply with this rule results in plenty of them. From the beginning of February to the middle of March there will be four or six games a week scheduled. Besides those of the varsity, which is playing more at home this year than usual, there will be several for the scrubs, and two inter-mural leagues, the Inter-Class and the Inter-Fraternity.

The following rules have been decided upon by the Directors of Athletics in charge:

1. No varsity or scrub men are eligible.
2. At game time, there must be at least five men on the floor in uniform to represent each team. Failure to comply with this rule results in forfeiture of the game.

Officials will be chosen by representatives of each group.

Both leagues consist of five teams: The four fraternities and the Theologians; the four fraternities and the Non-Frat group. Each team will cope with its opponent once. Practically every night there will be two games played, the first one February 6.

The object of these leagues is to give every male student who is physically able a chance to play basket ball. If you want to play, and think that you have been deprived of your rights because you aren't quite good enough to make the reserves, here is your chance. Go out for one of these teams. There are enough opportunities for everyone.

On Thursday evening a pre-season game was played between the Sophomore and Freshman boys. This game was not a regularly scheduled league game, and does not count so far as the league is concerned. There seemed to be a great spirit of rivalry between the two teams.

Mental Clinic to be Held Saturday

CLINIC AT THE DANVILLE STATE HOSPITAL FOR THE INSANE WILL CULMINATE THE SERIES OF LECTURES BY DR. PIKE. MANY STUDENTS WILL ATTEND

Saturday 23rd, the Orientation students will receive a grand climax to the series of lectures given by Dr. Pike. This presents itself in the form of a visit and educational tour thru the State Hospital for the Insane at Danville.

Much interest in the course has been manifested thruout by the students and approximately seventy-five students will go. Motor busses, which will be hired for their accommodation, will leave the school between 8:30 and 9:30 a. m.

All anxiously await what is expected to be one of the most interesting phases of that work.

NANCY LONG, FORMER MEMBER OF CLASS OF '26, MARRIED

Many of the students on the campus will remember a former student known as "Nan" Long. She left S. U. and entered Junata College, where her heart was stolen by Mr. George D'Frognier of the class of '29. They were married on December 26, at the Friends Lutheran Church.

They immediately left on a honeymoon thru the Western part of the State ending at the groom's home in Mount Pleasant. They are as yet undecided as to where they will locate. The many friends of Nan wish her a long and happy married life.

RECEPTION FOR DR. KERN

Doctor Kern, of the Susquehanna University faculty, was tendered a reception by the members of his extension class in Educational Sociology at Northumberland on Tuesday evening, January 5th.

After the class work had been completed the members of the group gathered at the home of Miss Shalvian, assistant principal of the Northumberland High School, where refreshments were served and music and cards were enjoyed.

Among those taking the course and one of those present at the reception was Neal Wormley, '25, now teaching at the Northumberland High School.

Oh! For a "Line" Like This

The judge—"This lady says you tried to speak to her at the station." Salesman—"It was a mistake, I was looking for my friend's sister, whom I had never seen before, but who's been described to me as a handsome blonde with classic features, fine complexion, perfect figure, beautifully dressed and—"

The witness—"I don't care to prosecute the gentleman. Anyone might have made the same mistake."

Third Star Course Number Wed. Night

DOCTOR HENRY CLAY RISNER, TRAVELER, ECONOMIST AND STATESMAN, TO DELIVER LECTURE IN NEW CHAPEL HALL TOMORROW NIGHT

On Wednesday evening, January 29 Dr. Henry Clay Risner, the well known speaker, will lecture here. The subject of his lecture is not known, as he is extensively prepared on many topics.

Whatever the subject, however, the entertainment is sure to be an excellent one, for the speaker is one of the foremost orators of modern America. He is a man of magnetic personality and possesses an abundant fund of pure, forcible and elegant language.

Dr. Risner has traveled widely thru out war torn Europe, especially Russia, where he worked under the direction of Herbert Hoover. Therefore, he is well capable of presenting the economic problems of the Eastern Hemisphere from a personal point of view.

The fresh viewpoints, and enlarged visions, caused by his extensive travels, presented in his rich, sonorous voice, are sure to warrant an especial effort to attend this lecture. It promises to be one of the outstanding numbers of the current Star Course.

Luth. Women's College to be Established Soon

Several Sites Are Being Considered for Proposed College for Lutheran Women. Dr. Aikens at Conference

Dr. Aikens represented Susquehanna at a conference concerning the establishment of a Lutheran Women's College. Nine synods are co-operating in this end.

At the last meeting of the board of directors the proposal of Irving College was rejected and to date no definite place has been decided upon. Offers of sites have been made for its erection in Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, Washington, D. C., Philadelphia, and in a city in the South. The Lutheran Church of America needs such a school for its young women, and it is hoped that the proposed school will become a reality in the near future.

Beauty is a welcome guest everywhere.

The Ideal Girl Was Discussed at Y. W.

VARIOUS QUALIFICATIONS NECESSARY WERE TAKEN UP BY MARTHA ETEL, NAOMI FOGEL AND HELEN WEAVER AT MEETING LAST TUESDAY

The qualifications that a girl should have so as to approach the ideal were discussed by various members of the Y. W. C. A. at the meeting of that body last Tuesday evening.

Ideal really means perfect and as there is nothing perfect on earth, the discussion aimed at bringing out certain standards that should be followed, that would help any girl draw nearer to her ideal. This type of girl was discussed from four viewpoints, namely: The social, moral, physical and spiritual.

Martha Ertel presented the moral side of the question. Classroom conduct was her first point. She inquired if the conduct of the students in the classroom at Susquehanna would compare favorably with that in other schools. Do they have enough respect for their professors? Is cribbing or cheating ever justified, and in so doing do you cheat any one

Conservatory of Music Sorority Entertained New Girls at Balloon Fete. Gym Lavishly Decorated

Mu Sigma Gamma Sorority entertained many of the non-sorority girls of the University at a delightful "Balloon Fete" Saturday night in the gymnasium. The Gym was tastefully decorated in rainbow colors with a mass of balloons suspended in the center. When the ropes supporting them were cut, the balloons fell all about the place, causing a mad, but enjoyable scramble, and preparing the merry-makers for the throwing of confetti and serpentine.

With Messner at the piano, Landis with his banjo and Allison playing the traps, assisted by some members of the orchestra from the Strand Theatre, Sunbury, no one could help having a fine time, and all too soon the strains of "Home, Sweet Home" were heard by those who were enjoying themselves to the utmost.

Sloth is always wishing and waiting.

WISE CRACKING

Everywhere upon the campus one hears that inferior brand of humor known as "wise cracking." The specialists in this brand of wit derive their sayings largely from a fund of personal spite and stock remarks which they use whenever they can make themselves heard.

Desiring to display their fancied ability as humorists they often make remarks which cut the objects of their mirth to the quick. The constant indulgence in this form of humor will be detrimental to the social relations of the student body. Scholars of a retiring disposition will dread intercourse with their fellow students lest they be subjected to the witticisms of some "wise cracker."

Dislike, and hatred will disrupt the social unanimity of the school. On the whole, a most deplorable situation is likely to result. Wise cracking is surely a menace to the social atmosphere of the school and should be discouraged. We do not wish our student body to become a rabble of individuals at war with each other dwelling in the same College community, but carrying on no social intercourse and desiring none. "Clamp" the "Wise cracker."

PATRIOTISM AND SCHOOL SPIRIT

Patriotism! What is it? The love of one's country, you say. In this you are entirely right; to qualify it or embellish it would be to spoil your answer. Every student who reads this as an American citizen simply accepts this statement as an axiom. "I too, am a patriot." We all have the interests of these United States at heart; when she seems about to err we tremble and seek to throw our greatest influence into the balance. We do not condemn; we cannot condemn we are patriots. The better citizens we are the greater will be our zeal and constructive work, the better the nation will be. Personal attainments and sincerity interact with the quality of the larger unit. If everyone could be made to see this even the most self-seeking man would go more to build of himself the best he could; for, indeed, the more he helps others, the greater is the benefit to him. Does it not mean something to be able to say, "I am an American, a citizen of the United States." The characters and achievements of countess men now gone are to be blessed for the heritage they have given us. But one of us would do aught to mar it. But we owe it more, let us build to greater heights, greater than our forefathers dreamed. We should not will not rest content with the best we now have in the slant of the sun, as men are go-getters.

Proud as men were when they could look back on Missionary Institute as their alma mater, still prouder are those in the newer ranks, who but a few years ago were passing thru the halls of Susquehanna University. Yours is the opportunity to lift her name in honor that she may be placed among the foremost centers of religious scholarship the keynote is school patriotism usually termed school spirit. Not only is it applicable to athletics and to a general infusion of pep, but comes home to each in his own sphere of activity and study. Make of yourself the best you can, cheer your neighbor, cheer your school, make the spirit of helpfulness to another and to the school an all-pervading one. All together gang! More school spirit!!

EXAMS

There is an old saying something to the effect that the last is always the best. Truly there are exceptions to all rules and in this case the exception seems to be exams. As the semester draws to a close, it seems as if everyone is getting down to work and preparing for them. Many requests for late lights for the girls are coming in and the reason is "Exams." There is a worried look upon the faces of many whom you pass on the campus and the reason is "Exams."

Examination time seems to be the important time of the semester, for everyone then tries to absorb all that he should have learned during the term. There is much cramming and after the exams are over, a great deal seems to have been forgotten.

It seems that there should be some way that exam time could be extended thru the semester and cramming time excluded from our calendar of College traditions. Some of the professors have already found a way and it is hoped that before long all will be able to eliminate "final exams."

DOUBLE CUTS

The Committee on Admissions and Credits has announced that the plan of giving double cuts for absences occasioned by a later return to school after a holiday, will not be incorporated into the absence regulation system at Susquehanna.

Such a plan operates to an advantage at schools where the absence regulations are not as exacting as they are at S. U. The committee feels, however, that to introduce such a plan here would work unnecessary hardship upon the students. The present system apparently is working smoothly and is accomplishing the desired result, that of securing good class attendance. It is the opinion of the Committee and of the student body that an absence after a holiday should not be regarded in a light different from that of any other absence.

Modern Youth

Bashful Sweetie—"Would you consider it improper if I kissed your hand?"
 A Real Flapper—"No. But it would be so out of place!"

Block Head

Little Girl (to grandfather)—"Grandpa, why don't you grow hair on your head?"
 Grandpa—"Well, why doesn't grass grow on a hunk of street?"

Little Girl—"Oh, I see, it can't get up thru the concrete."

Father—"Where were you with the car last night?"
 Aylee—"Oh, just riding around with some of the boys."

Father—"Well you had better return this vanity case one of the boys left in the car."

ALUMNI NOTES

Dr. Chas. R. Myers, a graduate of the Susquehanna Seminary, is president of Hartwick Seminary, a Lutheran school in New York State. The Seminary gives its students a College preparatory course and has the facilities to take them on into the Freshman and Sophomore year of a college course.

Under him are three other Susquehanna graduates, who are instructors of some of the various classes. Oscar Keebler, Joseph McLain, and William Herbert Blough, all of the class of '24, are the staid professors referred to. Dr. Myers and his assistants are all very well liked by the boys and the people of the community.

Robert Hartman '25, is teaching and coaching football at Tamaqua. His team has had a remarkable season, winning seven out of ten games, and fighting its way upward so that it is among the best of the up-State teams. "Bob" is given credit in the Philadelphia Inquirer for having placed the necessary punch behind the team, and it is claimed that he is largely responsible for the fact that his eleven has just enjoyed the best season it has enjoyed for a number of years.

George Townsend '22, is now teaching History and Sciences in the Fendale High School, near Johnstown.

Edwin R. Dumble '25, is teaching Algebra and Physics and is coaching athletics in the Phillipsburg High School. His football team has gone thru a season without defeat and has been scored on but once.

Pastors often wonder why some men fail to attend church, but few of them, perhaps, ever have set about learning the reasons in a business-like way like the Rev. T. B. Ueber, a graduate of Susquehanna, and now in charge of the Reen Memorial Lutheran Church, St. Louis. He sent out 150 questionnaires to representative St. Louisans—doctors, lawyers, bankers, merchants, manufacturers, educators and railroad officials.

A banker wrote: "Parents do not send their children to Sunday school; therefore, when they grow up, the church-going habit is not in them."

A school principal: "Most of the sermons do not seem to represent the sincere beliefs of those who deliver the messages. In other words, they are compromises."

Another educator said: "The energies of men are absorbed in the business of making a living; they have a critical attitude toward intellectual and religious things."

A lawyer replied: "The mental effort and indoor confinement of the week drive one to relaxation on Sundays in outdoor recreation."

A capitalist wrote: "Men resent being scolded from the pulpit for indulging in harmless frivolities."

Another business man characterized sermons as being too long, too "preachy" or too uninteresting.

A gold enthusiast said: "Many men prefer to worship God on Sunday morning in God's own sunlight. When a man plays golf or baseball or takes his family to the country in his automobile he unconsciously gives thanks to God."

FACULTY MEMBER

UNDERGOES OPERATION

Miss Mary Woodruff, English professor, and daughter of Dr. J. I. Woodruff, underwent an operation for the removal of her tonsils at the Geisinger Hospital at Danville, during the Christmas holidays, when the greater majority of the student body and faculty were enjoying the pleasure which comes with this season.

She was in the hospital from December the 21st to the 24th, being discharged just in time to spend Christmas Day at home.

Altho Miss Woodruff still suffers slightly from the effects of the operation, she is making pleasing progress and has been able to meet her classes regularly.

Going to the bad is a poor way of showing that you are a good fellow.

PROF. LINEBAUGH AND MME. WALDISBERG ILL FOR SOME TIME

Professor Percy M. Linebaugh of the faculty of the Conservatory of Music has been suffering with pneumonia for the past several weeks at Wilkes-Barre.

He became ill during the Christmas holidays and has been unable to return to the campus thus far. It is hoped that he will enjoy a speedy recovery.

Mme. Waldisberg, instructress in French and assistant in English, has also been ill for the past few weeks. Mme. Waldisberg feared a nervous breakdown and her condition was such that a complete rest was necessary. She is improving nicely now, however, and has been able to meet some of her classes.

THE TEN MARKS OF AN EDUCATED MAN

Albert Edward Wiggam
He keeps his mind open on every question until the evidence is all in.
He always listens to the man who knows.

He never laughs at new ideas.
He cross-examines his day-dreams.
He knows his strong point and plays it.

He knows the value of good habits and how to form them.

He knows when not to think and when to call in the expert to think for him.

You can't sell him magic.
He lives the forward-looking, outward-looking life.

He cultivates a love of the beautiful.—American Magazine.

COLLEGE NEWS

Don Young and Patsy Glimmie are both suffering from an attack of the gripe. We hope that both boys will be well again soon.

The third floor of Hassinger Hall was the scene of a very important trial. Livingston, the Freshman, was charged with mistreating the young ladies of Seibert Hall. The Judge of Court was the Hon. Kenneth X. Cassel, of Harrisburg. Don Young filled the office of District Attorney. The jurors were all boarders in Hassinger Hall who had not paid Daddy Horton their bills. The just Judge in calling for the verdict of the jury asked all who found the young Freshman guilty to stand. As there were no chairs the poor land was found guilty. At this point he was delivered to the tormentors and barbers. The latter administered a boyish bob and a close shave. Because of nervous strain during the trial Judge Cassel went home over the week-end with his colleague Stroup.

Livingston was also forced to go home as a result of strain of the trial. Norton and Baxter visited their homes over the week-end.

After the party Saturday "Rosey" Allison and "Shorty" Wilson left for the back-woods.

Derr was the only one who visited Hughesville this week.

Stumpfle visited his home at Williamsport.

Ray Long went home this week too.

THE IDEAL GIRL WAS DISCUSSED AT Y. W.

other than yourself? Do you really blaff the teachers when you go to class unprepared and attempt to slide thru? It surely breaks down your self respect. Certainly when that is broken away."

Petting parties was her second point. She mentioned the fact that one authority decided that they were natural and that anything natural was right. However, the greater number of authorities agree that these parties weaken the participants mentally and physically. The ideal girl is one who can wisely choose her amusements, recreations and activities.

The physical side was ably discussed by Naomi Fogel. To be successful and tend toward the ideal, the physical side of education must be developed thru athletics. To be good in the various sports, one must have good health, speed, general efficiency, a lack of selfishness, loyalty to one's team, kindness, honesty and fairness in judgment. But success cannot be gained physically without moral and spiritual development.

The spiritual side of the question was then taken up by Helen Weaver. Atho attendance at Chapel and Church are up to standard, there was seen a great need for improvement in the matter of reverence in Chapel.

Excuses for staying away from church would not be accepted by Christ. The song services are well appreciated by the student body. Every girl should belong to the Y. W. C. A. and the World Fellowship Club, and they should remember that if they are called upon to do anything for or at the meetings of any of these, they should not hesitate to do what they can. It will do much in the development of the quality of leadership for Christ.

The Social side was open for general discussion, in which a great many of the members expressed their convictions. Some of the questions brought up were: Is social popularity worth while striving for on the campus? Is popularity ever worth while, and are sororities and fraternities worth while? These subjects and others were presented that the girls might think them over and make decisions for themselves.

tween the two classes, as heated arguments were being carried on most of the time. However, the game was a good one and never lacked interest.

Both teams had fine players and the score was tied many times thru the game. Among the Sophomores that played well were Williams, Hepner, Roberts, Kaufman, Morning, Vorlage, Smaltz and Shaffer. The Fresh team consisted of Ricard, Hughes, Leonard, Maneval, Smith, Hoover, Bishop and Lantz.

When the time for the end of the game arrived, the score was 21-21, so an extra five minute period was played. The end of this interval found the Sophomores the victor by one point.

The schedules for the Inter-Class and Inter-Fraternity Leagues follow:

Inter-Class League

Red Grange, greatest hero of all time at Illinois, is to be honored in an unusual way. His old blue jersey, with No. "77" on the back, is to be preserved in the museum. It is reported that Grange receives as many as 200 "mash notes" and congratulatory letters a day.

Oklahoma A. & M. College students recently celebrated with a monster shirt-tail parade thru the streets of Stillwater. At the head of the procession, bare-headed and shirt-tail afloat in the breeze, marched President Knapp, jubilant as the most abandoned Freshman.

Co-eds at the University of Texas do not cheer in unison with the men at athletic matches. They sing, instead of yell, on the theory that singing is more suitable to women's voices.

While intelligence tests have put to flight old-fashioned notions of male superiority, recent investigations at Calgate University reveal that men still have the edge in emotional stability. Donald A. Laird and Thomas McClumpha, in testing 600 men and about 400 women students, found that women have more artificial emotional outlets than men. Men live their emotions, while women think theirs.

The man worth while is the man who can smile when everything goes dead wrong.

Last Word

An Irishman was sitting in a depot smoking, when a woman came in and, sitting down near him, said:

"Sir, if you were a gentleman you would not smoke here."

"Mum," replied the Irishman, "if you was a lady you would sit further away."

Pretty soon the woman burst out again: "If you were my husband I'd give you poison."

"Well, mum," replied the Irishman, "as he smoked away at his pipe, 'if you wuz me wife, I'd take it.'"

Worthy of His Hire

The plumber worked and the helper stood helplessly looking on. He was learning the business. This was his first day.

"Say," he inquired, "do you charge for my time?"

"Certainly, boob," came the reply. "But I haven't done anything."

The plumber, to fill in the hour, had been looking at the finished job with a lighted candle. Handling the two inches of it that were still unburned to the helper, he said wistfully, "Here if you gotta be so conscientious—blow that out!"

of the various specific objects in Nature around him. These have been used recently with great satisfaction in his University Extension classes.
They are now in the form of manuscript for two large volumes, one a Manual for Students and the other a Manual for Teachers of the Natural Sciences.

Visible results of Dr. Surface's practical knowledge are to be seen in four of the largest and best orchards of Pennsylvania, which he planned, planted and managed. One of these is in Columbia county, another in Blair and two others in Cumberland county. He also manages a large and successful apiary at his Selingsgrove residence, as he has been a scientific bee keeper for some years, having been founder and president of the Pennsylvania State Bee-keepers' Association.

The advanced practical knowledge which he has attained is in great demand, as he receives many letters of scientific inquiries from all over the United States and especially from his own State and county. There are many local calls for his help in answers to inquiries, which he gives freely in his ready efforts to render services in the realm of his chosen field in which he is now universally recognized as a master.

Dr. Surface has been the prime mover in many organizations and public affairs in Pennsylvania, such as the organizer of the Pa. State Beekeepers' Association, organizer of the Science Club of Pa. State College, of the Harrisburg Natural History Club, Pre-Medical Students' Club of S. U., of the Science Club of S. U., of the securing the location of the Central Pa. State Fish Hatchery for Center county, inducing the class of 1904 to place the clock on "Old Main" of State College, planning Susquehanna's Arboretum, establishing the out-door aquarium and lily pond on the campus of S. U., etc.

Dr. Surface is a forceful writer and speaker, having done much in Farmers' Institutes, Teachers' Institutes, Grange meetings, at Sunday school and Church picnics, etc. He is a Republican in politics, a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, a Fellow in the American Association for the Advancement of Science, member of the American Naturalists' Association, the American Ornithologists' Union, of the Wilson Ornithological Club, of the Delaware Ornithological Club, of the Association of Economic Entomolo-gists of America, the Pennsylvania Academy of Sciences, the Pa. Natural History Society, the Order of Patrons of Husbandry, Farmers' Alliance, the Masons (thirty-second degree), and honorary member of Bond and Key and Phi Kappa Phi.

All these and other facts concerning our subject are obtainable from "Men of Science," "Men of 1912," "Who's Who in America," "Who's Who in Pennsylvania," etc.

Dr. Surface came to Susquehanna with an excellent record of achievement and with the intention of exerting every effort that he might better prepare his students for their chosen professions. He is interested especially in the pre-medical students, as he feels that the profession for which they are preparing, is one of the utmost importance. His great interest in this group does not, however, prevent him from giving his other classes the best of attention and he is constantly on the lookout for new developments, that he might keep his classes abreast of the times. Dr. Surface is uniformly well liked because he takes a personal interest in the students under him and is ever willing to give them individual aid in the problems that confront them. There is no doubt but that the students appreciate the opportunity they have of studying under one so learned in his subject.

Drexel and Temple Too Much for Varsity

ORANGE AND MAROON FIVE GO TO PHILADELPHIA OVER WEEK-END AND SUFFER TWO REVERSES AT HANDS OF STRONG RIVALS

Last Thursday the Crusaders journeyed to Drexel Institute in Philadelphia and lost a hard fought battle to the engineers. The game was fast throughout, but the Selingroves didn't show much fight until the last ten minutes of play. During the first half of the game Capt. Kurtz was the only man to register a two pointer. The score at half time was 16-6 in favor of the Engineers. In the second half Ebbers came through with two baskets, while Emel and Dunkelberger each tallied. These were the only scores of the half. As in the contest Friday night with Temple, the local five was not so good on foul tries, only nine being made of a possible twenty-four. Swartz and Hey were the high scorers for the Philadelphia five each getting four baskets.

The second game was played at Temple and as was expected the defeat was worse than at Drexel, due to the fact that basket ball has been a major sport, in which they excel every year. This fact can be borne out by any witness of their team playing on the local floor the past seasons. Haney and Dunkelberger each scored one basket during the first half of this contest, while Emel came thru with two. In the second half Dunk and Emel were the only ones to score two pointers. In this game six foul goals were made out of eighteen tries, proving that both the week-end scores would have been different if the foul tries were made. The final score of the Drexel clash was 32-20, and the Temple game final tally was 51-18.

LYNN RAMER, '23, SEM., '26, ADDRESSED YOUNG MEN UPON THE QUESTION, "WHY IS LIFE SO SHORT?" SEVERAL VALUABLE POINTS DISCUSSED

Tuesday evening the regular meeting of the Y was held in the old Chapel Hall. The speaker for the evening was Lynn Ramer.

He said in part:

What Plato and Socrates have thought, we can think. The question that confronts men of all ages is: Why? Why is life so short? Indeed, it is brief. Death takes us all. The composer at his music, the farmer in harvest, the inventor at his invention.

What if Wilson had died before he had helped to establish the League of Nations! What if Lincoln had died before he signed the Emancipation Proclamation?

The brevity of life has a physical and psychological effect upon effect upon man. For if man thinks of life's shortness, he may cease to make effort where he should, and leave his work undone.

What if the Imperial moth, the Luna moth, and others would stay hidden and not show themselves? They only live a few hours or days, yet they show their beautiful colors while they live. What if the apple blossom would not open and show its delicate pink petals? All the above live but a few days, yet help to make the world more beautiful.

Brevity of life also suggests intensity of living. Our lives should be filled with good deeds and kind thoughts. What we need is not so much extensive living as intensive living.

God has given us life as a gift. A gift suggests gratitude. Nature is grateful for life; yet how much more grateful should we be than nature. We should always thank God for His gifts to us.

Orientation Class Attended Clinic

Many go to Danville to Attend Clinic and Make a Trip Thru the Hospital For Mentally Deficient

The class in Orientation left the campus Saturday morning to go to Danville to attend a clinic at, and to make a trip thru the State Hospital for the Insane as a culmination of the series of lectures given by Dr. Pike of the hospital staff.

Those going left in student cars or busses at 8 o'clock, and arrived at the sanitarium by 9:30, at which time the clinic started. In the absence of Dr. Jackson, the superintendent, Dr. Freed welcomed the group and gave a brief talk on the history and purposes of the institution.

Dr. Pike then spoke upon and presented examples of the various types of sufferers which were being cared for in the various wards. At the close of his talk the women were taken thru the female wards and the men visited the male section.

This was a new experience for many of the visitors. Much food for profound thought was offered and the information

Susquehanna Club At Wilkes-Barre

ALUMNI CLUB FORMED SOME TIME AGO. DR. WOODRUFF'S EXTENSION CLASS HELD TESTIMONIAL DINNER IN HIS HONOR

A meeting was held about four weeks ago in Wilkes-Barre at the home of Professor Geo. W. Houck, an alumnus of Susquehanna, and now District Supervisor in that city, for the purpose of effecting the organization of a Susquehanna Club there. About thirty graduates and students of Susquehanna from that section were in attendance and quite a few others sent in their regrets that they were unable to attend, but stated that they were very much in favor of the move.

Refreshments were served and after several speeches, officers were elected and steps were taken to perpetuate the organization with a view of promoting the interests of Susquehanna among the young people of that district. Among those present were Rev. and Mrs. Homer Ulrich and daughter Naomi, of Wilkes-Barre, and Dr. J. I. Woodruff, of the Susquehanna faculty.

Political Organization In Soph. English Class

Organized as is the House of Representatives. Has Governor, and Clerk and "Everything"

On Jan. 22 the Sophomore debating class elected a "governor of Pennsylvania" in the person of Mr. Paul Lucas. Dr. Woodruff, instructor, then called for volunteers to organize the respective parties, so that they might nominate a candidate for Speaker of the House. Lee Vorlage and Marvin Schlegel were appointed, the first for the Republican, the second for the Democratic parties. After the caucus had been held on Wednesday and Thursday evening, the House of Representatives of the State of Pennsylvania, met to elect their Speaker, on Friday morning. Clarence Stewart, the Republican candidate, defeated his opponent, Marshall Fausold, 37 votes to 25. After the election, committees were appointed to ascertain the count of each member, and carry out various duties. Ted Kemmerer was chosen chief clerk.

This is practically the first experiment of its kind in any college, and we are especially fortunate in having as our coach one who has had experience in actual legislative work. The same bills that are introduced into the Legislature at Harrisburg will be debated

Dr. Chas. A. Fisher Business Teacher

HEAD OF THE DEPARTMENT OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION. HAS TRAINED MANY EFFICIENT TEACHERS OF HIGH SCHOOL COMMERCIAL SUBJECTS

The success of the business administration of Susquehanna University owes much to the untiring effort of Charles Adam Fisher. He was born in Penn township (near Selingroves), Snyder county, Pennsylvania, on April 29, 1886. He is a direct descendant of John Adam Fisher, who was one of the first settlers in this section. He attended the rural school near his home, Freeburg Academy, Snsquehanna Academy and Selingroves High School. In 1903 he graduated from Keller's Business College, after which he spent a year in the office of C. G. Conn Co., Band Instrument Manufacturers, Elkhart, Indiana. In 1911 he received the degree of Bachelor of Philosophy from Lebanon University, Lebanon, Ohio; from Yale University he received the degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1915, and from Thiel College in 1923 he received the degree of Doctor of Business Administration in honoris causa. Professor Fisher attended the summer school at Susquehanna for a number of years and also was a member of the University of Pittsburgh Extension Classes for graduate credit.

Before entering upon his present position in September, 1920, he held the principalship of the high schools at Sugar Grove, Russell, Littlestown, Lewistown, and taught in the Commercial Department of the Sunbury High School. During 1919 he was Secretary and Sales-Manager of the Penn Art Steel Works, Ives, Erie, Pa.

Dr. Fisher is a member of the Odd Fellows and a 32nd degree Mason, Lutheran, and a member of the Pennsylvania-German Society, American Association of Accounting Instruction, the Pennsylvania State Educational Association, Yale Chapter of Acaia Fraternity, Pi Gamma Nu (the social science honorary society), and an honorary member of the Epsilon Sigma. He saw service in the Pennsylvania National Guard from 1903-1912.

At the age of twenty-one he married Vera Hummel, daughter of the late Simon Hummel, J. P., of Monroe

Dr. Henry Clay Risner Lectured at S. U.

Noted Speaker Appeared Here in Connection With the Current Star Course. Was the Fourth Number

On Wednesday evening, January 20 Dr. Henry Clay Risner, one of modern America's foremost orators, and a man of magnetic personality, gave a forceful and interesting lecture on The Task of the Twentieth Century.

It falls to the lot of but few men to enjoy the exceptional privileges that have come to Dr. Risner. Close contact and personal friendships have given Dr. Risner fresh viewpoints, enlarged visions and a world sympathy all of which he makes others to see and feel as he recounts his interviews and experiences. He possesses an unbonded love for humanity and this linked with his matchless oratory and command of pure language, held his hearers until the last sentence of his message.

Dr. Risner may be characterized as a big man in body, mind and heart who pours out his life for the uplift of the world. His lecture was one of the outstanding features of the Star Course.

Kappa Delta Phi's Snowball Party

SORORITY ENTERTAINS NEW GIRLS AT PRETTY SNOWBALL PARTY. MUCH SNOW AND THE RAMBLERS COMBINE TO DELIGHT EVERYONE PRESENT

A Snowball party was given in honor of the Freshmen girls in the Gymnasium Saturday night by Kappa Delta Phi Sorority.

The gym was converted into a mid-winter scene. Everywhere one looked snow and icicles were to be seen. In the center was a huge snowball which fell open near the middle of the evening. Out came many smaller ones that broke when thrown at people and showered them with confetti. The orchestra, The Ramblers, was seated in a miniature forest, the trees of which were laden with sparkling snow.

The meritment of the scene was increased by the joyous tinkling of bells as the guests tripped the light fantastic.

The hour of departure came before the evening seemed half spent and the merry-makers bent reluctant steps homeward as the last strains of "Home Sweet Home" died away.

Varsity Debating Teams Meet In Good Debate

Eugene Adams, William Schwirian and Paul Lucas Upheld Negative Side of League Question

Those students who were present at the meeting of the debating club on Thursday evening, witnessed a very well contested debate. Both teams were armed with good arguments for the question was: Resolved: That the United States should join the League of Nations. Eugene Adams, William Schwirian and Paul Lucas carried off the victory. Harold Ditzler, Lee Boyer and Clarence Hurst defended the affirmative side of the question. The judges had a difficult time deciding to whom belonged the laurels.

To those who did not attend the debate, we may say, "You are missing part of Susquehanna's student life." If a larger number of students would attend, we believe that the debaters would show their appreciation by increasing effort.

"This Vice President job sure is tough," said Arby as he cranked the Ford truck.

Changes in League Rules and Schedule

INTER-CLASS AND INTER-FRATERNITY BASKETBALL LEAGUE RULES AND SCHEDULES REVISED. PLEDGE MEN INELIGIBLE TO PLAY WITH FRATS

Another meeting of the Inter-class Inter-frat basketball league was held in the gym office Thursday, January 21. Preceding the regular session an informal discussion of basketball conditions and the attitude of the student body toward that sport were discussed.

A few of the high points may be considered from the following discussion. As Susquehanna has taken the initial step in trying to keep from giving athletes included men scholarships for playing in the sports of the school and from importing players, we have to find other means of getting teams that are capable of representing S. U. in the athletic world. We must have some definite system to find out just what material we have within our ranks. To do this, a system has been worked out whereby every person will be given an opportunity to try for some athletic honors. We may not be satisfied with the results of the basketball team thus far this year, but the only way that a better team may be developed, or that this team may have a reputation for itself is by having unselfish cooperation, school spirit of boundless pep, by doing what is a' hand for each one to do, by knocking obstacles rather than knocking the team. The best is the limit of any man's ability—that is what we expect—but this can only be obtained by hard work.

Although the reserves are not playing so many games at present, they are of limitless value to the team, and the material for our future warriors. The

Y. W. C. A. Had First "Playtime" Program

SECOND FLOOR OCCUPANTS PLAN AND PRESENT INTERESTING PROGRAM AT MEETING OF Y. W. SEVERAL WOULD BE PLAYS OFFERED

The Y. W. C. A. had their first "playtime" program of the year last Tuesday night. It was planned and given by the occupants of the second floor of Seibert Hall and was interesting, as many of the girls will testify.

A little play, "The Way They Do It in Europe," was given. The following girls took the parts indicated: Anna Norwat, King; Mary Reikler, Queen; Blanche Stauffer, Princess; Delsie Morris, Prince; "Mikie" Grubert and "Prudie" Wilson, curtains, and the Misses Collins, Holig, Schaura, and Goff were footlights. The play consisted of two acts and ended tragically as most European plays do. All of the characters committed suicide very gracefully except the King. It was his misfortune to have the dagger become lost, and thereby delaying his death for a few minutes.

"Under the Spreading Chestnut Tree" was sung with much volume, and "See Who's In For Speed," was played very enthusiastically. In this, Benner's team won from Kull's by a very close margin.

Cheers were given and more songs were sung and contributed toward making the meeting peppy.

An intelligence test was held in the form of a spelling match. The final score was, Yeineg 9, Farling 11.

The meeting ended with many requests for another "Playtime" soon.

"Arby" says, "Even the Seniors seem to get a thrill out of exams. They're almost as scared as the Freshmen. More power to them."

He who is alone with good books has good company.

MOTHER

I came into life and found—Mother,
As a child I played off in her lap,
And I vow there can ne'er be another Who can stay quite as dear to a chop:
Yes, she gave me all and asked nothing—
Shed tears in her heart just for me;
I was blind then—a tear seemed a farthing,
But youth faded—now I can see.
—L. L.

GOLD SHACKLES

I want to throw off this booted collar—
To set out of this city's square turns,
I'd blow in my last bloomin' dollar
For a line and a canful of worms;
I want to cut down thru the pasture
And plod with the rain in my face,
To be sure 'twould mean social disaster,
But oh, what a lofty disgrace;
I want to sneak down by the willows
And forget the rough edge of life's school—
The moss down there makes the best pillows,
And gee, what a dear swimming pool!
Oh sure you'll find gold in the city
If you're crooked enough for the turns,
But there! It's too late for your pity—
Just get me a line, and some worms.
—L. L.

A SONNET

I miss the fragrance of the flowers'
bloom,
That once, in clusters, near and far apart,
Gave off their odors to enthrall my heart
In joyous ecstasy; the winter's gloom,
With blighting hand, has spelt their doom
To Death, Dried petals, like a separate
eternity,
Of earth, eternal essence of great art,
Recall their redolence to fill the room.

Not Embarrassing

At a college examination a professor asked: "Does the question embarrass you?"
"Not at all, sir," replied the student,
"not at all. It is quite clear. It is the answer that bothers me!"
—Watchman Examiner.

Cheeky

The teacher was trying to teach the first-grade children the alphabet:
Teacher: "What letter in the alphabet comes after H?"
Bobby: "I don't know."
Teacher: "Now think, Bobby! What have I on each side of my nose?"
Bobby: "Looks a lot like powder, ma'am, from here!"

One Version of It

A clergyman, while instructing a Sunday school class, asked the children the meaning of "the quick and the dead." This seemed to puzzle them somewhat, but suddenly one small boy piped out, "Please, sir, the man as gets out of the way of the motor car is quick, and 'im as doesn't is dead."

HUMOR

A little girl who was left in charge of the house by her mother, with special warning against going into a closet containing certain good things, was found in the forbidden closet on the lady's return. Vexed at her daughter's disobedience, she asked if she knew who it was that tempted her to do wrong.
"It was Satan," said the girl.
"Then you should have said: 'Get three behind me, Satan!'" said the lady.
"So I did, mother," replied the girl;
"but then he pushed me into the closet."

Eventide was wrapping the countryside in a mantle of peaceful delight.
The boy stood on the bridge, and the sweet smile upon his young face was a beautiful thing to behold. Beyond the brow of the hill a dull red glow suffu-sed the sky.
"Ah, little man," remarked the stranger, who was rather near-sighted,
"it does my heart good to see you appreciate your beautiful effect!"
"Yes, sir," replied the lad. "I've been watching it for ten minutes."
"A real nature-lover, without doubt!"
enthused the stranger. "And do you watch the sunsets often, my boy?"
"Sunset? Why, that's the village school burning down!"

Little Janet, home from school unusually early, rang the doorbell, but no one answered. She rang a second and third time but still in vain. Then a brilliant idea struck her.
She flattened her nose against the window pane and in a shrill voice that must have reached the ears of every neighbor, called out: "It's all right, teacher: I'm not the instalment man!"
—Country Gentleman.

"Brothah Johnson," said Parson White, "Ah'd laid to git yo' to come to ch'rch."
"Why, puhson," exclaimed Mr. Johnson, shocked, "dey ain't no need fo' me to come to ch'rch. You'all don converted me last' August!"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The professor had written on the board of a student's paper:
"Please write more legibly."
The next day the student went to the desk and asked:
"Professor, what is that you wrote on the back of my theme?"
Artist: "This is my latest picture,
'Students at Work.' It's very realistic."
Friend: "But they are not at work!"
Artist: "Yes, that's the realism!"
—Edwin Dorthacher.

Brought Their Own Light

Two Irishmen, just landed, stopped at a private boarding house one hot July night. Retiring early, they left the window open and the light burning brightly. The mosquitoes swarmed in to the room and began biting.
Mike, awakening, called to Pat to put out the light. Pat got up and put it out and crawled back to bed again.
Pat awoke about an hour later and found the room full of fireflies and said:
"It's no use, Mike. They are coming in with lanterns!"

Stud—"Going down after mail."
Boss—"No, after a female."

DR. SURFACE PRESENTS

A SCIENTIFIC SUBJECT
Dr. Surface, instructor in Biology and Zoology, presented a scientific paper on "Efficiency and Economy in Bee Keeping," at the annual meeting of the Penna. State Bee Keepers Association in Harrisburg last week.

Dr. Surface has been connected with this organization for some time. He served in the capacity of president from 1901 to 1915, and has much influence in that body. The paper contained several facts, new to text books and was well received by the assembly.

also a number of those who are students of the University during the summer school period. The majority of them were members of Dr. Woodruff's Wilkes-Barre extension class in American poetry. This course has just been completed the past week.

The members of this class gave a testimonial dinner in honor of their instructor, Dr. Woodruff, at the Hotel Sterling on Saturday evening, January 16. The whole affair was quite elaborate and was eloquent of the esteem in which the class held their teacher. The various persons who took part in the program were all members of the group that has been taking the extension work. The numbers were announced by Prof. Andrew L. Lenahan, supervising principal Sugar Notch borough schools, who served as toastmaster. He was ably assisted by Prof. Joseph Gallagher, of the Hanover Township Schools who was the songmaster, and Miss Margaret E. Davis, supervisor of music, Warrior Run borough schools, who accompanied the musical numbers. The program follows:

- 1.—National Hymn, "America."
- Smith: 2.—Humorous Reading, "Billy Brad's Big Lie." Butler, Miss Anna Handley, Edwardsville; 3.—Duet, "Garden of My Heart," Herbert, Miss Anna G. Lynch and Prof. Joseph Larson, Larksville borough; 4.—Reading, "The Bells," Doe, Miss Marjorie Pace, Hanover township; 5.—Class Songs, "Old Black Joe," etc.; 6.—Address, "When Lilacs Last in the Dooryard Bloomed," Edward Sylvanus Williams, supervising principal, Warrior Run borough schools; 7.—Baritone Solo, "West of the Great Divide, Ball, Professor Joseph Larson, Larksville borough; 8.—Humorous Reading, "Her First Trip to the Butcher's, Anon, Miss Anna Handley, Edwardsville borough; 9.—Class Songs, "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms," etc.; 10.—Declaration, "The Two Roads," Richter, Miss Jane Lloyd, Warrior Run borough; 11.—Class Songs, "School Days," etc.; 12.—Address, "Humorous Situations," Prof. Russell Williams, Sugar Notch borough; 13.—Class Songs, "Smiles," etc.; 14.—Soprano Solo, "Remember," Berlin, Miss Theodora Kozik, Plains township; 15.—Address, "Our Honored Guest," Prof. James W. Pace, Hanover Township schools; 16.—Soprano Solo, "My Gift to You," Cadman, Miss Anna B. O'Donnell, Sugar Notch borough; 17.—Presentation Speech, Prof. Frank A. Finnegan, Hanover Township schools; 18.—Class Song, "Love's Old Sweet Song," 19.—Address by the Guest of the Evening, the Hon. John I. Woodruff, Ph. D., Dean of Education, Susquehanna University; 20.—Class Songs, "When You Get to the End of a Perfect Day," "Till We Meet Again," etc.

PRE-MEDICAL CLUB HELD MEETING

At the regular meeting of the Pre-Medical Club, Dr. Surface was appointed by the president to act as critic for the club on the pronunciation of scientific names. Changes in the course were discussed and a committee was appointed to take up the matter of introducing courses in Histology, Bacteriology, and Embryology. Dr. Surface read an article upon the subject of "Hypnotism on Disease and Dieting."

and voted on in this class. It will be carried on strictly according to form. We expect to get much of value out of the course, and to see heated debates next semester.

ALUMNI NOTES

All Alumni are urged to send any news that they think might be of interest to the students, fellow Alumni, or friends of Susquehanna, to Mr. William Kepner, S. U.

There may be a large amount of alumni news, but then that same news may not be in our hands, and we are not able to write from our imagination and still record real facts. Nevertheless, here are a few news items that may interest some.

Rev. Lester G. Shannon, '15, Sem. '18, has accepted a call to the Trinity Lutheran Church, of DuBois, Penna. Rev. Shannon is now located at Williamsburg, Pa.

Rev. John B. Kniesley, who is now pastor of Grace Lutheran Church of Northumberland, has been confined to his home thru sickness, for the past week. Rev. Kniesley has already met with much success since assuming charge of his new field.

Rev. James Goss, of West Milton, has been confined to his home or some time on account of serious illness. We are glad to report his condition better at the present time.

Dr. Hoover, president of Carthage College, has accepted a chair in the Gettysburg Theological Seminary. Dr. Hoover is the second Susquehanna man that has been elected to the Gettysburg faculty this year. Dr. M. Hadwin Fischer being the other.

The Church of the Reformation in Baltimore, Md., has a splendid and efficient pastor. He is especially loved for his kindness and sympathy, as well as his tactful handling of the multitude of duties and problems which devolve upon him. The success which has been his in building a congregation of such a goodly number, for there are approximately one thousand communicant members, reflects to the credit of old S. U., from which he graduated with the class of '99. He took his first divinity degree from Gettysburg, S. U., laid the foundation for the further achievements which were his. A large and active Christian Endeavor Society, one of the most active in the city, has absorbed some of his energy and, like him, seeks to spread its sphere of influence for good. During the last commencement week at S. U., the degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon him.

In charge of the Lutheran Deaconess Motherhouse located in Baltimore is a jovial man, Rev. Foster I. Gift, D. D., and why? It must be because he is an alumnus of ours. S. U. trained him, now he supervises the training of others. Not alone is he satisfied with the regular work and stipulated requirements but needs must he add to it in his desire to be of service. A course for Christian workers, a wonderful opportunity for young people to broaden their knowledge and usefulness in Christian service, has been started. This is given at night that it might be most fully utilized and not curtail the daily curriculum. The keynote is service; S. U. served him, now he serves others in a way that they too may serve.

township, Snyder county. They have six children, Paul, Mary Elizabeth, Charles Arthur, Harold, Bernice, and Arline, who is a member of the Sophomore Class of Susquehanna.

Under the capable direction of Dr. Fisher, the School of Business has grown from a department of nine students with limited preparatory training, to one of nearly seventy, distributed through the four years. Only students of four years of high school training or its equivalent are admitted to regular standing.

The years that we spend at college are passing swiftly. Time waits for no man. While we are here we should spend our time in intense study and preparation. Don't be anxious to try your "wings" in the world. Get ready, and the world will be waiting for you. Do yourself justice, and you will do justice to others.

PICTURE OF LUTHER TO BE

The eight reel moving picture of the life of Martin Luther and the Great Reformation Times that was shown in Sunbury some time ago, will be at the High School at Northumberland Thursday evening, Jan. 28.

Those students who saw it were well pleased, and those who did not have that privilege may be able to see it this week. There are two showings of it. The first at 6 p. m. and the second at 8 o'clock.

tion given was of the nature that it might be put to practical use in the community where each student is some time expected to be an influence for good.

The usual wise cracks were made by various members of the group as to the extremely poor chances some other person of the same group, had of ever being allowed to leave the institution, but there was not one who left without being deeply convinced that the Danville Hospital is doing much in reclaiming as useful citizens many who would otherwise be public charges for the balance of their lives or by providing a home where the mentally deficient will get the proper sympathetic care.

COLLEGE NEWS

Don Rhoades visited his home at Lewistown this week.

Pratt got his notice from the health department Saturday.

Lupfer slipped and broke a string. Means just remembered the time when Gordon called time out in a reserve basketball game to ask where he could get a good date. Yes, it was at Norry.

Kemmerer is publishing a book upon the proper technique of sleeping in class. He does not anticipate a heavy sale until next semester.

Several of the male members of the Sophomore English class are preparing a little drama entitled, "What Price, Essay."

Two Senior boys want to know why Mrs. Aikens stopped baking pies.

The Hassinger Hall Court was in session again this week. Another Freshman was convicted of doing wrong. The culprit's name is Imier, who was tried for "mistreating Selbert Hall girls." Although this offense is a serious one, it seems to be common among the Freshmen. It is attributed to the great crime wave that is sweeping our country today. After oaths were taken and passed around, the trial proceeded. It naturally followed that the lad was found guilty. His penalty was not a severe one, due to the pleadings of Bard. The criminal swore that he would never commit such an offence again. Others swore also. Of course the Honorable Judge Cassel presided. He always tried to be just against his own nature. To insure the court of this he kept his book of business law handy. The wise sage was protected by a body guard of two who both carried revolvers.

Cassell had to go home again as a result of the strain. Stroup went with him.

Doehler visited his home and sweet heart at Williamsport over the weekend. It is the general belief that Hanner went home for the same reason. Mansfield State Normal is quarantined, you know.

All the inmates of Selingsgrove Hall "stuck with the ship" this week.

"Cal" Sarver went home this week. We were glad to welcome Lester Shaffer into our midst over the weekend. "Les" is a student at Jefferson Medical College.

Saturday the Four Horsemen (without the horse) hiked to the Tall Timbers. The boys started at 4 a. m. The names of the group are N. Ramer, Stewart, Roberts and Kaufman.

"Kike" Young visited his home over Saturday and Sunday.

The sick list for this week still remains at two. We are glad that Don and Patsy are both well again. But we are sorry that Baxter is suffering from an attack of the Grippe. Bauer has been seriously ill the last few days with Tonsillitis. We wish both of these fellows a quick recovery.

best of the class teams are material for the reserves or regulars and so on. The Physical Director has promised more games after the exams as he stated that in reality scholastic achievements are the foundation of a successful, hard working, fighting team. A fair chance should be given to all, and the representatives feel that they have done their best in making the following regulations concerning the League.

The following changed schedule has been adopted:

Inter-class

1. Frosh vs. Juniors; Soph. vs. Seniors, Feb. 6.
2. Soph. vs. Juniors; Frosh vs.
Theologs, Feb. 10.
4. Juniors vs. Theologs, Feb. 17.
6. Frosh vs. Seniors, Soph. vs.
Theologs, Feb. 24.
8. Seniors vs. Theologs, Mar. 3.
11. Juniors vs. Seniors, Frosh vs.
Soph. Mar. 13.

Inter-frat

3. Phi Mu Delta vs. Epsilon Sigma.
Bond and Key vs. Phi Beta Rho, Feb.
13.
4. Phi Beta Rho vs. Non-frat, Feb.
17.
5. Phi Mu Delta vs. Phi Beta Rho,
Bond and Key vs. Non-frat, Feb. 20.
7. Bond and Key vs. Epsilon Sigma,
Phi Mu Delta vs. Non-frat, Feb. 27.
9. Epsilon Sigma vs. Phi Beta Rho,
Phi Mu Delta vs. Bond and Key,
Mar. 5.
10. Epsilon Sigma vs. Non-frat,
Mar. 10.

The following rules will govern the league:

1. Any man whose name appears on either the list of the varsity squad (12) or the reserve squad (12) is not eligible to play in either the Inter-class or the Inter-Fraternity Leagues.
2. Five men in uniform must appear at the time of the scheduled game as called, to represent the group scheduled to play at that time. Failure to comply with this rule will result in a forfeiture. No team can be more than fifteen minutes late or the game will be forfeited.
3. The officials chosen by the representatives were Follmer, Houtz, Bannon and Thomas. The scorer shall be the managers of the two teams playing, or if he be a player, he shall appoint a person to do his work.
4. Any dispute concerning officials or other matters shall be settled by the commissioner, the president of the league (Mr. Martin), and the Physical Director.
5. In the Inter-frat. League only men who are active or have been active and are still on the campus are eligible to represent that group.
6. If both teams fail to be represented by five men as designated each team will be given a defeat in the standing of the league.
7. The rules will be the National Inter-Collegiate rules, and the time
two twenty minute halves.
8. Ineligible lists will be posted each Monday on the Bulletin Board.
Practice sessions: Monday—Sophsophors; Tuesday—Epsilon Sigma, Phi Mu Delta; Wednesday—Theologs,
Non-Frat.; Thursday—Frosh., Juniors;
Friday—Phi Beta Rho, Bond and Key.
Time will be announced later.

Note: Any one having orders for suits or other equipment must have it in as soon as possible.

Let us do our bit to get interest and support your class team that all may benefit from this arrangement.

ORANGE AND MAROON LOST GAMES TO DREXEL INSTITUTE AND ST. THOMAS

Dunkleberger Was High Scorer in Both Contests; Opponents Had Fast Playing Quintets; Guarding by Sleight and Emil Also Feature

The engineers of Drexel Institute were entertained on the local court Friday night and handed Coach Follmer's aggregation a 39-30 setback. The visitors were much superior to the Orange and Maroon, both in team work and shooting, as the ball was always on the move and they had a perfect passing system. The home team played ragged ball thruout, and lacked team work, which is the first essential of a winning team. Quite a few substitutions and changing of positions were made, but of no avail, and not until Capt. Kurtz was sent in did the team show any semblance of a collegiate five.

Dunkleberger was the outstanding scorer, tallying four two-pointers, all difficult shots from the side, which are hard to complete on the local floor, due to the overhanging balcony. Dunk has been a consistent player all year and should be the mainstay of the team in future seasons, being only a Freshman this year. Emil, another first year man, came thru with two baskets, and was in the game at all times, fighting for the ball. Sleight played a good guard game thruout, against the lanky engineers, and broke up the team plays of the visiting five again and again.

Dixon, a new student this semester, hailing from the Smoky City, was started at center against Drexel, and showed up well. After a few more games with the Susquehannites he will be able to get on to the style of play of the other members of the squad and his height can be used to a good advantage at center. Capt. Kurtz made two baskets and was a great help in keeping the five together while he was playing.

Hey was the star for the visitors, being the fastest man seen in action here for some time, and he was a sure shot under the basket. Six baskets fell to his credit, with three to his teammate Gregory.

On Saturday the squad journeyed to Scranton and met St. Thomas College. Once more our record was preserved unblemished, and the game was lost 45-19. Dunkleberger came thru with four baskets and with a foul throw made nine of the nineteen points. Sleight played his usual game at guard, holding his man to one basket in the first half. Dixon, Sleight and Emil each scored one basket. Edwards was the high point man for the coal region boys, making a grand total of 12 points. Nine players were used by the Orange and Maroon, but the best combination apparently has not been found. Two hard games are scheduled for the coming week-end, and the student body is hoping for the best, as the visiting teams both have very good records so far this season.

PRE-MEDICAL CLUB HAD BI-WEEKLY MEETING

The Pre-Medical Club held its regular bi-weekly meeting last Wednesday evening in the social rooms.

After the usual business meeting, Dr. H. Dudley Rarick spoke upon Tuberculosis, which subject then received an interesting general discussion.

Dr. Surface then spoke upon the effect of spray solutions on fruit. He stated that fruits are not poisoned by proper spraying, as is sometimes believed.

It was decided to hold a joint meeting with the Science Club Wednesday evening, February 17th. The entire student body is urged to attend this meeting, since at this time Dr. Surface will present an answer to Luther Burbank's most recent statement. Dr. Surface will give his reasons, backed by scientific facts, for believing that Burbank erred in reaching his conclusions.

Mrs. Sheldon Able Teacher of Music

INSTRUCTRESS IN HARMONY AND HISTORY IN CONSERVATORY AND IS POPULAR WITH STUDENT BODY—ALSO SINGS IN THE CHOIR OF TRINITY CHURCH

When Professor Sheldon first came to this institution he found, a student within its walls, a winsome miss, who in her Senior year, became his wife.

Following her graduation in 1907, Mrs. Sheldon became an instructress in Harmony and History of Music, in the S. U. Conservatory of Music. In 1910 she went with her husband to Lebanon Valley College at Annville, Pa., where she occupied a similar position; again in 1920 she returned to S. U. Since then she has been imparting musical knowledge to the conservatory students in her customary efficient manner.

As a teacher Mrs. Sheldon is unequalled in her line of work. Although she is a strict disciplinarian and insists upon a complete mastery of the subjects taken under her, she is greatly respected and very well liked by all her students.

In addition to her teaching activities, she is one of the most capable soprano soloists in the Trinity Lutheran Church choir of Selinsgrove, and is an active worker in the Ladies' Auxiliary of Susquehanna University. At present she is vice president of that organization. Mrs. Sheldon is also an honorary member of Mu Sigma Sorority and was of great assistance to them in effecting their organization.

Mrs. Sheldon has a great appreciation for aesthetic beauty and acoustic properties and no doubt many of the recent improvements in the Conservatory of Music can be traced to her influence.

Old Songs and Old Gowns to Feature

PROGRAM WILL BE GIVEN BY THE MARY LAVINA YOUNG CLUB. EVERYONE HAS THE PRIVILEGE OF SUBMITTING FAVORITE SONGS

Reminiscent of the days of '76, a very charming evening is being planned for March 1st, to be presented in Seibert Chapel Hall of Susquehanna University. In decided contrast with the greater part of the program the opening feature is in the form of an "Entr'Acte," consisting of an Arabian Cycle interpreted by Mr. Joseph Foppiano and Miss Helen Ott. Following this you are to be transported into the realm of hallowed memories—thru the years of yesterday.

Charming young ladies in dainty hoop-skirts and poke bonnets—young swains in laces and "what not"—and old airs, sweet and familiar, sung by "our grandmothers in their party days." The dignified and stately Minuet—a real old clog from "de quarters"—all this and more surprises to make a truly irresistible evening, in which you may take part or "Jes set and listen." If you are weary of the "same old thing"—don't miss this and then say, "If I had known it would be like that." We warn you now. Wrap

Pa. School Journal Refers to S. U.

COMMENDS LARGE REPRESENTATION OF SUSQUEHANNA TEACHERS AT ALL COLLEGE DINNER. ALSO SPEAKS OF DR. HARVEY D. HOOVER

We are pleased to note that the current number of the Pennsylvania School Journal carries two items that have reference to Susquehanna University. The first item in speaking of the All College Dinner held at Scranton during the mid-year P. S. E. A. convention, after enumerating the colleges represented there, says, "the four largest delegations represented Maryland, Bucknell, Albright and Susquehanna. We are pleased to note the splendid representation of Susquehanna teachers in the gathering."

The second item is as follows: "Dr. Harvey D. Hoover, president of Carthage University, Carthage, Ill., has accepted the chair of practical theology at the Lutheran Seminary at Gettysburg, Pa., his duties to begin Sept. 1, 1926. Dr. Hoover succeeds the late Dr. J. A. Clutz, who died near Stockholm, Sweden, during the past summer."

The editor of The Susquehanna takes pleasure to observe that Dr. Hoover is an Alumnus of Susquehanna University, having taken the classical course in the College, and having graduated therefrom, and having also graduated from the Theological Seminary. Moreover, he was on the teaching staff of the University some dozen years ago, holding the professorship of Sociology and Economics.

Dr. Hoover has our best wishes in entering upon his new field of labor.

DR. GOTTWALD DIED

We are sorry to chronicle the death of Dr. Fred Gottwald, of York, Pa., financial secretary of the United Lutheran Church of America.

Dr. Gottwald was a frequent visitor to Susquehanna and was greatly interested in the welfare of the University and all her students.

Reserves Lost Second Game of the Season

Contest Was Hard Fought Thruout; Superior Shooting Ability and Team Work Earned Victory

The Reserve basketball team lost a hard-fought game to the Wilkes-Barre Business College on Saturday, January 29th, by the score of 26-20. Though our team was outclassed by their more experienced opponents, they showed the best fighting spirit that has been displayed this year.

The game was rough at times, but was interesting from start to finish and was marked by many thrills.

Pa. Colleges May Form Conference

A NUMBER OF SMALLER COLLEGES MAY FORM A FOOTBALL CONFERENCE ON ORDER OF THE BIG TEN. MANY SUSQUEHANNA POLICIES EVIDENT

Steps toward the formation of a football conference among a number of smaller colleges in Pennsylvania will be taken shortly. This was decided at a meeting of the Association of College Presidents of Pennsylvania held at Harrisburg a few weeks ago, and the conference was definitely launched at a meeting of a committee headed by Dr. H. H. Apple, president of Franklin & Marshall College and consisting of the following members: Dr. Apple, Dean Raymond Walters, Swarthmore; Dr. John M. McCracken, who recently resigned as president of Lafayette; Dr. James H. Morgan, of Dickinson, and President W. W. Comfort, of Lehigh.

Franklin & Marshall, Dickinson, Muhlenberg, Gettysburg, which already have interlocking schedules; and Swarthmore, Haverford and Ursinus are the seven colleges which are being considered as a nucleus for the new organization. Dr. Apple said that an amiable agreement among the seven colleges would be sought and that the addition of other colleges would be provided for.

This committee was appointed last year to study the football situation in Pennsylvania colleges. The report declared that the efforts of outside in-

Debating Schedule Has Been Announced

VARSITY TEAMS HAVE BEEN PICKED FOR DEBATES WITH VARIOUS COLLEGES. OUR TEAMS WILL ARGUE UPON THE LEAGUE QUESTION

The manager of the debating team has announced the schedule and questions of debate for 1926.

In the debate with the University of Wyoming, the question shall be: Resolved that the present pending Child Labor Amendment should be adopted. In every other contest, our debaters will argue on the question of the advisability of the entrance of the United States into the League of Nations.

At present Susquehanna's teams are composed as follows: Affirmative, Harold Ditzler, Lee Boyer, Clarence Hurst, Gere Sharretts, alternate. Negative, Eugene Adams, William Schriber, Paul Lucas and Harold Swank, alternate. Our negative team for the debate with Wyoming has not been selected up to this time. Most of the debates will take place at Selinsgrove and are scheduled for 7:30 p. m., with the exception of the one with Ursinus. This contest will be at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The schedule follows:

Feb. 18, at home, Juniata aff. vs. S. U. neg.

Some mutual date, away, S. U. aff. vs. Juniata's neg.

Feb. 24, at home, Capitol Univ. aff. vs. S. U. neg.

Feb. 27, at home, Albright neg. vs. S. U. aff.

March 4, at home, Ursinus aff. vs. S. U. neg.

March 11, at home, Western Maryland neg. vs. S. U. aff.

April 1, at home, University of Wyoming aff. vs. S. U. neg.

Members of the faculty of Susquehanna University were tendered a reception in Seibert Chapel Hall Friday evening by Dr. and Mrs. Charles T. Aikens and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. T. Horton.

More than fifty persons were present, including members of the families of the faculty. The musical program was most enjoyable and included numbers by Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Sheldon, Miss Lavina Young, Miss Mary Potteiger and Prof. Bailey.

Mrs. Aikens and Mrs. Horton were each presented with flowers by the appreciative guests.

Fraternity Smokers In Honor of New Men

Rushing Season Marked by Informal Smokers Held at Fraternity Houses. Many Freshmen Attend

Many of the Freshman boys smoked more the past week than they did for several years. They attended the fraternity rush smokers.

Epsilon Sigma entertained the boys in fitting manner on Tuesday evening. After smoking their limit, the new men started in upon a large supply of peanuts, pretzels and apples that had been provided by the hosts and enjoyed the "eats" immensely.

The Bond and Key Club had a very enjoyable program consisting of music, recitations and talks by various persons on Thursday evening. The program also included dancing acts by Rideour. After it had been completed, refreshments were served. Plenty of smokers added to the enjoyment of the evening.

Phi Beta Rho also entertained with a smoker on Thursday night. They had an interesting program and good things to eat and those who attended reported royal entertainment.

The Phi Mu Delta Fraternity held the last of the series of smokers after the basket ball game with Drexel on Friday night. The program was informal and included music, cards and speeches. There were in evidence before the smoker got well under way, plenty of smoked, sandwiches and coffee, of which all partook in a hearty manner.

The Freshmen found all of these affairs most enjoyable. The general spirit of good will shown at all the houses speaks very well of the fraternities.

Ladies' Auxiliary Elects New Officers For 1926

Mrs. Groce to Succeed Mrs. Surface as President. Interesting Facts Concerning Their Work Brought Out

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary was held in Seibert Hall social rooms last Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Carrie Lenhart, with the aid of a splendid committee as helpers, served a splendid refreshment, consisting of sandwiches, home made cake and coffee.

The girls' choral club of the local high school, under the capable direction of Miss Potteiger, rendered several selections: Miss Moody being the accompanist. Miss Adeline Wingard gave a reading.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Surface, the president. The secretary reported an addition of 135 new members during the present administration and the treasurer reported an expenditure for the benefit of the college of almost $1900 in the same time.

This being the meeting designated in the constitution for the annual election, the report of the nominating

ONE ON THE GIRLS

It really looks as if the joke is on the girls of the University of California, while three male juniors are entitled to the little spurt of renown they have received. Observing the constant habit of the coeds in the matter of primping in class, applying the powder puff, lip stick and the rouge, these ironical boy undergraduates, with a very pointed permissive gesture from the professor, took their shaving cups, razors, towels and accessories into the classroom the other morning.

With the same deft concern they had observed in the coeds, they proceeded to shave while the professor plunged into the work of the hour. That the point of the joke was not missed was evident, so the story goes, from the universal applause every few moments from the boys, the obvious blushes of the girls and the outspoken statement by the professor that "men students have just as much right to come into class and shave as the girls have to be always powdering and primping in class and in public."

The professor may have been just a little severe, but honestly there is some obvious sense where the privacy of the coed ends and the public propriety begins. If it has been decreed that the gentleman must not manhandle his nails nor wield the tooth pick in public, there seems to be some justification for a ruling on the important subjects of the powder puff, lipstick and rouge. However, when the students and men in general may do all the fun they want to about it, the girls will probably do as they please. So the discussion is a waste of time.—Evening Public Ledger.

THOUGHTS FOR THE NEW SEMESTER

Watches worthy of consideration present themselves at the beginning of the new semester as well as at the beginning of the new year. There are many things that we can do to improve Susquehanna that will help to make her bigger and better, that should be given our attention.

Our athletic teams do not have the drawing power that those of large schools have, and for that reason we must devise other means to get students to come to Susquehanna. It may be a little matter for each one to talk to persons who are considering going to school and tell them of the things of interest in which you think S. U. is strong. There are many people who do not know enough of Susquehanna to give her serious thought when they choose a school for themselves. Speak a few words and who knows but what they may be the very words that are necessary to convince some of those persons that this is the place for them.

But before we can expect others to come here we must do everything in our power to make Susquehanna attractive. We need pep, school spirit. Any organization that is full of pep is sure to attract a following, for others are desirous to belong to a growing organization. Susquehanna is growing. Let us help to make her school spirit, organizations, classes, and social activities so full of true spirit that they cannot help but be stimulative for an increasing student body.

Let us continue to talk for and work for the betterment of S. U.—P. R. H.

Let the morn come and the meat with it.

SUSQUEHANNA QUESTIONNAIRE

Believing that the average college student does not know whether he is living or isn't, the staff has made out the following questions to find out whether you are a real college man or not. All you have to do is to answer the questions below, and the nearness of your answer to 100 will determine your rating. Please hand in your answers and your ratings to Arbogast on or before St. Patrick's Day, 1946.

Questions

Are you an athlete?—Add 9.
Do you belong to a fraternity?—Add 6.
Are you in love?—Add 10.
Did you ever take Zoology?—Subtract 2.

Do you ever think that all of the interminables play politics?—Add 60.
Do you ever have a date at Selbert Hall? Subtract 6.
Do you believe in co-education?—Subtract everything.

IMPROVEMENTS

Susquehanna University has opened her doors to begin this, the second semester of the college year. And with this new opening there comes an inquiry regarding just what we may have accomplished and whether we have made any marked improvements up to this time. S. U. can meet this inquiry with a smile, for during the past months she has been up and doing, and as a result many improvements have been made.

The gymnasium has been the center of several improvements, the most marked of which has been the placement of two more baskets at the sides of the gym. These two additional baskets mean much to our squad and are a great asset to the gymnasium.

Another valued improvement is the installation of three showers, which are not completed at present, but will be ready for use within a few days. Within a few days "New Chairs" will replace those in the lecture room. These improvements were greatly needed and their true worth lies in the value that we are to receive from them.—B. S.

IMPROVEMENTS SUGGESTED IN PRE-MEDICAL COURSE

In keeping with the general desire to make Susquehanna bigger and better, are the efforts of the Pre-Medical Department to have their course changed so as to make it one of the best to be obtained anywhere.

This they would do by dropping certain subjects from the list of required studies and adding others. They would make History elective for pre-medical students and add, if at all possible, the study of Bacteriology, Embryology and Histology.

There is no doubt but that knowledge of the subjects mentioned is of great value to the student who expects to enter a medical school. It has been pointed out that the addition of these subjects to the pre-medical course of study would make it one of the best. Any suggestion for the improvement of any of our courses are most welcome.

If you want to take lessons, watch Fague '28.
We dare not forget, Sands, has returned to our midst after a long illness.
Ridenour, ex-'25, has survived the mid-year exams and is as happy as ever.
Leshner '27 was very lonesome over the week-end.

NO MORE MIDNIGHT PARTIES

The Student Council has adopted a new plan to be used in the punishment of first-year men who break any of the Freshmen rules.

In place of the old system, whereby the Freshies were summoned to appear at the gym at 9:30 p. m. with the inevitable towel and paddle and marched to the tombstone locality for punishment, the new plan decrees that the Sophomores and Student Council will cooperate even more than they have in the past. Names of delinquent Freshmen will be reported by the Sophomores and the Student Council will acknowledge the offenses and punishment. Between any two classes, when the Sophomores see fit, they will ring a bell to be placed in the old chapel hall, which is the signal for all upper-classmen to hasten to that hall. There the Freshmen who are guilty will be tried, convicted, and punished in broad daylight. One great advantage of the new scheme is that the girls are to be welcome guests. Heretofore they have never witnessed the actual ceremonies.

Most of the "veterans" of the Freshmen class seem to prefer the new daylight parties. It remains to be seen whether this preference will continue.

up and come—your money back if not satisfied.

This program is being presented by members of the Voice Class and others interested in the work of a little unit of workers known as the Mary Lavinia Young Club. They are trying to stimulate themselves by assisting in beautifying their work-shop—the Conservatory. When this is accomplished—they will seek new fields of action in the world of Art and Service.

If you love music of the dear dead days, gone beyond recall; if you wish to preserve the sweet memories of the hallowed past—and review again the old fashioned charm of the youth of '76, come out and let us see if the portrayal is true.

The price is only 25c, unless you think it worth more after hearing the male quartet—when you may purchase all the left-over tickets—as souvenirs.

If you miss your snapper in order to be on time we shall have you warmed with real hot tea. In the meantime make up your parties. Let us know if you have a favorite old song—and it shall be "served" by request—maybe "we won't go home until morning"—if there are many—because we are singing everybody's favorite.

Address the Club if you wish tickets saved in advance—25c a piece—$3.00 a dozen—$25.00 a hundred—400 for $100.00. If you wish to be "a patron of Art"—send $1.00 and have your seat reserved.

Full program later—when all orders are in.

dividuals and groups to underwrite the financial support of athletes without the knowledge of the colleges was a menace to amateur sport. The committee favored the control of athletics by the faculties as a part of the educational program of the colleges and urged that outside influence be curbed.

To all those interested in Susquehanna this move is at once apparent as but another step on the part of other colleges of Pennsylvania, in approaching the high athletic standards found at Susquehanna. Our policy is well defined and stands squarely against professionalism of all kinds in college sports. Our Crusaders are playing the game for the game's sake, and are not being paid to come here to play football or any other sport.

At present we do not have world beating teams, because some schools are still buying up the most distinguished athletes, as fast as they develop. In a great many cases groups of Alumni devise ways by which some athlete of their choice is provided with all his expenses so that he may represent their Alma Mater on the field. But the members of our Athletic Board did foresee what the inevitable result must be and they took steps along the line of needed reform greatly in advance of most of the schools of Pennsylvania. Today Susquehanna has an Athletic Association Constitution that has been used as a basis for the revision of other similar constitutions. It gives everyone a fair chance and expresses the ideal, "May the best man win."

committee from the floor was next in order. As the constitution limits all offices to two-year terms, with the exception of the secretary and treasurer, all new officers with those two exceptions, were elected. They are as follows: President, Mrs. Wm. F. Groce; first vice president, Mrs. Surface; second vice president, Mrs. Sheldon; recording secretary, Miss Fannie Jacob; assistant recording secretary, Miss Ruth Hermann; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Horton; treasurer, Mrs. Aikens.

While the votes were being counted the president read the work of the Gettysburg League, and urged the members to work for the girls' scholarship fund. Upon motion of Mrs. Kretschman, the Auxiliary voted to honor its two presidents by placing their names in the Golden Memory Book, which is the financial basis for a girls' scholarship for S. U.

In a few well chosen words, Mrs. Aikens, in her usual gracious manner, presented to Mrs. Surface, on behalf of the organization, a magnificent basket of carnations and narcissus, in appreciation of her work as president. Mrs. Surface expressed her thanks and appreciation of the gift.

The committee to buy linoleum for Seibert Hall was continued and authorized to make the purchase. A permanent committee to look after the work of the Golden Memory Book was appointed, with Mrs. Sadler as chairman.

The retiring president then announced the results of the election and called the new president, Mrs. Groce, to the chair. In a few words the latter pledged her best efforts to the advancement of the work of the organization.

This giant hydro-electric unit weighs 750 tons and consists of a vertical shaft hydraulic turbine attached to an electric generator delivering 52,000 kilowatts at 12,000 volts.

Bigger Generators— Cheaper Electricity

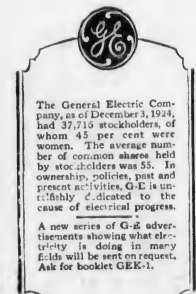

A 70,000 horsepower hydro-electric unit recently installed at Niagara Falls utilizes the same amount of water as seven former 5,000-horsepower units, yet does the work of fourteen such units. And it saves 700,000 tons of coal yearly for the nation.

As more and still more uses are found for electricity, larger and more economical generators are installed. At the power plant, as well as at the consumer's end, important changes and startling developments have steadily reduced the cost of electricity for light, power, and heat.

And wherever electricity has blazed its trail—in towns, cities, industrial centers, and rural communities—comfort and progress have come to stay.

Generating and distributing electricity concern the technical student. But electricity's application in the betterment of industry, the professions, and home life concerns every educated person. Cheap electricity means many startling achievements today, but countless and unbelievable possibilities tomorrow.

Seniors and Freshmen Win Inter-class Tilts

Vanquish Sophomores and Juniors in Opening Games of Interclass League.
Other Games This Week

The interclass basket ball league was opened Saturday when the Seniors defeated the Sophomores in a hotly contested battle 21-20; while the Frosh completely outclassed the Juniors 42-6.

The Senior-Sophomore game was a fight from beginning to the end. The Sophomores were the first to score, but the Seniors soon got going and were leading by a few points at the end of the first half. Morning played a stellar game, aided by Groce. Bolle was the high scorer of the Senior team, and at the same time played a wonderful floor game.

The Frosh completely outclassed the Juniors in the second game by the score of 42-6. Smith, of the Freshman team, was nearly high scorer for the Juniors, when he knocked in a basket for his opponents. The only other two scorers for the Juniors were Swank and Daubenspeck. The entire Freshman team played a good game, altho Ricard and Weaver were leading scorers.

The games were well attended and judging from the first games the rivalry is sure to be most keen. Wednesday the Freshmen play the Theolozes and the Sophomores play the Juniors.

Theolog Team Lost to Selingsgrove High

Coach Bannon's Proteses Proved Too Much For "the Preachers." Game
Was Interesting

In an encounter last Tuesday with the Selingsgrove High School team, the Theologs lost by the score of 41-11.
The Seminarians did not have a chance, for the younger team had too much speed and displayed too much team work for them.

Martin was the best man for the Theologs, for he scored the majority of their points. There were no outstanding stars on the high school team, as most every man had at least three field goals.

However, the game was not so uninteresting as the score would indicate, and had the Theolog team been more experienced it would have been a more worthy opponent.

New Students at Beginning of Semester

Came from Other Universities and Normal Schools. Becoming Acquainted With S. U. Life

When the doors of S. U. opened February 2d to begin the second semester of the college year, it was noticed with much pleasure that ten new students had entered her portals of learning.

Among this group of students we find several notable persons, such as George Casper Eddinger from Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, and winner of a five year scholarship to Europe; Thomas H. Dixon, of the University of Pittsburgh, who has joined the Orange and Maroon tossers, and Rabbi Philip Greenstein, of Shamokin, a former student of the College of City of New York.

Also Messrs. John Linder, Bucknell University; Frederick S. Shutes, University of Pittsburgh; Benjamin Wirt and Melvin Adams.

Among the co-eds we find three new comers. They are Miss Ruth Straw, Irving College; Miss Letha Bogart, Indiana State Normal School, and Miss Winifred Means, of Slippery Rock
State Normal School.

Susquehanna welcomes these students and invites them to a complete participation in all her campus activities.

gagement ring I gave her, Bobby?"

S. U. TRIMS OSTEOPATHY AND LOSES FRAY WITH SCHUYLKILL

Dunkelberger and Emel Were Outstanding Stars in Week-End Battles; Both Games Thrilling from Start to Finish, Maryland Trip This Week

The Orange and Maroon quintet came thru last Thursday with a 43-33 win over Philadelphia College of Osteopathy, breaking the jinx that has been sticking with the local team all season. The game was fast from the start with the combination of Dunkelberger, Emil, Slagle, Spalde and Dixon working to perfection. They obtained a slight lead when a second five was substituted and they worked well, but not being warmed up to the fast pace the visitors had been going, the lead was cut down to one point.

The doctors from the Quaker City had a smooth working combination, and were artists at long shots from the center of the floor, which always thrill a basket ball audience.

Dunkelberger, as in several previous games, was the outstanding star, finding the net for a total of eight field goals during the contest. Dixon came second with three, and fits well into the five Coach Follmer has organized and gives promise of more victories before the end of the season. Emel came thru with two baskets and was fighting for the ball continually, and his floor work was a feature. Spalde held down the center job and succeeded in getting the jump the majority of the time. Slagle played a stellar game at guard and his speed, which has been utilized on the cinder track at S. U. for several past years, was much in evidence. The original five started the game at the beginning of the second half and the score at this time was 18-17.

The second five used by Coach Follmer was composed of Kurtz, Shuntill, Smith, Ebberts and Haney and all played well. Lahr was substituted during the second half, also having been in bed all week suffering with a bad ankle, played well and scored a pretty basket from the floor.

The outstanding scorers for Osteopathy were Ellis and McHenry, each getting four two-pointers.

Inter-Frat Game Proves Interesting

GAME PLAYED SATURDAY RESULTED IN VICTORY FOR PHI MU DELTA. GAME BETWEEN BOND & KEY AND PHI BETA RHO PLAYED YESTERDAY

Saturday afternoon the opening game of the season for the Inter-Frat League was played. It was staged between the Epsilon Sigma and the Phi Mu Delta fraternities. The game was interesting from the initial to the final blow of the referee's whistle.

The superiority of the Phi Mu quintet was easily seen thruout the entire fray, and any attempt of the Epsilon Sigs to carry the ball down the floor was stopped by the stonewall defense of their opponents. Good spirit and clean sportsmanship were shown by both teams.

The National Frat boys held the lead at all times, caging ten goals and four fouls in the first half, while the Epsilon Sigs made by seven points. Both teams added nine points to their credit in the second half, making the final score 33-16. Able Martin was high scorer for the winners, having eighteen points after his name, and Kepner made the most count for the losing team.

The game scheduled between the Phi Beta Rho and the Bond & Key was not played, but postponed and played Monday afternoon.

NOTICE TO THE LADIES

Bishop 29 starts a social campaign on Selbert Hall. Anyone desiring more information see Rarick 28.

On last Friday following the thrilling victory over Osteopathy the Schuylkill College quintet met the local five and administered a 43-33 defeat. The game was fast from whistle to whistle and Coach Follmer's lads, under the direction of Assistant Coach Bannan, played well, but were outclassed from the star, as the Reading Collegians have been playing together for several seasons and are artists at the court game. They seldom missed a try for the basket and were equally as good on long and short shots.

Emel was the outstanding star for the Orange and Maroon, and his shooting ability was unexcelled. Dunkelberger, Slagle, Spalde and Dixon played well and only the expert guarding of the Schuylkill men kept them from getting loose. Lahr, Kurtz and Haney also saw action during the fray and as usual played well.

The Loose brothers played for the visitors, and due to the system of cutting for the basket, accounted for the majority of their points.

The team goes on a trip to Maryland the coming week-end and with the combination newly organized, should show some scores on our side of the ledger.

Seniors and Theologs Tied for First Place

INTER-CLASS LEAGUE GAMES END IN VICTORY FOR SOPHS AND THEOLOGS, WHO DEFEAT JUNIOR AND FRESHMEN TEAMS, RESPECTIVELY

Two snappy and hard-fought basket ball games took place in the Alumni Gymnasium last Wednesday night. In the first and best game, the Theologs triumphed over the Freshmen 19-18. In the second game, the Sophomores bested the revamped Junior team 21-8.

In the first game, amid the greatest of cheering and excitement, the Theologs outplayed the Freshmen in the second half after trailing 15-13 at the end of the first period. The Freshmen lost a good chance to win by failing to convert their free throws. A little more practice from the foul line would aid the Freshmen materially. "Abe" Martin starred for the Theologs with four field goals and three fouls to his credit. "Louie" Lesher also played well. For the Freshmen, Weaver, Hughes and Ricciardi played well with Smith playing a steady guard game. "Battling" Ricciardi is especially to be commended on Page 3.

Dr. Surface Candidate For Penna. Legislature

Was Nominated Four Years Ago, But Withdrew at the Time. Has Good Chance to Represent County

We are glad to announce to the student body that one of their well liked instructors, Dr. H. A. Surface, is a candidate for representation of Snyder county in the Assembly.

Four years ago he was a candidate for the same office and won. But due to a question of irregularity of some voters, he decided to withdraw from the contest in order to preserve the unity of the party he represented. He thought it best to withdraw at that time with the intention of becoming a candidate at the next election. As a result of this, he will probably have an open field for an almost uncontested campaign as representative. So far there is but one candidate opposing him.

Reserves Win and Lose Games Over Week-End

Defeat Middleburg High by Score of 46-18. But Lost to Wilkes-Barre Business College 22-19.

On Thursday night the Reserve basket ball team defeated the Middleburg High quintet by the score of 46-18. Our team found little opposition in their less experienced opponents. However, considering that this season is Middleburg's first in basket ball participation, their team played very well.

The Reserve squad traveled to Wilkes-Barre on Saturday and lost to the Wilkes-Barre Business College by the score of 22-19. The game was hard-fought and was not decided until the final minutes of play. In this game the Reserves displayed great teamwork; most impressive was their ability to penetrate the Business College's defense. Smith and Haney led in the scoring, each getting three field goals. After the game the boys were entertained at an informal dance. All of the players enjoyed the evening, and two of them liked the city so well that they did not return. "Shorty" Wilson stayed with Smaltz, just to see how it feels to live in a big city. Coach Sleight forbade Haney's eating three sandwiches before the game, so "Bub" ate five afterward.

Coach Peters Visited Campus Short Time

Popular Football Coach of the '22-'23 Season Was Here. Many Friends Glad to See Him.

Those of the student body who were here during the year 1922-'23, will remember Coach Peters, tall, dour and handsome, and a mighty good football coach. Coach Peters was on the campus just recently to renew acquaintances and possibly to get some dope on football prospects for next year.

Peters graduated from Pitt in 1922 and came here the following fall to coach our gridmen. He quickly whipped them into shape and went thru the season with a remarkable record in the small number of injuries to his men and a good percentage of victories won. He was respected by every man on the squad and was well liked by the student body. It certainly would please a great number of students and alumni of S. U. to have him return here at some time to resume coaching our football team.

R. B. MANIKAM, STUDENT FROM INDIA, ADDRESSED STUDENT BODY LAST WEEK

Spoke in Chapel to the Theologs, and to the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. His Talk Was Full of Truth. Here in Interest of Andhra College

Mr. R. B. Manikam, from India, at present studying at New York University, addressed the joint meeting of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. on Tuesday evening in the new Chapel Hall. He made a glorious appeal for the Andhra Christian College, which is to be built in India in the near future.

"It is not difficult for me to talk to you about the Andhra College, for I am interested very much in seeing it become a reality. This College has wonderful possibilities, and I am sure it will be of inestimable value to the United Church.

"At present there are about four million Christians in India, one hundred and twenty thousand of whom are Lutherans. Do you know how many of this number have had the benefit of a collegiate education? Only twenty men have had the advantages of a college education. And as yet there is not one minister with the equivalent of a college training. Is the situation not appalling?

"Then there is another aspect to the question. Education is good, but Religious Education is better. Some of my students have asked me whether there is any difference between the Methodist Church and the Lutheran Church. We tell them that the name is the only difference. We tried to

Prof. Keener Recital Tonight at 8 O'clock

STUDENTS WILL GET OPPORTUNITY TO HEAR HIS FAMOUS TALK. TWO OTHER SKETCHES WILL BE PRESENTED IN CONJUNCTION WITH LECTURE

Professor N. S. Keener, Instructor in Public Speaking and Expression at Susquehanna, and an entertainer of note, will appear in literary recital in Selbert Chapel Hall tonight at 8 p. m. Professor Keener will be assisted by several members of the School of Expression, who will present two interesting sketches. One of these will be of a serious nature, while the other will deal in comedy. An enjoyable evening is assured.

The proceeds of the entertainment will be contributed to the building fund of the Trinity Lutheran Church by Professor Brungart's Sunday school class, the members of which are promoting the production.

This will be recognized immediately as an excellent chance for the student body and the people of Selinsgrove, to hear Prof. Keener's talk. A few of us have been fortunate to have heard parts of it and we certainly are not going to miss this opportunity to

Phi Mu Delts Will Give Annual Entertainment

Will Present Musical Production on March 10th in Accordance With Their Annual Custom

Look! Read! What now? You ask. Why it is the third annual entertainment of the Phi Mu Delts. The Review is the very quintessence of fun and frolic intermixed with the original witticisms of members of the cast. It is bigger and better than ever. If it is something entertaining that you are looking for, here is the thing. Quantities of good quality fun are in store for the audience. Fellows here is the opportunity to date your girls by taking them arm in arm to the show. When is it? March 10th. Evening. Admission only 50c. Watch The Susquehanna and the Bulletin Boards for further announcements.

Join the Lutherans in India, but what a task it was, and then we failed.

"If India is to be won for Christ it will be very much easier thru native ministers. A native knows the habits, and comes into more intimate relationship than one of a different color. Men educated in the College will take the lead in their respective communities. In the course of time the Indian Church will become self-supporting. Now is the logical time to help put over this venture in Education.

"I see the possibility of the Andhra Christian College becoming a reality. Yet, how are we going to build it? It is going to be established by the kind hearts of the Christians in America. India is poor today. At one time she was the richest country in the world. But, now there are over sixty millions that have not more than one meal a day. In India it is possible to buy an egg for 1c, a chicken for 15c, yet, a bricklayer gets only 20c a day. We spend little and earn less. At the present time the situation is ideal to build a college, for labor is cheap, materials inexpensive, and help plentiful. If you help us, you are helping us to help ourselves.

"When you hear of Foreign Missions, do not condemn them, for they are doing a real service for humanity. Missions will eventually bring the world together. Now is your chance to help us and God will bless you abundantly.

"May the day come, when every race, every color, will bow before the throne of grace, with souls that are mutually one."

Mr. Manikam also spoke in Chapel Tuesday morning.

H. Bolig Captain of Baseball This Season

SPORT WILL BE COACHED AGAIN BY J. WARREN CLEMENS OF LEBANON. PRACTICE WILL PROBABLY START SOME TIME NEXT MONTH

Harold "Pete" Bolig, '26, will captain Varsity baseball and J. Warren Clemens will again coach that sport this spring.

Altho Bolig was elected to that office last spring after the season had been completed, information concerning it was not made public at that time and there was some little doubt on the part of many as to who would be the captain. Election to this important place comes as a reward of four years of participation in Varsity sport. Pete has made his letter to football, basket ball and base ball, and is well qualified for the position offered him. He has many friends and is well liked upon the campus and in his native town of Selinsgrove, and has the qualifications of leadership necessary to make a successful captain.

Our baseball team will be fortunate in the fact that they will again train under the superior coaching of J. Warren Clemens, of Lebanon. Coach Clemens was not only well liked by every member of the squad, but he did more than to become popular, for he turned out a winning team. Truly anyone who does that has the whole student body at his feet. The baseball men who worked under him last year are greatly pleased that he will return. The exact time when practice begins is not known, but Coach Clemens is expected here some time next month.

A season even more successful than that of last year is anticipated by S. U. followers of the sport.

MANNIKIN'S LECTURE

The speaker spoke with a clear, forceful voice, using remarkably good school equipment.

He said in part: The peoples in general know little about India, thinking it is a land of strife and full of poisonous reptiles, but he assured us one was as safe in that country as in crossing the streets of any of our modern cities. A wonderful future awaits any one who would care to cast their lot in the development of this great country, as its population numbers as many people as all of North, Central and South America combined, besides that of England, France and the Scandinavian countries, or one-fifth of the world's population. If their future lies in religious or educational development it means a huge task.

The latter part of his discourse consisted in discussing the "Superiority Complex." Too many nations think theirs is the only one, and that they are the salt of the earth. Mr. Mannikin assured us that after traveling the world over, if he were to be born again he would wish to be born a Hindu.

We in America are also guilty of thinking that the whites are superior to all others, but he tells us that other races have also contributed to the world's civilization, as the Hindus have given us the basic principles of Mathematics, Astronomy, and Metaphysics, besides literature and a great religion. He illustrated that we are laboring under an illusion by citing examples of the use of the "Intelligence Tests," where various races tested our students in these tests.

It was his aim to make us all feel the dominance of race, white, black, yellow, if given this assurance there would be no Superiority Complex.

He implored us all to work under the same Christian banner and join hands with the far off races toward making the Kingdom of God secure upon earth.

ETIQUETTE

Thru the courtesy of the Student Government Susquehanna has been able to profit from a list of rules governing table manners. "Manners are the happy ways of doing things" says Emerson, and so we are able to know the happy ways of acting at the table since Student Government has given to most of the students twenty-one rules which make eating happier for some. Each person was given a small slip of paper with some very valuable hints that may improve the table manners of many.

We are told to show special attention to the welfare and comfort of guests at the table; that the young men should always draw back the chair of the young lady to his right hand and if she misses the chair when he pushes it in that is her fault. Don't use the table for an arm support or an improvised bed.

The list also included the use of certain implements which are not in operation at the present time, but did not say anything concerning the use of the new butter machine which has cut down the amount of butter one can use. Most of the important table manners were discussed in a very clever manner so that one may know not to carry your salad forks and

THE TOY-MAKER'S SHOP

The toy-maker's zone, but still stands alone
His shop on the hill, and his tiny home—
While over his doorstep still there climbs
Sweet honey-suckles and wild-rose vines;
And the door-sill worn by children's feet
Is filled with dust from the cobble street.
But his toys sleep not, and men declare

That the toy-maker still at night comes there
And gathers his toys from the separate shelves
His dolls and soldiers, and short-dressed elves.
And plays with them, and they with him,
Each toy—from the elves to the soldiers grim;
This neighbors declare, and too they say,
One can hear the children with laughter gay

Calling some nights, "Dear Daddy, Mall, Make us some shadows upon the wall!"
But when each neighbor his shutter flings—
The toy-maker's lamp in darkness twines

And all is dark in his toyshop drear,
With never a candle-light for cheer.
Yet—evermore must the soldiers pine,
And the dolls cry out to the soft moonshine

For their maker to come and play with them—
To teach them to laugh and to walk like men.
For nevermore can his cane "click-clack!"
Toward the worn door-sill, up his walk;

And never the children his smile shall see,
For the door is locked with a buried key.—L. L.

THE FIRST SNOW

Half-hung between the heaven and earth's breast,
Floats the white mist, in twilight's blend,
Far-flung across the hills the drapery rests,
A painting of the Summer at an end.
No symphony, no bird song, just the hush,
No echo from the wild unmeasured plain,
No whispered dirge of summer—just the hush
Of winter as she kisses earth again.—L. L.

CLOUDS AT SUNSET

Thin gold islands in a sea of blue,
Flaming ambers in a green-mist haze,
Scarlet ribbons in an endless haze,
Purple embers in a rose-poised maze,
Pale opal shadows with snow-white flaws,
Grey waves of eddying whisps of dawn,
A thousand gems fading, without just cause,
The days' crepe is anxious to look upon:
But perfection came only when God on High Threw drab, murky clouds in the western sky.—L. L.

More New Students Enroll This Semester

Several More Students from Several Pennsylvania Colleges Will Continue Their Studies Here

Since registration day several names have been added to Susquehanna's enrollment list for the second semester. This group of newcomers arrived here from various Pennsylvania colleges.

The earliest arrival is Harry E. Knudson, of Bucknell University. Knudson has joined the Sophomore ranks as an Educational student. Luzerne county sends us two more students in the persons of Harry W. Dykins, a former F. and M. student, and Charles Shoemaker, a former Lafayette booster. The Cap and Gowners have received Spurgeon Leber, of Gettysburg College, as a member of their class. Leber is planning to enter the Theological Seminary next year.

Susquehanna is glad to have these new students within her walls of learning and asks them to be her loyal supporters and invites them to participate in all of her phases of activity.—H. R. C.

Seibert Hall

During the past week there were two girls on the sick list and we are glad that Miss Kessler and Miss Nantley are again able to be among us in our class rooms.

Much interest just at present seems to be centered by a group of girls in a certain young man who delights in giving these girls chocolate cherries.

More of us girls would like to know something about this and are willing to accept any information in regards to this gentleman.

Miss Peters and Miss Staub should like to write a book that would be worth while publishing and that would realize enough funds to pay a trip around the world, if they could only find a title for their book. Any appreciable suggestions would be appreciated by them. In the meantime they are filling their time by establishing a library and selling hosiery, which apparently seems to be a more profitable proposition than that of the Real Silk depositions. A few of the girls realizing that "russing and being rushed" season is over, are finding it difficult to adjust themselves.

We should like to see a few Inter-Sorority basket ball games.

College

Bill Stumpf left Selingsrove Hall, and is sharing a room with Knudson on the first floor of Hassinger Hall. He left the cats with "Kid" Schlegel.

Thomas Stetler, of Laurelton, visited at the Phi Beta Rho house over the week-end.

James Maneval and "Hap" Schaffer hiked to Harrisburg to see Tech beat Williamsport High.

E. B. Turley and R. H. Beatty, both of Bucknell, were visitors here on Saturday.

J. Stanley Smith went home over the week-end.

"Pop" Cassel and his former roommate "Reg" Stroup made their regular weekly trip to Harrisburg.

Harold Schmalz visited his home in Pittston after the Reserve's game at Wilkes-Barre on Saturday.

Bill Roberts is planning on going home now that the coal strike has been settled.

Special! Patsy Gimme didn't go to Shamokin over the week-end.

Cal Sarver is off the crippled list and is back in the game again.

"Hooley" Baird likes to see his name in print so we will try to please him by saying that he studied for once.

And the members of the Reserve team tried to swipe some coal in Wilkes-Barre.

An American, newly arrived, went into a London teashop, took a seat, and waited. Presently a bright-eyed waitress approached him and asked, "Can I take your order?"

"Yes, two boiled eggs and a kind word."

The waitress brought the eggs and was moving on when the American said, "Say, what about the kind word?"

The waitress leaned over and whispered, "Don't eat the eggs."

THESE GIRLS!

Wednesday two things started. It was the second semester and a beautiful snow. Exams had been completed, also registering (for most, anyhow). Back to work was the thought in the mind of each student. To plunge deeply into the work with a zest and a vim will surely bring joy and life; in fact, I may say that to plunge deeply into most things with a care-free spirit and utter abandon of all restraint, brings its reward. Ask any of our fair co-eds who gaily disported in the snow at Seibert Hall. Sh-h-h! Didn't you know it? What? Why that's what gives them that school-girl complexion.

Saturday, just after dinner, joyous shouts issued from the upper air, much to the bewilderment of the boys returning from dinner. Could an airplane be passing over the campus carrying a group of girls? Oh no, boys! We are not the only ones who take snow baths, voluntary or involuntary. The girls, too, believe in combining the sun bath and the snow-bath upon the roof of the portico at Seibert Hall, for from thence floated these gleeful and light-hearted sounds as, clad in bathing suits they jumped and rolled in the snow. Keep it up, girls, you're doing fine! More joy to you!—P. B. L.

Dear Harriet:

A quaint revival—truly will be March first.

On the lingering train of historic February, the month of romances and tradition—comes this interesting program everyone is talking about. We just couldn't get a date in that hazy month, altho it does give just the setting, the atmosphere for "Ye Olde Tyme" Concert on Costume. So it is the first of March. We who are busy with rehearsals, searching old magazines, old attics, and old everything, are having an immense amount of pleasure gathering ideas and costumes. We are hoping that on the night of the performance we will not be caught dreaming in some old attic reading up on Godey's Ladies Book—and forget the party. Everyone is helping so wonderfully with suggestions. We already feel transported into the yesterday lands and it is fascinating how one imagines things. All the girls on the campus seem to be in hoop skirts, and the boys in those quaint coats and gay vests—they are too lovely.

We decided to confine our costumes mostly to the 1859 period because in the Godey Book such fine old copies were found. We have just learned that a very famous old Southern dorkie is to be portrayed by one of our handsomest men, "Uncle Remus," immortalized by John Chandler Harris in his stories told to the little boy, and the little girl, Marshal Washington is to pour tea and the audience will be served by two other famous old negro type of the old South—of whom Foster writes his dear songs—Old Black Joe, and Old Uncle Ned—who had no hair on the top of his head in de place where de hair ought to grow.

Remember tickets are only 25c. I think it awful to charge so little, but then of course, you never can tell. (It may be a perfect "fizzle")—I for one, am going to spend my evening there and risk it. Bring the whole family and come along. Don't forget to secure a ticket for Dad in the patron's of art row. These are reserved for $1.00, but he will enjoy it. The girls are lovely enough to eat. I have seen some of the costumes.

Now good night—I need a cup of tea after this effort. See you March 1st. Everybody's coming.

Affectionately,
Lynn.

Down in Virginia a Negro was brought before the Judge for stealing chickens or some similar offense. The Judge asked him if he had any children.

"Yas sir, Judge," replied the Negro, "Ise got a boy."

"What's his name?" asked the Judge.

"His name is Weatherstrip, Judge."

"Weatherstrip? Why where did you ever get that name, Sambo?"

"Well, Judge, it was disaway. Dat boy was born just before de war and he kept me out of de draft."

Meeting of Science and Pre-Medical Clubs

Was Well Attended; John Lewis Gave Illustrated Talk On Adirondacks. Dr. Surface Will Answer Burbank

A joint meeting of the Natural Science and Pre-Medical Clubs was held last Monday evening, with a splendid representation of our student body in attendance. The feature of the evening was a very interesting and colorful illustrated lecture on the Adirondack region.

The talk was given by John Lewis, president of the Science Club, who gave an explanation of each slide, each of which added facts to one's knowledge of these mountains. The next joint meeting of these two clubs will be held Wednesday evening when Dr. Surface will be the speaker. It is hoped that the attendance will be equally as large.

At this meeting Dr. Surface will make a reply to the statements alleged to have been made by Luther Burbank, the plant wizard of California, that Science gives no evidence of a soul or future state of existence by man. Dr. Surface will base his statements on scientific facts that he has gathered during the course of his work in his chosen field.

MISS WEAVER ELECTED

At a recent meeting of the women students Miss Helen Weaver was elected to represent the Freshman girls on the Women's Student Council.

SENIORS AND THEOLOGOS TIED FOR FIRST PLACE

complimented on his wonderful floor game, as he was on it most of the time.

The second game showed the Juniors with a slightly changed lineup with "Kike" Young playing the stellar role. He scored seven of his team's eight points. The Sophomores succeeded in getting most of the male members of its class into the game with dashing "Fat" Salem the hero by dint of scoring a pretty field goal following a smashing line buck. "Greg" Morning and "Chis" Shaffer were dropping the ball thru the net from all over the floor. "Greg" getting four and "Chis" five field goals, together scoring eighteen of their team's 21 points.

As a result of these two games the Seniors and Theologos are now tied for first place, with one win and no defeats; the Sophomores and the Freshmen tie for second place with one win and one loss and the Juniors keeping a tight hold on third place with no wins and two reverses.

The line-ups for the two games are as follows:

Freshmen—18 Theologos—19
Weaver forward Martin
Ricard forward Leshner
Hughes center Hanks
Troutman guard Ramer
Smith guard Neuffer
Goals from field: Weaver 2, Ricard, Hughes, Fisher, Martin 4, Leshner, Hawks, Ramer.

Goals from fouts: Weaver 3, Ricard 2, Troutman, Marx, Hoover, Martin 3, Leshner, Neuffer.

Sophomores—21 Juniors—8
Morning forward Fantz
Schaffer forward Rhodes
Hanner center Young
Antep guard Swank
Groce guard Daubenspeck
Goals from field: Morning 4, Schaffer 5, Salem, Young 3, Goals from fouts: Groce, Rhodes, Young.

hear the rest tonight! It seems that he has entertained at almost every other place, but right here at Selingsrove. This state of affairs should and will be remedied this evening. Reports have it that the sketches will also be highly entertaining. The casts are well chosen, and consistent rehearsals assure us of the fact that the plays will be well given.

The nominal admission price of twenty-five cents will prevent no one from attending. This gives the student body a chance to contribute towards the building fund of the college church while they are spending an evening in a profitable and enjoyable manner.

Connected With "Long Distance"

By ANNA ROBESON BURR

Copyright Doubleday, Page & Co.

THE children had kept me up. Billy was fretful, poor little chap—as he had been every night since that day when the house was filled with white flowers and people in black. The old ones, too, were restless and hard to satisfy. Their world had been upset. So now they couldn't seem to understand the absence of that person who had never before willingly left them; and who if she did, always came running up the nursery stairs, her voice ringing sweetly ahead of her to ask if all were well there. No wonder they were troublesome, and I was long in soothing them and longer still after each quaking myself, till I fell into a grief-stricken sleep.

It was the telephone, struggling to ring that roused me. I sat up in bed with an awful dread of some fresh misfortune catching at my heart. The bell couldn't seem to ring, and the thing just stood there, lighting to tell me something, but horribly unable—muttering, flicking and buzzing. I pushed the hot out of my sticky eyes and sized it, called into it—

The night was unusually still; no wind moved the trees. On the floor rays of bright moonlight. I looked at them as I waggled the hook up and down and tried to win some answer out of the clicking and buzzing. For a few minutes there was a hopeless chaos of sounds and then the disorganised sound cleared up and the away-giving place all at once to that cease vibrating hum singing over the wires which always means a long-distance call. Who could be calling me in the middle of the night from such a long distance?

Now feverishly awake and frightened, I called again, but only that soft song of the wires answered me. My imagination, as always, seemed to follow those wires where they hummed in the night wind or shone in the moon light—across towns and fields and prairie, over mountains and rivers from far, so far away—beyond the world, beyond space and from the stars.

"Hello— who's calling— who is there?" I begged. Then, thin and faint and far—far as the stars themselves—came the Voice. A Voice I knew, and, oh, marvel of Heaven! a Voice I expected to hear.

"Nan—oh, Nan, is it you? Oh, Nan, are you there?" So faint, so far, so living, that Voice—the horrible, heavy beating of my heart leaped to recognize it.

"Yes—I am here—it is I. Speak to me! Oh, God, what miracle is this?" "My children—how are my children? Nan, can you hear? Tell me about my children!"

So anguished, so faint, so far that Voice!

"My children—tell me about them! Quick, quick; how are my children?"

I pulled myself together. I wasted no more time. Somehow I seemed to know that only a moment would be vouchsafed to us and that I must make haste. So I spoke into the telephone as steadily as I could:

"The children are all well, dear. I am doing the best I can. Billy has been a little fretful with his teeth, but Flora's cold is better. Helen went back to school today; she wore her sweater and warm cap. I talk to them about you—every bed-time, I think. I hope they will get used to it soon—they are so young! I shall not let them forget. . . I am doing the best I can and all is well with them. Be comforted, dear! . . . Do you hear me? Are you comforted?"

No sound save that thrilling of the wires, far, far beyond—beyond what? I hungured to hear, and I called again and again:

"The children are well—well, dear—! Tell me you hear—can't you speak to me?" No answer save the soft, humming song from infinite space. . . And then—

"What number, please?"

That sharp voice recalled me to the madness of my wailing and to my tears. . . For awhile they kept me from speech. Then I looked out upon the bars of clear moonlight and I was suddenly quieted all awed. . .

"Hello! Are you still connected with Long Distance—hello?"

The operator was persistently trying to speak to me. So, before I hung up, I answered the telephone. "Thank you," I said. "I was connected with Long Distance, I believe; but it's ended."

P. Stephens—"Doesn't 'antiquor' mean old, or—?"

Prof. B.—"Yes, older."

ORANGE AND MAROON PLAYED WESTERN MD. AND MT. ST. MARY'S

Made Creditable Showing, But Were Unable to Come Out on Top. Slump in Last Five Minutes W. Md. Game Responsible for Defeat

The Southern trip which the Susquehanna basketball team undertook so courageously, ended disastrously, as far as scores were concerned, but nevertheless S. U. made a creditable showing. On Thursday night they met the strong Western Maryland team, and up until the last five minutes—more than held their own; then, however, the superior experience and coordination of the Marylanders told and S. U. fell in defeat to a score of 41-22.

On the following evening S. U. engaged with Mt. St. Mary's, but never threatened the lead of the Southerners. In this game Lahr was high scorer for us with a field and three fouls. Dunkelberger, Kurtz, Spaide, Emmil and Ebberts all scored field goals, while Dunk and Emil each scored a foul.

The summaries are as follows:

Susquehanna W. Maryland
Dixon F. G. Williams
Dunkelberger F. Sullivan
Spaide C. Stanley
Emil G. E. Williams
Sleife G. Weigle

Substitutions: S. U.—Kurtz for Dixon, Lahr for Dunkelberger, Dunkelberger for Spaide, Ebberts for Emil, Western Maryland—Hand for G. Williams, Sullivan for Hand, Shockey for Sullivan, Broll for Sullivan, Bensing for Weigle. Field goals: S. U.—Dunkelberger 3, Dixon, Spaide 2, Emil 1. Foul goals—Dixon 3, Dunkelberger 2.

Western Maryland—field goals, Broll 5, Hand 4, Stanley, Bensing, Shockey 2. Foul goals—Shockey 5, Broll 2, Sullivan, E. Williams.

Important Games In Class - Frat Leagues

THEOLOGS, NON-FRAT, PHI MU DELTA AND BOND AND KEY WON GAMES IN LEAGUES. MUCH INTEREST IS BEING SHOWN IN THESE GAMES

Several fast and interesting games were played during the past week in the Frat and class leagues. On Wednesday night the Juniors were defeated at the hands of the Theologs by the score of 39-27. This game was fast and interesting. The score was tied at several stages and the teams passed well. Martin and Young were the high scorers in this game.

In the second game the Non-Frat defeated the Phi Beta Rho team 26-20. This game was also well contested and was featured by several long shots by Reed and the scoring of Weaver and Ricardi. Most of the Phi Beta Rho scoring was made by long shots. During the last of the second half the Phi Beta Rho started a scoring campaign which nearly resulted in a victory. The final score was 26-20.

The Phi Beta Rho aggregation suffered her second defeat Saturday afternoon at the merciless hands of the Phi Mu Delta Fraternity. The National boys played a steady passing game and had run up a big score before the other team had a point. Martin, Young, and Gimme played good games for the winners, while Reed and Pausold played well for the defeated team. This score was 28-9.

In the second game of the afternoon the Non-Frat five were winning till the last part of the second half from the Bond and Key team, when all of a sudden the scoring stopped and the B. & K. team staged a rally, tied the score and finally won the game 25-16. The Non-Frat team had to play with only four men in the second half.

These games were all well attended and the improvement of the teams show the rivalry and interest that the teams take in upholding the reputa-

The George Washington party held at the Phi Beta Rho fraternity house Friday, February 19th was largely attended by members of the fraternity and friends. The house was artistically decorated in the National and Fraternity colors. A profusion of edible viands were served at intermission. Music by Sober's orchestra completed the highly gratifying program, and led all the guests to express their sorrow that the evening had passed so quickly.

Prof. Linebaugh Popular Teacher

CAPABLE INSTRUCTOR IN SUSQUEHANNA CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC IS AN ACCOMPLISHED PIANIST AND ORGANIST—SERVICES MUCH IN DEMAND

"Prof." Linebaugh came to us after some years of experience as a teacher. His skill as a player has been shown on many occasions on this campus.

He was a graduate of Lebanon Valley College Conservatory of Music in piano in 1916; in organ with Mrs. B. in 1917; instructor in piano and ear training, Lebanon Valley Conservatory of Music 1918; in France with A. E. F. 1918-19; at New York University summer school 1921; at Peabody Institute of Music 1922. He came to his present position in 1922.

His friendly manner and his likable disposition makes him one of our most popular professors. He is somewhat younger than some of them, throwing him more in personal contact with the students.

To say that "Prof." is modest is putting it mildly. He seems to avert all deadlines which have to do with publicity.

When a special accompanist is sought Professor Linebaugh is always willing to help. His being obliging is a characteristic which is a great help both to himself and to others. That all his pupils and associates speak well of him is indication enough of his popularity and ability.

Father—"Johnny, did you ever see that young fellow kissing your sister?"
Johnny—"Father, I can not tell a lie. That's the way I got my radio set."

DR. SURFACE TAKES EXCEPTION TO ALLEGED STATEMENTS OF BURBANK

Says That Burbank is a Naturalist, Not a Theologian, and Should Not Say That Science Does Not Admit the Presence of Religion

On Wednesday evening Dr. Surface addressed a joint meeting of the educated man, having received but a limited education, and that exclusively Club and the Science Club, making in the small Massachusetts school reply to Burbank's recent statements to the effect that "there is no evidence (2) He is not a true scientist, but in Science that mankind has a soul only a practical breeder of plants, or will have a future existence, and (3) When he speaks of religions or that Mr. Burbank is an infidel. This spiritual subjects he is far out of the address was so excellent that it is to be regretted that all persons who have and personal activities, and thus read Mr. Burbank's statement could not have heard it. There is no doubt that those who heard this remarkable, eloquent and scientific address will not suffer from the baneful influences of expressions of the irreligious views of an "infidel."

Dr. Surface said that four points should be kept in mind concerning Mr. Burbank, the author of the above

"The persons who received the spiritual message are only those who are in harmony with the sender, for Earth's crammed with Heaven. And every bush aflame with God. But only those who see take off their shoes."

The rest sit round and eat the berries.

Nature has a close analogy to the deliverance of the human soul in the bursting of the butterfly from its chrysalis, as recognized by the ancient Greek students in whose language the word "psyche" is used for both "soul" and butterfly.

Once a worm, a thing that crept. Then wrought a tomb and slept; And such is Man, soon from his cell of clay.

Upper Class Girls Bow to Frosh Sextet

Junior-Senior Team Unable to Keep Ahead of First Year Girls. Wentzel and Yeingst are High Scorers

Saturday afternoon the opening game of the season for the Girls Inter-Class Basketball League, was played. The fray was staged between the upper class girls and those of the Freshman class. It was hard fought and interesting thruout.

The upper class girls put up a strong fight and every time the Frosh scored it seemed that their opponents dropped one in too. The fact that they failed to do this a few times is evident from the score.

The guards of the Frosh team put up a stone wall defense and with Captain Wentzel at their helm as high scorer the forwards began to roll up the score. They showed excellent team work and much pep.

Yeingst was high scorer for the other team with Benner and Norwat as her efficient helpers.

When the whistle blew the Frosh were proclaimed the victors, the score being 17-13 in their favor.

The line up:

Upper Class	Freshmen
Ulrich, Capt.	Wentzel, Capt.
Yeingst	Welkert
Benner	Bradley
Larson	Stauffer
Norwat	Slatterbach
Salem	Means
Substitutions—Staub, for Slatterbach. Referee—Shuntill. Time—8 min. quarters.

The happy talent of pleasing either those above you or those below you, seems to be wholly owing to the opinion they have of your sincerity.

Last Thursday, Susquehanna added to its record another victory—for Juniata. In the first intercollegiate debate of the season, our negative team was defeated by the Juniata affirmative of the question, "Resolved: That the United States should enter the League of Nations as at present constituted." Our representatives were Eugene Adams, William Schwirian (Capt.), and Paul Lucas, while the affirmative was upheld by Rufus Reber, Newton Taylor, and Tobias Henry (Capt.) The Judges, who were Yeingst of Mt. Carmel, Shipman, from Sunbury, and Swank, Superintendent of Schools in Northumberland County, voted 2 to 1 for Juniata.

It is the rebuttal which usually wins or loses a debate. That is why we lost. Adams had his usual whirlwind, eight-cylinder delivery; Schwirian was eloquent; Lucas brought forth points with his quiet logic. But our "dishing room team" could not compete with the perfectly working system of our opponents. With their ingenious card index system, they had all conceivable points for and against, with the reply to them right at their finger tips. When our speakers mentioned a point its contradiction was quickly found, so that we were under a disadvantage. A plan similar in form might not prove detrimental to our own debating teams. However, Juniata did not make such a bad appearance on the platform. Reber was steady and clear voiced; Taylor original in his delivery, and Henry enforced his arguments expressively with his gymnastic gestures.

Our team must get together and work up a little enthusiasm for the debate next Wednesday with Capitol University.

LENT

No one knows just what the word Lent means. Some think it comes from an Anglo-Saxon word that means "long," having reference to the lengthening days of the spring.

The term is used for the forty days of special devotion that precede the Easter season. These forty days may be used to blessed effort by the individual and by the church. For us Lutherans Lent is our "revival season."

Now is the time that we make special effort to reach the young people for definite decisions for Christ, and also do personal work among our un-churched friends.

There is always a deeper spirituality among us during Lent than at any other period. Let us pray that this spirituality will be with us throughout all the year.

Make some definite sacrifice during Lent. For the good of your soul and the discipline of your body give up something that may in itself be all right.

For each during Lent. Pray for your family, for the church, for the community, for the world. Pray for definite things.

Lay aside each day an offering for the gift on Easter morning in Je-holada's Chest. If you fail to receive the special Lenten self-denial offering envelope, ask for one. Rev. C. R. Botsford.

CHANCE FOR MEN TO HAVE SUMMER JOBS

A new opportunity is being offered to those students of Susquehanna who desire supporting or part-time work for employment during the summer months.

The Real Silk Hosiery Mills, of Indianapolis, the largest concern of its kind in the world and world leaders in the manufacture and sale of silk hosiery, is responsible for this opportunity. In accordance with a national policy, this concern last year created a Real Silk student organization at the University on the same basis as has already been carried out in over two hundred of the largest universities in the country.

The concern, thru this organization, furnishes employment to a limited few thruout the school year, and to a larger number during the summer months. The program is well developed and carried out in a manner which takes into consideration the best interests of every student whom they accept, during the last eight weeks of school, complete training course is conducted, in order to prepare the men for their actual work during the summer.

The policy carried out is to place the college man during the summer in positions in the regular national organization, giving him the benefit of competent supervision and training thruout his period of employment. This method has been outstandingly successful in the universities where it has been in operation, and has furnished the students in those universities with a reliable and very desirable earning opportunity.

Many colleges and universities, including the U. of Texas and Oglethorpe University, near Atlanta, Georgia, are now giving credit toward graduation to their students who attend the Real Silk Training School held on the campus and who have a successful summer.

Those men who show adaptability for further advancement with the concern are given especial consideration after graduation. This is perhaps the most advanced program that has yet been used in the effort of large business concerns to find the source of future executive material in the colleges and universities.

The immediate supervision of the program on the campus is in the hands of O. B. Landis, who is the head of the organization locally. In carrying out the training program, the student staff receives the support of the Mills, as they send out members of the Organization Staff to conduct the training courses.

DEBATING AT SUSQUEHANNA

The question of debating has been argued from all sides. Is debating a sport? Debaters are among the band of students whose praises go unsung. Entirely, they work in the library, gathering and arranging material, practicing in a mental capacity as the athlete practices physically. The athlete is watched daily as he works on the gridiron or court, but the debater brushes away, seeking neither personal achievement or praise.

Athletics is the sport of the body; debating is the sport of the mind. Are we to concentrate all our effort and attention on the one and allow the other to go unheeded?

Debating at Susquehanna needs support. Students who have worked to uphold Susquehanna in forensic fields as the athletes strive to uphold the school on the athletic field deserve such support. Let us give them that support.

Girls' Dressing Room Is Much Improved

Room in Basement of Gym Has Showers and Lavatory Installed, to be Used Also by Visiting Teams

Some much needed improvements have recently been completed in the girls' room in the basement of the gymnasium.

Prior to this time, the girls have been greatly inconvenienced by the fact that there were no showers anywhere, either in the gym or the dormitory. Because of this the girls were unable to take a shower after a hot and strenuous gym period, but had to go to the dorm and jump into the tub. Certainly such things "should not so to be" and the girls are thanking Prof. Mowles for bettering existing conditions.

The showers, of which there are three, are of the individual type, and are enclosed by panels of waterproof asbestos sheeting. They provide hot and cold water which may be regulated to any temperature desired. A lavatory with hot and cold water has also been installed. An entire new floor has been laid and all the wood-work will be enameled white within a few days.

This room will be used by the girls and by visiting athletic teams. This improvement makes our gym one of the most modern and up-to-date in central Penna.

Geo. C. Eddinger Has Quite a Record as Artist

A Student Who Has Graduated from Penna. Academy of Fine Arts and Visited Art Galleries of the World

At the beginning of the second semester among the new students came one who has gained no little honor as an artist. We refer to Geo. C. Eddinger. Mr. Eddinger studied fine-art painting at the Penna. Academy of Fine Arts in Philadelphia. Here he spent four years. Previous to this he studied pen and ink, and pencil drawing at the Lockwood Commercial Art School, Kalamazoo, Mich. In his third year at the Academy at Philadelphia, he won a European Traveling Scholarship. This entitled him to visit the Art Galleries and Museums in England, France, Belgium, Holland, Spain, Spanish Morocco, and Gibraltar. He has taken one of the Art Classes here for instruction. He will also be very glad to give private lessons in painting, either oil or water color. Mr. Eddinger, also an artist, feels there is something higher in this world than art, and is now taking work preparatory to entering the Seminary. We wish him heaps of success. He will in the near future put some of his paintings and illustrations on display, among which is a half length, life size picture of himself, which he painted, using a mirror to assist him.

The Mill Pond

GOD'S WAY

I gathered all the tears that fell from man,

I piled up all the broken dreams on earth,

I captured sorrow in a steel-ribbed chest—

Heaped all pain upon a high walled hearth.

But when I prayed and asked God what to do;

His angels came; they smiling took my key—

And murmuring that "God's was the only way,"

They praised my thoughts—then set my prisoners free.—L. L.

LITTLE JOHN'S LAMENTATION

We have taken you deep in the wood, Robin Hood,

We have buried your lincoln green Where pale in the moonlight's sheen

Lies your trusty bow that was true, Robin Hood,

And the arrow you followed to dream. It was bitter to die like a child,

Robin Hood,

It seems bitter as gall to me That you could not die under a tree,

But I carried you here as you bade, Robin Hood—

For Robin I loved you, you see, All England still rings with your praise, Robin Hood,

In the forest of Sherwood you horn Sounds deep on the crisp-fellied morn;

The king's deer feed here in your shade, Robin Hood,

They followed the path I have worn. The voices are hushed in your clan,

Robin Hood,

For ours is a heart-felt pain With the strongest link gone from our chain:

Please God, step out thru the flowers, Robin Hood.

And blow three shrill blasts once again—

Then out from the copse and the dale, Robin Hood,

The friar and the tanner shall leap, And the bravest and strongest shall weep

When they see you leap up from your couch, Robin Hood,

With your laughter—Oh Gou! He's asleep!—L. L.

Voice Club Will Present Program Mar. 1

Mary Lavinia Young Club Will Render Program of Old Songs. The Idea of Valentine Day Will Be Developed.

A novelty program consisting of old songs in costume will be presented next Monday evening, Mar. 1, by the Mary Lavinia Young Club. The costumes will be fashioned after the most artistic creations shown in one of the oldest ladies' magazines in the country—"The Godey Ladies Book," published in Philadelphia, Pa. The program gives promise of much interest and enjoyment for those who attend.

It will commence with a Valentine scene in an Arabian desert as described in a cycle of love songs by Gilbert Spross. This is in anticipation of some remote dreams in the hearts of youth in 1850—even on the sands of the desert. "All the world is love," quoth these Arabian youths on this Valentine evening.

The second episode portrays a familiar home scene. Gay little ladies, prim and of charming grace arrive at the home of a friend where a valentine house party is opening amidst snow and moonlight. This scene is drawn from "Sue," soft footed snow, Sijrd Life and is intended to describe the snowfall. "Swan's down loosed from Winter's pinious spreading."

Episode three takes place in the drawing room of the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Tipton, whose hospitable doors are open to a bevy of young people celebrating the day set apart in memory of old Saint Valentine. The program is conducted by the host and hostess, Mr. Jack Frost and Miss Martha Eitel. Many exquisite and loved old songs will be sung and a minuet which has been directed by Miss Dorothy Reeder will then be given. After an interesting number by the old Varsity Quartet, a girls' trio of "grandmothers" will sing a suite of nursery rhymes to the little boy and girl.

A unique surprise for the guests will be afforded when "Uncle Remus," that loved old character, dear to all children, young and old, arrives from "de quarters" to tell of "Br'er Fox and Br'er Rabbit," and "Why de possum got no bar on 'is tail." The identity of Uncle Remus and that of the artist of the light fantastic toe will surprise you.

Miss Young is on the program for the Kerry Dance and The Last Rose of Summer.

Many solos and songs by the Company assure you of variety, interest, charm and a happy evening.

During the change of scenery, hoop skirted ladies and handsome youths will lead the audience in old songs. Martha Washington, impersonated by an old friend, Mrs. Crawford, will then serve tea to the audience. She will be assisted by several of our old friends of the earliest days: Old Black Joe, Uncle Ned, Aunt Dinah, Snow Ball, Wilkes Booth Lincoln and Shufflin Sam.

Tickets are now on sale for the sum of 25c, and may be secured from any member of the club. Twenty-five seats will be reserved for Patrons of Art. The price of these seats will be $1. Those who wish to contribute more at the close of the program, "Just to show how they feel about it," may do so and Mrs. Crawford will receive their offerings.

The Chapel Hall has been the scene of many fine entertainments this year. The program by the Mary Lavinia Young Club is certain to be on a par with the others and certainly deserves the support of the student body. The Club, in presenting this program, is living up to its motto, which is "Art and Service."

The evening lesson was from the Book of Job and the minister had just read, "Yea, the light of the wicked shall be put out," when immediately the church was in total darkness. "Brethren," said the minister with scarcely a moment's pause, "in view of the sudden and startling fulfillment of this prophecy, we will spend a few minutes in silent prayer for the electric lighting company."

Some ideas which have more than once offered themselves to the senses have yet been taken little notice of.

Prof. Keener Recital Was Well Attended

AUDIENCE THOROLY ENJOYED PROGRAM OF SKETCHES AND READINGS, PRESENTED FOR BENEFIT OF BUILDING FUND OF COLLEGE CHURCH

On Tuesday evening of last week a very interesting program was presented in Seibert Chapel Hall by Prof. N. N. Keener and a number of students of the University. The hall was filled and the building fund of the Trinity Lutheran Church, in whose benefit the program was given, received a substantial sum.

The program consisted of four numbers. First an organ prelude—Barcarolle in E minor, by Miss Grace Hefflinger; second a sketch entitled: "Embers," in which Martha Eitel, Martin Foutz, Geo. Martin and Marion Eyer were the characters; third a comedy sketch "Please Omit the Flowers," in which the principals were Harry Williams, Luther Weaver, Joseph Popeano, Harold Swank, Essex Botsford and Marion Eyer, fourth a series of readings by Prof. Keener.

Every number on the program was read and those who attended enjoyed themselves greatly. The sketches were unlike in character, in that one was drama and the other comedy. Each character was very well portrayed. Prof. Keener came up to all expectations and delighted his audience with his readings and stories.

Dr. J. I. Woodruff Spoke at Gettysburg

Addressed School Directors' Convention of Adams County and Parent-Teachers Association Last Friday

Dr. John I. Woodruff, head of the department of English at Susquehanna University, was one of the principal speakers at the school directors' convention of Adams county held at Gettysburg Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week.

Dr. Woodruff spoke both to the body morning and afternoon on Friday and addressed the Parent Teacher Association of the city that evening. The subject of his first talk was "School Directors and Their Opportunity." His second subject was "The Child and the State." That evening the members of the Parent-Teachers Association heard an unusually fine discourse on Community interests.

Among the other speakers were Dr. Haas, Pennsylvania State Superintendent, and Dr. Benitz, superintendent of schools in Columbia county.

Dr. M. H. Fischer, an alumnus of Susquehanna and Professor in English, Bible and Religious Education at the Gettysburg Theological Seminary, entertained Dr. Woodruff part of the time during his visit there.

Neudorffer '28 assisted Rev. Beck at the First Lutheran.

Kroen '28 represented the Y. M. C. A. at Philadelphia.

What's the matter, old boy?" asked Jimmie's friend.

"I've never seen you looking so seedy."

"I've got to go abroad at once," remarked Jimmie gloomily.

"Nonsense! These doctors mustn't frighten you out of your life like that."

"It wasn't a doctor. It was a lawyer."

Epsilon Sigma Leads In Y. M. C. A. Meeting

Clarence Eichman and Wayne Daubenspeck Read Papers Upon Friendship and Evolution

The Y meeting, held in the old Chapel Hall, Tuesday evening, was taken charge of by the Epsilon Sigma fraternity. Clarence Eichman gave a reading entitled "Friendship," and Wayne Daubenspeck read a paper on "Evolution." The reading on "Evolution" is as follows:

We are living in a world of change. All our experiences, all of our lives has to do with these changes. Underlying all of our studies whatever they may be, we are confronted with three sets of problems.

1. How can we cause desirable changes to take place?

2. How can we prevent undesirable changes from taking place?

3. How can we best meet the unavoidable changes?

Many of the changes that go on about us are of a cyclic nature; that is, they keep on repeating themselves, for example, eggs hatch, individuals develop to maturity, reproduce themselves, and die. But the following year we see a repetition of the same life histories, and so on, generation after generation. In other words, life forms or life stages repeat themselves, generation after generation, in the same sense as seasonal conditions of weather repeat themselves.

While much of the happenings in the universe are of a cyclic nature, there may nevertheless be, for the world as a whole, a certain continuity of change that has been called evolution. It is not necessary to prove that all changes are cyclic, nor that all changes are altogether evolutionary. It is quite reasonable and consistent to recognize that both kinds of changes do actually take place.

As we turn over the pages of science we find many evidence of evolution.

(a). Fossil evidences of evolution. If it would be possible for man to cut a large slice down into the interior of the earth he would find different layers or strata of rock, in these different layers of rock he would find the fossils of bygone days left there by "creatures that roamed over the face of the earth millions of years ago. Taking the lowest level of rock which contains no fossils, and going up, he would go from the period of invertebrates up in the scale of life to the age of fishes and thence up to the amphibians, reptiles, birds, mammals and finally to the greatest and last "the age of man."

(b). Evidence of evolution from structures of organisms. Taking for example an oak tree, we may travel far and wide and see oak trees in all parts of the world, but still even to the most casual observer they would still be oaks. Thus we take it for granted that they are all related to one another in the same sense that we speak of our cousins and second cousins being related. That is to say, we believe that they are descended from common ancestors.

(c). Evidence from development. In the study of the development of an individual we found that he passes thru a series of more or less distinct stages, and the farther back we go toward the one called stage, the more and more are these stages like the corresponding stages of other species of organisms.

(d). Vestigial structures. Among plants and animals we find certain organs that are quite useless, for example, (the vermiform appendix in man), but which are persistent thru out the group.

(e). Geographic evidences. As we travel to different parts of the world we find that the plants and animals differ from one another to some extent, take an island for example, it has flowers on it that differ greatly from those on the mainland, yet it can be seen that they have a certain resemblance and it would seem as tho they had adapted themselves to the climate and the surroundings.

Thus far we have discussed the mere proof of evolution, but now let us turn our attention to the theories explaining how evolution takes place.

(a). The Lamarckian Theory. The French zoologist Lamarck came to the conclusion that "All that has been acquired, begun or changed in the structure of an individual in the course of its life is preserved in reproduction and transmitted to the new individuals which spring from that which has experienced the change."

(b). The Selection Theory. The selection theory or the theory of natural selection is associated with the name of Charles Darwin. The theory maintains that "Animal and plant species evolve thru the selective actions of the environment, which kills off those individuals in each generation that are least adapted to the conditions of life" a process resulting in the "survival of the fittest."

After reading and thinking over the various theories of evolution we find no just cause to convince us of the fact that there is a conflict between the theories of evolution and the teachings of the Bible, but rather that they run in parallel lines, and in light of the fact that parallel lines do not meet there can be no conflict. Therefore let us look upon them as going hand in hand, knowing that each has for its purpose the betterment of the race of man.

To burst a seraph in the blaze of day.

To deny that man has a soul is to deny the very mission of Christ and all His teachings, even the resurrection, upon which is based the hope and confidence of all of us who have lost our dear ones, and the truth of which is attested by both biblical and secular "profane" history; the latter being the record of the achievements of the Sciences of the Earth.

Nature is so filled with system and order that it speaks of order, plan, design, a Planner or Designer, and to him who in the love of Nature in his communion with her various forms she speaks a visible language.

This great plan and interrelationship is expressed by Stillman's feet:

"Each moss, each shell, each crawling insect in the dust

Holds a rank important in the plans of Him who fram'd their being—

Holds a rank, which, lost, would break the chain

And leave behind a gap that Nature's self would rue."

The soul is of the spiritual realm, and this is why it is not to be found directly by physical, chemical or biological means. Well has it been said, "You can not with the scalpel find The wild bird's song Nor yet the poet's soul."

We know from other sources of information than thru the five senses that other things do exist. For example, no one has ever seen, heard, felt, tasted, smelled or analyzed a vitamin, yet we know that vitamins of several kinds not only exist but are necessary for life and health. "Many persons have had a more satisfying personal experience in evidence of their possessing souls than in any proof of their containing vitamins."

The natural world is filled with evidences of plans and designs, and these can not exist without a Planner or Designer. Corn belongs to a botanical family with two parts to the flower, the Lily with three parts, Mustard with four parts, the Rose family with parts, etc. Who counted the parts and set them aside in families of such precision? It is no wonder that Longfellow, in his inspiration said,

"Flowers in the cranial wall,
I pluck you out of the crannies
And hold you here in my hand,
Root and all."

Little flower, if I could know what you are,

Root and all and all in all
I would know what God and man is."

Mrs. Surface and Dr. Manhart both spoke very interestingly. The latter said that he would that in every educational institution there was such a biological teacher as is Dr. Surface.

But there isn't. There's only one like him, and he is the type. He is our own "Daddy Surface," and we do not propose to either divide him or spare him.

All who attended this inspiring meeting departed realizing that Science, Religion and Inspiration go hand in hand as part of the Great Unity.

ORANGE AND MAROON BREAK EVEN IN WEEK-END CONTESTS AT HOME

Team Work Unexcelled in Both Frays With Temple Having Edge on Local Lads. Work of Dunkelberger, Emil and Dixon Feature

The Orange and Maroon broke even in the week-end basketball frays, triumphing St. Francis on Thursday night to the tune of 36-22, while on Friday evening Temple won out with a final score of 48 to 36. Both games were fast from start to finish and the work of Coach Follmer's five was excellent.

On Thursday the line-up included Dixon, Dunkelberger, Spalde, Sleigle and Emil, with Lahr, and Kurtz getting into the contest by substitutions. Dunkelberger was high scorer, with a total of six baskets to his credit, while Emil came second with three. Dixon collected one two pointer as well as Lahr. The superb guarding of Sleigle was a feature and his ability to jump and cope with much taller opponents is an asset to the local five.

Lynch was the scoring ace of the visitors and they played a fast brand of ball, showing good coaching. In the Temple game the ability of the Philadelphians in handling the ball made the contest a good one to watch. Till the end of the half the score was tied several times and the visitors played like experienced men. Lahr was high scorer in baskets this game with three to his credit with Dixon coming second, scoring two, but increased his total points by completing six foul throws out of as many as seven. Spalde played well at center and the floor work of Emil as in previous games this season was unexcelled. He followed the ball during the entire game and assisted in nearly all our field goals. Haney entered the fray during the second half and scored two neat baskets. Ebberts also dropped one thru the net on a long shot. Sleigle, as in the St. Francis game, played a stellar position, at guard, and prevented several scores by the opponents. Shue and Kurtz saw action and did well while they were in.

Steckowski was high scorer for the visitors with a total of seven field goals, in which he was ably assisted by his team mates. The star of the former seasons for Temple did not get in the game until the last five minutes and the fact that he is on the bench proves the ability of their variety five.

The line up for the St. Francis game was as follows:

Susquehanna	St. Francis
Dixon forward	Heley
Dunkelberger forward	Rizer
Spalde center	O'Connor
Sleigle guard	Lynch
Emil guard	Miller
Field goals—S. U.—Dixon 2, Dunkelberger 6, Lahr 1, Emil 2, St. Francis, Haney 1, Foul goals—S. U.—Dixon 3, Lahr 2, Dunkelberger 1, St. Francis—Haney 1, Smith 1, Shields 2, Lynch 3, Miller 1.

The line up for the Temple game was as follows:

Susquehanna	Temple
Dixon forward	Steckowski
Dunkelberger forward	Trout
Spalde center	Jupson
Sleigle guard	Hellam
Emil guard	Shaw
Substitutions—S. U.—Lahr, Kurtz, Haney, Ebberts, Shue. Field goals—S. U.—Dixon 3, Lahr 3, Emil 1, Ebberts 1, Haney 2, Kurtz 1, Spalde 1, Dunkelberger 1, Temple—Steck 7, Trout 3, Jupson 4, Hellam 3, Shaw 1.

Foul goals—Dixon 7, Lahr 1, Spalde 2, Temple—Steck 1, Kray 2, Hellam 3, Shaw 2.

Engagement of S. U. Alumnus Announced

Miss Verda Ione Gearhart, of Johnstown, is betrothed to Walton Macomber of Elkins, West Virginia

Announcement of the engagement of Miss Verda Ione Gearhart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gearhart, of Johnstown, and Walton Kenneth Macomber, of Elkins, W. Va., was made at a bridge-luncheon given Saturday afternoon in the home of the prospective bride by her mother.

Miss Gearhart is a graduate of the Johnstown High School, class of 1918, and of Susquehanna University, class of 1922. For three years she was a teacher of English and French in the Garfield Junior High School and is at present a member of the faculty of the Cochran Junior High School.

Mr. Macomber was graduated from the Bliss Electrical School, of Washington, D. C., in 1922 and later took post-graduate work at the Pratt Institute, New York City. He is at present employed as power engineer in the new business department of the Penn Public Service Corporation.

The date of the wedding has not yet been set.

Track Schedule Has Been Arranged

Manager Wagner Has Arranged a Schedule of Several Dual Meets and Conference Entries

Track Manager Wagner has announced the track schedule for the coming season. It contains several dual meets and participation in the Penn Relays and the Central Penna. Conference, held this year in Reading. The meet with Western Maryland is pending at present. Should it prove to be impossible to meet that school, the Interclass Outdoor Meet will be held on that date. Otherwise the outdoor meet will be held earlier in the week.

The schedule follows:
Interclass indoor meet, Mar. 20.
Interclass Relays, April 21st.
Penn Relays, Phila., April 23-24.
Drexel, home, May 1.
Western Maryland, Westminster, May 8, pending.
Central Penna. Conference, Reading, May 15.
Juniata, home, May 22.
Schuylkill, Reading, May 24.

Miss Mary Woodruff Youngest Instructor

TEACHES COLLEGE LATIN AND IS ASSISTANT IN THE DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH. SHE IS A WELL LIKED AND VERY EFFICIENT TEACHER

Altho we were not given the place and time of birth of this most popular instructor, for several reasons, we do know that her age has been no detriment to her teaching principles. We think of her more as a student than as a teacher, for at the present time she is taking graduate work. As a teacher Miss Woodruff has the esteem and good will of the students and for this reason she has been very successful in her work of teaching not only the Freshmen, but also many of the upperclassmen.

Miss Woodruff, after spending four years on the campus of S. U. (Not forgetting that parts of the Alma Mater also refer to her actions during her college life), graduated from Susquehanna University in the class of 1919. In the years 1919-1920 Miss Woodruff taught in S. U. Academy, teaching Latin, and at the same time taking graduate work in the College Department. From 1920-21 she taught French and English in the Nanticoke High School. She received her A. M. degree from Susquehanna in 1922. From 1921 till the present time she has faithfully served as teacher of College Latin and as Assistant Instructor in College English.

We can give no predictions as to her future, but it is our desire and hope that she will continue to be as successful as a friend and teacher, even on a greater scale than she has in the past in inspiring the true Susquehanna spirit into the hearts of her students.

EXCHANGE

EDUCATION IN POLITICS

The Virginia Legislature has just approved an amendment to the Constitution, putting up to the voters the matter of electing County Superintendents of Schools by a popular election.

Imagine what would happen if some job hunting politician suggested such a scheme for Pennsylvania, and imagine also, if you can what would happen if the road supervisor decided to run against the town constable for the office. The thing is almost as silly as medical students applying for physicians' certificates without a board examination.

DEBATING TEAMS WON VICTORIES OVER CAPITOL U. AND ALBRIGHT

Negative Team Defeated Capitol and Albright Affirmative Teams. S. U. Affirmative Squad Won Over Albright Negative

The Susquehanna debating teams extremely well. There can be no doubt added three overwhelming victories to but that they put up an excellent defender credit when the negative team bats. Our team, however, stood firm in composed of Eugene Adams, William their arguments, disputed cleverly Schvirian, capt., and Paul Lucas defeated the affirmative team of Capitol University and Albright College, and they were Atty. G. L. Reed, Harris, when the affirmative team composed burs Attorney Francis Wimmer, Sun of Lee Boyer, Harold Ditzler, and burs, and Attorney Geo. Deppen, of Clarence Hurst defeated the Albright Sunbury.

The first two of these debates took place on Thursday evening. The dining room trio place on the home platform. They surpassed their previous work and were interesting in every detail and the question, Resolved: That the U. S. should enter the League of Nations as present constituted was discussed from many phases.

Our team was ready and anxious for the debate Wednesday evening. Adams gave us a great amount of valuable information in a clear and smooth, but yet whirlwind manner. "Bill" Schvirian followed him, with his elegant address and picturesque example, which implanted themselves in the minds of the judges, so that they could not overlook them. And then Paul Lucas took the stand. All of his colleague's facts, together with those that he had developed himself formed a basis for a very creditable presentation.

Three More Games in Class-Frat League

FRESHMEN, SOPHOMORES, AND NON-FRATERNITY MEN GAIN WINS IN LAST WEEK'S CONTESTS. BOND AND KEY IS AHEAD IN FRAT LEAGUE

During the past week, the student body witnessed three hard fought battles on the basketball floor.

On Wednesday night two inter-class games were staged. In the contest between the Seniors and the Frosh, the latter showed their superiority from the start. At the end of the first half the score stood 8-3 in favor of the Frosh and at the final whistle they were victorious with the score at 25-12.

The line up:
Seniors Frosh
Lutz center Hughes
Streamers forward Ricard
Rice forward F. Weaver
Bodie guard J. S. Smith
Stumpfle guard Marks
Substitutions: Dubavecky for Rice, Rice for Streamer, L. Weaver for Rice, Bingham for Ricard, Troutman for Smith.

In the second game the Sophomores showed superior form over the Theologs and at the end of the first half lead by a 16-6 score. The final score was 24-10. The line up:
Theologs Sophs
Hanks center Hanner
Martin forward Morning
Leshor forward Young
Neudoerffer guard Austen

Phi Beta Rho Conducted Y Meet

VIOLIN SOLO AND VOCAL QUARTET FEATURE MEETING OF Y. M. C. A. DR. SADTLER GAVE A FINE ADDRESS ON WASHINGTON

The Phi Beta Rho fraternity rendered a program on Tuesday evening for the Y. Several musical numbers were enjoyed by the audience. A quartet composed of Messrs. Tressler, Wynn, Snyder and Sands sang the hymn, "The Church in the Wilderness." Mr. Wynn also played a violin solo: he was accompanied by Charles Snyder. Oliver Sands, chairman of the meeting, then asked Dr. Sadtler to speak. He took as his subject "Life of George Washington."

"In the Twentieth Century we seem to be two kinds of creature interests. First, the sensational news writer and space filler, and secondly, the Propagandist. These two are engaged in tearing down and trying to destroy the character of great men, and the sacredness of certain principles of Democracy."

"Lately, there appeared in certain papers and magazines, articles that have been aimed at the character of 'The Father of Our Country.' It has been said that Washington was addicted to swearing and to drinking; that he manufactured wine on his plantation and often used profane language."

FOR THE GOOD OF S. U.

Susquehanna was represented at the recent Student Volunteer Convention which was held at Dickinson College in Carlisle. Several students of our campus journeyed there to represent S. U. in the cause of Christian Fellowship thru the world.

Some of the leading colleges in the eastern part of the United States were present. Among these were: Penn State, Gettysburg, Mt. Airy Seminary, Lebanon Valley, Juniata, Bloomfield Seminary, Fulton Seminary, Wilson Drew, Elizabethtown, Bucknell, Dickinson and Susquehanna.

It means much to Susquehanna to reach out in this manner and take an interest in a fellowship which binds institutions of this kind together in the work of establishing a world fellowship. Let us do all we can, wherever we can to boost S. U. and Christian Fellowship.—C. E. F.

WAS IT A JOKE AFTER ALL?

Last Friday evening during the first half of the basketball game with Temple, one could have seen several Susquehanna students who seemed to pay but little attention to the game. They were talking and eating many things as the contest proceeded. As the contest progressed, it was noticed that some of these same students slip from their places and steal out into the night. Where they went interested no one particularly at that time.

When the whistle blew for the second half of game to begin, everyone at once became completely lost in the interest of the game and anyone who might have noticed these young men did not realize that they had not returned. Perhaps it is a mere coincidence that these same were out at the same time that a man set up a table on the lawn between the tennis courts and the Science Hall, but we believe not. This circumstantial evidence has since been strengthened by the fact that several persons saw and recognized these would-be jokers.

Just as the throng was pouring from the doors of the Gymnasium a much vaguer set to the oil-soaked burlap of the frame and immediately Susquehanna had as nice a flaming cross as could be secured anywhere. It, of course attracted a great deal of attention and caused a certain amount of excitement, and many students gathered around it as they would around a bon fire.

Certainly no material harm was done but it is our opinion that the jokers picked a mighty poor time for their prank, for it rather have given the visiting teams a much poorer impression of Susquehanna hospitality. The Temple Squad was here, as well as the St. Francis boys, who had engaged our gym the evening before and they did not help but think less of us for it. We wish to apologize to these visitors for the distorted senses of humor possessed by a few of our students. Their attitude was not that of the student body, who enjoyed having these teams here and who found them to be composed of clean-cut men of the highest type.

We are sure that the only motive behind the act was the desire to play an old-time college prank. It is hoped that the students who are responsible will soon learn what must be evident to all thinking people—that students of Universities today are getting away from the old idea of playing pranks. Gone are the days of popularity for the practical joker.

SPRING HAS COME

Page Professor Arbogast, the course which he supervises seems to have started ahead of time. Tho not having ample laboratory facilities, a kindergarten class has organized and has begun study. A cozy little spot nestling in the shelter of Selingsgrove Hall and with warm sun beaming down for a few hours, has attracted the eye of the "younger set" of Selingsgrove. Tho still below the teen age, love, or whatever you call it, runs in their veins, even as it does in the sanguine Sophomore, the jubilant Junior and the serious Senior. Out with the equipment. Arby, Spring has come and you must not delay the course in campistry.

Alas we page Professor Arbogast in vain. Arby has decided that the school might possibly get along without him and that he would "devote" his time to some other branch of endeavor. He states that twenty years of education is strenuous enough for anyone.

All this means that Arby has quit. No longer is he vice president, and the coming generation will never know what advantages they have been denied. And thus the passing of Arby.

A College Comedy by Members of Phi Mu Delta Fraternity to be Presented for Stage Fund Benefit

The Phi Mu Delta, both active members and pledges, are hard at work rehearsing for their third annual benefit entertainment. Most of their friends have seen the quality of their shows in the last two years and are eagerly awaiting the presentation of this year's fun maker.

It has been their custom to present Minstrels of the first rank. This year, however, they are presenting an original musical comedy. Yes, sirree, a real, live musical comedy with all the axin's and perambulations, etc., etc., of the professionals. Under the able direction of Professor Kerner, the boys are rapidly being coached into shape in order to give their audience a good, clean-cut, laugh-producing show. That it will be one which will long be remembered in the annals of the school, cannot be doubted.

Not only the boys deriving personal benefit from these entertainments in gaining dramatic experience, but they, themselves, feel that part of their own selves is given to the institution. For all monies taken in from their shows, less expenses, are put to some useful benefit for old S. U. This year's net profit will be turned over to the S. U. Stage Equipment Fund.

The tickets will be placed on sale Wednesday morning. The place where they may be obtained will be announced later in Chapel and on the Bulletin Boards. All seats reserved. Admission 50c. The date—March 10th. Time 8:00 p. m. Bring your girls, bring your Bean Brummels, bring your friends and bring yourselves. Watch the Bulletin Boards, the Display Cards, the Newspapers, the Trolley Cars and The Susquehanna.

The last piece is the sweetest.

ALUMNI NOTES

Roger Blough, '25, is principal of the Senior and Junior High Schools of Holly Pea. He coaches the athletic teams and teaches Science and Mathematics. Some time ago The Susquehanna announced that he was teaching in Honesdale, Pa. Such was not the case and this paragraph should correct any false impression.

Ernest F. Walker, '21, is practicing law in his native city, Johnstown. Ernie was well liked while on the campus and was active in his Alma Mater and is ever ready to do anything he can to further her cause. He has been quite successful in his chosen field.

Bryan Rothfuss, '23, is teaching in Williamsport. He was abroad the past summer for a few months.

Dave Stemplet, '22, is coaching football and teaching in Williamsport High.

Geo. Buddinger, who was a member of the S. A. T. C. during part of the World War, is at present employed by the Sheffer's White Deer Ice Cream manufacturers, and is living at Williamsport.

Wallace Wagner is managing a store in Pittsburgh. His wife, Tillie Wertz-Wagner, visited her home in Selingsgrove a short time ago.

Harold Dupstadt, '24, is teaching science at the Waynesburg, Pa., High.

Dr. Woodruff Attended National Convention

Represented Susquehanna at Conference of Department of Superintendence of National Edu. Assn.

Doctor J. I. Woodruff, head of the Department of Education of Susquehanna University, attended the annual meeting of the Department of Superintendence of the National Education Association.

Nine colleges that were represented there held dinners aside from the regular routine. New York University invited Dr. Woodruff to be present at their banquet, which was held in the Hall of Nations in the Washington Hotel.

The theme of the gathering was "Education as a Co-operative Enterprise." Some of the most interesting and helpful speakers were the following:

Miss Mary MacSwinson, president National Education Association.

Dr. Tisert, United States Commissioner of Education; Chancellor Brown of New York University, and E. Payson Smith, Massachusetts State Superintendent of Schools.

SEMINARY

Hanks '26 departed for Oriole, Pa. on Friday.

Keller '26 supplied at Minersville.

Law '26, preached at his regular charge at Avis.

Ramer '26, has been ill the past week.

Shaffer, '26, visited at his home over the weekend.

Swartz '26, preached at his regular charge at Kratzerville.

Wilder '26, left for his home at Altoona.

Beahm, '27, visited at his home.

Beard, '27, preached at Millville.

Derr, '27, supplied at the charge of Dr. Manhart at Shamokh Dam.

Kemper, '27, supplied at Killinger.

Knoebel '27, visited at the home of his wife at Kulpmont.

Enders '28, assisted Dr. Kern at the Reformed Church.

Grove '28, left for the woods somewhere near Kremer.

Kroen '28, accompanied Keller to Minersville, where he rendered a solo.

Sands '28, has had plenty of company during the past week, having a carbuncle, or whatever it may be, somewhere between the ear and the farthest extremities of the jaw, looking northward.

We indeed are glad to have Wm. Sadler, Jr., return to our midst. Having been in Florida during the winter on some urgent business. He is a member of the class of '27.

O. D. S. Pledges Give "Sweetheart Tea"

Entertain Active Members of Sorority With a Clever and Original Program. Young Men Serve as Favors

The past Friday night the pledges of the Omega Delta Sigma Sorority gave to the active members the cleverest and most original entertainment which has taken place on this campus during the writer's four years. It was called a "Sweetheart Tea," and cute heart-shaped invitations were sent to the girls.

The party started in the social room which was decorated in pink and white. Here in games the main idea was carried out. Mary Gougler won first prize by planting her lips (while blindfolded) on those of a drawing of a sheik. A card game then started (hearts of course) and a stable Dagle won first prize.

After these games, the girls were escorted into the Sorority rooms, and received some surprise when they entered. There were four tables, with lighted pink candles, unique favors and place cards, flowers, and eats. Everything, even the salads, was arranged to carry out a color scheme.

The girls then returned to the social room, and started to dance. No one noticed particularly that the door was kept shut. A six o'clock the door opened, and in walked about twenty-five young men. We must give the girls credit for being able to keep a secret, for the pledges invited the boys, and surely gave the other girls some surprise. A happy hour was the story of his fight with the colt then spent in dancing. The party also opened with the pledges singing "Let us call you sweethearts," and closed with the members responding "You may call us sweethearts."

GIRLS' EDITION

The annual girls' edition of The Susquehanna will be published on the 25th of March. An election will be held after chapel some morning this week and the girls' staff will be chosen to superintend the work.

This edition of The Susquehanna is always an unusually interesting one and will be so this year. There is an abundance of talent among the co-eds and a good issue of the paper is assured. Get ready to elect your staff, girls.

A CORRECTION

Owing to a mistake in last week's edition of The Susquehanna stated that only four men represented the Non-Frat team against the Bond and Key five during the second half of the game. This was not entirely true. It was only for the last few minutes of the game that such was the case.

PHI BETA RHO CONDUCTED Y MEET

"Disregarding those things that are transitory and superficial, we must consider his character as it has come down to us.

"Washington was an athlete. He could out jump, ride and run any of five young men. We must give the girls credit for being able to keep a play and fun, just as much as boys of secret, for the pledges invited the boys today. The 'Cherry Tree Story' wavy-boys, and surely gave the other girls a little, it is a little shaky, but some surprise. A happy hour was the story of his fight with the colt then spent in dancing. The party also opened with the pledges singing "Let pany. We read that he was interested in many ladies with whom he was acquainted. He, too, had his love affairs, etc.

"There was, however, something that George Washington was different in. He did not follow the 'line of least resistance.' George never followed that 'line.' It generally leads to pleasure, and makes those who follow it, pleasure mad. He got some land from his half-brother, he acquired some himself, but he did not love money.

"All thru his life we see that three principles guided him. Namely: (1) Reverence toward God; (2) Sense of Duty; (3) His Country. First. These three ruled and made Washington the man he was.

"As a general he was hard working, training men who were half starved, and bravely enduring endless hardships and dangers. He always stuck till it was over. This is one evidence that his character was sound.

"As President, he worked assiduously to mould public sentiment. Midnight oil he burned, writing letters to men of influence and scholarship throughout the country.

"Regardless of all criticism, of all the 'poisoned shafts' of cynicism aimed at his character, it still stands un- touched, unblemished. A man who is an example for the men of many na- tions."

Those who were here for the work end saw a very closely contested game between the Phi Mu Delta and the Non-Fraternally men. Altho the outcome of the game was a question during the entire length of the contest, the Non-Frat men seemed just a little bit better versed in the game. The first half ended with a 13-8 score in favor of the Phi Mu Delta men, but in the second half their opponents outplayed them and won a 16-14 victory. The line up:

Phi Mu Delta	Non-Frat
Martin forward	Hoover
Young forward	Weaver
Williams center	Shaffer
Gimme guard	Marks
Keeler guard	Fischer
Epsilon Sigma forfeited to Bond and Key.

The standing of the Fraternity league is as follows:

1 Bond and Key	3 wins 0 defeats
2 Non-Frat	2 wins 0 defeats
3 Phi Mu Delta	2 wins 1 defeat
4 Epsilon Sigma	0 wins 2 defeats
5 Phi Beta Rho	0 wins 2 defeats

One of the power amplifier stages of the world's first super-power transmitter

The World's Loudest Voice

On the rolling plains of South Schenectady, in several scattered buildings, is a vast laboratory for studying radio broadcasting problems. Gathered here are many kinds and sizes of transmitters, from the short-wave and low-power sets to the giant super-power unit with a 50- to 250-kilowatt voice.

Super-power and simultaneous broadcasting on several wave lengths from the same station are among the startling later-day developments in radio. And even with hundreds of broadcasting stations daily on the air throughout the land, these latest developments stand for still better service to millions of listeners.

Only five years old, yet radio broadcasting has developed from a laboratory experiment into a mighty industry. And alert, keen young men have reaped the rewards.

But history repeats itself. Other electrical developments will continue to appear. And it will be the college man, with broad vision and trained mind, who will be ready to serve and succeed.

Antenna of super-power transmitter

From the studio of WGY in Schenectady, six miles from the developmental station, there may be controlled a great number of transmitters, one of which is the first super-power transmitter in the world. WGY, together with its associates, KOA of Denver and KGO of Oakland, is the General Electric Company's assurance to the American public that radio broadcasting shall be maintained upon the highest standards.

A new series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request. Ask for booklet GEK-1.

DEBATING TEAM WON OVER CAPITOL U. AND ALBRIGHT

 Doctrine as proof that the U. S. would lose their independence if they joined the League, because the effectiveness of this doctrine would be destroyed. The affirmative met this by showing that the League recognized the Monroe Doctrine and that it is a national agreement. The Negative claimed that Article 19 of the covenant is unconstitutional because it gave the League too much power over the U. S. The Affirmative met this by showing that the Negative gave this the wrong interpretation. Thus each point in turn presented by the negative was refuted. Many points which the affirmative advanced could not be refuted by the negative side. Ditzler with his spirited oratorical delivery, Boyer with his steady thinking and sure facts, and Hurst finishing the debate by showing in his logical way how each point of the negative had been refuted, with Sharretts helping by checking on time keeper and recording each point to be refuted, won the day.

The judges' decision was 2-1 in favor of the affirmative. Although the audience was small the spirit was good and the team was taken care of in a royal way. The Albright manager even secured girls for the boys after the debate, who showed them the way to the loco cream parlor. Boyer faced the best of the team by being faithful to the wife and going to a chicken and waffle supper with the manager.

Ditzler lay awake most of the night so he would hear the alarm clock go off and discovered in the morning that it had not been set. Sharretts suffered an attack of indigestion before the debate, due to consuming the food of his colleagues, plus his own.

The debaters were as follows: S. U. Affirmative—Harold Ditzler, '28, Lee Boyer '26, Clarence Hurst '26, Gere Sharretts '26; Albright negative—Renel Dubs '26, Milton Wilkes '26, Paul Price '26, Leon Hood '28.

The judges were D. J. Leopold, cashier of First National Bank of Lebanon; Paul G. Adams, attorney-at-law of Lebanon; Charles D. Weirick, attorney-at-law, of Lebanon.

Albright extended to Susquehanna a most cordial invitation to further contests in the Art of Debate.

Susquehanna's debating record up to the present time shows three victories out of four debates. This gives us proof that we have excellent teams this year and that any person coming to these contests will find an hour of interesting entertainment and instruction.

The debate with Ursinus this week will doubtless be a spirited one, because Ursinus College always sends out good teams, both in sports and in literary contests.

The Susquehanna suggests that we give the debaters a good audience on Friday night. This will be the last appearance of the Susquehanna Negative team on the home platform. Let us support them.

ORANGE AND MAROON FIVE PLAYED SWARTHMORE SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Little Quakers Hand Crusaders a 59-33 Set-Back In Last Home Game of the Season. Capt. Kurtz One of Leading Scorers for S. U.

The Swarthmore quintet invaded the local gym last Saturday afternoon and gave the Orange and Maroon a 59-33 set-back.

The Little Quakers presented one of the best coached fives seen in action here this season and their superb passing and shooting was not to be denied. The fact that the game was played in daylight instead of at night, as usual may have effected Coach Follmer's men, but regardless of light conditions they were outclassed.

The local fives seemed to find themselves by sports and for this reason were able to score a total of 33 points against the Garnet. Dunkelberger, Kurtz and Dixon were the leading scorers for Susquehanna. Capt. Kurtz showed old time form during the second half, putting three two pointers thru the net in quick succession.

Emel and Siegle played their usual stellar game and were with the ball continually. Lahr saw action during the fray, as well as Spalde, Smith and Haney and are to be complimented on their showing.

Bartlett, Coles and Richards were high scorers for the visitors and seemed unable to miss the hoop from any angle. Their foul shooting was equally good.

The next game to be played is Schuykill at Reading and it is hoped that the season will end with a victory.

The line-up was as follows:
Susquehanna Swarthmore
Dixon R. F. Richards
Haney L. F. Coles
Spalde C. Ward
Emel R. G. Evans
Siegle L. G. Garber
Substitutions—S. U. Kurtz, Dunkelberger, Lahr, Smith; Swarthmore, McCutcheon, Bartlett, Bau, Garber, Betken, Wilde.

Class and Fraternity Games Hold Interest

MUCH RIVALRY BETWEEN CLASSES AND FRATERNITIES. LAST WEEK'S GAMES RESULTED IN WINS FOR SENIORS AND PHI MU DELTA

During the past week two more games were played in the Inter-Class and Inter-Fraternity Leagues. The first resulted in a victory for the Seniors over the Theologs and the second ended with the Phi Mu Delta two points ahead of Bond and Key.

In the first game the Theologs were confident of victory, but their opponents showed them that it isn't well to conclude on Page 3

Sophomore Girls Won League Championship

Defeated Freshman Girls to Tune of 15-12. Victory Means Championship in Girls' League

As a preliminary to the Varsity game with Swarthmore Saturday afternoon, the Sophomore and Freshman girls battled for first place in the inter-class league.

From the beginning, the game proved to be a hard fought one, and the teams seemed to be about evenly matched. The Sophs, however, got a slight lead, which they were able to maintain and thus won the game.

At times the contest reminded one strangely of football in spite of the fact that the game was between the fair co-eds. This was due to the fact that so many of the players left their feet at various times.

When the final whistle blew the score was 15-12 in favor of the second year girls.

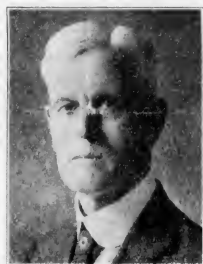

Dr. Wm. Sadtler Has Traveled Extensively

POPULAR SEMINARY INSTRUCTOR HAS STUDIED IN UNIVERSITY LEIPZIG, AS WELL AS SEVERAL UNIVERSITIES IN THE UNITED STATES

Something more than half a century ago, Dr. Wm. A. Sadtler, Professor of New Testament Exegesis in our Theological Department, was born in Lutherville, Md., where his father, Dr. Benjamin Sadtler, was President of Lutherville Female Seminary. Later Maryland College for Women in this beautiful village, ten miles north of Baltimore, the subject of our sketch spent the first twelve years of his life most happily, enjoying the home and the pleasures of an attractive countryside and laying the foundations for an unusually good constitution.

He then went with his family to Allentown, Pa., where his father was called as the second President of Muhlenberg College. Here our lad entered fully into the spirit of college life, while enjoying exercise and youthful sports in exploring the picturesque sections of the adjacent country and in trying out the possibilities of the Lehigh River.

He graduated in 1883 as the first honor man of his class, and was called as Professor of English to the college of the German Lutheran Wisconsin

After spending two years actively and happily in the West with the vacations given to travel, our young professor became again the student, entering the Lutheran Theological Seminary in Philadelphia. Near the end of the second year he went to Germany, matriculating in the University of Leipzig for the summer semester. He then traveled for three months over a carefully studied itin-

AFFIRMATIVE DEBATING TEAM LOSES BUT OUR NEGATIVE TEAM WINS

Susquehanna Loses to Juniata College. Negative Team Gains Victory Over Ursinus. Affirmative Meets Western Maryland Thursday

Voice Club Presented Valentine Evening

MARY LAVINIA YOUNG CLUB GAVE ENTERTAINMENT CONSISTING OF OLD SONGS. RECALLED FOR US A VALENTINE EVENING OF 1850. AUDIENCE PLEASSED

On Monday night the Mary Lavinia Young Club presented a very interesting program in Seibert Chapel Hall. It was in the form of a St. Valentine party and the girls, dressed in their party dresses of 1850, made a charming picture.

The first part of the program was a song cycle of Arabia, given by Miss Helen Ott and Joseph Fopano. The second part was one in which many took part. It consisted of many old time songs, some of which were sung by the audience with the club leading.

Many interesting numbers were presented after this in rapid succession. First Miss Young sang several songs. Dressed in a blue silk old fashioned dress, she looked like a quaint maid of long ago. After a few numbers by the club Florence Brosius sang "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms." The old time quartet of Messrs. Roberts, Kroen, Popeno, and Henins then delighted the audience with several numbers. A member of the quartet, Mr. Roberts, sang "Scenes That are Brightest," immediately afterward.

"Dag" Kaiser sang "Auntie Laurie" in a manner that called forth much applause from the audience after which followed a few more numbers by the club. "Topsy" and "Uncle Remus" came from "de quarters." The first to close dance and the other to entertain the children with stories.

During intermission candy, peanuts and cakes were sold by negro minstrels from the South.

The program certainly was a successful one and the voice club will surely attract a large audience if it puts on another program at any future time.

Susquehanna Honored By Scholarship Cup

One of the Fraternities Won Cup for High Scholastic Attainment Among Chapters of National Fraternity. Another honor has come to Susquehanna. This time it is in the nature of a silver loving cup, which comes as a reward for scholastic attainment and which is in the possession of one of our fraternities for the year 1926.

Occasionally we hear some one bemoan some assumed fact that perhaps Susquehanna isn't up to a par scholastically. Upon investigation, one usually finds, however, that the student who makes such an assertion is one who is too lazy to do any work for himself and that his opinion is valueless. That Susquehanna is up to a par is evidenced by the success of its graduates in the ministry, the teaching profession, in medicine and in all walks of life.

The fact that the cup is in possession of the local chapter of Phi Mu Delta fraternity and that this chapter had the highest standing in the national fraternity are only of secondary importance. The members feel that the credit is not due themselves, but rather should be given to the faculty and the institution which is their Alma Mater.

"Well I showed up the teacher before the whole class again today."

"Yeh? Put us wise."

"She asked for Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, and I told her he never lived there."

On Tuesday night the Affirmative debating team of Susquehanna met the Negative team of Juniata College at Huntington.

The debate was a close contest throughout. Altho the Susquehanna debaters arrived only an hour before the debate and in that time had to eat a lunch and rest a bit, it was a debate of which Susquehanna may well be proud.

The debating spirit at Juniata ran high. The chapel hall, where the debate was held, was packed. Cheer after cheer was given before the debate, and during the ten minutes as intermission before rebuttal.

The winning spirit of Juniata ran so high that it seemed they must win. But the Susquehanna debaters did not falter. They put forth their greatest efforts and went into the debate with a spirit hard to beat. At the close of the first part of the debate it was a question which side had the edge on their opponents. The rebuttal was hotter than ever. The negative team advanced new material in the rebuttal and strengthened the points already made. The affirmative team formed their rebuttal by refuting the argument of their opponents.

Each member of the team worked hard, but the spirit of their opponents carried the day with a decision of 3-0.

Juniata does not wish to have her points printed. The Susquehanna points were the same as before, so no points will be mentioned.

The debaters were as follows: S. U. Affirmative—Harold Ditzler '28, Leo Boyer '26 (Capt.), Clarence Hurst '26, Gere Sharrrett, alternate, Juniata Negative—Raymond Morris '28, Samuel King '28, Telford Blouch '27 (Capt.), Arthur Ferner '29, alternate. The judges were as follows: Prof. H. S. Fleck, assistant superintendent of

Look Who's Here is Ready for Presentation

Third Annual Benefit Production to be Given Tomorrow Evening. Proceeds Will go to Stage Fund

Everything is set for the big Phi Mu Delta benefit. The entire cast is ready to place their musical comedy, "Look Who's Here," before their audience. The entire show promises to be the best ever.

The tickets for the reserve seats are going rapidly. So take your little red ticket down to Lytle's Pharmacy and have it exchanged for a reserved seat ticket. By the way, all the seats are reserved at 50c. If you pay 50c for your red ticket all that you need to do is to have it exchanged as stated above. If you do not have your red ticket, then go down to Lytle's with your four bits and purchase your reserved seat before they are all sold.

Remember if you are looking for a good laugh then come to see "Look Who's Here" in the Chapel of Seibert Hall on Wednesday evening at 8 p. m.

OUR LIBRARY

Were it only the knowledge that we obtain from our text books that we seek for in our every day study our knowledge would indeed be very limited. One book in itself can cover but very little of any subject's true value and facts and for this reason libraries have been planned. The library building is in itself a very important feature of the library, but not necessarily the most important. Susquehanna has a very splendid collection of extremely valuable books, but lack a suitable place to care for these volumes. At present the books are kept on the second floor of Gustavus Adolphus Hall; the room being very scanty. A new library building would be of outstanding value to S. U.

The library is under the care of the Theological students and one may use the same at nearly any time. Besides the books of research and reference on libra contains the latest periodicals and newspapers, the latter two the librarian requests to be kept in the library at all times. New books are added from time to time and we keep our library up-to-date.

It is hard to know a thing and really know it, at we know where to get it. Susquehanna can be proud that she has the fine library collection that she has at present, and can look forward to the day when we may have a new building to keep our valuable volumes in.

When a stranger visits Susquehanna and asks for the library, he is rather surprised to find it cramped into two small rooms on the second floor of one of our classroom buildings. Such a condition might be all right in a high school, but it is hardly appropriate for a college. There in the back room of the present library are thousands of books that many people do not know exist. They are practically inaccessible and the lighting is usually inadequate. It is not possible to give the necessary care to some of the valuable volumes that we have in the library.

Then, too, the conditions in our of-fices are not up to standard. Admittedly, they are being run as efficiently as possible under the circumstances. Nevertheless, they are also somewhat crowded, and above all, the school records can not be preserved safely. Every day, the almost priceless records of the institution are being exposed to destruction by fire. Gustavus Adolphus Hall is not a fire trap, but it could take fire without a miracle happening. The records of the institution, if once destroyed, can never be replaced. Our main need is a fireproof building for the administration offices and the library.

Alumni Susquehanna is growing. It is no longer the small college it once was. Shall it continue to expand? The answer is up to you, more than 2,000 former students here. Once we want a gymnasium, and we cut it thru your aid. Now the college is soliciting pledges of fifty dollars, to be paid in annual installments of ten dollars. Whether we shall have a library or not depends on you. We believe you can accept our challenge, and we know you will.

COURTESY

Is there such a thing at Susquehanna?

Judge for yourself. Do we call it courtesy when a team, coming from a college founded and controlled by the Catholic Church is visiting on our campus, for some one to turn a cross? It is not only being discourteous to our guests, but it is slapping any of the Catholic faith who might be living on our campus and doing much for Susquehanna. Students of Susquehanna should certainly know their heads that their Alma Mater should be so disgraced. R. T.

ABSENCES

It is well that man reacts to the idea of competition, or perhaps the progress of a nation would never be apparent. The spirit of rivalry undoubtedly enters into the competition between colleges. In the heart and mind of the Susquehanna roster the question ever present is: How can our But first the discouragements that come to many students should be removed.

After report cards were out for the preceding semester, many were disappointed because they did not receive all their credits on account of a few unexcused absences of which they claimed they knew nothing.

If at the end of every month the credits committee should place on the bulletin board a list of those who have unexcused absences charged against them and the number and give a limited time for all to check up, much disappointment, discouragement and ill feeling would be avoided. Perhaps the publishing of the names on the bulletin boards would serve as an inducement for a few to cut down on their absences. G. S.

—S—

WHO DID IT?

Who are the guilty ones? Who rang Seibert Hall door bell thrice in the early Sunday morning hours? Who inserted a tack in the door bell so as to make the bell ring continuously? Who did it? We say.

Some one played a mean trick on the girls and got them tumbling out of bed in the wee hours of the morning, when they put a pin in the door bell and made it ring. Some of the girls ran thru the halls seeking the cause, while a few of the more timid ones, fearing fire, stood in corners and pajamas and trembled.

When the bell first began to ring, a few thought it was an alarm clock. But when it continued to ring that theory was discarded and the big clock on the first floor was given more than its share of attention. One husky eved almost pulled it from the wall in her efforts to shake it into the proper conception of its duties.

A heroine suddenly appeared on the scene in the person of a well, there are several who claim the honor: who advanced the theory that a pin or tack or "something" had been placed in the bell so as to cause the circuit to remain closed. Several thinly clad eved ventured forth on the cold front porch and one touched the bell immediately the ringing ceased. About an hour later the same thing happened and some time after that it occurred again. Of course it didn't work so good the third time, but it did create a lot of excitement at first.

After the fears of fire had been silenced and put back on the shelf for future use, some one on the left wing on the third floor put her hand out of her door and sleepily inquired whether some one had rung a bell or whether she had been dreaming.

The amazing part of it all is how

MAN'S LEGACY

I walked with a gray-haired man one autumn day.
And watched the flaming leaves afloat every way,
It hurt me sore,
To see these gems so priceless to my eyes,
Fall to the ground and fading be despised—
To rise no more.

Then seated on a stile along the road,
I turned to Vaughn—unleashed my troubled load,
And to him said,
"Good sir, why must this beautiful foliage don,
A somber cloak, that you roots trample on
And proclaim dead?"

And Vaughn turning smiled as in a dream,
Then leaned the nearer where the sun's last beam Bejeweled his hair.
"My son," quoth he, "you leaves in seeming haste,
Will guard these roots and form a warming base
'Neath winter's stare."

"And when next summer comes with muted plea,
There will be cradles in this lofty tree for every leaf;
And son, if I should laugh and sweep down with the rest,
God bless you! Do not grieve—here's my only request:
Keep my belief."—L. L.

THE PRIMEVAL HERITAGE

I'd like to flee while the night is dim
With cold white frost, I've a pulsing whim
That hounds on the trail, and broad country
Would prove a tonic superb to me.
That a race full fast o'er lofty hills
Might add to my pulse a thousand thrills,
And that powder smoke and quarry's end
Would be to me like a bright God-send.
I want to go, while the morn's unborn
With the first faint grey I would snare my horn
And point the hounds to the dim country.

While crisp fall shadows upward flee,
Where the lack breaks forth in heavenly song,
And youthful memories when dreams were long Stab my heart with a burning fire—
'Tis my legacy from a stone-age sire.
—L. L.

I WONDER

When she leans against my shoulder,
Says: "I think it's growing colder."
Should I act a little colder?
I wonder.

When she gives a double ration
Of Love's nectar, is it passion,
Or because it is the fashion,
I wonder.

When she squeezes closer, saying:
"Kiss me, dear," I'm softly praying
Just what kind of fish I'm playing.
I wonder.

some were able to sleep peacefully throughout all the excitement. Regardless of how they did it their ability was the object of much admiration on the part of the eids who missed half their usual amount of sleep.

Even tho the members of the fairer sex were furious at the time, they are able to laugh about it now. But they ask that the culprits, if they come again, come earlier in the evening so as not to interfere with their sleep.

O. D. S. Initiates Honoraries
On Wednesday evening, March 3, the Omega Delta Sigma Sorority girls initiated seven new honoraries—Mrs. Beard, Mrs. Buchanan, Mrs. Catherman, Mrs. Crawford, Mrs. Gougler and Mrs. Stetler. The initiation was held in the O. D. S. rooms and was most impressive. Daffodils attractively arranged about the room were the only decorations. All of the O. D. S. girls and nearly all of the honoraries were present.

After the initiation, the guests were taken upstairs into the Seibert Hall parlors for cards. There were six tables of bridge and three of five hundred. Mrs. Ferman and Mrs. Buchanan were awarded the prizes. During the evening Miss Margaret Keiser rendered two vocal selections, accompanied by Miss Grace Beckley. Later dainty refreshments were served by the pledges.

Phi Mu Delta

The Mu Alpha Chapter of the Phi Mu Delta Fraternity gave a banquet in honor of the pledges, at the National Hotel in Selingsgrove, Friday, March 5. Many alumni and honorary members gave encouraging speeches to the newly pledged men. The main subject was "Somebody is Always Watching You So Make the Best Possible Record You Can."

The menu consisted of chicken and waffles, peas, fruit salad, coffee, pie a la mode, smokes and mints.

A very interesting program of music was given which helped to put the real pep in the banquet. The singing of the fraternity song concluded the program and the guests departed.

SEMINARY NOTES

Hanks '26 has been a minus quantity on the campus the past week-end. Keller '26 supplied at Minersville. Law '26 preached at his regular charge at Avis.

Swartz '26 preached at Kratzerville. Wisler '26 supplied at Oricle. Kepner '27 supplied at Clarkstown. Knoebel '27 visited at his home over the week-end.

Leshner '27 accompanied a former classmate, Klinedinst, '24, to York. Grove '28 visited at Kremer. Kroen '28 has been seen warming up for the oncoming baseball season.

NEW CLUB ON THE CAMPUS

Along with the most important passing events on the Susquehanna campus it would be a sad mistake to overlook the organization of a club that has aided materially that its members may pass their dreary moments and forget their troubles that may arise from time to time. This organization has functioned for some time and has shown great improvement in the manner in which the members have conducted themselves during business hours.

Any organization that can so interest its members in its lofty ideals that they will remain loyal to the transaction of business till the wee hours of the morning has surely established itself truly in the hearts of its members; especially when the organization can function without a president or any other officers. This club meets nearly any time in the corner rooms of Hassinger Hall on the second floor, and its business hours are determined by the amount of school work that the members may have for the present time. The usual hours are from 6 o'clock in the evening till 4 the next morning, these are subject to the condition of the members.

Business alone is not the sole aim of the organization however, as feeds are held occasionally and once in a while some of the members are sure to partake of dates—don't misunderstand us as we mean the kind that can be purchased at any grocery store. So efficient have some members become in the storing away of large amounts of food that they have willingly given been the food consuming championship at S. U.—much to the displeasure of Daddy Horton.

To become a member all that is necessary is to know the a b c's, read and write, speak English in only one way, be able to eat regularly, and to know the difference between the cards of a Five Hundred Hand, as this club is the famous Five Hundred Club of Hassinger Hall. Any one that so desires may join at any time. You'll learn quickly.—P. H.

erary that took him thru the most historic and picturesque regions of Central and Southern Europe.
After graduating in Theology, he was urged by those in official position to visit one of our leading churches in New York State, but he held to his ideal of some years of ministry in the Home Mission field and to a promise to assist the Rev. Dr. Wm. Ashmead Schaeffer, while beginning on his own initiative mission work in Wilmington, Del. The result of this work in Wilmington is the active St. Stephen's Church, now erecting a beautiful church at a cost of $109,000; while Dr. Schaeffer, being relieved of half of his services, gave his marked gifts and wide experience in the Home Mission Field to establishing two congregations that have for years been leading ones in Philadelphia.

After two years in this ministry, Professor Sadtler took up post-graduate study at the University of New York, later at the John's Hopkins, and again at New York, receiving his Doctorate of Philosophy in 1892. In 1922 he received the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity from Thiel College.

In the early fall of 1892 he went to Chicago on a double call, viz: to become one of the original faculty of the Chicago Lutheran Theological Seminary, Drs. Revere F. Weldner and H. W. Roth being the senior members, and to establish the pioneer English Lutheran congregation on the South Side of the big city. After nine years in Chicago he was called to the Wartburg Seminary in Dubuque, Iowa, as Professor of English and of Exegesis. After five years here Prof. Sadtler went to Bethany College, Lindsborg, Kans., as Professor of Greek and Philology. While here he was active in helping establish the Messiah English Lutheran Church for the hundreds of young people who had no knowledge of the Swedish language. While here a call to Carthage College was received and declined; later one was received from Midland College to the chair of English, which was accepted and held for four years. Desiring to return to the East for family considerations, Prof. Sadtler then went to the newly founded Roanoke Woman's College at Salem, Va.; then to Suburban New York, where at Glen Morris and at Rosedale mission congregations were

AFFIRMATIVE DEBATING TEAM LOST BUT OUR NEGATIVE WON

schools, Tyrone; Prof. Preston S. Noulton, head master Birmingham School; Mr. Floyd Ewing, A. M. M. Union.

The boys were treated in a royal way, which shows the good spirit of Juniata, our sister college. It is hoped by all that our debating relations may be continued.

On Friday night the Negative team again proved its superiority in the art of debate by defeating the Affirmative team from Ermsus in Solfort Chapel Hall. Our team is now in the same pass in which Alexander found himself. They are working in such perfect harmony that they should have new world's to conquer.

Christmas came here undefeated, but our Negative team with its one defeat, lost in the glory of many victories, was too much for them. The splendid oratory of our men was the day, our opponents may say what they will of our flowery language and our bombastic delivery, but it all counts, as has been proved. "Gee" Adams' splendid points, without the adornment of beautiful language and sincere delivery, would not make the appeal it does. "Bill" Schwirian's arguments are worthy of consideration, but without the impression made by his stirring oratory his ideas would not be retained nearly as well. While the delivery of Lucas is as well as forceful as that of his colleagues, his arguments are sound and his command of English is so masterful that he is as much dreaded as an opponent as he is the others.

The forum method of judging was used, and there may be no doubt as to the fairness of the decision. We feel that had we three unprejudiced judges, acting instead, they could not have decided otherwise.

Our heartiest congratulations to the teams.

REV. DR. H. C. HAITHSOXRev. Dr. H. C. Haithsox entered into life February 22, 1841.

He served in the Confederate Army of the Civil War from North Carolina, his native State. He was captured at Antietam Sept. 17, 1862. After a time he was paroled and entered Missionary Institute. While there he took a classical course and was ordained by the Susquehanna Synod in 1872. He was pastor at Muncy and Shamokin, Pa., and afterwards in the South and West. He rendered the Church valuable service for some years as secretary of the Board of Education, being associated with the distinguished Dr. M. Rhodes, who was president for more than thirty years. Dr. Rhodes, like Dr. Haithsox, was a product of Susquehanna in its early period. Dr. Haithsox excelled as a thinker and writer as is proven by his several books, dealing with educational problems, and many articles in noted periodicals.

In later years he was blind and at the age of 85 passed on to his reward.

established and substantial and attractive churches built during the first two years of the World War. During those unsettled times church work, and especially its financing, involved arduous labor, and, when these churches were completed, Prof. Sädler accepted a call to pastoral work on the South Side of Pittsburgh, Pa. This was an established work, but the "house famine" prevailing there in war times made it necessary for the pastor to live far from his church, while transportation facilities were at that time of the worst. Two winters of much exposure sent him to the hospital, with a period of life in the open to follow. A farm in Virginia was selected for this experience, which, while new in most of its phases, proved to be in many ways very pleasant.

Under the favorable conditions of country life the vigor of health soon returned and Prof. Sädler accepted a call to a highly specialized and most interesting sociological work as Director of the School of Social Work in Richmond, Va., while its founder was being detained by "Uncle Sam" in Camp Lee. After this experience, a call was accepted to Brunswick, Ga., a beautiful little city on the South Atlantic Coast, where a small band of most loyal Lutherans had built a very attractive church in a choice location. While laboring with these good people, larger opportunities offered themselves in the South to the pastor, two of them being pastoral and one educational, but the call came just then back to the North and to Susquehanna, and it was gladly accepted.

During his whole ministry Prof. Sädler has done literary work, having been a contributor to The Lutheran at intervals for these years and having had articles in The Lutheran Church Review and in The American Lutheran Survey.

Some years ago Prof. Sädler published a book, "Under Two Captains," a romance of History, beginning in the Napoleonic period and with the career of Napoleon as the background for the life story of the hero of the tale. A most interesting historical question is involved, which the author believes can some day be proved beyond controversy, viz: that Marshall Ney was not executed by a firing squad, but escaped to this country, where he lived for years, occupying himself as a country school teacher in the South, for the most part in North Carolina.

Prof. Sädler's family consists of his wife, who is active and well known in college circles, of two sons, William B., a Milder in the Seminary, and Robert E., a Junior in the College; also for the last year or so of his sister, Miss Kate S. Sädler, a retired missionary of twelve years service in India.

HAS INTRODUCED FRATERNITY BASKET BALL AND IS FIRM BELIEVER IN "SPORTS FOR ALL" POLICY. HAS ELIMINATED CROWDED GYM CLASSES

Since the beginning of the school year last September, 1925, Prof. Henry J. Mowles has served as the head of the Physical Education Department of Susquehanna. This position requires an all-around personality combined with business ability, as it includes the supervision of all athletics at the college, and Prof. Mowles has been ably filling the position, being ever ready to do his best for the boys and give the visiting teams on our campus the best we can offer in every way.

He was graduated from Dorchester High School, Boston, in 1915, and while there was a member of the football and track teams for four years. From high school he entered Goddard Seminary, Barre, Vermont, and was graduated in 1917, taking part in football and track while at the Seminary. In 1919 he entered the University of Vermont, specializing in physical education and medicine, and during his college career there was head track coach and assistant physical director.

In the summer vacation months, while attending Vermont his ability to coach track and field teams secured for him the position of instructor of track and field athletics at Harvard University Summer School of Physical Education. In 1922 he returned to his

Bond and Key Defeated Non-Frat

Played Off First Game of Three Point Tie. Game Between Phi Mu Delta and B. & K. to be Played This Week

The Bond and Key Fraternity defeated the non-frat five in a fast game in the Gymnasium last evening. The final score was 32-26.

This game was one of the concluding ones of the Inter-Fraternity League, and eliminated the non frat team's chances of securing first place in the league. A tie still exists between Phi Mu Delta and Bond and Key, which will be played off some time this week.

The tilt opened with a vigorous offensive on the part of the non-frat five, which resulted in ten point lead. The first half ended with the score 17-9 in their favor. The Fraternity boys played a cool and steady game and advanced the score rapidly during the second half. By playing consistent ball they tied the score and gained a lead which they maintained until the final whistle.

Young and Auten were the outstanding players for the Bond and Key Club. Hoover and Fisher were the non-frat stars.

Coach Clemens Has Arrived for Baseball

LAST YEAR'S POPULAR AND SUCCESSFUL COACH IS BACK AGAIN TO BEGIN SPRING WORK. MANAGER LUTZ ANNOUNCES THE SCHEDULE

Last Friday the arrival of Coach Clemens on our campus announced the advent of baseball as well as spring and the wealth of material for the diamond sport under his expert coaching gives tidbits of a big year for the Orange and Maroon nine. Coach Clemens hails from Lebanon, the athletic town, and his wide experience in both professional and amateur baseball before coming to S. U. makes him a good coach of that sport.

Last year he whipped a team into shape that was an honor to the institution, altho he was hard pressed for material and often traveled with less than the usual squad. From all reports such should not be the case this year, and with quite a few varsity men from last year, including Capt. Bolig, Gelnutt, Rice, Haney, Balrd, Kurtz and the large Freshmen class to pick from the final tally should show quite a few victories. The team is to be managed this year by Lester Lutz, who has been on the campus for four years, and should prove an able business man for the team.

The schedule is as follows:

Schuylkill, home April 17.
Juniata, home, April 22.

Indoor Track Meet to be Held Friday-Saturday

Annual Event Draws Many Entrants. Preliminaries on Friday and Finals on Saturday

The track activities of the season will open with an indoor meet to be held on Thursday evening, March 18. As this meet is an annual occurrence, great interest is to be manifested among the classes. All students are eligible to take part, and those who desire to be entered must have their entries in by Wednesday at 5 p. m. Entries will consist of the participants' names on the proper lists that are on the bulletin board. It is suggested that the several classes choose their relay teams before the night of the meet, as all of the other entries will be strictly individual.

Dr. Alkens has been chosen as honorary referee, while the other officials will be members of the athletic board, theologs and prominent business men. A list of the events is published, with the suggestion that all participants have their entries in as early as possible, and that they give the greatest co-operation in running off the meet.

Final Game Lost to Schuylkill Quintet

READING COLLEGIANS END OUR BASKET BALL SEASON WITH A 38-29 VICTORY OVER ORANGE AND MAROON. GAME LOST ON POOR FOUL SHOOTING

Coach Follmer's quintet lost the wind-up game of the court season to the strong Schuylkill College five by a margin of nine points last Friday night at Reading. The fact that the Sellingsgrove lads only completed 12 out of 30 foul throws proved that the contest was lost on their failure to score on the free tosses. The regular lineup of Dunkelberger and Dixon as forwards, Spalde, center, with Emil and Sleight guards, started the fray. "Dunk," with his eagle eye, was high scorer, with three field goals and four foul throws to his credit, while Lafr came second with two field goals and one foul. The team as a whole played well and the guarding of Emil and Sleight was a feature.

As in the game on the local floor, the Loose brothers were the scoring aces for the Reading lads, and were ably supported by their team mates. The season as a whole was not much of a success from the number of

A New Physical Director for Women

MISS HUTCHINS WILL TAKE THE PLACE OF MISS REEDER, WHO WILL GRADUATE WITH CLASS OF '26. HAS SPECIALIZED IN ORATORY TOO

Next fall will find a new director of physical education for women, as well as a new foot ball coach. Miss Lucia P. Hutchins, of Lindenwood College, St. Charles, Missouri, has been elected to the position. She is a graduate of Fitchburg High School, Mass., and also of Herrick School of Oratory. For three years Miss Hutchins served as head of the Departments of Oratory and Physical Education for women at Cushing Academy. During summer months she managed a stock company for Stewart Walker, a well known company of Cincinnati. She took her physical education work at Harvard University and with her dramatic ability combined with physical education should be a welcome addition to our faculty.

Miss Reeder, the present director of physical education, will graduate in June, and for the last two years has ably filled the position, having taken her physical education work at the Battle Creek, Michigan, school, one of the best in the country. The athletics for women have advanced rapidly under Miss Reeder's tutelage, which is evidenced by the spirit shown in inter-class games. The next step in the work is the forming of a team for inter-collegiate competition, in which many of our sister schools have already entered. From these facts it can readily be seen that there is a good opportunity for development started by Miss Reeder, and from Miss Hutchins' experience she should be able to carry on the good work.

WESTERN MARYLAND DEFEATS SUSQUEHANNA DEBATE TEAM

One of the most interesting debates of the season was contested last Thursday evening in Selbert Chapel Hall. The Susquehanna Affirmative met and lost to the negative team of Western Maryland.

The audience, which consisted of interested townsfolk and anxious students cheered enthusiastically for their team and showed a good debating spirit. The debate was strongly and closely contested throughout.

Ditzler, Susquehanna's first speaker, began the contest with a cyclonic delivery of valuable material, given in a forceful and tactful manner. Royer, S. U.'s second speaker, was cool and determined in his delivery and presented his points very effectively. Hurst was the last speaker for the affirmative. He added materially to the points already advanced and strengthened the position of the team by his clever organization of the affirmative material.

The negative debaters, Garretts, Hawkins and Royer, did not seem to be much affected by the strong Susquehanna spirit and presented their points in an unusually effective manner, so that during the five minute intermission, doubt as to the final outcome was evident upon the faces of many. In the rebuttal the visitors had an edge upon the home debaters and refuted many of the affirmative's points most effectively. The points presented were practically the same as in previous debates.

The decision of the judges was 2-1 in favor of Western Maryland. The audience also cast a ballot which too was in favor of the negative.

This debate was the last of the season upon the League issue. The record is that of four victories out of seven contests. Susquehanna is proud of her debaters, and the student body extends to the debaters its congratulations for the good work that they accomplished.

The men's varsity debate teams have debated the last debate scheduled. Out of a total of seven debates Susquehanna won four, losing only to the long-famous and powerful Juniata of the three sports he is to coach here. In 1924 he graduated from Purdue University and while there played varsity foot ball three years, varsity basket ball and base ball two years, and during his last year at Purdue acted as assistant coach.

Has coached high school teams for two years. Last year at Evansville, Ind., where he coached the Bosse High School foot ball team to the city championship with a green squad in their first year of competition. His basket ball team won 17 out of 24 games and was runner-up in the sectional tournament. This year he is coaching at Anderson High School, which is the best athletic town in the State of Indiana. He has been very successful there and the basket ball team is one of the favorites for the State title.

ALFRED STREAMER IS CAPTAIN THIS YEAR. PAUL HAUKE, MANAGER, HAS ARRANGED GOOD SCHEDULE. M. A. S. PRELIMINARIES HERE IN MAY

Among the other spring sports is listed tennis, which is captained this year by Streamer, and altho small in stature he proved his ability to wield a racket several times last year against six foot opponents. As yet a coach for the sport has not been definitely decided upon, but with the material from last year, which were mostly undergraduates who are still in college, the season should bring some good contests to our campus. The team is managed this spring by Paul L. Hauke, who served well last year as an assistant and has arranged the following schedule for the coming season:

April 21, away, Bucknell.
May 1, home, Philadelphia College of Osteopathy.
May 7, away, Lebanon Valley.
May 14-15, M. A. S. C. A. A. preliminaries and semifinals.

SHALL WE GRADE OUR PROFESSORS?

Some time ago the student publication of Harvard University suggested that it might be a good plan to have students grade their instructors according to their ability as teachers as these faculty members must judge the scholastic ability of their pupils. More recently the Student Weekly of Franklin and Marshall suggested the same general idea and since then several other college papers have taken up the matter.

A certain amount of opinion along this line was crystallized at the regional convention of the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association held at Gettysburg College, March 12 and 13. Questions were formulated there by means of which a faculty member might check up on himself. They are under the three general heads of Training, Ability as a teacher, and Personality.

1. Are you doing research work in your own field?
2. What degrees do you hold? Honorary or Earned?
3. Ability—
 1. What form of teaching do you use?
 2. What percentage of failures did you have last year?
 3. What is the number of students in your elective courses?
 4. What connection do you have with the Alumni of your department?
 5. What indications do you have that you are getting your work "across"?
 6. How long have you used the same text books and examination questions?
4. Personality—
 1. How many students have visited you and how many have you visited during the last month?
 2. Do you take an active part in fraternity affairs?
 3. What student organizations are you connected with?
 4. Do you attend college functions and athletic contests?
 5. What is your opinion concerning the order or the lack of it in your classes?

SURPRISE!

Notwithstanding the fact that a similar event had taken place in each of his five years at Susquehanna, Harold Moldenke was given a complete surprise Thursday evening by a number of his friends.

It came about in this manner: Lee Boyer, veteran debater of our most worthy Alma Mater, abducted Harold and took him to his domicile, where he was detained for a few minutes under a certain pretense.

In the meanwhile the Second Floor Sages and a few others, stealthily rept near the house, and gave a lusty yell for the victim.

A look of intense and unmanageable surprise lighted the face of the victim—the hapless Freshman. Before giving him time to recover from the shock, he was overwhelmed by a crowd of his friends and was showered with hearty good wishes and congratulations. After the presentation of several very appropriate gifts, a very sumptuous repast was enjoyed: he served by the efficient and able hostess, Mrs. Boyer.

After spending a few hours in enjoyment, the party adjourned with expressions of the splendid time they had enjoyed.

NEWSPAPER CONVENTION AT GETTYSBURG COLLEGE

A regional convention of the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association was held at Gettysburg College, Gettysburg, on Friday and Saturday, March 12 and 13. The Susquehanna was represented by its editor, who received many valuable suggestions.

The conference opened with a banquet at the Hoffman Hotel, where delegates from Bucknell, Susquehanna, Dickinson, Franklin & Marshall, Albright and Gettysburg assembled about a table, upon which was served a delicious chicken dinner. Dr. Hanson, president of Gettysburg College, and G. M. Steinmetz, editor of the Harrisburg Telegraph, were the speakers.

The delegates met again Saturday morning at 9:15 and were addressed by Dr. Kline, head of the department of English of the college. The editorial and business staffs then separated and discussed those topics that were most vital to each of them. Later the staffs came together again and discussed various ways by which the college papers might be improved. The conference went on record as being in favor of the issue concerning having college credit given for work upon the college papers.

Gettysburg College in general, and the Gettysburg staff in particular, proved themselves to be very entertaining hosts and surely treated the delegates in a royal manner.

PHI MU DELTA THIRD ANNUAL SHOW GIVEN LAST WEEK

On Wednesday night the Phi Mu Delta presented their third annual production, "Look Who's Here." It was as good as any play witnessed on the chapel stage this year.

The curtains revealed a dozen up-to-the-minute shiks, who were joined by the disciplinarian, Professor Knowet (Holger Henius), and six entrancing co-eds. Most of us have never known what charming girls our boys are. Their songs were disturbed by the arrival of Arby's prototype, Jack Dalton (Harry Williams himself) announcing the approach of Ezra Dill, the pickle king.

As a prelude to the second act, six sailors sang of a sailor and his sweetheart, while Mr. Dalton replied in like manner concerning an ash man and his trials. "So he dumped her off at Kremer!" is still ringing over the campus. After this Landis, Rice, Henius and Williams rendered "Old S. I." Then a foul plot was disclosed. Ezra Dill attempted to bribe Arby, pardon me, I mean Jack Dalton, to put sleeping powders in the football team's food, so they might not win the game, and Bob Hunter, its promoter, might not get the ten thousand dollars, and also thereby the hand of Bedilla Dill in marriage. But every one knew that the vile plot had been frustrated when the victory song, "Let the Orange and Banana Stand," rang out. And so Bob Hunter (Luther Weaver) and Bedilla Dill (Orville Landis) were married and lived happily ever after, as the story books say.

Able Martin was comical as Ezra Dill, in his attempts to advertise Dill pickles, and at the same time flirt with the co-eds without the notice of his wife, Fidge Dill (Harry Rice). Henius with his slyest mien looked a regular nimrod. The Six Knowet Synchopaters furnished some red-hot music for the fraternity dance. Baird, Kemmerer, Stover and Rice sang solos, and Bishop did some "classic" dancing.

The Mill Pond

Ultra-Introspection
Along the sodden bank the river rushed
Ice-capped and yellow in the Spring-time flood.
While backed into a hollow there lay hushed
A tranquil pool of water free from mud.
The river slowed its gait and lowered it cloak—
The pool remained as proof of the high tide
While in its shallow depths the frogs did croak.
And thick green scums closed in from every side.
Two months passed by—one sultry summer's day
The pool lay green and stagnant shunned by all;
Below, the river sang a peaceful lay,
And kissed in ecstasy each spray-flung fall.
We introspect; but if we pause too long LlLife's river shall recede from out our spheres
Till we must live without the rushing throng;
With stagnant minds that garner only tears.—L. L.

Age's Counsel

We walked far through the woodland,
Age and I.
Before a spring he halted with a sigh
And said, "My lad, this spring is ever clean Because the roof sheds every impure thing."

We drank—the water tasted pure and sweet;
Then the last time we coursed the woodland street,
But once Age halted and he murmured-ed swift,
"Your mind, lad, is a spring, beware of drift!"—L. L.

Think not of yesterday—then you were a child,
Dream not of tomorrow—then you will be old;

Your thoughts and dreams are rather useless things.
They cannot bring your ships into harbor.
They are intangible myths devoid of human strength.
But you, today, are master of your destiny.

You today have flesh and blood and strength;
Today you must seek your ships and harbor them.—L. L.

A SONNET By Wadsworth

(With corrections, alterations and emendations)
The girls are too much with us; late and soon,
Taking and spending, they lay waste our powers;

Little we see in females that is ours,
We have given our dough away, a sordid boon;
The girl that will do nothing else but spoon;

Women that will be howling at all hours,
And are not silenced now like sleeping flowers;
For this, for everything, I'm out of tune.

It moves me much—Great God! I'd rather be
A sailor exiled on an isle forlorn,
So might I standing on that pleasant sea

Have rest from girls and so be less careworn;
Have sight of Proteus rising from the sea,
Or watch old Triton tramp on Neptune's corn.

Bond and Key

The annual St. Patrick's Day Party was held by the Bond and Key Fraternity on Friday night, March 12, in honor of their pledges.

The St. Patrick "green," the spirit of the occasion, delicious refreshments and Nesbitt's Ramblers, all played important roles in making the party a paramount success. The fifty-six couples present were well represented by the girls of Selburt Hall, who were ably chaperoned by Mrs. Crawford.

The fraternity representatives were: Phi Mu Delta—Hayes Gordon, Epsilon Sigma—Theodore Elberts, Phi Beta Rho—Marshall Fasold.

Phi Beta Rho Fraternity

Ray Shuler risked to Reading on Friday to see — (?) Susquehanna Varsity played there also. Ray retired early after returning Sunday.

L. Rode, taking advantage of his good standing with the P. R. R. officials, rode to Reading to witness the game. Rode also visited his home in the Mosquito State. He returned to school with a new hat, which he found, stole or bought.

Carlson and Smaltz cancelled their engagements in Sunbury for Sunday evening on account of financial difficulties. Smaltz lost large amounts on Saturday's game.

Sid Leonard (a pledgee) sang in the unexplored wilds of Dauphin county. Millersburg in other words.

Saltzman purchased a new suit.

Tressler went to his home as usual, he also visited Berryburg.

Snyder was to Sunbury as prearranged, running to catch his usual car. Reed has returned to the frat house after an illness of a few days. He was nursed by one of the fair co-ed. He was heard singing that old song: "I don't want to get well." We all know the rest.

Sands went to Jersey Shore, Pa. We wonder why?

Kappa Delta Phi

A special meeting of Kappa Delta Phi was called Tuesday evening, when the members reached the room they realized excitement was in the air for the door was locked. At exactly 7:15 the door was opened and the underclass members and pledgees received a shock of great surprise. The seniors were giving an informal banquet for their sisters.

There were five tables in the room and at the head of each was a senior. In the middle of each table was a huge owl and on each side of the owl was a lighted candle. The cats were wonderful to say the least, as for the favors—they were extremely clever.

The seniors expressed their appreciation of four years close friendship and said they regretted that they soon must pass from our midst, but there is the adage "Best of friends must part." Finally we all went to our rooms with many happy thoughts, because of the pleasant evening made possible by the seniors of Kappa Delta Phi.

ALUMNI

In the African Mission Field with Rev. David Day Dagle from Susquehanna.

We have now spent four months at our work, which is mostly studying the Pele language. I have had six different teachers besides talking to the people in town. I go to town nearly every day and listen to the people talking and talk a little to them. I find the town a whole lot larger than I did at first. It has 75 houses and many towns have over a hundred. Last Friday I sat in a King's kitchen while they had court (or plauver) as they call it. The King is the judge and some of the head men act as lawyers. The plauver was about a six dollar sheep and two pounds of money, but they talked so fast that I couldn't hear much. Half of the men were from Sanghe and the others were Molley men or Mohammedians. The Molley men are from the French boundary over a hundred miles from here. They come here to trade. They have cloth, tobacco, perfumes, mirrors and sal to sell or trade for Kola nuts. These nuts are a kind of stimulant and many are exported. The Molley men also make a coarse cloth called country cloth which is the chief dress of the native. They weave it on a home loom something like a carpet. It is a good cloth and we use quite a bit of it. It is made out of cotton. The Mohammedians have services and pray to Allah, but do not do any Mission work and often attend our services.

They have a Girls' and Boys' school here about a fifteen minute walk from each other. Both are outside of the town. We live at the Girls' school. We have only sixteen girls now but there are 60 pupils at the Boys' school. The girls are hard to get because they are the ones who do the work, and the people think they do not need schooling. We have two native teachers here and three at the Boys' school. The pupils all furnish their own food and work for their clothing. At the Boys' school they have school in the morning and work in the afternoon. The natives only eat two meals a day. Breakfast at 11:30; dinner 5:30. School starts with prayers at 6:30 a. m., and ends with prayers at 5:30 p. m. They only have the first five grades at the Boys' school and the girls have only reached the first grade, but at the Main station the pupils can finish eighth grade. All of our native teachers have only completed eighth grade.

We have Sunday school every Sunday morning at 9:15. About 100 people attend, then we have church at 10 o'clock. We have only a small kitchen. Concluded on Page 4 debating machine and to the eloquent lads from Westminster, who are also noted for their ability. The very fact that one of their professors, Dr. Hill, endure an all night trip in an open automobile to accompany the debate team shows that they lay more stress on debate than most colleges do. Dr. Hill told us that one of the debaters had an ancestry of three generations noted for its fluency of speech and thinking ability. That Susquehanna's young, but hard-fighting teams were forced to bow to such opposition was no disgrace.

In debate, as in every other sport, experience is a powerful factor. The teams against which Susquehanna's teams were matched this year were composed of veteran debaters in every case—men who had two or three years' experience on varsity debate teams. Despite this, Susquehanna's record this year certainly is a creditable one. It is most encouraging for the future. It points out in unmistakable terms that if the young men at Susquehanna realize that the ice has been broken, that the opportunity for development in the art of public speaking is beckoning them, and that they have a nucleus around which they can build a debating organization, they may do themselves much good and bring untold glory and honor to their alma mater, Susquehanna.

Therefore, ye lads of Susquehanna, waken up, grab the banner and carry it to heights yet unknown!

DR. DIEHL TEACHER OF PSYCHOLOGY AND ETHICS

In 1904 Dr. Diehl returned to Gettysburg and entered the Seminary, from which he was graduated in 1907. During which of this time, he supplied his home church in Greencastle.

In 1908 he entered Leipsitz University, where he took up advanced work in psychology and philosophy.

When he returned in 1909 he took up the pastorate of St. John's Lutheran Church in Lock Haven. He remained there until 1915, when he was called to Carthage, Ill., as pastor of the college church and professor of Religious Education in Carthage College.

During this time he spent one year (1918) as First Chaplain of the United States Army. In 1922 he returned to Lock Haven and went into business. But while being actively engaged in business during the week he continued to supply the pulpit on Sundays. In 1923 he began supplying the college church in Selingrove, and early in 1924 was elected pastor. In the fall of 1924 he became Professor of Psychology, Ethics and Evidences of Christianity in the college, and Professor of Homiletics in the Theological Department.

Dr. Diehl is a member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity and is also a 32d degree Mason.

games won is totaled up, but when the fact that only three of the entire squad are old varsity men is taken into consideration, the work Coach Follmer has done in breaking in the new men to intercollegiate basketball is a credit to his good work and prospects look good for a fast five next year. The line-up for the Schuylkill game was as follows:

Susquehanna Schuylkill
Dunkelberger F. R. Loose
Dixon F. Albright
Spalde C. E. Loose
Emil G. Grim
Sleight G. Zidler

Field goals: Susquehanna—Dunkelberger 3, Spalde 1, Kurtz 1, Haney 1, Lahr 2; Schuylkill—R. Loose 7, Albright 2, Grim 1, Zidler 1, Stauffer 1. Ford 1, Bartley 1. Foul goals: Susquehanna—Dunkelberger 4, Dixon 4, Spalde 1, Sleight 1, Haney 2, Lahr 1; Schuylkill—R. Loose 5, Albright 2, E. Loose 3, Grim 1, Stauffer 2.

PROF. MOWLES ABLE

PHYS. ED. INSTRUCTOR

Alma Mater, Goddard Seminary, to serve as director of physical education and athletics. From New England in 1923 Prof. Mowles next accepted the position of director of physical education and head base ball coach at Milwaukee Country Day School, Milwaukee, Wis. The following summer, 1924, he was instructor of physical education and track at Marquette University Summer School for coaches. In 1924-25 he was in business in St. Louis and advisory coach at Washington University of that city. His own track ability is proven by the fact that in 1915-17 he was a member of the Boston Athletic Association, which is one of the best amateur clubs in the East. During the he served as an ambulance driver with the 3rd division, French Colonial Infantry, and was wounded and decorated. In 1921 he was a candidate for coach of the French Olympic track team, but refused to accept on account of finances. While track coach at Vermont he developed some of the best teams in the history of the school. Sheppard, crack half-miler; Smith, a miler; Chittler, the shot putter, and Dan Whetton, the hurdler, are some of his proteges of track fame. His base ball team at Milwaukee was the best in the history of the school. The experience Prof. Mowles has had with both Western and Eastern track teams is invaluable and Susquehanna is honored in getting a man of such wide knowledge in athletics to serve as head of the Physical Education Department.

seats for two years with the 5th F. A. First Division. Rose from the ranks to a commission. Attended the Army Service School at Chaumont, France, and was also connected with Divisional athletics after the Armistice.

In football he played tackle and end and was one of the best linemen in the Big Ten Conference. He played center on the Purdue basket ball team and in this sport he was also considered one of the stars of the Conference. He has played semi-professional and army base ball as well as college. He is a pitcher and outfielder.

At Susquehanna he will be head coach of foot ball, basket ball and base ball, and act as assistant in Physical Education.

He is 6 feet 2 inches tall, and weighs 190 pounds, is married and uses the Notre Dame foot ball system, which will be new on our campus. In basket ball he uses the Big Ten Conference style and big things are expected of him here. On the week-end of February 19 Morgan visited here and during his stay refereed the Selingrove vs. Northumberland High School game and the way he handled the game proves his athletic leadership. Purdue University offers no financial inducements to athletes and has a strict eligibility rule, which system is identical with the one in vogue at Susquehanna.

If possible Prof. Morgan will be here for spring practice and all foot ball candidates not occupied with other spring sports are expected to be out and become acquainted with the new system. Announcement of the date will be made later.

to hold services in. The kitchen is a house without walls. Just a roof and floor with a mud fence about three feet high around. It is also used as a school room. We are greatly in need of a church building because the kitchen is always crowded. On Sunday and Wednesday evenings we go to town and hold services in the public kitchen. This is a new building replacing one that blew down some time ago. It is the largest kitchen around here but is still too small, and most of the people stand outside. We have an interpreter for all these services as there is no Missionary or Christian worker here that can speak the Pele language fluently. We usually take picture charts along to illustrate the talk, as the people like to see the pictures. Rev. P. M. Countz, the Missionary in charge of this station, sent for a lantern and slides, and we think they will be a big help in teaching the people. It is hard to reach the old people because they are set in their ways, but we have not given them up entirely, and some of them are becoming interested in the Mission and help along whenever they can. There are also towns around here that the Mission workers visit every week and we have one man who goes out preaching every day. We often think of heathen people as being ignorant and they are in many things, but in others they show much intelligence. They can make many wonderful things with a knife or cutliss. I will write and tell you about them later; also some of their superstitions that I have heard of.

Here is a little outline of my day's work and play. Prayers at 6:30. We have a hymn, scripture reading, a ten minute talk and prayer. Breakfast at 7 o'clock, then till 9 o'clock I look after the work around the school. At 9 o'clock I go to town and stay until 11 o'clock. Dinner 11:30. Rest hour 12 to 1. Pele language class 1:30 to 4:15. Supper 4:30. Tennis three times a week, 5:15 to dark. Other nights we play croquet. Evenings we read a little and go to bed about 9 o'clock. I preach every other Sunday.

I have been kept pretty busy during the past week. We are having our house rethatched with branches from the bamboo tree. We bury them 200 for a shilling (or 24 cents). It will take about 40,000. I have been counting the thatch and paying the men every morning after breakfast. Then we have two men making a special kind of mat to be used as a ceiling for two of our rooms. They are making them right here and are getting paid by the day. It is made out of the bark of the bamboo tree. This tree has many uses along the building line. It is used for benches, beds, chairs, bridges, fences, rope, stands, baskets, arrows, hats, hammocks, and kinjias (something like a basket for carrying loads).

The climate is not as bad as we thought it would be. Of course we must be very careful what we eat, drink and do. We must always wear a helmet when we go out between the hours of 7 a. m. and 5 p. m. We take five grains of quinine every day to combat the fever. All our drinking water has to be filtered and boiled 15 minutes.

Dallas C. Baer, sem. '23, is preaching at Hughesville, Pa. The charge there is quite a large one for a man just graduated from the Seminary and Baer's success there speaks well of him.

DR. F. P. MANHART NAMED PATRON OF ANDHRA CHRISTIAN COLLEGE

Beloved Professor Honored by S. U. Which Has Taken Its Place Along With Other Schools in Being One of First Hundred to Pledge Support

In the project which is being launched for the establishment of the only Christian College in the Telugu Country in India, Susquehanna University has taken an active interest. She has undertaken to subscribe $1,000 for the Andhra Christian College, which will entitle her to be named as one of the first hundred patrons along with other schools that are subscribing funds for this movement. Dr. J. Roy Stock, a missionary in India, is at the present time in America soliciting funds for the establishment of this school.

Dr. Franklin Pierce Manhart, Dean of the School of Theology of Susquehanna University, who has been connected with that department for a number of years, was chosen as the patron of Andhra Christian College by the students of Susquehanna University. Dr. Manhart, a beloved professor, has taken an active and a keen interest in missions, and thus the students of Susquehanna felt it to be a privilege that they could bestow upon him this honor for the services he has rendered in the United Lutheran Church of America.

Andhra Christian College is to be a first class college for the young men of India. Upon being graduated from this institution they will receive the Bachelor's Degree. It will be an inter-denominational school, although one in which the Lutheran Church will have the largest obligations to meet. It is hoped that this school will bring the churches closer together, and that in this way Christianity may win more souls for Christ in India. The object of this movement is to raise $340,000—$120,000 of which the government of India expects to contribute. The goal toward which the colleges of America are striving is $300,000. The instructor of the school will be of the highest qualifications, either native or missionary, of a type such as Prof. Manhart, who was on the Susquehanna campus a number of weeks ago. Among the other Lutheran schools that have pledged to help raise the $300,000 are Gettysburg Seminary and also Gettysburg College, Muhlenberg College, Mount Airy Seminary, Hamma Divinity School and Maywood Seminary.

Dr. G. F. Dunkelberger New Faculty Member

Susquehanna Alumnus Who Will Receive His Ph.D. from New York University This Summer

At a recent meeting of the Susquehanna Board of Directors, Dr. George F. Dunkelberger, Instructor in Educational Sociology at New York University, was elected a member of the faculty of Susquehanna University. Dr. Dunkelberger will be associated with Dr. Woodruff in the Department of Education and Philosophy. Susquehanna is extremely fortunate in securing the services of Dr. Dunkelberger, a man of such wide experience and knowledge as is evident from the fact that he holds so high a position in New York University. On the other hand, we are very proud to acknowledge him as an alumnus of S. U. and, in view of this fact, to present him to the students and alumni of this school the following sketch of his career.

Dr. Dunkelberger as a young man taught in the rural schools of Snyder County, Pennsylvania, for seven years. He then entered Susquehanna University and was graduated with the A. B. degree in the class of 1908. In 1919 he received the A. M. degree from the University of Pittsburgh followed by

Susquehanna University has pledged $127 out of the $1,000 which she has subscribed. $40 has been pledged by the Seminary; $117 by the young men; $120 by the young women, and $150 by the faculty.

The students of Susquehanna feel that they have taken a forward step in the pledging of this $1,000 in support of Andhra Christian College. By so doing they have classed their alma mater among the leading Lutheran institutions of America. They have rightly honored Dr. Manhart, their esteemed and respected professor, by naming him patron of Andhra Christian College, because of his loyal and faithful work for the church both at home and abroad.

Bond & Key Head of Inter-Frat League

B. AND K. BASKETEERS DEFEAT THE PHI MU DELTA TO THE TUNE OF 24-18 IN A FAST GAME WHICH DECIDED THE LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP

On last Wednesday evening the Alumni gymnasium was filled to capacity with the largest gathering that has attended an intra-mural game this season.

The reason for the great interest shown, was the play-off between Phi Mu Delta and Bond and Key for the inter-fraternity basketball championship. Both teams came on the floor in their best form and "rarin' to go." The first four or five minutes were featured by extremely close guarding by both teams with the result that the score remained at zero until "Abe" Martin rolled a neat one over the rim for Phi Mu Delta. Then followed a foul by Bond and Key, and the play was fast and furious until the whistle announced the end of the first half, with the score standing 12-11 in favor of the Bond and Key basketeers.

A foul and a pretty long shot by Boltz in the first thirty seconds of the second period, brought loud response from the Bond and Key cheering section, while Martin retaliated with a field goal for Phi Mu. Triebels was in the limelight for the next few minutes; scoring a double foul followed by a short pass from Auten to Triebels, who dropped a swift ball over the rim. Young shot two fouls for B. and K.; Rice made a foul for Phi Mu and G. Young came back with a goal for the opposers. A foul by Gimme, followed by another by Martin rolled up two points for Phi Mu just before the whistle blew, making the final score 24-18 in favor of Bond and Key.

Line-up:
Phi Mu Delta Bond and Key
D. Young R. F. Boltz
Martin L. F. Triebels
Williams C. G. Young
Rice R. G. Gimme
Gimble L. G. Auten
Referee—Murphy, of Bucknell.

Miss Reeder Director Of Girls' Athletics

SHE IS A GRADUATE OF THE KELLOG SCHOOL OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION. WAS EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF CAMP FIRE WORK IN BUTTE, MONTANA

This brief sketch of the life of Miss Dorothy Welsh Reeder is incomplete owing to the fact that this personage failed to disclose the place and date of birth. But, that her reason may not be misinterpreted, let it be said that she believes that her age is already known on S. U.'s campus. However, regardless of whether she was born in '93 or '94, she was graduated at Williamsport High School in the class of 1921. She then entered Kellogg

School of Physical Education at Battle Creek, Michigan, and finished her course there in 1924. It was in the fall of the same year that Miss Reeder came to S. U. to become director of the Department of Physical Education for Women and as a student in the College Department from which she will receive her A. B. degree in June.

For two years now Miss Reeder has given unstintingly of her time to the development and success of this department of education to which she is devoting her life's interest. She has done her part both toward raising the course in Physical Education for girls to a level with that of larger schools and also toward giving it the place it should occupy in the curricula of S. U. It is her earnest desire as well as belief that in time strong girls' teams in the various sports will be sent out to meet those of other colleges and will return with laurels for their Alma Mater. We sincerely hope that the desire will be fulfilled.

Along with this particular phase of education Miss Reeder is personally concerned with Camp Fire work. During the summers of 1923 and 1924 she served as instructor in swimming and canoeing at Camp Keewano, Michigan. In the summer of 1925 she was Camp Fire executive and director of Camp Fire Camp at Butte, Montana. Unfortunately, in this work is taking this well-liked teacher and friend from us in the Spring and, although we are reluctant, to have her leave us, everybody in S. U. unites in wishing her the greatest success.

NINE NEW RECORDS WERE MADE IN SIXTH ANNUAL INDOOR TRACK MEET

Sophomores High Scorers in Boys' Meet with Seniors a Close Second. Class of '28 Also First in Girls' Events

The sixth annual indoor track meet was held in the Alumni gymnasium on Thursday evening of last week.

The class of 1928 demonstrated their athletic prowess and ability, by carrying off first honors in both the men's and girls' divisions of the dual meet.

In the men's meet the Sophomores led with 60 points; the Seniors were second with 45; the Freshmen third with 28.

The Sophomore girls captured 37 points against the 18 points of the Freshman lassies.

Six records were broken in the men's events while three new records were made out of the six events for women. Four new events were held. The fifteen yard high and the fifteen yard low hurdles, the three and the five yard dashes.

Two Juniors and 10 Senior girls did not enter teams in the meet.

The great total of points for the classes with both girls' and men's events were: Sophomores 97; Seniors 65; Freshmen 41.

"Gus" Sleight broke his previous record for the 210 yard dash by 1 second. "Gag" Morning succeeded in making 2 new records by: 6 seconds in the 880 yard run, and chinning the bar three more times. The Senior relay team broke their previous record by 9 seconds. Crouse the standing broad jump by 3 1/2 inches, and Ebberts the pole vault by 5 1/2 inches.

The Sophomores could not be outdone by the so-called stronger sex, succeeded in adding three new records. Mary Weimer broke two of her previous records by 2 1/2 inches in the high jump, and 5 inches in the rope jump. The relay team clipped off 2.2 seconds of the previous time of 41.3 seconds.

Debating Important Activity at S. U.

Girls Preparing to Meet Other Colleges. Teams Selected and Working Hard in Practice Debates

As college students who have been interested in athletics, but it has not been until recently that our efforts have been turned to any special development in the art of debate. Susquehanna has had reasons to be proud of her men's team. In fact, so encouraging have their efforts been that our coeds have caught the spirit, and are now working hard to prepare themselves for entrance to this intellectual field.

The results of the election which was held recently was as follows: Delsey Morris, Marion Pounder, Helen Veinst, Essex Botsford, Arline Fisher, Helen Weaver, Mary Gouler.

Although the girls were late in getting organized, interest is not waning. The teams have been working hard in practice debates, assisted by some of the members of the men's teams. These practice debates will be continued until late in April, when we hope to meet other colleges, thus establishing girls' debating at S. U.

Discussion Groups Held by Y. W. C. A.

The Question, "Why Do We Come to College?" Proved Interesting—Many Fine Points Brought Out

At Y. W. C. A. last Tuesday, the girls had a most interesting discussion on the question, "Why Did I Come to College?" After the usual opening services conducted by Sara Hassinger, the girls were divided into groups, one group consisting of the Freshmen and Sophomores, with Miss Hillard and Martha Erie in charge; another group of Juniors and Seniors with Marion Pounder and Sara Hassinger as leaders. In these the following questions were discussed:

1. A. What are we in college for?
1. To get a training for an already determined life work.

IS IT A SUCCESS?

When this school year ends, the coeds of Susquehanna will have had their first year of Student Government. Early in the fall Student Government was strongly advocated by the Y. W. C. A. organization. Our Y. W. representatives at Eagles Mere made profitable use of their time. They tried to help Susquehanna by introducing new ideas that have been of great aid at other colleges. One argument which would have been enough to make it clear that Susquehanna co-eds should have Student Government was the fact that in every progressive college of any standing Student Government has already been introduced and is working successfully. Thus, with the consent of our faculty, Student Government was organized in Selbert Hall. Miss Barbara DeRemer was elected the first president of the Student Council, and she has proved herself to be very efficient and capable. However, with only the kindly cooperation of our pre-centresses our form of Student Government would never have been as successful as it has been. Naturally great interest has been evinced in this venture, and such questions as "How is Student Government succeeding? Is it a failure or a success?" "Is there quiet in the dorm so that conditions are conducive to study?" We are proud to say that the coeds of Susquehanna can in most cases give favorable answers. Of course we can not say that there have been no flaws because that would have been something for which we could never have hoped. However, earnest and honest efforts have been put forth and we hope and know that in the years to come Student Government will advance and will prove itself even more successful.

EASTER

As the close of the Lenten season approaches, students turn their minds to happy reunion with their families and friends, and a great part of the world turns to their new spring flocks. In the rush of things, one should stop and ponder. What does Easter mean? What has the death of the Son of God done for me? What is Easter and what is its significance? Easter is the Christian spring festival commemorating the resurrection of the resurrection of Christ. In modern times, it is a memorial of the Christian passover from the old dispensation of the Moral Law to the New.

We need doubt no more that we shall not again live, because Christ was dead and lives forever. He put death to death and triumphed the mystery of the grave. His risen body certifies to us the glorious resurrection that awaits us; the reality of heaven and the place He has gone to prepare for us.

To all who are true followers of the Lord and Savior, Easter, of course, is one of the greatest, holiest days. The contrast with the long fast and emotions of the Lenten days adds to this effect. Its dawning is hailed with the ringing of the midnight bells and the singing of His praises that all men may know the truth and believe on Him—G. M. S.

SPORTSMANSHIP

Now that the track season is soon at hand the following article should be at least interesting to the track candidates. It is relating to the feats of Charlie Hoff, the "Vaulting Viking," who has been breaking world records in pole vaulting.

"Charles Hoff, who came from his home in Oslo, Norway, to show the folks in U. S. A. how high he can pole vault, and who's been doing it with a great deal of success, trotted out to try for a new record.

"Little Mr. Hoff" already had broken the world's indoor pole vaulting record by hurling his body over a bar 13 feet 2½ inches. In fact, for two weeks he'd been steadily breaking records. And he wasn't satisfied.

"All was ready for his attempt. He grasped the bamboo pole, dashed down to the uprights and flew upward. The fans literally held their breath. They expected him to succeed. He failed.

"And failed spectacularly. Not only did slender Mr. Hoff knock the bar from the upright, but he fell flat on his face. The breath was knocked from him. As he lay dazed officials hurried to his side. They lifted him to his feet and he staggered away."

That much of the story is worth reading. The rest is worth remembering.

"Courageous Mr. Hoff waited until his dizzy head had cleared and the breath was back in his lungs. Then he grasped that bamboo pole, took a look at the bar 13 feet 3 inches above the floor and dashed toward it. Again his body flew upward, his back arched like that of an angry cat, and over that bar he flew. When he landed he was holding a new world's record and the knowledge that no man had ever vaulted so high indoors before."

Write Charlie Hoff's name in the book of the fellows who never quit trying. An now, track-fellows, here's a challenge to you—Do you have the same "Hoff" spirit? Work hard, train hard, and let's have a glorious track season at Susquehanna. Remember, the coeds are all rooting for you.

DESERTION ON ROAST BEEF

Long, long years ago before any of the foremost thinkers of the time had thought of a college, let alone a college dining hall, there lived a poor man and his wife on the banks of the Susquehanna. These two Horatinda and Bitterinda lived happily with their cow Beefinda. Wild berries and Beefinda's milk were bartered for the necessities of life, and they gave no thought for the morrow.

One day a storm arose and the lightning struck Beefinda's shed, burning it to the ground. As the couple grieved over their loss, Horatinda leaned over and touched the form. Ouch!—his burnt fingers went to his mouth to cool. I'm, what? such a delicious flavor. He tried again, urging his wife to do the same. Then for lack of food they devoured with rapacity large portions of Beefinda.

Now they wondered where they would get their next meal as they had no more milk to trade. While they pondered thus, a traveler came desiring something to eat. Kind heartedly Bitterinda set before him the last delicate morsels of Beefinda.

To make a long story short, the stranger impressed by their hospitality and good eats bought them another cow. And spread the tidings of the new kind of savory meat.

As time passed the people who had come to get the finely roasted meat, decided to settle there. Then a town sprang up. Later a school opened in that vicinity.

Now in memory of this event the descendants serve quite frequently large quantities of that meat. That which is Beefinda but minus the "inda."

JUST AN S. U. COED

She was just an S. U. coed
And she lived in Selbert Hall
But she used the fire escape
Just to go to the Phi Beta Ball
Now she's washing someone's dishes
For her trunk she had already packed
And altho 't rex raved 'cause she mis-behaved Still she loves her Alma Mater—
So's your old man.

(Note. Parody on "She Was Just a Sailor's Sweetheart.")

THE RAVIN'

Once upon a midnight dreary, while he slumbered, weak and weary
Dreaming many a quaint and curious dream we can't recall

While we lay there, fastly sleeping, suddenly there came a creeping
As of someone gently creeping, creeping down the third floor hall.

"Tis some visitor," we muttered, walking down our third floor hall."
Only this—but that's not all.

Presently our hearts grew stronger,
hesitating no longer

We the door then boldly opened—took one look that made us roar
There we saw our midnight prowler, going out the "exit" door.

He was dressed in clothing sporty, and quite young, not over forty
Was we're sure his errand was to scare us—scare us

Only that and nothing more.

COEDS SATURDAY NIGHT

'Twas the night before Sunday and all through the dorm

Everything was peaceful, not minding the storm.

The doors were all locked with the greatest of care

To make sure that none of the boys would be there.

Mrs. Crawford in her kerchief and Miss Sloan in her cap

Had just settled down for a long night's nap:

When out of the darkness came a peal of a bell.

And into the halls ran the girls pell-mell.

Down the stairs ran a co-ed flying like a flash

And onto the floor fell her teeth with a crash.

The light in the hall was turned on with a snap,

Said the girls in room 45, "we don't give a rap."

When what to our wondering eyes should appear

But Helen in her nightgown and bare feet so dear.

With Johnnie Weimer, so lively and quick,

We knew in a moment that she'd do the trick.

More swiftly than Arby up the ladder she went

And jerked at the clock 'til her breath was well spent.

"Now dash it, and darn it, and darn it some more"

She pulled at the clock and fell flat on the floor.

From the top of the steps and cross the hall floor

Came "De" a-running and opened the door.

Like a safe-cracker, she ran to the bell

Pulled out the tack and said, "Let's yell"

At the boys who were unkind enough our sleep to disturb

Then hurried away on the wings of a bird."

And then with a bang she slammed the door shut

And said "If those boys saw me they'd think I'm a nut."

As we went up the steps and were talking it over

We wondered if it couldn't have been the old hall rover.

Who was dressed in brown pants, red

Among the Fraternities Conservatory Students Appear in Recital

Mu Sigma Gamma
On Wednesday evening the members of Mu Sigma Gamma Sorority and their honoraries were entertained at a St. Patrick's Party by their pledges.

At 8 o'clock the guests were conducted to the theory room of the conservatory which was decorated in green and white. In the room there were six tables. In the center of each was a vase containing green carnations, place cards and clever favors all expressive of St. Patrick's Day. The refreshments were delicious, to say the least, and even here the color scheme was carried out.

After this a few musical numbers were rendered and then various interesting games were played. Mrs. Ditzler won the prize for having the smallest vocabulary of slang.

But even the most enjoyable evening must end. The singing of the sorority song concluded the evening's entertainment and everyone left with the memory of a pleasant time made possible by the pledges.

Phi Beta Rho Fraternity

Snyder went away on a mysterious journey. We wonder where and why. Holding out on us.

Tressler made his weekly trip to Berrysburg, he also visited his home. The call of spring came to the house on Saturday evening and Wheeler got out his Chariot and took Fausold to some unknown parts. The boys said they were going "Out."

Reed and Murray were missing from the frat house over the week-end. But we know they were safe.

Nurni's only rival has stated that he intends to go out again this spring for the mile run. We all wish Louie speed. But he will have to stay away from Sunbury. Watch Louie.

Sands paid the boys a short visit on Friday and had lunch with them. It was the first we saw G. O. since his illness, but he did not stay long for he left immediately after lunch.

Saver went to see his folks and visit a friend in an adjoining town.

A certain fellow does not wish his name to appear in print but he has new wearing apparel and he intends to give the home town a treat when he goes home for Easter with his Collich clothes. Go get 'em boy!

Carlson and Leonard visited in Selingsgrove on Sunday evening.

Phi Mu Delta Fraternity

The Phi Mu Deltas are now resting, reclining—on leisure so to speak after their plunge into the depths of the dramatic world. "Look Who's Here" has become a thing of the past in regard to their audience, but for the boys themselves it has become a mania.

Williams (the intrepid Captain Dalton—man of all work) woke up in the middle of the night yelling at the top of his voice, "Let me introduce the Pickle King of America. My reputation is at stake, etc. Pickles, pickles, pickles." "Chip" Weaver, the hero promoter of the Knowet football game, is insisting on promoting the Sophomores to Junior standing. Not only that, but Mrs. Agatha Fidget Dill (Harry Rice) wife of the Pickle King, is constantly nagging "Abe" Martin (the Pickle King himself) in regard to his smoking too many cigarettes.

Landis (Little Dill for short) has become so enrapt in his part as a young girl that he has turned over the Susquehanna to the girls of S. U. for this week's issue. Henius (Professor Knowet) goes tramping about, reprimanding severely and charging the boys a certain number of cents for certain little slips of the tongue. He is trying to raise enough money to build a Pickle memorial at his old college of Orange and Banana fame.

The college boys—well?—you know what they are doing. The Spaniards have all taken to throwing the "ball." The Sailors are doing their best to live up to their reputation—"a wife in every port." As for the CO-EDS—they are turning their quiet hours into campusty dates.

Laying all jokes aside, the boys netted the tidy sum of seventy-five dollars for the benefit of the Stage Equipment Fund for the new Seibert Chapel Hall.

Miss Anna Brosius, accompanied by Prof. Raymond Klinedinst, attended a wedding over the week-end at Schuylkill Haven. (Note, not their own.)

Gave a Varied Music Program to an Appreciative Audience in Seibert Chapel Hall Last Night

The students of the Conservatory of Music gave their second evening recital of the year Monday evening.

The numbers were well received and showed evidences of much talent and preparation on the part of those who participated. The orchestra, under the able direction of Prof. Bailey, made its initial appearance and with its several numbers added much to the interesting program.

The program was as follows:

1—Orchestra—Waltz from "Dornroschen," Aschakowsky—The University Orchestra.

2—Piano—Gavotte—XIX Century, Jeffery—Miss Virginia Moody.

3—Song—In Questa Tomba, Beethoven—Mr. Clyde Ertel.

4—Organ—Meditation Serienne, Bartlett—Mr. Elrose Allison.

5—Violin—Night Song, Williams—Miss Mabel Kessler.

6—Song—Serenata, Toselli—Mr. William Roberts.

7—Piano—Prelude, Nearing—Miss Freida Dreese.

8—String Trio—Nocturne No. III, Liszt—Mr. Arnold Michaels, violinist; Miss Lois Brunkart, cellist; Miss Marjorie Phillips, pianist.

9—Song—"Like Melting Tones It Rises," Brahms—Miss Ethel Smith.

10—Piano—Concert Etude, Wright—Miss Geraldine Bond.

11—Organ—Grand Choeur, Rogers—Miss Grace Beckley.

12—Piano—The Butterfly, Lavalée—Miss Elizabeth Hauser.

13—Violin—Hindoo Chant, Rimsky, Korsakoff, Kreisler—Miss Margaret Schlimm.

14—Duet—"Oh that We Two Were Maying," Nevin—Misses Sara and Ruth Moody.

15—Orchestra—War March of the Priests, Mendelssohn—The University Orchestra.

A much heavier hitting team can be expected over last year's squad. The battery men are working hard to get their arms in condition and will be in good condition when the bell rings for the opening game with Schuylkill on the 17th of April.

The team and Coach Clemens are

At present he is a student at New York University and will complete the requirements for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy this summer.

Concerning Dr. Dunkelberger's experience as a teacher: he was Supervising Principal of the Public Schools, Newport, Pennsylvania, for four years (1908-1912); he held a position of similar rank in Swatara Township, Dauphin County, Pennsylvania, for four years (1912-1916). He then became a member of the faculty of Southwestern State Normal School, California, Pennsylvania, and remained there for five years (1916-1921). For three years of this time he was an instructor in Education; for the remaining two years he was Director of the Training School and Assistant Principal. From 1921 until 1925 he was Professor of Education and Dean of College, Waynesburg College, Waynesburg, Pennsylvania. He has been a member of the Pennsylvania State Educational Association since 1908, of the National Educational Association since 1917, and of the National Society for the Scientific Study of Education since 1919. In 1914 he was president of the Department of Rural Education in Pennsylvania. Dr. Dunkelberger will come to us directly from New York University next fall and we have no doubt but that he will prove to be a man of great ability and achievement in doing his part for the Greater Susquehanna.

their home in New Kensington, Penna.

RESPECT IN CHAPEL

There has been a tendency on the part of some of us to use the chapel period as a time to carry on conversation and to do our studying. It is the duty of each student to remember there is plenty of time other than chapel time in which to talk and laugh. The religious training is essential to our education so is it not possible for us to observe reverently this fifteen minutes of devotion?

Due respect should be given during announcements, to the reading of the Bible, to the Prayer, and to the Hymn. Be courteous! Be respectful!
Be reverent! Help to place chapel service on a higher plane and thus have a better Susquehanna.

SUSQUEHANNA TO LAUNCH BIG DRIVE FOR FUNDS IN OCTOBER

Preparations Being Laid to Raise Six Hundred and Twenty-Five Thousand Dollars. Alumni and Students Are Asked to Co-operate

For those in close connection with Susquehanna University it is a well known fact that she is in great need of a modern library and an increased endowment to care for her ever increasing student body.

It had been previously arranged to carry on separate drives for the endowment and library funds, but recently at a joint meeting of the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association and the Executive Committee of the Board of Directors of S. U. it was arranged to combine the drives and set a total of $625,000 as the necessary goal to reach.

Thus, if the drive is successful, we will have $125,000 for a library building, $100,000 for the liquidation of present building debts, and $400,000 added to our endowment.

Altho no solicitation will be asked until about next October, at Commencement this year the proposition will be presented to the Alumni, and we sincerely hope that a great many will arrange to be present.

Tuesday of Commencement week has been set aside for this purpose, and it is to be desired that there will be no conflicting activities that day, or at least not until nine o'clock that evening, when the fraternities or sororities may have arranged something.

Alumni vs. Varsity To Be Attraction

COMMENCEMENT DAY BALL GAME TO BE TURNED OVER TO THE ALUMNI. OLD TIMERS URGED TO PLACE STRONG TEAM ON THE FIELD

Fear ye, Old Timers. What say to an Alumni-Varsity baseball game on Tuesday of Commencement week, June 8. Of course you will all be here and the final week will not be complete without an athletic event. The old major league by-word that a has-been can't make a comeback will be put to the test. So unearth the old ball glove and get the salary wing in shape.

From all indications you are due for some stiff opposition, as the Varsity looks good under Coach Clemens' expert tutelage, and regardless of the final score, the game should be replete with thrills from start to finish.

Let's get some sort of a squad ready before the day of the contest, so talk it up and let everybody get in for the battle.

Speakers Announced For Commencement

Martha Larson Valedictorian and Arlene Hoyt Salutatorian. Other Speakers Eleanor Birk and Lee Boyer

The honor students among the graduating class and incidentally the speakers at the commencement exercises were announced by Dr. Alkens in chapel Monday morning.

Martha Larson is valedictorian. After her come Arlene Hoyt, Eleanor Birk and Lee Boyer in the order named. Again as in many previous years the girls have been in the lead. Certainly co-education is a success at Susquehanna. The work of many of our girls is a stimulus to the men upon the campus and causes them to put forth their best efforts.

The honor students are to be congratulated for the fine work that they have done thruout the year and well deserve the honor and distinction that is theirs.

Absent minded dentist, tinkering inside the hood of his Ford, "Now I'm afraid this is going to hurt you quite a little."

When we consider that the success of this drive means that Susquehanna will be placed on the standard list of colleges as established by the Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges of the Middle States and Maryland, surely no Alumni, Undergraduate, or former student will be guilty of not co-operating.

Let us now begin to lay plans how we might interest someone to contribute, and during vacation talk it up and help put this thing over—and remember—we must be successful.

LISTEN ALUMNI, STUDENTS. IT'S UP TO YOU.

Rev. Thomas Spoke To the Theologs

FIELD SECRETARY OF FOREIGN MISSION BOARD VISITED S. U. GAVE ILLUSTRATED LECTURE, SHOWING PLACE WHERE REV. DAVID DAGLE IS LOCATED

Susquehanna University enjoyed a unique privilege in having on the campus last Wednesday one who has had experience in India as a missionary, and who is now representing the Foreign Mission Board as field secretary, the Rev. E. M. Thomas. In the afternoon Rev. Thomas spoke to the Theological students, and in the evening he gave an illustrated lecture pertaining to the foreign mission fields.

The whole East is in a state of flux. China at this time is awakening. Japan and India are in a state of unrest. The people seem no longer to believe in God as they formerly did, but their belief is now superseded by a spirit of rationalism.

India is being very greatly affected by the agitation for home rule. Mr. Gandhi is at the head of this movement, and even tho he is not a Christian all of his policies are of a Christian nature. Politically India is in a state of fermentation.

In spite of the prevailing conditions the work of Christianity has increased. Even tho the whole agitation has been opposed to Christianity, yet Christianity seems to be walking away with everything. Today the Guntur Rajamundry Synod is second to only

Committee of Woman's Missionary Society Met

Administrative Committee of Woman's Missionary Society of the Susquehanna Synod In Seibert Hall Apr. 10

The administrative Committee of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Susquehanna Synod of Central Pennsylvania held its annual meeting in Seibert Hall parlors on Saturday, April 10.

Sessions were held in the forenoon and afternoon.

The officers of this body are: President, Mrs. George E. Fisher, Selinsgrove; recording secretary, Mrs. J. R. Miller, Milheim; treasurer, Miss Martha Dimm, Selinsgrove; statistical secretary, Miss Ollie Woodward, Nook.

The conference presidents are: North Branch Conference, Miss Lillian Reimunsnyder, Sunbury; West Branch Conference, Mrs. C. M. Swartz, Williamsport; Northern Conference, Mrs. C. H. Stein, Lock Haven; Juniata Conference, Mrs. R. K. McDonald, State College.

Mrs. C. H. Bergstreser and Mrs. J. Frank Dougherty, of Hazleton, and Mrs. H. W. Miller, of Williamsport, were also in attendance.

Mrs. T. W. Kretschmann, of Selinsgrove, was a guest at the meeting.

The fall convention of the Susquehanna Synodical Society will be held at Hazleton October 13, 14 and 15.

Dr. Kern Is Friend To The Students

PROFESSOR OF GREEK AND GERMAN KNOWS EVERY STUDENT BY NAME. WAS BORN AND EDUCATED IN GERMANY. IS TEACHER MINISTER AND DOCTOR

One who is a descendant from old Lutheran stock is Dr. Hans Augustus Fredericus Kern, professor of Greek and German in Susquehanna University. He was born in 1879 in Neuenburg, Bavaria, where most of his male ancestors had been engaged in the Lutheran ministry since 1620.

He entered the Latin school in 1888, advanced in his work and graduated from the Gymnasium of Ansbach nine years later, having completed courses similar to those of a High School and a College. On account of superior work while studying in Ansbach, he was awarded the State prize for Geography and History, which fact encouraged him to undertake a long trip on foot thru Switzerland and Italy in order to visit the many remains of antiquity that are to be found there. He made many subsequent visits to Switzerland and traveled extensively over the continent in conjunction with his father, giving both instrumental and vocal concerts.

Returning from his travels thru Italy, he entered the University of Erlangen, Bavaria, and enrolled as a student of medicine and theology. During his career in the University he spent a semester at the University of Tuebingen and also some time in the University of Munich. He spent five summer vacations in assisting the Bureau of Ancient Discoveries in the excavations of Ager Romanis in southern Germany, mentioned in Julius Caesar. There he had unearthed many Roman homes and graves and valuable archaeological collections were sent to the national German museum.

In 1899 he took up work as instructor of languages in the Missionary Seminary in Neuenhaus and while engaged there prepared at the same time for the ministry and finished his work in medicine. This he did by carrying a schedule of 42 semester hours

Dr. Woodruff Spoke To Y. M. and Y. W.

DELIVERED VERY INSPIRING ADDRESS TO JOINT MEETING THURSDAY EVENING. HOPE CHRIST UP AS PERFECT MAKES LOYALTY FROM US

Mr. Holger Henius presided over Y. M. and Y. W. meeting, held Thursday evening. A solo was rendered by Mr. Robert Baird, which was very pleasing. Dr. Woodruff delivered the address of the evening, a forceful and interesting manner. "We are living in an age when mental and physical achievement is possible. In this wonderful world which we live there are many beautiful things. Yet, should man be he would never enjoy all this beauty. It is, indeed, delightful to associate with one whose mind runs along kindred lines and actions. There are some students who go thru life missing it all. Such lives are sordid and dead."

"We have the grand, old figures of Socrates, standing out with a simplicity and majesty. The breath of Plato and all his tremendous intellectual powers, comes to us thru the ages. And when we think of Demosthenes, as he stood before great senates of Greece—and see them trembled before his great personality. And there were Vergil and Cicero; the former gave us beautiful thoughts, the latter made the Roman quiver with his eloquence."

"Indeed there is a tremendous interest in human beings, if we understand them at all. Men of unfaithful energy ruled the world in ages past just as men of energy rule it today."

BASE BALL TEAM TO OPEN WITH SCHUYLKILL SATURDAY

Coach Clemens Has Been Drilling Men Hard for the Opening Game: Veterans and Newcomers Showing Up Well

The Central and Maroon teams are fast rounding into shape for the opening game next Saturday with Schuylkill College. The Reading lads will have a strong aggregation as usual, and the same should show the ability of the men on both squads. Coach Clemens has had the men out every day, and altho the weather has been rather cold for ideal baseball, yet the candidates are showing good form to date.

Capt. Bollig, Rice, Gehnet, Kurtz, Baird and Hauey are showing up well with their previous varsity experience and no doubt will be depended upon for good work this season.

Class of 88 Seniors Graduate in June

ONE OF LARGEST CLASSES IN HISTORY OF THE INSTITUTION WILL RECEIVE DIPLOMAS COMMENCEMENT WEEK, PROGRAM BEING COMPLETED NOW

Susquehanna is proud of the fact that in about seven weeks one of the largest classes in her history will graduate from this institution and take its place in the world.

Every year Susquehanna's list of graduates has been increasing and this growth is proof of her steady rise and recognition. The class of 1926, eighty-eight strong, is anxiously waiting and ready to step into the new tasks that await them and to bring new honor to the Alma Mater. The names of the graduates are as follows:

School of Theology
Edgar Burnell Hanks, Eugene Smith Keller, Joseph Earl Law, Lynn Oliver Ramey, Bruce Russell Shaffer, William M. Schwartz.

COLLEGE DEPARTMENT
Bachelor of Arts—Classical Course
Ethel Miriam Peters, George Oliver Sands, Luther Motz Weaver, Jr.

Course in Education
Eugene Taylor Adams, Floyd Larue Adams, Harold Luther Bollig, Lee Emerson Boyer, Lucinda Jan Broughton, Joseph William Burnell, George Johnston Carl, Robert C. H. H. H. H.

The new team, Martin, Root, Emil Livingstone Dubovecky, Leonard, Thomas, Lahe, Shilling, and several others should prove a help to a successful season. Let's have everybody out next Saturday for the opening game and with the best of support from the bleachers, the players will have all the necessary incentive to do their best on the field. So be there!

It will be remembered that the team under Coach Clemens defeated the Schuylkill nine last year, after a close game. Susquehanna backers are confident that the Crusader nine is going to repeat the same process.

There is no doubt but that the Orange and Maroon team will miss the superior hurling of Max Clark and Newt Hanner, both of whom were lost by graduation. The new men however, are showing up well and should with the proper support pitch for a winning team.

Yelngst—"Say, how shall we decorate this table?"

Yelngst—"Who ever saw a bow-legged table?"

Junior Prom Will be Held May Day Night

ANNUAL JUNIOR SOCIAL EVENT WILL BE STAGED ON THE EVENING OF MAY 1st. PLANS ARE RAPIDLY NEARING COMPLETION FOR THE PARTY

The time is rapidly approaching for one of the greatest events of the Spring, the Junior Prom, which will be held May 1st.

This day has also been selected for May Day and the Juniors are holding the Prom as a culmination of the day's events. It will be held in the Gymnasium.

As this is but the second year of the existence of this social event on Susquehanna's campus it is still in somewhat of an experimental stage. It is necessary to have the support of the students in order that it be established permanently, as is the case in practically every other college in Pennsylvania.

The Juniors earnestly solicit the cooperation of the student body. They assure everyone of a good time, peppy music, beautiful decorations and—well come and see for yourself.

Each Susquehanna student is invited to bring his friends and his home folks if he so desires. The Juniors are showing excellent spirit in providing this for us. Let's get behind them and make it a success.

Miss Young, Teacher of Voice, Has Resigned

Accepted Position in Texas. Vacancy Has Been Filled by Securing Prof. Roberts, of Ashland

It is with much regret that The Susquehanna notes the resignation of Mary Lavinia Young from the teaching personnel of the Conservatory of Music. She has accepted a position in southern Texas. We hope that her successes will prove as great in her new position as they were here.

To fill the vacancy we welcome to our midst Professor Roberts. He comes to us very well recommended. He is the possessor of that rare combination of qualities—a tenor voice and a charming personality. Success to you Professor Roberts.

Our young friend the shiek, just because he wears a sealskin coat, thinks he ought to have a flapper on each side.

BENCHES

Horses, Horses, Horses. Ever heard that song? Well, if you didn't here is one you probably have heard. It is "Benches, Benches, Benches." Daddy Horton evidently heard the cry of the students and felt the call of the spring weather, for he had them placed on the campus. To add Arbogast isn't here to instruct the class in company. In spite of difficulties Carl Campus seems to be getting in his cuts etc., consistently. We expect keen competition to be furnished by Bolander however.

There has been much comment regarding the subject, "How the benches should have been placed." Some contend that those who placed them had either no artistic taste or a poor sense of proportion. Science Hall and the Theology building have been neglected. Altogether, altho this fact seems to please Mrs. Crawford.

It has been suggested by Marlin Eiders that the seats should have been upholstered for this year's course, but Daddy Horton claims that people require a hard wood finish in order to succeed. It has also been suggested that the degree of Bachelor of Fine Arts should be given upon the completion of this course, but who ever heard of anyone with this fine art receiving a bachelor?

As Prof. Sheldon remarked when he saw them, "Well, the Coeducational era is beginning."

SEMINARY NOTES

Keller '26 supplied at Muncersville. Law '26 preached at Axis.
Ramer '26 hiked to his home at Millroy.

Shaffer '26 supplied at Trevorton. Schwartz '26 preached at his regular charge at Kratzville.
Beahm '27 visited at his home over the weekend.

Beard '27 B. S. supplied at Millville. Derr '27 left for his home on Saturday.

Harmon '27 A. M. B. S. supplied at New Berlin.

Istor Kepner '27 supplied at Kiefer.

Knoebel '27 made an extended visit to Kulpmont.

Leshner '27 revised the constitution of the Vatican, and wrote an epistle to Dubois.

ALUMNI

H. J. Rothmel, of the class of '23, has been re-elected as supervising principal of the Tredyfin School District, at Berwyn, Pa., for a period of two years at a salary of $4,250 and $4,350 respectively.

Harry Will, ex-'26, who is attending the Chicago Y. M. C. A. School, has been awarded a rescue medal and service bar by the American Red Cross in recognition of a rescue he performed last summer. He was swimming instructor at the camp of the Harrisburg Girl Scouts at Pine Grove Furnace. He heard the cries of two men who had fallen into a pool at the bottom of an abandoned ore pit, leaped into the pool and rescued them. The medals were presented to his parents, who reside in York, Pa.

James Goss, sen. '24, is preaching at West Milton. Rev. Goss is very well liked by his congregation and people of the community.

Bob Bastian, '21, entered Jefferson Medical School after graduation from his Alma Mater. With his usual ability he successfully completed the medical course and graduated about one year ago. However, the strain of eight years in college and medical school took its toll and "Doc," after having entered his duties as an intern in a hospital in Philadelphia was stricken down with tuberculosis. "Doc" heeded the warning that he received, and at once entered DeWitt's Camp at Allentown, Pa., where he has been a patient for the past six or eight months. We are happy to report that at present he is almost entirely cured of the disease. Why not have some of his friends write to him?

William Bowser, '25, is teaching and coaching at Hanover, Pa. He is very popular with his squads, and is accomplishing much.

PAINTINGS

On our souls we each paint a picture. And our bodies for each a mesh. Each heart is the palate of Nature. With shades that are deep and lush.

We have but a day for our painting. And the subjects are easy to find. But some men keep forever debating As to whether their work is undersigned.

And some men deny a right model. And some paint the sketch of a snat; Here some man disfigures his panel. Some fit from a church to a cat.

But each paints his life in this picture. Each touch of his brush sets his goal. Each blend that he makes takes his measure. Each moment he rests blanks his soul.

Then to each comes that empty palette. And the brush that must fall at last. While the picture remains as a tablet—A full record of every man's past.

And each painting must come from its loven. And each hangs from a separate nail. And some gleam bright in the Heaven. While others are sombre and pale.

Some will have only a border. And some will be etched in the rough. But each shall be hung in its order—And some shall be hung high enough.

So that God as He smiles o'er our tombstones May gaze in His gallery, the sky, And cast down rude sketches, or half-tones; And lift up the works that are high.

DR. WOODRUFF SPOKE TO Y. M. AND Y. W.

If Germany could have kept all her old scholars, she never would have been the cause of the last great catastrophe. Men of this type are so numerous that we could spend a whole night in naming them. They stand forth in the pages of history, as men who wanted to see the world move onward.

"Here, on this continent, we have Poe with his mystery and charm; Emerson, who could hold the world spell-bound with his speaking; Washington Irving, who had such delectable humor and correct style. George Washington, 'the Father of our Country,' lived and died for American freedom. Abraham Lincoln made our country respected before all the nations of the world. Theodore Roosevelt, who turned against his own party, because he thought he was doing the right. President Wilson, no matter what men say of him, was a great man.

At last, we come to the greatest of Jesus, the Nazarene. He was the without fault—the perfect man, the greatest logician of today have faulty logic; Jesus' logic was not blemish. He was the world's best speaker. Everywhere he went, multitude followed Him. Beside sea, on the mountain top, and in valley, Orator, Philosopher, Logician and Poet, all these was Christ. And we are—cheap, soddy stuff, if we do not appreciate Him. If he had followed His cardinal virtue there never would have been a war.

War. The most wonderful of it was His; the greatest mind of the most profound judgment of His. You know, as well as I that a mere man could not have a life like He did. Truly, He is the Son of God. I am holding the up to you, as an example; and of you, one thing—loyalty to Christ.

one, the Pennsylvania Ministerium, in the United Lutheran Church.

In the face of this growth and confidence, what have Americans done in India, China or Japan? The Foreign Board has been compelled to cut the support to the foreign field 15 per cent. With this decrease of funds India does not see how she will be able to get along. The work will be handicapped tremendously. With this new growth and development of Christianity in India, the Church should not put on such a front. But also the Church for the future will be handicapped, for on account of a lack of funds now some boys will have to be turned away from the missions, and the result will be that when it comes time for this group of boys to be graduated and go out into the work themselves a smaller number will be prepared.

If every church would pay its opposition the situation would not be so critical. But this is impossible, hence it is necessary to increase the funds for special, as for instance the supporting of students or proteges. The revenue must be increased. Money is needed to support those who are giving their lives in this great work.

The illustrated lecture in the evening was very interesting and inspiring. Rev. Thomas by means of the stereopticon took the students for a trip thru South America, Africa, China, Japan and India, showing and telling of those things which are of most importance in the foreign mission fields. Several views of Sanochie were shown, which were of vital interest to Susquehanna students because it is at this mission that Rev. and Mrs. David D. Dazle are stationed.

Track Candidates Are Working Hard

PENN RELAYS ARE INDUCING
NUMEROUS CANDIDATES
TO FIGHT FOR POSITIONS ON TEAM.
PROSPECTS FOR COMING SEASON BRIGHT

Track candidates are beginning to get their "work outs" on the outdoor track. Field men as well as the runners are getting into condition for the future meets. Our relay team will in all probability be the fastest that has ever represented S. U. Foggiano, Slegle, Adams, Swank, Ebberth, Emel, Smith and Morning are the most likely appearing candidates for the relay team.

Couch Moxles expects Slegle to come thru better than ever. Ebberth is gradually raising his pole vaulting ability. Danbospeck will try to break his last year's record in the javelin. Besides these men there are quite a few out who have not had the opportunity to prove their ability as yet. Fisher seems to be a comer.

Having had clear weather during the past week, much progress has been made. The track has been put in shape by Manner Wagner and his cohorts, the Frosh. With two weeks remaining before the time of the Penn relays the S. U. track relay team should round into shape and will make a good showing.

The Ox Woman

On an East Indian farm, where the crop is tea, a wooden plow turns up the rich black soil. A woman drives, another woman pulls—and a black ox pulls beside her.

Six hours under a tropical sun, a bowl of cold rice—and six hours more. Then the woman goes to her bed of rushes, and the beast to his mud stall. Tomorrow will be the same.

The American home has many conveniences. But many American women often work as hard as their Oriental sisters. They toil at the washtub, they carry water, they churn by hand—all tasks which electricity can do for them at small cost, in half the time.

The labor-saving possibilities of electricity are constantly becoming more widely recognized. And the social significance of the release of the American woman from physical drudgery, through the increasing use of electricity in and about the home, will appeal instantly to every college man and woman.

The electric light, the electric iron, the vacuum cleaner—the use of electricity on the farm for pumping water, for milking, and for the cream separator—are helping to make life happier. General Electric research and engineering have aided in making these conveniences possible.

A new series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request. Ask for booklet GEK-18.

DR. KERN IS FRIEND TO THE STUDENTS

per week. While there he was director of the choir. Dr. Manhart, who was traveling thru Germany at that time was in an audience for which he sang a solo at one of the religious services.

After a brief trip thru the central part of Africa, Rev. Kern embarked for America and arrived in New York City March 21, 1902. From there he traveled to Dubuque, Iowa, where he met for the first time, Dr. Sadtler, who was at that time Professor of English in Wartburg Seminary. From there he set out as a traveling missionary to Kansas and Colorado to organize congregations. This gave him a wonderful opportunity to travel thruout some of the Western States. He gathered the immigrants, especially those from Russia, into congregations, and acted as an agent for the government to help along the homesteaders and newcomers.

After he had been in this country for about ten years, his robust health broke down and he contracted typhoid pneumonia. After a siege of four months' duration he resumed some of his work, but found that he was not able to keep in the strenuous work of the West, so he accepted a call to Turner's Falls, Mass., where, as was the case in the West, he soon began to teach as a substitute in the High School. He was called in 1914 to be the president and only teacher of Emanuel Seminary, which school was forced to close its doors because of the World War as all of its students left for service. He was awarded the degree of D.D. by the board of directors of this school.

During the World War he served his adopted country faithfully and received citations of appreciation for patriotic work in the Liberty Loan drives.

Soon after the close of the war Dr. Kern left for New York City to enter upon social work for the National Lutheran Council. Having finished his work there he was called to Weidner College, Ind., where he served as professor and registrar.

In 1921 Dr. Kern came to Susquehanna and is now Professor of Greek and German. He also teaches Freshman and Sophomore Bible and instructs in Liturgies in the Theological Seminary.

In addition to the regular classes Dr. Kern has been conducting extension classes in various places in the Social Sciences. His work in Massachusetts and New York City make him peculiarly well qualified to teach such broadening subjects.

On November 2, 1908, he wedded Miss Rosa A. Hochgrader, of Lake Benton, Minn. Their children, of which four are going to the public schools, are Gerhard, Traugott, Helen, Erick and Heidi. Dr. Kern is a member of the Masonic Order in Massachusetts. He teaches a Sunday school class in the Trinity Lutheran Church of Selingsgrove.

Dr. Kern's aim is to be not only an instructor, but a friend as well and he certainly has a great many warm friends among the student body as well as among the faculty and the people of the town.

He is an honorary member of the Bond and Key Club, but visits all the fraternities from time to time, especially those that conduct mid-week prayer meetings.

Dr. Kern is a world traveler, he is an excellent instructor and is an artist and a musician of no mean ability. He is respected and well liked by every member of the student body, for in addition to his other qualities, he is a real friend and is ever ready to be of service. Having as he does quite a thorough knowledge of medicine, he has been able to raise the general health on the campus.

Phi Mu Delta

The Phi Mu Delta entertained at its annual spring reception last Friday evening.

At 8 o'clock the party got under way under the pleasant chaperonage of Miss Sloan. The Happy Hour Five Orchestra from Bucknell University furnished music for the dancing, which lasted with a half-hour intermission until 11:45.

The fraternity home was tastefully decorated and tasty refreshments were served. The party was said to be one of the best and most enjoyable held at the chapter house this year.

VARSITY NINE LOST CLOSELY FOUGHT GAME TO SCHUYLKILL

Game Tie at 3-3 Since Sixth Inning. Schuylkill Got Run in Tenth and Won Game. Team Played Well. Thomas, Pitcher, Had 12 Strike-Outs

Coach Clemens' nine dropped their opening fray with Schuylkill College on the local field last Saturday with a score of 3-3, and the contest going ten innings. The weather was ideal for football providing time was taken out occasionally for the players to thaw out. Even with the inclemency of the weather, the game was close from start to finish as the score indicates. Being the opening game for the Orange and Maroon it was more or less an experiment to prove how the new men stand up under collegiate baseball, which is quite different from high and prep school competition.

Norton Thomas did the hurling for S. U. and collected a total of twelve strike outs, for which he is to be complimented. His ability promises even better work in real baseball weather. Both teams batted out seven hits apiece, Susquehanna drawing first blood with singles by Baird and Rice in the second episode, which counted for two runs in that frame. Martin's run in the sixth inning completed the locals score of three runs. The pitching of Thomas was superb and without the five errors by his team-mates the same would have been on ice for Capt. Bill's team. The Reading Collegians played well, without an error, and were only scored on by the timely hits for which their moundman, Yezzer, was nipped. Radcliff, the cleanup man for Schuylkill, had three binges, McDonald two, one of which was a three bagger. They were the star batsmen for the visitors. Martin and Bolig each collected two hits from the opposing pitcher, while Kurtz, Baird and

Rice each had one, making up the locals' total hits. The score, inning by inning, was as follows:

First inning: Schuylkill—Zeigler singles to right, Grant sacrifices to second, White strikes out, Radcliff singled to right, Zeigler out at home.

S. U.—Martin flies to third, Bolig out, Yezzer to McDonald, Roof flies to center.

Second inning: Schuylkill—McDonald flies to Kurtz, Clemens strikes out, Knorr strikes out.

S. U.—Kurtz walks, steals second, Grace hits sacrifice fly to right, Baird doubles, scoring Kurtz, Rice singles, scoring Baird, Gelmett strikes out, Thomas put out by first baseman unassisted.

Third inning: Schuylkill—Ford out, Rice to Roof, Yezzer beat out Rice's throw to Roof; Zeigler strikes out, Grant beat out Bolig's throw to Roof, White singled to right, scoring Yezzer, Radcliff singles, scoring Grant and White, McDonald flies out to Kurtz.

S. U.—Martin out at first; Bolig out, short to first; Roof out, third to first.

Dr Diehl Addressed Y.M.C.A. Last Week

PASTOR OF TRINITY LUTHERAN CHURCH AND PROFESSOR OF HOMILETICS, ETHICS AND PSYCHOLOGY GAVE HELPFUL TALK UPON RELIGION

Dr. Diehl, Professor of Homiletics, spoke to Y. M. on Tuesday evening. He considered the various aspects of religion, and how they affected the modern man.

"What are some of the essentials that characterize the Religion of the typical man of today? First, it must lift him into the regions above—up to the ideal. A simple definition of Religion follows: Religion is that power, which enables a man to adjust himself, intelligently, to his environment. Does not man live in an environment of the Spirit, just as surely as that of the material. The Spiritual Religion is as close to man, as anything in the physical environment, could be.

"In this age we look on the surface of too many things. The physical seems to concern us more than the soul; the surface more than the depth. Wouldn't it be better if we looked at the essence of the thing more than the form. If a man does not see the essence of Religion, he is a Materialist, regardless of whether he knows it or not. Is his Religion making him stronger, surer, more noble? And, if it is doing all this, it is vindicating itself.

CAMPUSTRY AGAIN

Due to the ever increasing student body and thus applications for places on Campusstry, the most popular course at Susquehanna (which lately has received a setback from the resignation of head professor Arbogast), it has been deemed necessary to appoint a committee on Admissions and Credits for this course. There has, after much consideration, a committee been appointed which will take care of the persons who desire to take this course. All that is necessary is to have the ability of Greg Morning along with other qualifications, which will be mentioned in the application blanks. Anyone desiring further information call 40-4, and ask for Ann Norwat, the chairman of the committee. This is also a requirement for belonging to the select fifty, that is to learn where the phone is that goes by 40-4.

Dr. Kretschmann Well Liked Professor

SUCCESSOR OF THE LATE DR. FOCHT IS A VERY EFFICIENT TEACHER AND LEADER AMONG THE MEMBERS OF THE THEOLOGICAL DEPARTMENT

Susquehanna is indeed very fortunate to have on her seminary faculty one who is so experienced in religious and educational matters and one who has done much for the United Lutheran Church in America. Altho Dr. Kretschmann has been here but two years, Susquehanna already has been influenced wonderfully by his morals, clean living, wonderful mentality and high ideals of our beloved Dr. Kretschmann.

Dr. Kretschmann was born in Philadelphia in 1868, of parents both of whom came from Germany. He was prepared for entrance into the University of Pennsylvania by Miss Emma A. Kahler, sister of Dr. F. A. Kahler, the pastor of St. Michael's Lutheran Church, Germantown, a woman of unusual ability. In 1888 he graduated with the degree of A. B., taking first honors and was a commencement speaker; elected a member of Phi Beta Kappa. In 1891 he received the degrees of A. M. and B. D., and was a graduate student under Professors Dr. H. V. Hilprecht, Dr. Morris Jastrow, and Dr. John Peters. Being offered the Assyrian fellowship at the University he declined to devote himself to church work. In 1892 he received the degree Doctor of Philosophy. For several years he was a special Hebrew student under the late Prof. Wm. R. Harper, then of Chicago University.

In 1891 he graduated from the Philadelphia Theological Seminary at Mt. Airy, and was ordained by the Pennsylvania Ministerium. He then became pastor of Christ Church, Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia, serving until 1898, during which time, beginning in 1892, he was instructor of Hebrew in the Philadelphia Seminary. From 1898 to 1905 he was the pastor of the Church of the Atonement, Buffalo, N. Y., where he was also instrumental in opening and founding a mission in South Buffalo, which has since become the flourishing congregation of Grace Church. In 1905 he returned to Philadelphia.

COMBINED MUSICAL CLUBS WILL PRESENT OPERA TUESDAY, MAY 11

Comedy in Three Acts by Robert Planquette "The Bells of Corneville," Will be Staged in Seibert Chapel Hall by Excellent Cast

The Chord and Operatic Societies under the direction of Professor Sheldon, working earnestly to present to the public as well as to the student body the opera by Robert Planquette, entitled "The Bells of Corneville," a comedy in three acts. The opera will be given on Tuesday, May 11th.

This program promises to be one of the biggest features of the entertainments held this year at Susquehanna and the very able characters are putting forth all their efforts to make it the grandest success.

The opera takes its setting from one of the old fashioned Norman villages of the seventeenth century, recalling to our vision such interesting characters as the Marquis and Marchioness, as well as presenting quaint peasants.

Henri, Marquis of Corneville, who has been an exile since childhood on account of a civil war, returns to his ancestral home on the occasion of a great annual fair, which is celebrated in the village that receives its name from his chateau.

Junior Prom to Be Gala Affair

SECOND ANNUAL PARTY MAY DAY EVENING PROMISES TO BE ONE OF THE OUTSTANDING FEATURES OF THE SEASON AT SUSQUEHANNA

The members of the Junior class are planning to make the Junior Prom one of the most prominent social features of the year. The date has been set for May 1st, the evening of May Day, and a large number of Alumni, as well as other visitors will be on the campus and will also attend the Prom.

The Ramblers have been engaged to furnish music for the evening and those who do not care to dance will find enjoyment at the card tables.

This is only the second year that a Junior Prom has been held at Susquehanna, and the Juniors must make it a grand success so that it will become an established custom. Tickets can be secured from the following Juniors: Anne Geating, Doris Erick, Marjorie Ponder, Martha Eitel, Helen Vesting, Wm. Brubaker, Franklin Stover, Martin Pointz and Wm. Bonney. It is being conducted on a little different system than last year and the Junior class asks the co-operation of the whole student body as well as the Alumni. A report on the sale of tickets should be made at an early date so that the class can make preparations for the exact number that will attend.

WORLD FELLOWSHIP CLUB HELD INTERESTING MEETING

Sunday afternoon the World Fellowship Club held a very interesting meeting. Quite a number were present owing to the pleasant weather conditions, which seemed to induce some of the students to enjoy the spring atmosphere.

Gladys Staub gave a summary of the year's study of Latin America. Her talk presented many things which were of interest to those present as students of Christian life throughout the other parts of the world.

A business meeting was then held, at which time the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Paul Lucas; vice president, Zeida Hausa; recording secretary and treasurer, Gladys Staub; corresponding secretary, Magdalene Grubert.

The organization has done one thing of note during the past year, which has been the raising of money in support

In the last act the curtain rises on an assembly in which Gaspard, an old miser, wishes to marry his niece, Germaine, to the principal Marxist of the district, Bailly. Germaine takes advantage of the privileges of the fair, and becomes the servant of the Marquis.

The second act deals with the supernatural visitors, who have made the castle of Corneville an object of much secret dread. Much humor is added by the ghostly frights and confusions.

The third act represents a grand fête given in honor of the return of Henri, to his ancestral home. Serpolette arrives as the lost Marchioness. The miser, however, recovers his reason and shows that Germaine is the true Marchioness and heiress. A love duet between her and Henri, and this reconciliation of all parties bring the romantic story to a close.

The characters are: Serpolette, the good-for-nothing, Helen Haines; Germaine, the lost Marchioness, Margaret Kelsor; peasant girls, Gertrude Jeanne, Nanette, Suzanne—Ethel Smith, Sara Moody, Helen and Florence Brosius, respectively; Henri, Marquis, Joseph Popeano; Jean Grencheux, a fisherman, William Roberts; Gaspard, an old miser, Holger Henius; Bailly, the principal Marxist, Eugene Keller; Registrar, Jacob Kroen, and Notary, Samuel Frost.

Every person can well anticipate a delightful evening. Don't fail to see "The Bells of Corneville."

Program for May Day Being Arranged

MAY QUEEN WILL BE CROWNED AMIDST CELEBRATION THAT PROMISES TO BE THE MOST SPECTACULAR EVER HELD AT SUSQUEHANNA

The month of May with her host of flowers and delights will be formally ushered in by the students of Susquehanna University with the coronation of the May Queen on Saturday afternoon, May 1.

Miss Arlene Hoyt will be the Queen of May with Miss Mary Reigler as her maid-in-waiting.

The program will commence at 1 o'clock with the procession and coronation on the college campus. A pageant, "The Wayside Paper," and the May pole dance will be features of the program. With music, songs and dances.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will have refreshments on sale and the Seibert Hall girls will have their best home-made candy to tempt the throngs.

The festival is being given under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. Students are urged to lend their assistance and help make this the biggest celebration ever held here for the coming in of May. The Junior Prom in the evening will be a strong climax to the day.

Plans are rapidly being completed so that all that will be necessary to bring things to a successful conclusion will be the best kind of weather.

Miss Margaret Keiser Will Give Recital

Senior in Conservatory of Music Will Give Song and Piano Recital in Seibert Chapel Hall Monday, April 26

Miss Margaret Keiser of the Seneca class will give a song and piano recital in Seibert Chapel Hall Monday evening, April 26th, 8:15 o'clock. All which are invited. She will be assisted by Misses Beckwith, Hoffmann, Brungart, Phillips, and Mr. Arnold Michaels.

University Orchestra To Present Program

MUSICAL ORGANIZATION HAS BEEN REHEARSING THROUGHT THE YEAR AND WILL BE PREPARED TO RENDER THEIR PROGRAM ON TUESDAY, MAY 18

The Susquehanna University Orchestra will present its program in Seibert Chapel Hall Tuesday, May 18.

The orchestra, under the direction of Professor Bailey, has been rehearsing consistently and is preparing an unusually interesting program that is sure to please the music lovers who attend.

The annual home concert has always attracted a large audience from among the students and the people of the town. The program will be of the same high quality as in previous years and the orchestra this year places a strong bid for patronage.

It is important that as few other meetings as possible interfere with the time of rehearsals which are held every Thursday evening at 6:30 p. m. The orchestra asks the cooperation of the various organizations on the campus in keeping that time open.

Intrepid Janitor Pursues Lost Fuses

Somebody Hooked 'Em from Selinsgrove Hall, and Fearless Young Janitor Sniped Them Back

Something slipped somewhere last Thursday night, and dwellers in Haskins Hall got an idea of what pandemonium, the palace of Satan is like. Someone began to pound radiators somewhere in the dorm, and the contagion spread. Things began to happen everywhere. Garbage cans rolled like avalanches down the steps. Revolvers were shot. Dynamite caps and torpedoes went off. And then some one blew the fuses.

Whereupon two bold bandits stole

INFORMATION BUREAU

A new information bureau has been opened in room 2 of Selingsgrove Hall, under the very capable direction of one of the worthy wearers of the little green cap. It is already prepared to supply a great amount of information to the general public. One very pleasing feature of the service is that it is entirely free, as the secretary enjoys his work and is willing to serve the greatest good of the greatest number without any financial remuneration, whatever.

To date the bureau has specialized upon telephone calls and is best prepared to answer questions concerning matters that have been discussed by the telephone shleeks and their Seibert Hall Shebas. He knows especially, all the "campus" hours. Some little information can be secured concerning the business of the administration, but as a rule the secretary finds such matters of little interest and even the great love he bears for his work can not prevent him from neglecting the calls that come from the office.

It is rumored that another bureau, which is similar to this one, but independent of it, is operating also. In this one, however, the information thus obtained is not given out except to a few favored persons.

Such a bureau evidently fills a decided need upon Susquehanna's campus. Considering the fact that its secretary receives no pay for his work, it seems not more than fair that everyone who calls up the girls' dorm, should pause in the midst of his conversation and say, "Hello Dunk."

Frosh Decided to Resume Their Dinks

Or Rather Upperclassmen Decided for Them. Brilliant Party Held in Their Honor Last Night Well Attended

The proper observance of Freshmen customs is being insisted upon once more after several months of extremely lax enforcement on the part of the Student Council and of many flagrant violations on the part of the Frosh boys.

There are at present, but four remaining rules to trouble the minds of the first year men. These pertain to the wearing of dinks, smoking, walking upon the grass, and work upon the athletic fields. It is the opinion of the upperclassmen that if the new men can not observe these rules, there is either something radically wrong with them or else the enforcement system is to blame. Most upperclassmen agree that the class of '29 is like all others in that they will attempt to "get away" with everything they can. They further agree that the enforcement system has not been strict enough. At a meeting held at the suggestion of Prof. Mowles on Friday, the members of the three upper classes decided that the rules would be enforced and there is every reason now to believe that they will.

The Freshmen who attended the party held in their honor last evening are probably much better Freshmen than they have been for some time past. They should realize that it will be to their advantage to "behave" for the remainder of the year.

Susquehanna Staff to Be Elected April 29

NEW STAFF WILL THEN BE CHOSEN TO PUBLISH "THE SUSQUEHANNA" UNTIL MAY, 1927. RE-IRING STAFF TO STAGE SOCIAL EVENT

The new Susquehanna staff will be elected on Thursday morning, April 29, after the chapel exercises. At that time all of the officers of the Susquehanna Publishing Association and the members of the staff with the exception of the Editor-in-Chief and the Business Manager, will be selected for the work of manager and publishing the weekly news sheet for the next school year. They will assume their duties with the issue of May.

The editor and business manager will be chosen by a selective committee which is composed of the outgoing editor as chairman, the business manager, the chairman of the faculty committee on publications and one representative from each fraternity, one from each sorority, one from the non-fraternity group and one from the non-sorority group. This selection will take place on the same day but at some time in the afternoon.

Nominations will be posted for the following offices one week prior to the election: President, vice president, secretary, two inspectors, athletic editor and alumni editor.

The offices on the staff that will be filled upon a competitive basis are the following: News editor, managing editor, advertising manager, circulation manager and four reporters and four assistants on the business staff.

Taking into consideration, both the quality and quantity of the work done in the past year the following have proved themselves to be the most efficient and deserve the consideration of the student body: Mary Farling and Gregory Morning among the present Sophomore class, and Paul Hoover, Marvin Schlegel, Glays Stauh, Blanche Stauffer and Lee Leonard among the Freshmen.

At present there is no organized system by which the student body can be informed of the amount of work which has been done by each member of the staff. As this issue is the next to last one published by the present staff, it is possible to sum up the activities of the various associate editors and reporters, and to state which are the best qualified to carry on the work.

According to present plans the retiring staff will have some kind of a party during the latter part of April. All the officers of the association, and the members of the staff of the girls' edition are included in the group who will be eligible to attend.

Special Services at Trinity Church

CHURCH AND SUNDAY SCHOOL ROOM HAVE BEEN REMODELED AND IMPROVED. NEW ORGAN HAS BEEN INSTALLED. RECEPTION WEDNESDAY

Very beautiful and impressive services were held in the college church during the Sunday services and will continue during the coming week, celebrating the reconstruction and installation of a pipe organ in the church. New Sunday school rooms have been added, a new choir loft

The Mill Pond

THE BAT!

Oh while I sleep in the dead of night
A chill creeps o'er my very frame
And I wake with a terrible feeling
Of fright
That something is peering through my pane,
I turn as if my limbs were chained
My lips seem frozen, my throat seems fat,
As there I see in my window framed
The horrible silhouette of a bat.

Oh while I sleep in the dead of night
I wake with a horrible feeling of fear,
While a hollow laugh, inhuman quite
And, flashing wings, come oh so near,
Till I scream in a voice unknown to me, Thou demon! Away! Away! What's that?

But the echoes just change to a minor key,
And the halls seem to whisper the Bat! The Bat!

Oh while I sleep in the dead of night,
While thunder and lightning battle
o'er head,
Then that frightsome creature again
comes forth,
And his spirit frightens me from my bed.

At my window I see by the lightning's flare
A form just out of the devil's vat
Two motionless eyes that glare and glare
From the ghastly head of a monster bat.

Oh while I sleep in the dead of the night
I wake while sparks crackle loud in my hair
And I know without lifting my eyes to the light

That some terrible creature is waiting there,
Painted against the amber moon
He beats with his wings a rap! Tap!
Tap!
And as I lay there about to swoon
My lips frame the words, "The Bat!
The Bat!" —L. L.

'TIS SPRING

Oh come away, come away,
Do not tarry, don't delay.
All your burdens leave behind,
Come, some gladness you will find,
For every cloud with silver's lined.
Oh come away—just this day.

Oh come away, come away,
"Do not hesitate," I say.
Leave behind you all your care,
Come, and breathe the soft spring
air
That is floating everywhere.
Oh come away—this glad day.
Oh come away, come away,
"Neath the sought's gleaming ray,
Watch the spring burst from its tomb,
Come, and smell the sweet perfume,
As the flowers start to bloom.
Oh come away—this spring day.

Rev. Beck Instructor Inter-Sorority Party In Theological Sem. Was Brilliant Affair

PASTOR OF FIRST LUTHERAN CHURCH OF SELINGROVE, PA., IS ONE OF THE TEACHERS IN THE S. U. THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

All are well acquainted with the person who is doing so much for the seminary student and who is a loyal friend of every Susquehanna student. Rev. Beck has been with us but a few years, but in that short time he has won the esteem and friendship of the students of Susquehanna.

Rev. Walter C. Beck, pastor of the First Evangelical Lutheran Church, after having been graduated from the High School in Anfelburg, Pa., which was the first class to graduate from that school, and in which he was the only male student in a class of five, he entered a shoe factory and learned the trade from beginning to end.

He entered Muhlenberg College in 1898, graduating in 1902. In 1905 he graduated from the seminary at Mt. Airy. During his student days he organized a Mission church at East Philadelphia now known as the Church of the Advocate, and had charge of that work until the fall of 1904. Rev. Beck served pastorates at Warren, Pa., Evans City, and has since been in Selingrove since January 1, 1922. During the years 1920-21 he was a professor in the Evans City High School, while he was pastor there. While a member of the Pittsburgh Synod Rev. Beck served on all the important committees of both the synod and the conference to which he belonged.

During the World War he was one of Warren county's foremost public speakers. Under the present pastorate a new, commodious Sunday school building has been erected.

Rev. Beck is one of the instructors of Homiletics, succeeding the beloved Dr. Focht. It is so natural for Rev. Beck to be interested in the young especially the college students, is a familiar figure on the college campus. During the last two years, due to his active interest in the debating team the teams have profited wonderfully from his suggestions.

Rev. Beck has been an active athlete during his time, having played the major sports and still at fifty can play a fairly good game of tennis. Rev. Beck is a lover of the out-of-doors and follows the field and stream when time permits. He has won his place in the lives of the students at S. U. and his life has been an example for many to follow. He has done a great deal for his students and they in return are his sincere friends.

First Class League Game Played Thurs.

SENIORS LEAD BY A 9-2 SCORE IN FOURTH INNING WHEN GAME HAD TO BE CALLED ON ACCOUNT OF DARKNESS. SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED

The first game of the class league was played Thursday. Just the reverse of Joshua of old, the Theologians prayed that the sun might move faster, that they might not be smitten by their enemies, the Seniors. And being true Theologians, their prayer was answered. With the score 9-2 against the Seniors, the game was called in the fourth inning on account of darkness. The batteries were Derr and Neudorff for the Theologians, and Elberts and Dubovsky for the Seniors. Michael Kurtz umpired.

The schedule follows:
1-Apr. 15, Theologians vs. Seniors.
2-Apr. 19, Juniors vs. Frosh.
3-Apr. 20, Seniors vs. Sophs.
4-Apr. 22, Theologians vs. Juniors.
5-Apr. 25, Seniors vs. Frosh.
6-Apr. 27, Theologians vs. Sophs.
7-Apr. 27, Seniors vs. Juniors.
8-Apr. 28, Theologians vs. Frosh.
9-Apr. 28, Juniors vs. Sophs.
10-Apr. 29, Frosh vs. Sophs.
Games 6, 8, and 9 will be played at 3:30, the rest at 6:15. They are to be five innings each.

GYMNASIUM TOOK ON ASPECT OF A MODERN HOTEL LOBBY. FURNITURE WAS ARRANGED TO GIVE THIS IMPRESSION AND EACH HAD TO REGISTER

The annual Inter-Sorority Party was given in the Alumni Gymnasium Friday evening, April 16.

The gym has assumed many festive garbs during the course of its social career, but never before has she been made to appear as the lobby of a modern hotel. The girls arranged their furniture in the corners and sides of the room. Palms helped to create a refreshing atmosphere. Fortunately they were the only fresh things present. They helped to hide the dumbbells and Indian clubs that always give the decorators a great deal of trouble. Many lamps produced a pleasant lighting effect and a register in which each couple was requested to register, emphasized the last detail of the scheme. A large spotlight illuminated the lobby of Hotel Susquehanna.

The Pennsylvania Ramblers supplied peppy music. Who could help imagining they were enjoying the atmosphere of a city hotel in the crowded metropolis of Selingrove.

If we can judge from the lively appearance of the girls, they certainly were in the pink as well as the green, yellow and other colors of condition. The young men tuxedos were the last note in effect and everybody had a good time. And thus has begun the usual round of Spring activities.

Varsity and Reserve Nines Played Game

Teams Put Into Action for the First Time Wednesday. Varsity Outplayed Scrubs and Won a 7 Inning Game

Last Wednesday the 13th, the varsity and scrubs played their first practice game, the varsity winning, 7-4 in seven innings. The most important result of the game was that Lee Leonard, in left field, broke his ankle sliding into second in the first inning, putting him out for the season. His injury leaves only three regular outfielders, Kurtz, Gehnett and Groce.

The varsity outbatted the scrubs, 6-5. Of the varsity, Groce and Rice had two safeties each, and Roof and Derr one. For the scrubs, Haney had two bingles, Cameron fiddled well in left. Don Young did well at short, with only one error out of two chances.

The batteries were:
Varsity—Derr, Schilling and Bachman.
Scrubs—Thomas, Baird and Lahr.

INTREPID JANITOR PURSUES LOST FUSES

softly to Selingrove Hall and borrowed four of the fuses from that building. Noting the lack of illumination, the fearless janitor of the place sallied forth with his portcullis and retrieved his property from the robbers. As soon as he had retired with in his walls, someone again attacked and carried off all the fuses as his booty. However, the noble defender was not to be denied and with the aid of some burnt-out fuses from Hassinger Hall and a few pennies, light was obtained for at least some portions of the dormitory, but Hassinger Hall was left in benighted darkness.

An investigating committee was unable to find any one who had engaged in the night's work, but as a result the Freshmen rules are to be re-enforced.

"We once thought that by taking a pebble out of the mud, we were doing our duty. We cannot try to save our own lives, and let the rest of the world go to the devil.

"And then, reason and faith are never antagonistic. Faith, indeed, will always carry a man farther. Religion should, also, be a reasonable thing. The Church teaches this and you must believe it. Simplicity should go with Religion; many things belong to just the fringe of it. I think Religion ought to bind men together. Yet, how often has it separated them, torn them apart, made an impassable gulf between.

"Religion must be an optimistic thing. I don't mean that kind that takes things as they come—never wishes to become better, but the kind that takes everything and carefully considers them. Christ was an optimist—why not try to be like Him?"

became the pastor of St. Stephen's Church of West Philadelphia, where in 1912 he led the people in the erection of a fine Gothic structure. In this pastorate he also served as president of the Philadelphia English Conference of the Pennsylvania Ministerium.
In 1919 he was called by the Pacific
Synod to the professorship of the Old Testament in the Pacific Seminary, Seattle, Washington, where he taught not only Hebrew and the Old Testament, but also Dogmatics, Liturgics, Homiletics, and other necessary branches until 1924, when he returned to the east, accepting the call to the Theological Department of Susquehanna University, as the successor of the late Dr. Focht. He now teaches besides Hebrew and the Old Testament, Apologetics, Catechetics and Pastoral Theology.

In Seattle he was one of the founders of the Washington School of Religion, an independent school, affiliated with the University of Washington, largely for the benefit of University students—becoming the first dean of the school. He has written two local histories and has been a frequent contributor to the Church's publications. He served on various committees in Synods and in the general bodies of the Church; was a member of the Examining Committee of the New York Ministerium, the New York and New England Synod, the Pennsylvania
Ministerium and the Pacific Synod;
a member of the Board of Directors of the Mt. Airy Seminary, and the first chairman of the Necrology Committee of the United Lutheran Church.
He is a member at large of Pi Gamma Mu, National Social Science Honor Society.

In 1894 he married Margaret Graham Finley, of Chestnut Hill, Phila.
Of their five children, two are living:
Philip Miller, who is instructor in Philosophy in Princeton University, and Herbert Finley, news editor of the "Seattle Star."

From such facts as have been given concerning the life of Dr. Kretschmann we can easily see that his has been a life of serving his fellow men for the glory of God. Altho many may never have the honor of studying under so wonderful a teacher, we learn from those who are thus privileged that Dr. Kretschmann is a splendid teacher, a true friend and one who is looking after the interests of old S. U.

HOW TO GET ALONG WITH YOUR ROOMMATE

By a Co-Ed.

1. Keep her shade and kind of powder, no matter what kind you use.
2. Always have on hand her size hose.
3. Get up late and flunk your quiz rather than let your alarm wake her.
4. The next morning get up at 4
a. m. when her alarm rings, although you do not have a class until 10.
Make coffee for her while she studies.
5. Pack away all your photographs and the snapshots stuck in the mirror, so that she may have full room for her display.
6. Always be dressed to run to an other floor for a book she loaned.
7. Be a good listener, i. e., always be glad to hear what a wonderful man "Ed" is; what a good time she had where she went to school last year; how much better they do things back home, etc.
8. Always insist upon doing the cleaning so that she may conserve her energy for her intellectual pursuits.
9. Do her shopping on a rainy and cold day.
10. Always take her phone calls, even if you have to get out of the tub to do it, but tell her not to bother, if you get any.
11. Run down and wait for the mail while it is being read, rush hers to her at top-speed and hand her the paper knife, insist that she lie on the bed you just made and eat the candy you got yesterday, while she reads.
12. Always have several delightful foreign looking letters on hand in case she doesn't get any mail, so that she may be spared all disappointment and fits of rage.
13. Next year, if you don't graduate,
get a single room.

ALUMNI ORGANIZING TO HAVE LIBRARY BUILT ON CAMPUS

Plans Being Formulated to Raise Necessary Money When Drive Starts in October. Commencement Week to See a Big Alumni Parade

The Alumni of Susquehanna University have responded to the call of their Alma Mater and are organizing for the purpose of raising sufficient money to build the proposed "Alumni Library."

This was decided at a recent meeting of an alumni committee and plans are rapidly taking form that will result in the realization of the desired six hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars soon after the drive begins in October.

The site of the proposed library building has not been decided definitely. It is quite likely, however, that it will be erected between Science and Hassinger Halls. There are a few who are in favor of purchasing property across the street from the campus on the side of the home of Dr. Fisher.

Present plans call for the breaking of ground in the near future.

The Alumni will have a huge parade

as one of the features of "Alumni Tuesday" of Commencement week.

The alumni parade has not been a large one since 1916. It is the intention of many of the alumni to make this one a real one, and it is hoped that every graduate and former student will return if at all possible and cooperate to make it a success.

Different groups and classes are expected to arrange for floats and almost every class will be represented in some way, in the parade which will take some time in the afternoon, probably just before or just after the baseball game between the alumni and the varsity teams.

Rev. John B. Kuisely, who is handling some of the plans for "Alumni Tuesday," asks that every Alumnus of Susquehanna return and put his "shoulder to the wheel" and push. Any suggestions sent in to the committee in charge will be welcomed.

Professor Bailey Violin Instructor

A GRADUATE OF DANA MUSICAL INSTITUTE OF WARREN, OHIO. TEACHER OF VIOLIN AND CONDUCTOR OF THE UNIVERSITY ORCHESTRA

Kenneth M. Bailey, who at the age of 23, now enjoys the distinction of being the Professor of Violin in the Susquehanna University Conservatory of Music, was born in Alliance, Ohio, August 9, 1902, of parents who were musicians of no mean ability. His mother plays the violin well and gave him his first lesson. His father was quite skillful upon the trumpet and he has a brother who is a good musician also.

Upon the wishes of his parents he began the study of the piano at the age of ten and continued in his work on that instrument for about three years. When 15 he started to take lessons from his mother upon the violin and accomplished much in one year of her instruction. This period of training was followed by two years of study under several other teachers during the latter part of his high school course.

The summer after his graduation from high school he entered the summer session of the Dana Musical Institute in Warren, Ohio. His rapid advancement in the knowledge and technique of the violin encouraged him to continue his work there and he graduated in violin and theory in 1921 and received the degree of Bachelor of Music. During his fourth year at Dana Mr. Bailey was concert master of the Symphony Orchestra and the String Orchestra. He also conducted these organizations on several programs. At the same time he appeared in quite a few concerts and recitals and was Concert Master of the Alliance Symphony Orchestra also.

The fall after his graduation Professor Bailey began his duties as teacher of violin and conductor of orchestras in the Birmingham, Alabama, public schools. He was there but two weeks when his ability was recognized and he was elected for the same position in the City Night school system. The orchestra which he had among the night school students gave him a total of five which were under his immediate direction.

Professor Bailey's success at Birmingham have been repeated at Susquehanna, where he is engaged as Teacher of Violin and Conductor of the University Orchestra. He teaches Freshman dictation also as well as 'cello, viola and piano. One interesting feature of his work is the method

JUNIATA AND SCHUYLKILL DEFEATED IN DIAMOND CONTESTS LAST WEEK

Thomas Pitched Superb Ball in Both Games. Rice's Hit Scores Winning Run in Juniata Game. Nine Runs In First Inning at Schuylkill

Coach Clements' nine came thru with two victories over the week-end. Juniata being set back by a 7-6 score on Thursday and Schuylkill trounced 13-5 at Reading on Friday. The score at Reading averages completely the victory of Schuylkill here the opening game of the season. With the ideal baseball weather coming on and the local team finding their batting and fielding eye accordingly, prospects look good for a successful season. The Juniata game found Thomas on the mound for the Orange and Maroon and as in the previous week his looks had their effect of scattering the few hits allowed the visitors. Baird and Livingston each had two hits during the fray and both are hitting well, as was proven by the Schuylkill game. Livingston is especially to be congratulated on his playing, being his Freshman year and making the Varsity nine. Rice, Roof, Kurtz and Groce each had one bing in the fray and while it looked as tho the team would lose the game to be called yet provided it was with us and in the ninth inning Rice's hit and baseball strategy secured the winning runs, breaking up the game with none out, 7-6.

Schlusser was the moundsman for Juniata and allowed only two hits. He was supported at the bat by Weimer and Latschaw, who each had two hits. The victory over Juniata we should be especially proud of, due to the fact that Juniata defeated Bucknell the day following the game here.

The game lining by lining follows: 1st Inning: Juniata—Weller put out at first unassisted. McClain flied out to Groce. Weimer retired to right. Mansberger struck out. S. U.—Bollig strikes out. Rice out, second to first. Roof flies to center.

2nd Inning: Juniata—Thrush out, Concluded on Page 3.

May Day Will be a Big Day at S. U.

CROWNING OF THE MAY QUEEN TO BE ATTENDED BY AN INTERESTING PROGRAM, TRACK MEET FOLLOWS CORONATION. PROM IN EVENING

May 1st is not far away and everyone seems to have something about which to whisper. What is it? One may ask. Why, the students of Susquehanna will welcome May with all her glory on Saturday afternoon on the campus at 1 o'clock with fitting festivities.

The procession will be headed by the Lord Chancellor, Holger Henius. He will be followed by the May Queen, Alene Hoyt, who will be crowned by the Prime Minister, Clyde Ertel. In the procession will also be seen Mary Reigler, as Lady-in-Waiting, Paul Bishop and Thomas Dixon as Court Jesters and the grade children of the Selinsgrove schools, the last who will give the May Pole dance.

After the coronation there will be a song, "Sunrise," by a chorus from the Conservatory of Music. This will be followed by a pageant, "The Wayside Piper." The cast of the pageant is as follows: The Piper, Naomi Poel; Faith, Elma Johnson; Hope, Vesta Seelinger; Love, Anne Geatling; Spirit of Service, Martha Larson; Counselor from the Workshops, Essex Botsford; Counselor from the Fields, Sara Hassinger; Counselor from the Campus, Ethel Weikert, and the Spirit of the Twentieth Century, Mary Royter.

The program will close with songs by the chorus. Sandwiches, coffee, ice cream and cake will be on sale under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary. The proceeds will sell their tempting homemade candies.

Track Team to Meet Drexel Here Sat.

DUAL MEET WILL TAKE PLACE HERE AS WELL AS SNYDER COUNTY INTERSCHOOLASTIC TRACK MEET. THE ORDER OF EVENTS AND THE TIME GIVEN

An intercollegiate dual track meet between Drexel and Susquehanna as well as the Snyder County Intercollegiate track meet will take place upon the Susquehanna University Athletic Field at 2 p. m. on Saturday, May 1st, immediately after the May Day program.

The two meets will be run together as one in order to conserve time. The team managers are requested to follow. Concluded on Page 3.

Junior Prom to be Formal Affair

REPORT THAT IT WOULD BE INFORMAL HAD NO AUTHORITY AND IS INCORRECT. ALL ALUMNI AND FRIENDS OF SUSQUEHANNA ARE INVITED

The class of '27 are fast completing their plans for the Junior Prom, which will be held Saturday evening in the Alumni Gymnasium.

The statement was made some time ago that the Prom would be informal. This statement had no authority and was incorrect. The Juniors never heard of an informal Prom and they believe that no one else did either. Altho it is quite likely that some will not come in formal attire, as was the case last year, it is the wish of the majority of the students that the Prom be a real event.

Formal dress always adds distinction to any social event. The Proms of other colleges are formal. Do we not want our college up to the standard in this as well as in other things? However, the Junior class wants you all to come, formally or informally attired, as it pleases you.

Seniors Defeated Sophomore Team

SENIORS AND FRESHMEN NOW AT THE LEAD OF THE INTER-CLASS LEAGUE EACH WITH ONE WIN AND NO LOSSES. EBBERTS AND AUTEN RIVAL PITCHERS

Of the three games scheduled in the class league last week, only one was played. On Tuesday the Seniors defeated the Sophs 2-1. Ebberts and Stuenkel scored unearned runs, and so did Auten for the second year men. Each side got a hit, Haney a two-bagger and "Zitz" Streamer a single. The batteries were Auten and Rarick for the Sophomores, and Ebberts and Dubovecky for the Seniors. Ocker, of '26, would undoubtedly have starred at third, but fortunately did not get a chance. Rarick held up Johnny Auten very well, only letting in two of the graduating class's runs.

Of the other two games, the Juniors forfeited to the Frosh, and the Theologs-Juniors game was postponed. '27 is having difficulty in organizing a team, owing to the fact that there are not enough men in the class. The standing of the teams follow:

	W	L	Pct.
Frosh	1	0	1.000
Seniors	1	0	1.000
Theologs	0	0	.000
Juniors	0	1	.000
Sophs.	0	1	.000

Reception Held by Trinity Church

COLLEGE CHURCH HELD RECEPTION FOR STUDENTS ON WEDNESDAY EVENING. REV. WOLF OF BLOOMSBURG, SPOKE BEFORE LARGE AUDIENCE

Last Wednesday evening the students of Susquehanna were the guests of the Trinity Lutheran Church, in connection with the re-dedication services. There were a large number of the students who came and enjoyed the hospitality of the church.

Preceding the reception proper, Rev. Wolf, of Bloomsburg, gave a very interesting and spiritual talk, which was enjoyed by all.

After the devotional exercises, all retired to the Sunday school rooms, where refreshments were served. A very interesting and entertaining program followed. The program was made up of a violin solo, a reading, a duet, and an interesting reading, Holger Henius imitating Abie.

Those who attended had a very fine time and enjoyed the treatment of the people of the church.

Special services were held every night but Saturday; Friday night there being preparatory services and communion on Sunday.

Girls' Debating Team Met the Ursinus Club

NEGATIVE MET URSINUS AFFIRMATIVE AT SELINSGROVE. THE OTHER TEAM DEBATED AT COLLEGEVILLE. WERE FIRST DEBATES FOR GIRLS OF SEASON

The first intercollegiate debates of the girls' team were held Thursday evening, April 22 between Susquehanna and Ursinus. Our negative team opposed the affirmative team of Ursinus here, while the Susquehanna affirmative team journeyed to Collegeville, where they met the negative contenders of that place.

Altho the decisions were given to the opposing teams we must not judge the merits of our own teams by that result. Inasmuch as this was the initial appearance of a Susquehanna girls' debating team and considering the fact that the opponents had a great deal of experience, our team is to be commended highly for their splendid work. The main speeches were good and the deliveries excellent. The rebuttals seemed to be the weak part of the debates.

With added experience the girls will certainly be able to take and maintain their proper place among the girls' debating teams of the country.

Trackmen Compete At Penn Relays

SUSQUEHANNA'S RELAY TEAM MAKES GOOD SHOWING AT PENN RELAY CARNIVAL. MANHATTAN WON IN FAST TIME OF 3 MIN. AND 29 25 SECONDS

Last Saturday saw Susquehanna's track men in their first intercollegiate competition of the year. At the University of Pennsylvania's thirty-second annual relay carnival our one mile relay team, comprising Peopole, Morning, Swank and Capt. Seigle, competed against representative teams from Franklin and Marshall, Gallaudet, Manhattan, Geneva, Juniata, Bethany, and Blue Ridge.

The race was won by Manhattan in the exceptionally fast time of 3:29.25. Altho Susquehanna failed to place in the event she finished ahead of three others, and if the classification had been made on a fair basis we would of had a good chance of winning. As we do not compete with teams like F. & M. in other sports, why is it classed with us at the Relays? It was placed with teams that the University meets in Varsity competition there would be another story to tell.

Each man on the team deserves honorable mention, as it was due to no single one that the race was lost, it was simply the case of a better team winning. For his help in keeping the men in good shape and giving them workouts hunting the hotel, etc., Manager Wagner should come in for his share of the success or failure of the expedition.

S. U.'s track men made a good showing in their first meet, so let's get behind them and make the rest of the season one glorious success.

Penn State Has Fast Nine This Season

VICTORIES TO DATE OVE JUNIATA 10-4. COACH HUGO BEZDEK HANDICAPPED BY EXPERIENCED MEN. LOCALS FIFTH ON SCHEDULE

Season opened April tenth with Juniata College. Penn State 10, Juniata 4. Nittany Lions amassed twelve hits, including four extra base drives Lefty Page, a veteran from the 1925 team, pitched seven innings allowing six hits, fanning seven and walking three during his short stay on the mound.

Prospects appear particularly bright for one of the most successful seasons in recent years, altho the team appears handicapped by lack of experience. Concluded on Page 3.

TUESDAY, APRIL 27, 1926

FINIS

With this issue of "The Susquehanna" the present staff concludes its work and passes it on to the new staff that will be chosen after chapel Thursday morning, April 29th.

Those of us who will not be members of the group who take up the work where we must lay it down hesitate somewhat for we have greatly enjoyed our work. We have tried to make "The Susquehanna" an interesting medium of information to all the students, alumni and friends of our University. Just how nearly we have succeeded is, of course, only a matter of conjecture.

We realize that we have made mistakes, for it could not be otherwise. We pass the privilege of publishing our Alma Mater's weekly newspaper over to the new staff with our most sincere good wishes. We hope that they derive as much pleasure and profit from the work that their positions entail as we have.

OUR BASEBALL TEAM

There is no doubt but that our baseball team is going to make this a record season for this sport at Susquehanna. They have already won two and lost another only thru "hard luck."

Weather conditions have been none too favorable for a good attendance at the games, but we should do our best in the future games to see as large a crowd as possible to attend. If the students do not come out we cannot expect outsiders to attend the games. We have the team now it is up to the student body to back the team by their attendance in a body at the games, yelling the hardest, and showing a winning spirit. IT HELPS THE TEAM.

ON MEMORY'S WALLS

There are many pictures hung on memory's wall. Some of these we cherish, others not at all. But when years have passed us in their ceaseless flight, S. F. will linger always, treasured in my sight.

Years will work a magic, drop a veil at last, A veil that time has woven, wiping out the past. When old scenes have vanished, thru the mystic haze, There will yet be memories of Susquehanna days. D. K. G.

COLLEGE

Tracey Goodenow of the University of Michigan, visited Pratt and Gimme over last weekend. The boys introduced him to the fair damsels of Selingsrove and vicinity.

Bryon C. Rothfuss '23, who has been teaching in the Junior High School of Williamsport, during the present school year, was a visitor at the Phi Mu Delta House on Sunday. Bryon still has the little moustache that was shaved off forcibly so often while he was here at school. It's not the same one of course, but that's alright. It is always cut along the same general pattern.

"Hey you! Watcha in such a hurry for?"

"Goin' tuh work."

"Well, what's de rush?"

"Got 4,000 men under me, an' I gotta get to work."

"Man you got some job. Where do you work?"

"Ise night watchman in a cemetery."

SEMINARY NOTES

Hanks '26, supplied at Ashland. Keller '26 supplied at Minersville. Law '26 preached at his regular charge at Avis.

Shaffer '26 visited at Cincinnati over the week-end.

Schwartz '26 accepted the charge at Kutzerville and has moved there.

Wieser '26 visited at his home over the week-end.

Boehm '27 left for the home town on Friday.

Beard '27 preached at his regular charge at Millville. His car was stolen so he had to use the spreader over the week-end.

Derr '27 and Ramer '26 left for Phila. and viewed the Athletics-Wash. game. Ramer also visited friends at the Price's memorial hospital??

Keper '27 supplied at Killinger.

Knoebel '27 visited his wife at Kulpmont.

Leshner '27 motored to the Penn Re-lays.

Kroen '28, the new manager of the seminary team, has been doing some wonderful work with the team, it has not been defeated as yet.

Nervous Girl

"You say Mand makes you think of a canoe. How?"

"It takes so little to upset her."—Boston Transcript.

Nanette: "What would you give to have such hair as mine?" Lizette: "I don't know. What did you give?"

Willie: "Mama, why has grandpa so few hairs?"

Mother: "Because he thinks so much."

Willie: "Then why have you so many?"

Mother: "Now, Willie, you run right out and play."

Husband: "Telling lies is not one of my failings."

Wife: "No, dear, it's one of your few successes."

Student (to pretty coed): "So you are from Long Island?" Co-Ed: "Yes, indeed—a Great Neck-er."

Child (innocently): "Mother, how did dad bekm a professor at the university?"

Mother: "So you're begun to wonder, too; hav' you?"—Penn. Punch Bowl.

Pun

The great Capablanca was visiting the famous Padewski one day, and as they were taking tea the notorious music master turned suddenly to his guest and said:

"Oh, Mr. Keppelblanca, you play, don't you?"

"Chess!?"—Dartmouth Jack O' Lantern.

"Flats is gittin' so small," said Uncle Eben, "dat purty soon dar won't be much left of home, sweet home" 'cep 'tin' de tune."—Washington Evening Star.

Young Dentist: "I have always contended the world had an opening for me."

"Ah, then you've found it?" "Good gracious, yes! I'm in the hole now!"

In his announcement on a Sunday morning, the vicar regretted that money was not coming in fast enough—but he was no pessimist.

"We have tried," he said, "to raise the necessary money in the usual manner. We have tried honestly. Now we are going to see what a hazard can do."

Patent: "Doctor, don't you find it very inconvenient to travel miles to see me?"

Doctor: "Oh, no; I have another patient near here, so I get the chance to kill two birds with one stone."

"How did that fellow get into the doctor's private office?" "Threw a cork over the transom."

All the Difference!

"Pa:"

"What is it now?"

"This book is called Shakespeare's works."

"Well?"

"You told me they was plays."—Youth's World.

Bobby was in a store with his mother when he was given candy by one of the clerks.

"What must you say, Bobbie?"

"Charge it," he replied.

Bride (at butcher shop): "I want half a pound of mince-meat, and cut it from a nice, tender young mince, please."

Old Lady (to flapper): "Shame on you child, for smoking in this restaurant! I would just as soon get drunk as be caught smoking."

Flapper: "Well, who wouldn't."

Sober Brother: "I've come to bail you out."

Drunk Brother (in jail): "You don't—hic—need to bail me—hic—out, I'm not full."

The train robber was holding up a Pullman car: "Out with your dough. I'll kill all men without money and kiss all women."

An elderly gent said: "You shall not touch these ladies!"

An old maid in an upper berth shouted:

"You leave him alone; he's robbing this train."

"How'd you come to raid that barbershop?" asked the chief of the dry agents.

"Well," replied the dry agent, "It struck me kind of funny that so many men should buy hair restorer from a bald-headed barber."

"Deacon White," said Parson Jackson softly, "will you lead us in prayer."

There was no answer.

"Deacon White," this time in a little louder voice, "will you lead?"

Still no response. Evidently the deacon was slumbering. Parson Jackson made a third appeal and raised his voice to a high pitch that succeeded in arousing the drowsy man.

"Deacon White, will you lead?"

The Deacon, in bewilderment, rubbed his heavy eyes and blurted: "Lead yourself—I just lead!"

Bill: "I got a letter from Ray yesterday."

John: "Well! What did he have to say?"

Bill: "Only this: I'm sorry to hear that you have gone crazy, for you're sure crazy to go to college to learn how to become a restaurant operator. I got wise to that when you sprung some of that Greek gibberish on me."

Miss Margaret Keiser Gave Recital Last Night

Senior in Conservatory of Music Gave Interesting and Varied Song and Piano Program

Miss Margaret Elizabeth Keiser, senior in the Conservatory of Music, gave her voice and pianoforte recital last evening. Miss Keiser has remarkably musical talent and she delightfully entertained her audience with the program that appears below.

She was assisted by Miss Grace Beckley, accompanist; Miss Grace Heffelfinger, organist; Miss Lois Brungart, cellist; Miss Marjorie Phillips, pianist, and Mr. Arnold Michaels, violinist.

Program:—

1. Concerto in E minor—Romance—Larghetto, Chopin—Miss Keiser, piano; Miss Beckley, organ.

2. Songs—a. Perduta—Ho La Speranza, Donandy; b. Alleluia, Mozart—Miss Keiser.

3. "Cello—Ave Maria, Schubert—Miss Brungart.

4. Piano—a. Concerto in the Italian Style, Allegro, J. S. Bach; b. Scherzo Op. 39, Chopin—Miss Keiser.

5. Organ—Scherzo from Fifth Sonata, Gounod—Miss Heffelfinger.

6. Aria—"Vissi d'Arate, Vissi d'Amore" (La Lassa), Puccini—Miss Keiser.

7. Violin—Melodies, Massenet—Mr. Michaels.

8. Piano—a. Serenade for the Dolls, Debussy; b. Spinning Song (Flying Dutchman), Wagner—Miss Keiser.

9. String Trio—Nocturne No. 3, Liszt—The Symphonic Trio.

10. Songs—a. To be Sung on the Waters, Schubert; b. At Night, Rachmaninoff; c. Will o' the Wisp, Spross.

PENN STATE HAS FAST NINE THIS SEASON

ence. They will improve as the season progresses. Chances are especially bright following the faculty ban being lifted from two of the three star hurlers, who were previously ineligible. Styborski and Van Atta, the latter a southpaw, are now in the good graces of the faculty. Harry Slate, bulky right-hander, is still under the required grade.

Five Sophomores have started both the Cornell and Juniata games. Lesko, right field; Green, left field; Harrington, catcher, and Kent and Lungen, at third and short are all second year men, and all started in the opening game. In the Cornell game Coach Hugo Bezdek, former manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, shifted Lesko behind the plate and placed Fletcher, another Sophomore, in right field, benching Harrington, who was the victim of a split finger in the Juniata game.

Line-up for the game with Cornell at Ithaca was as follows: Kent, 2b; Lungen, 1b; Lesko, c; Green, lf; Wilson, capt, cf; Harris, 1b; Schwartz, 2b; Fletcher, rf, and Page, p.
The Gettysburg nine will be met in a two-game series at State College on April twenty-third and twenty-fourth. The Susquehanna game will be the fifth game for Penn State.

in which he conducts classes of four violin students. This he does in addition to his many private lessons.

Professor Bailey is an artist upon the violin as was evidenced at the Conservatory Faculty Recital last fall. He has proved himself to be an efficient and capable conductor and will direct the orchestra in a very interesting program on Tuesday, May 18.

Both Professor and Mrs. Bailey are very well liked by the members of the faculty, the town people and the student body. They are delightful chaperones and are always very welcome at the fraternity reception.

Three base hit—Weimer, base on balls—Thomas 1. Schlosser, two base hits—Weimer, Mansberger, Kurtz. Baird; struck out—by Thomas 8, Schlosser 5. Umpire—Beaumenfelder. Scorer—Ramer.

On Friday the squad journeyed to Reading and started the merry-go-round by scoring nine runs in the first inning, forcing the Pretzel Makers to change monoments. Thomas did the hurdling for the Orange and Maroon once more, having eight strike outs to his credit and allowed only two walks to first. "Holy" Baird topped the batting list with three hits, with Livingston and Groce runners up, collecting two apiece. Rice, Roof and Bachman collected one hit apiece. Rice's being a two bagger. Livingston once more played stellar ball, holding down the hot corner with only one error, and both his hits were two sackers. The team as a whole played well, with only two errors the entire fray, while Schuykill had four. Bolig and Rice were high scorers, crossing home plate three times each during the contest and Livingston and Roof did the same twice.

The game from the local standpoint was well played and should have some affect on the games this coming week with Juniata and Penn State.

ALUMNIREV. ANDREW J. BEAN

Funeral services for Rev. Andrew J. Bean, aged 73, a retired Lutheran minister of the Pittsburgh Synod, were held from his late home in Pittsburgh last week. He died suddenly of heart trouble early Tuesday. Rev. Bean was born in Half Moon, Center county, and was educated at Susquehanna University. He was ordained in 1880 and during his early ministry held pastorates at Clearfield and Sinking Valley. In 1893 he became pastor of St. Stephen's Lutheran Church of the East end, where he remained until 1895, when he was named missionary president of the Pittsburgh Synod, which office he held for three years. Rev. Bean became pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Hazlewood, in 1908 and served that congregation until 1910, when he was retired. Since that time he had been doing part supply work throughout Western Pennsylvania. At the time of his death he was vice president and a director of the C. L. Saxton Building and Loan Association. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Caroline Copenhagen Bean; a daughter, Augusta A. Bean, and a son, Albert J. Bean, all at home.

Rev. Bean helped to organize the Pittsburgh-Susquehanna Association 20 years ago, and for several years served as treasurer and on the executive committee of the Association. He was buried at Tyrone.

Rev. Channey R. Botsford, Missionary Institute '21, is pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church of Cumberland Md. The church is in a healthy condition and is doing much in Christian service in the city. The church, under the direction of Rev. Botsford, publishes monthly a pamphlet known as the St. John's Record, which contains the news of the church. Every year a complete financial report and directory is published also. The pastor's report for 1925 includes the following statistics:

S.mons, etc.	258
Visitors	2438
Members enrolled	60
Baptisms	38
Weddings	27
Funerals	28
Miles walked	1450

Clair Bastian, a brother of Bob, also graduated from a medical school after having completed his course here. He served as an intern in a hospital and just the past summer began to practice with his father in Williamsport.

Merle Bean is located on 55th street in New York City. He is directing the affairs of an advertising agency there.

Harold Fisher, formerly of Selingsgrove, who taught last year in the Millersburg High School, is employed at present as an assistant chemist in the Pennsylvania State Bureau of Foods and Chemistry in Harrisburg. He is rooming at the Y. M. C. A. building.

Rev. M. M. Allbeck, D.D., '97, is the successful pastor of the English Lutheran Church of Zellenople, Pa. He has recently been chosen "Publicity Director" for the Susquehanna Summer Assembly by the executive committee.

Professor Harold Follmer has been re-elected superintendent of schools in Snyder county for another period of two years. Professor Follmer has proved himself to be a very capable superintendent and is taking his place among the educators of the day.

Miss Priscilla Surface, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Surface, graduated from State College in February. Miss Surface attended Susquehanna during her Freshman and Sophomore years. She then went to State College to complete her course.

Marvin Groce, '23, Yale, '25, is employed as the Central Pennsylvania salesman for "Bromo-Mint."

Margaret Benner, formerly of Selingsgrove, some time ago wedded Dr. Burns, founder of Oneida Institute, and famous Swarthmore Chautauqua lecturer. Mrs. Burns travels with her husband and presents a piano program to the Chautauqua audiences.

Marland Benner, '22, who was teaching school in Mahanoy City last year, is now representing a well known insurance agency in that city. He "took unto himself a wife" some months ago.
